LABOR PROBLEM

Carroll D. Wright Before the Women's Club

Hon. Carroll D. Wright lectured before the Women's club in Colonial hall, Saturday afternoon, having for his subject, "Is there any solution of the Labor Problem?" The lecture was under the auspices of the department of sociology, Mrs. M. D. E. Hooper, chairman. The lecturer said in part:

"We should set a higher standard of living, and seek to surround the laborer with better conditions. Industrialism is the present order today, in the great countries of the world, all other phases of society being made subordinate to it. It is a complication of these, that causes the labor problems—a constant struggle for something better and higher. The real labor problem is the question of life. One class of men propose an increase in the pay-roll, and a decrease in the hours of work. John Stuart Mills has said, "There is not any one abuse, if corrected would cause the human race to pass out o fthis restlessness and make them happy, there would still remain a legion of evils. A successful army is one well defended on the right and left flanks as well as in the centre. We must attack the evils that attack society. We have had labor legislation for 101 years. Sir Robert Ptel's laws of 1802 have been followed by the labor legislation of 1815, 1820 and 1844, and every parliament since Sir Robert's time has b-t more or less labor laws to consider. We have the inspection of factory laws, safety of life and limb, hygienic conditions, hours of labor reduced, and attempts at arbitration. Arbitration is refined socialism; it is the attempt of society to interfere in industrial matters. Some have said, 'If you can secure temperance laws, the labor question will settle itself.' If the manufacture of liquor was prohibited, 60,000,000 bushels of grain would be thrown back upon the farmer. Some advise the closing of the theatres. These are all cranks. I always read everything a crank sends to me, for he sees something very clearly, but he does not see things in their correct relation to other things.

"Collective bargaining is a solution of labor difficulties. A corporation of some thousands of stockholders appoints a committee to attend to the affairs of the company. This committee appoints a smaller board, called directors, and these choose a managing director or superintendent and this man confers with representatives from the employes; trade agreements follow, and where the system has been brought to perfection, strikes and lockouts are unknown. Thousands of labor troubles have been settled by these conciliatory methods of which we never hear, for the peaceful events of life are never recorded. The single tax system has not worked well in Switzerland, where it was born. Henry George said, 'Single tax means the transfer of ownership of all things to the community.' This is simply state socialism; it means if you wish it, that the city of Lowell shall own her waterworks, electric light plant and trolley system. Social democracy does not believe in organization, it means a revolution from the very foundation; it would destroy the state. * * * The decalogue is a pretty good platform for with labor and capital 'Love your neighbor as yourself,' has the germ of the method of softening and regulating the great struggle of humanity for better conditions. Men are realizing that they live for something more than the iron law of wages, which is that a laborer shall have just enough to keep soul and body together, leaving no margin for the education of the family. The solution of the difficulty lies in the practical application of the religious principles of the Golden Rule to 'Do unto others as ye would they should do to you.' Avoid the golden rule of the horse trader: 'Do unto the other fellow what you think the other fellow is going to do to you, and do it first.' A lack of confidence, and the existence of suspicion works harm. The new political economy looks first to the care and culture of man. The individual puts the family before himself, his country before the family. We want a divine discontent that seeks for something nobler—something higher, as an integral part of society."

STILL ALARM

VARNISH POT HAD CAUGHT ON FIRE.

A still alarm at 5.02 Saturday evening called the members of Hose 9 to the Merrimack Croquet Co.'s works in Lincoln street. A varnish pot had caught fire, but it was thrown through the window into the street before any damage was done.

PAPER ON FIRE

BLAZE WAS STARTED BY A CHILD.

An alarm from box 83 at 7.26 this morning summoned a portion of the fire department to a blaze in a three-story building in Smith street, near the corner of Liberty street, and the property of the Daniel Gage estate.

The fire started in a toilet room, a child having lighted a match and thrown it into a pile o fwaste paper. When the department arrived, there was quite a lively blaze in progress, but it was soon placed under control.

PROTEST LODGED

Colombia Objects to United States' Action

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov 9—It was learned in official circles last night that the United States of Colombia has lodged a protest with the state department against the action of the United States in connection with the events which have occurred on the Isthmus of Panama. The terms of the protest could not be ascertained last night, but it is known that strong objection is made to the attitude of the United States in general and against interpretations made by this government of the treaty of 1846 between the United States of America and the United States of Colombia. The state department has the protest under serious consideration, but the nature of its reply, if any, or the time when it will be made, is not known. Other than admitting that such a document had been filed in the state department, the officials there will say nothing about the matter.

Word reached the navy department yesterday of the arrival of the United States cruiser Boston at Panama Saturday, commander Diehl in reporting her arrival, announced also the receipt of instructions from the navy department which directs the keeping open of the transit of the Isthmus. He also said that at this time the traffic was undisturbed.

The president's yacht, the Mayflower, left the navy yard here yesterday for Colon. Aboard her is H. A. Gudger, U. S. consul general at Panama, who goes to Colon to assume full charge of the American consular affairs. The Mayflower is expected to reach her destination in about eight days. On his arrival at Panama Mr. Gudger will do business with the new government at Panama. He has full instructions from the secretary of state governing his dealings with the new government. M. Philippe Bunau-Varilla, whose appointment as diplomatic agent of the Panama republic was announced Saturday and who reached here Saturday night from New York, now Assistant Secretary Loomis of the state department yesterday.

It is expected that the new diplomatic agent will be presented to Secretary Hay and to the President in a day or two, the state department probably accepting as satisfactory the telegraphic credentials of the new envoy and waiving the usual requirements of more formal credentials.

ITALY DOES NOT OBJECT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9. The formation of the new republic of Panama and its recognition by the United States is looked upon with satisfaction all over Italy. Old disputes between Italy and Colombia have never been settled as the latter always succeeded in eluding its obligations to the Italian government. Italy has therefore hastened to recognize the new republic in the hope of contributing to the establishment of order in Central America and of hastening the building of the Panama canal.

United States Ambassador Myer, while visiting Minister of Foreign Affairs Littoni, had an informal conversation with the minister on the subject of Panama.

HE SOLD LIQUOR

John Goddard Told This Story in Police Court

"I bought a gallon of whiskey Saturday night and sold it.

"Because I refused to sell a quart of whiskey for her she called the cop and told him to take me away."

These are samples of a series of damaging statements made by John J. Goddard, who pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with drunkenness.

He was arrested in Mrs. Fitzgerald's boarding house, 29 Bridge street, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Fitzgerald told the officer that Goddard was drunk and disorderly.

The officer said Godddard was drunk when arrested.

"I'll tell you the whole story if you'll allow me to speak," said Gorrard.

"You may speak," said the court," if you wish to be sworn."

Goddard wisshed to be sworn and he "squared away" on his story.

"I have a brother, your honor, who is very hard of hearing and he's very noisy when drunk. I was trying to keep him quiet, but I couldn't do it. I was not drunk.

"I'll tell you the whole trouble, your honor. I've been selling liquor for Mrs. Fitzgerald right along and—"

"What's that?" said the deputy, with a snap.

"That's the truth," said Goddard. "I suppose I'll convict myself, but I'm going to tell the truth. I sold liquor for her for months. She allowed me $1 a gallon for it."

"How much did you charge for it?" asked the court.

"Fifty cents a pint, 10 cents a drink," replied Goddard.

"When the officers raided Mrs. Fitzgerald's place a few days ago," he continued, "they found some whiskey. She wanted me to say it was mine, but I wouldn't do it. I told the officers it belonged to her and I had six half-pints of whiskey to my pockets when I was talking with the officers."

Goddard struck off on another whiskey-selling tack, but the court said "That will do," and the illegal vendor, self-confessed, went back to the dock. He was fined $5.

HE CANNOT LIVE

John A. Smith Had a Paralytic Shock

John A. Smith, formerly chief of the school supply room and supervisor of evening schools, is in a critical condition at the Lowell hospital and is not expected to live. Some time during last night he was seized with a stroke of apoplexy at his home and at 9.30 this morning the ambulance received a call to remove him to the hospital. The doctors there stated that Mr. Smith can live only a short time.

Years ago Mr. Smith was a prominent member of the Foresters and the Knights of Columbus. He was the proprietor of a junk and waste paper shop on Market street.

home since Oct. 24, and her parents are exceedingly anxious about her. She was employed by the Norwood Press Co. at Norwood, and when she last left home it was supposed her intention was to go to her work as usual.

Miss Hennessey at the time of her departure wore a Tam O'Shanter with white centre, a light colored Eaton jacket, the front trimmed with white silk, pink shirtwaist with white lines and a black skirt trimmed with two rows of black silk around the bottom. She wore patent leather shoes.

The missing girl is 16 years old and tall for her age. She is of medium complexion, has light brown hair and gray eyes, rather small. Her friends are looking for her in this city.

REV. S. T. FORD

Took Issue With Editor's Comment

IN WHICH HIS PRELUDE WAS CRITICIZED

Said His Critic Was Unfair

Rev. Smith Thomas Ford, D. D., made answer, last evening, to a morning paper's criticism of his prelude of Sunday evening, November 1, in which he condemned dancing in the high school. He contended that the school was for educational purposes and that the original purpose of the institution should not be diverted.

"First of all," said Rev. Mr. Ford, "I want to say that the Lowell papers have shown a marked courtesy during the seven years that I have lived in this city. I think the courtesy was unusual, and anything I say this evening must not be mistaken as a reflection on the papers as a whole.

"In the criticism of my prelude the spirit of courtesy extended by the newspapers during the years that I have labored here is missing. The author of the criticism does not treat the prelude fairly. Judging from its tone, the one who wrote it is not accustomed to argument and unfair with an opponent. He quotes me as using the word 'auspices' but from the reports of my prelude I cannot find that I used the word. The word would have fitted the occasion so that is but a small matter.

"My critic does not, in the beginning or in any part of his article, deal fairly with the prelude, and a person familiar with the words and meaning of the prelude and with his criticism would say, in the beginning, that he had lost his case.

"Every little while the papers ask why ministers don't preach about some current event, and when the minister picks up a current event the same paper will inform you that current events are not good pulpit subjects.

"In the prelude I stated four propositions very clearly. I did not talk about the right or wrong of dancing and I did not say anything about theological thunder or Scriptural interpretation. My critic does and I wonder what he means by it. It was his evident intention to throw discredit upon what I said.

"A woman who read what I had to say about high school dancing said to me that she was very much in favor of it. She said that if she sent a child to school it was for the purpose of getting an education. 'If I wanted my child to learn to dance,' she said, 'I would send her to a dancing school.'

"The writer of the prelude criticism says that high school dances do not create class distinctions. I know it does. Some children wear better clothes than others and there's a certain conservativeness on the part of some that tends to create hard feelings.

"The point of the newspaper article was to divert from dancing in school to the moral side of the question. I did not treat the question from a moral standpoint. I spoke against dancing in the high school. It must be remembered that the high school is much different than a boarding school. The boarding school has to afford entertainment as well as instruction. In the case of high school pupils, however, they can entertain and be entertained at home or at church. I do not believe in dancing under the patronage of teachers. Such a condition cannot increase the pupil's respect for her teacher.

"I believe in amusements, but I also believe in adhering to the principles and purposes for which our institutions were intended."

MEMORIAL SUNDAY

Observed by L'Association Catholique

The annual pilgrimage of the C. M. A. C. to the cemetery where deceased members of the organization are laid at rest, was held yesterday. Over three hundred members marched from the clubhouse in Pawtucket street to St. Jean Baptiste church, where a Libera was sung by Rev. Fr. Campeau, O. M. I. The procession was headed by L'Union Musicale band, followed by the Garde d'Honneur, in uniform, commanded by Capt. Moise Cossette and Lieut. Albert Dergeron. Next in line was the chaplain, Rev. Lewis V. Lewis, O. M. I., with the board of directors, and then came the members of L'Association Catholique. Chopin's funeral march was played on the way to the church.

After the services at the church seven special cars were waiting in Merrimack street to take the marchers to St. Joseph's cemetery. At the cemetery Rev. Fr. Lewis, O. M. I., delivered a very impressive sermon, taking as his text, "Have mercy on me, you, at least, my friends," from the Book of Psalms.

In the course of his address the reverend speaker spoke of the members who had made the pilgrimage last year, but who were now among the missing, speaking in a very pathetic manner on the deaths of Louis H. Richards and Charles Giroux. At the conclusion of the sermon the members of the association were congratulated on their religious work and he spoke on the good showing of the members in turning out in such large numbers.

The exercises closed with the singing of the Libera by the male chorus under the direction of Dr. Caisse and the playing of a funeral march by the band.

CHINESE BABY

THE FIRST BORN IN THIS CITY IS DEAD.

George Francis Wong, aged three weeks, the first Chinese-American born in this city, died Saturday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wong, 302 Middlesex street.

Mr. Wong is a laundry man, and was married to a young lady of Manchester, fourteen months ago. The wedding occasioned considerable talk, inasmuch as that time there seemed to be an epidemic of Chinese-American weddings.

Shortly after their wedding Mr. and Mrs. Wong removed to this city, where they have since resided. The child was born three weeks ago, and was the occasion of much talk among Mr. Wong's Chinese friends, who very much admired the child, and showered gifts upon it as is the native custom.

The child was taken sick last week and although all possible was done to bring it back to health, death came Saturday.

CONSTANTINE O'DONNELL

SUGGESTED AS DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

There are thousands of democrats in Lowell who feel that in the interests of the party a strong candidate should be nominated for mayor this year; and they suggest Constantine O'Donnell of the O'Donnell & Gilbride company as one of the best that could be selected. They believe that if Mr. O'Donnell would consent to be a candidate he could get the nomination and could easily defeat Mayor Howe at the polls.

HE TOOK HER RING

Judge Hadley Said They Were Spooning

Mary Keefe Said She Didn't Hold Michael McMahon's Hand —She Swore He Took Her Ring and Refused to Return It

Although it was the first time he had met her, Michael McMahon succeeded in getting Mary J. Keef's ring and he failed to return it. That was about a month ago and it happened on the front steps at Mary's home.

Mary P. heard that Michael gave the ring to a girl in Centralville and she called to see him about it last Sunday morning. He told her that he lost the ring and Mary J. decided to have him arrested. She swore out a warrant for his arrest and in court today she told the story of how Michael managed to get her ring, a gold one with a garnet setting, surrounded with pearls.

"We were sitting on the steps—"

"Holding hands, were you?" put in counsel for defence.

"No, we were not holding hands. I didn't know him very well."

"He's a nice man isn't he?"

"I don't know about that."

"You were sitting pretty close together?"

"Yes, we were, and he asked to see my ring. He gave me his and then he refused to return mine. I did not put his ring on my finger.

"I asked him for it several times afterwards, but he refused to give it to me. I was mad when I heard he had given it to another girl."

Michael said he didn't steal the ring.

"We traded rings, your honor, and it wasn't a garnet ring she had. It was a cheap ring with three blue stones."

"What did you do with it?"

"I lost it."

Judge Hadley decided that Michael and Mary J. had been spooning and the case was continued for one week in order to give Michael time to find the ring and Mary's heart time to soften.

FOR KEEPING LIQUOR.

Patrick Morgan pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with illegally keeping liquor. He was ready for trial, he said, but the government asked for a continuance until Tuesday.

OLD OFFENDERS.

John H. Dunlavey was charged with drunkenness. It was his 17th appearance in police court and he is yet a young man. He asked to be placed on probation on the grounds that he was working for the city and doing the best he could.

"I guess there'll be a vacancy in the city department," said the court and then he told the clerk to sentence Dunlavey to the state farm.

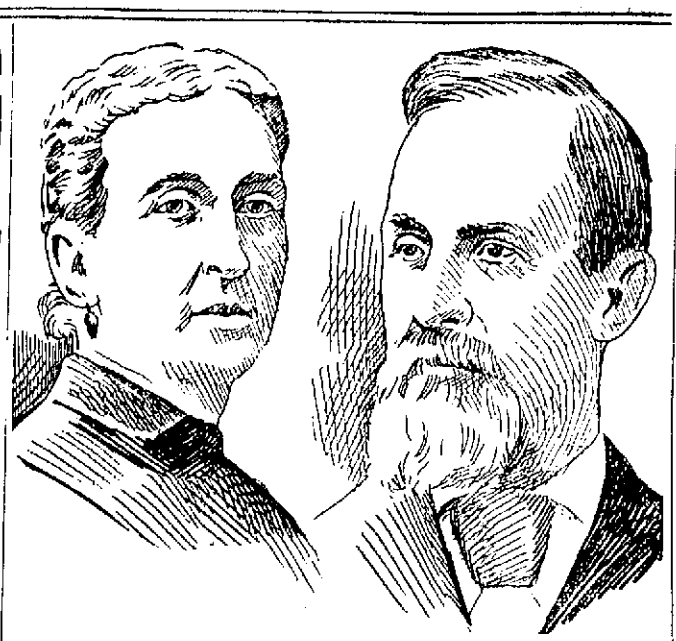

Dunlavey appealed and was ordered in $200 for the superior court.

It was Patrick Hughes' nineteenth time before his honor and it was evident that Patrick expected things would come his way. He looked cheerful even after a state farm sentence had been pronounced.

John Savery had been there before, many a time and he joined the caravan that moved on to the state farm.

Michael Harrison was another old timer. His wife was on hand to give the court a few pointers about Michael. She said he was in the habit of going to Lawrence and getting drunk and on his return he seldom failed to force her into a corner and choke her. He was sentenced to two months in jail.

One first offender was fined $2 and three were released.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE P. BUCKMAN.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Of Mr. and George P. Buckman

OBSERVED BY THEM THIS AFTERNOON

Mr. Buckman Has Fine War Record

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Buckman of 117 Eighteenth street, this city, today observed the 50th anniversary of their marriage, and the happy event found both in the enjoyment of sound health and good spirits. This afternoon a reception was held at their home at which many friends called to tender congratulations. The reception will be continued this evening. The happy couple were the recipients of many tokens of esteem.

Though Mr. and Mrs. Buckman spent a part of their married life in Vermont, the greater part of the time has been passed in this city where they have a large circle of friends. Mr. Buckman has a long and glorious civil war record. He was born in Warner, N. H., in 1827, and at the age of 15 came to Lowell with his parents. He had been in Lowell but a few months when he went to sea and was absent from home for several years. On his return he worked for two or three years in the cloth room of the Tremont & Suffolk mills.

On November 7, 1853, Mr. Buckman and Miss Mary A. Randall were married in Nashua by Rev. Mr. Moore. The following year they went to Craftsbury Vt., and lived on a farm there 6 years. Mrs. Buckman was born in Randall, Vt., in 1833 and came to Lowell at the age of 18.

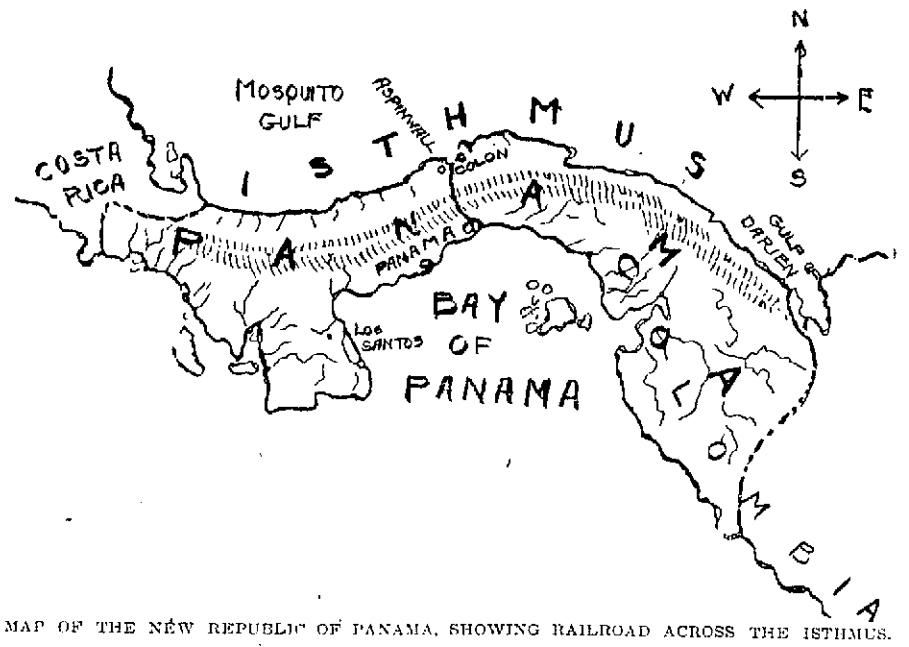

In August, 1862 Mr. Buckman enlisted in Co. D, Fourth Vermont Volunteers, and was immediately sent to the front. His first engagement was in the first battle of Fredericksburg. In the second battle of Fredericksburg he was taken prisoner by Gen. Lee's forces. He was afterward placed on parole and did not see service again until the fall of 1863, when he rejoined his regiment and was soon with the army of the Potomac, serving under the several commanders of that division of the union forces.

He passed through the long dreary Wilderness campaign to the rigors of which so many brave soldiers succumbed and then was sent to Washington with his regiment when General Erly threatened the capital.

He then participated in all the battles of the Shenandoah Valley campaign under General Sheridan until August 21, 1864 when a wound received in the battle of Charleston sent him to the hospital first in Baltimore and then in the state hospital at Montpelier, Vt., where he remained for four months.

In February, 1865, he started once more for the front but before he could reach the regiment, General Lee had surrendered and he returned to his farm.

In 1871, Mr. and Mrs. Buckman returned to Lowell with their four young children and they have since made their home in Lowell. Mrs. Amos Berry and Mrs. George A. Frost live in this city, and Mrs. Frank Hopewell lives in Newton. One son, George H. Buckman, highly esteemed by a large circle of friends, died several years ago.

Successful Fair by Ladies' Aid Society

At the town hall, yesterday, the Ladies' Aid society of the Unitarian church held a very successful fair. The afternoon was given over to the children and the little ones were given a rare treat, in witnessing a bright comedy entitled "Fast Friends," which was enacted by Mrs. Jennie Hodgman and Miss May Hadley. After the entertainment the patrons patronized the various tables. At six o'clock supper was served in the basement under the direction of Miss Jessie Butterfield. The kitchen was in charge of Miss Annie Andrews. The entertainment in the evening consisted of two comedies, "Rubber Boots," and "Chums." The first was played by Miss Ina Butterfield, Mrs. Paul Kable, Miss Jennie Dexter, and Mr. Paul Kable while the latter was interpreted by Miss Sadie Hinde, Miss Blanche Littlehale, and Joseph Collette. THREE GUILTY

Charged With Causing Girl's Death

By Associated Press to The Sun

WORCESTER, Nov. 7—Mrs. Matilda Swanson, Mrs. Nellie S. Baker and Charles L. Cypher, who have been on trial for three days in the superior criminal court on a charge of criminal operation on May Killips, who died from its effects last spring, were found guilty yesterday by the jury.

Miss Killips was a well-liked young woman, and Cypher was engaged to be married to her when the trouble came. He wanted to marry her, but she wanted the wedding put off, and went to the Swanson woman, who performed the operation on her.

After the operation the young woman was taken to the home of Mrs. Baker, who is a trained nurse, who came here from Maine a couple of years ago. While here she began to fail, and a physician was called to attend her, being informed that she was suffering from the grippe. He did not know her true condition until after he had her taken to the City hospital, where she died, after making an antemortem statement implicating the three defendants.

Owing to their prominence the case has attracted much attention, and the courtroom has been crowded every day during the trial. After the jury returned the verdict of guilty, Judge Maynard deferred sentence until Friday, the defendants being allowed to go on bail until that date.

RECEIVERS' REPORT

THEY MADE MONEY FOR THE DRESSER ESTATE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—The report of Robert C. Morris and Charles S. Mackenzie, receivers for the firm of Dresser & Co., of which D. Lerdy Dresser was the head, was filed yesterday in the United States court, showing that the receivers have wound up the business of the firm, making a profit of $10,000 and effecting a saving to the estate of an additional $125,000 by conducting it as a concern instead of disposing of the assets by forced sale at the time of the failure.

DROWNED HERSELF

YOUNG GIRL COMMITTED SUICIDE AFTER READING LETTER.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 7.—Miss Grace Young, a comely young woman of 18, and an employe of the Perkins, Linscott & Co. shoe shop, committed suicide yesterday noon just after leaving the shop, by leaping from the North Main-street bridge into the Cocheco river.

Miss Young worked in the finishing room, of which her father, Fred J. Young, is foreman. She left her work shortly before the noon whistle. It is learned from an employe of the finishing room that Miss Young received a letter in the forenoon that evidently brought disappointing news, for as soon as she had read it she burst into tears and wept violently. She immediately destroyed the letter and went and told her father that she was going out to mail a letter before going home.

The contents of the letter she received is unknown. It is thought the letter may have been from a young man who about a year and a half ago was arrested here on a complaint from Manchester charging him with horse stealing. Miss Young was with him at the time and called herself his wife. He is now in prison. Miss Young had been at home the past six months.

Miss Young was taken from the river by Mr. Varney, who had but a moment before passed her on the bridge and who noticed her gazing intently into the water. He was assisted in getting her ashore by E. L. Webster.

ROBERT F. CONROY

Will Not be Candidate for Mayor

HE SAYS HE WAS MISREPRESENTED

Has Been Urged to Enter Aldermanic Contest

In conversation with a Sun reporter this morning, Robert F. Conroy stated that in order to set at rest certain false rumors put in circulation by a morning paper, he wished to make the statement that he is not a candidate for mayor. It is true that certain friends of his urged him to become a candidate for mayor, while others advised him to enter the contest for alderman, but he has decided to seek neither position. He states that he was misrepresented by a morning paper, which published an article purporting to be an interview with him.

When he decides to seek any political office from the democratic party he says he will not go to a republican paper to make the announcement.

AT HIGH SCHOOL

Institution Crowded to the Limit

At the present time there are 930 students at the Lowell High school, and by next year, or probably before this terms is ended more rooms will be needed to accommodate the students. The school in Kirk street and the annex on Paige street are both well filled with students.

The high school football team has been a dismal failure this year for some reason or other, though lack of team work and too much grand stand play has been given as the cause. Another reason is the fact that the parents of some of the players will not allow their sons to play in games outside the city.

. There is a bright prospect for a good track team this year, as the majority of the members of last year's team are back at school and there will be a few vacancies to fill. By order of his physician, Masters will not be able to run this year, and his loss will be greatly felt by the school. Among the good men which the team will have are Sargent, high and broad jump and sprinter; Hallett, hurdler and 100-yard dash man; Jewett, shot put, broad jump and relay runner; Hanson, Hatch and others of last year's team. Among the new men who are trying out for the team are the following:

Bopp, Sweatt, Haines, Crowley, Chase, Gelineau, F. Campbell, A. Campbell, Lee Campbell, Farley and many others.

The collars of the coats of the officers' uniforms have been changed from two to one and one half inches in height. The latest style in military hat has also been adopted. It is expected that the uniforms will arrive Monday.

Manager Carl Bicknell of the basket ball team has issued a call for players. The team will be different from last year and Charles Seede has been appointed captain.

The girls' basket ball team is getting into shape. Miss Ruth Bailey will be with the team as will a number of other good ones.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The annual church fair of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Second Congregational church came to a close Thursday evening and throughout was a grand success.

Rev. Robert W. Dunbar extended a greeting to all and the attraction of the closing night was a baby show with twenty of the cutest little competitors imaginable. Two silver cups were awarded, to the handsomest and the heaviest baby. For the handsomest baby, Miss Edna May Warner, daughter of Mrs. Clarence T. Warner; the heaviest baby was Francis Reeves, the son of Mrs. Reeves, who is ten and one-half months old, and who weighed 30 pounds. The judges for the baby prizes were ex-Selectman Arthur H. Sheldon, Mrs. Moses A. Warren and Mrs. James Hacket. An entertainment was given by the Hiawatha club of West Chelmsford.

A suitable prize was offered to the person selling the most fair tickets, and the winner was Fred Reno.

The wool sorters of Moore's mill held a dance in the town hall, last evening, and many out-of-town friends helped them in the enjoyment of the affair. The officers of the dance were as follows: General manager, Benjamin Gagnon; assistant, Frank E. McCluskey; floor director, John Munyon; assistant, Daniel Kinch; reception committee, George Armitage, chairman, Thomas Finch, Patrick McEnaney, Robert Moore, John Ganger, Martin Ford and William G. Brown of Lowell. The refreshment committee consisted of Benjamin Gagnon, Joseph Laforge, Frederick Mallalieu and John Ganger.

Next week in the Second Congregational church, a series of special services will be held, Rev. Robert W. Dunbar, pastor of the church, will preach at each service and his subjects are as follows: Sunday morning, "Where Does Religion Come In?"; Sunday evening, "How I Have Received"; Monday evening, "Lifting and Lifted"; Tuesday evening, "Come and See"; Wednesday evening, "Lion in the Way"; Thursday evening, "Giving Up and Getting Up"; Friday evening, "Contrary Spirits"; Sunday morning, Nov. 15, "Making Headway"; Sunday evening, "What I Would Not Part With."

Mr. James Bayles has gone to Hot Springs, Arkansas, for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Casey entertained a few of their friends at their home, 133 Moore street, last evening.

JOHN WILLIAMS

Will be Democratic Leader in Congress

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Preliminary steps for organizing the house of the 58th congress will be taken today. The democrats will meet in caucus at 2 p. m. and the republicans at 8 p. m. The republicans will probably select Gen. Grosvenor successor to Mr. Cannon as chairman of the caucus. The republican plan is to name Mr. Cannon for speaker and make the old officers of the house caucus nominees.

The democrats are almost certain to select John Sharp Williams of Mississippi for speaker, thus making him minority leader. The delay of democratic congressmen in reaching the city indicates a small attendance at their caucus. The democrats do not intend to outline a definite policy at the caucus.

The republican caucus of senators to consider vacancies on committees will be held Tuesday afternoon.

GOELET WEDDING

BISHOP DOANE WILL BE OFFICIATING CLERGYMAN.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—With all the simplicity and absence of ostentation that it is possible to ascribe with an international marriage of such importance, the wedding of Miss May Goelet, the only daughter of Mrs. Ogden Goelet and Henry John Innes-Ker, Duke of Roxburgh, will be solemnized on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 10, at St. Thomas church in this city. Bishop Doane of Albany and the Rev. Ernest M. Stires of St. Thomas will officiate.

Had it not been for the death of Sir Michael Herbert, British ambassador to the United States, who was the bride's uncle through marriage, it is possible that the wedding would have been one of the grandest from a spectacular point of view that has ever been seen in New York.

But 200 cards of invitation have been issued for the ceremony in the church, and at the conclusion of the wedding only a small reception will be held at the home of Mrs. Goelet.

PRINT CLOTHS

SALES MADE IN FALL RIVER MARKET.

By Associated Press to The Sun

FALL RIVER, Nov 7.—Sales in the print cloth market for the week are estimated at from 150,000 to 200,000 pieces. Although the market shows some improvement, the same hand to mouth transactions continue. The demand for goods has been fairly good, but in many cases buyers have met with little success in obtaining goods especially for any great length of time ahead. The sensationally high cotton market has reflected a much firmer tone in the market for the finished article, especially for wide goods, which have been dull for the past few months of which 39-inch 68 by 72 are being held firmly at 4⅝c. Narrow odds show slight advances from 1-16c to ⅛c. The prices: 28-inch 64 squares, 3 3-16c to 3¼c; 28-inch 64 by 60, 3⅛c; 27-inch 64 by 60, 3 3-16c; 39-inch 68 by 72, 4⅝c; 38½-inch 64 by 64, 4¼c.

NASHUA IN FEAR

THAT GOODELL WILL POST ANOTHER BLACKLIST.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 7—A sensational rumor was current last night to the effect that ex-Governor Goodell, of Antrim, is about to post a "blacklist" of Nashua people in the local saloons.

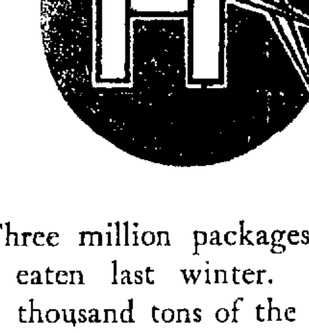

The occasion of the rumor is that ex-Governor Goodell visited Nashua 10 days ago and called upon Rev. George W. Bussell, secretary of the Hillsboro county total abstinence and educational society.

Rev. W. H. Bolster of Pilgrim church yesterday declared that the action of ex-Governor Goodell, in posting the names of all the male residents of Antrim in Hillsboro saloons, "was taking a technical advantage of the law."

WAREHOUSE BURNED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

GLASGOW, Nov. 7.—One of the most extensive fires which Glasgow has experienced in many years, yesterday destroyed the warehouse of the Winnlie Hall company, on Buchanan street, and partly ruined adjoining warehouses. The damage will exceed $750,000.

Three million packages of H-O were eaten last winter. That is, three thousand tons of the very heart and life of the best oats our great country could produce.

To every boy or girl who will write and ask for it, we will mail a copy of the Kinderbeast book telling all about the most interesting prize contest for boys and girls that ever happened.

FEDERAL OFFICIALS

WERE ARRESTED FOR GATHERING SPAWN.

By Associated Press to The Sun

MARQUETTE, Mich., Nov. 7—A long-standing dispute between state and federal authorities as to the right of the government to fish in Michigan waters after the commercial fishing season has closed, for the purpose of gathering spawn, was brought to a crisis last evening by the arrest of S. P. Wires, superintendent of the Duluth Hatchery, together with other United States employes and owners and masters of the fishing tugs Theora and Columbia. Warrants were sworn out by Deputy State Game Warden Brewster. In addition to the day's catch of fish, the nets were seized.

Supt. Wires pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs, the other cases being temporarily dropped. Wires immediately gave notice of appeal. It is claimed by federal officials that they have a right to fish when and where they please. Whatever the decision in the circuit court, it is not doubted the case will be carried to higher tribunals.

Deputy Attorney General Chase will come here from Lansing to take a hand in the conflict between the state and federal authorities.

THE LUCE LAW

Author of the Bill Writes to The Sun

What He Says About Time of Its Operation—Attorney General Says It Does Not Apply to This Year's Caucuses in Lowell — Luce Regrets That Voters Will Not be Enrolled This Year

Representative Robert Luce, who is the author of the Luce joint caucus law, adopted by the voters of this city last Tuesday, was written to by The Sun for information on the point as to whether it could go into effect this year if adopted by the voters of the city, at the same time calling attention to the brief time existing between the announcement of the vote on the law and the preparation of the nomination papers. Mr Luce, in his reply, is explicit.

The intention of the framers of the law was that it should apply to any city holding an election on the second Tuesday in December (that includes Lowell), and city clerks will not find it difficult to procure blanks to guide them, as they are already used in cities that have adopted the Boston caucus act. Mr. Luce has this significant conclusion:

"It was thought that the inconvenience of hasty application of the new system wherever adopted, would be more than offset by the advantage gained."

The communication to The Sun should be carefully read by every voter:

WHAT MR. LUCE SAYS.

Messrs. Editors—In response to your inquiry I would say that it was expected the primary election law would be put in force in any city adopting it at a municipal election held on the second or third Tuesday in December. It was quite clear that the schedule would not permit its use this year in any city holding its municipal election on the first Tuesday in December; no question is made, I think, that it can be applied at an election held on the third Tuesday. The differences of opinion relate to cities holding their elections on the second Tuesday. The point at issue is whether a law is adopted as soon as the vote is counted, if the result is favorable; or whether it is not adopted till the official declaration of the result is made by the board of aldermen. It chances that in the case of a city holding its municipal election on the second Tuesday of December, this official declaration cannot be made till the day after the last day on which nomination papers can be filed.

If the law is in fact adopted when the result is announced by the city clerks on the evening of election day, two days would be available for the filing of nomination papers. The official blanks used for this purpose are already employed in cities that have adopted the Boston caucus act, and no trouble would result on this score. In other cities the city clerk who contemplates that the law, if adopted, shall go into force this year, will have to get his blanks printed in anticipation of the adoption of the act. Should it be rejected, these would be wasted. Hence, I presume, the reluctance of city clerks to proceed in the matter before they are sure of the need.

In my own city the question as to when the law will have been "adopted" if at all, has been submitted to the city solicitor, and I have not heard of his giving an opinion as yet. Other city solicitors have been considering it, but of their views I have not heard.

Regret has been expressed that the law did not specify a date for its operation, say after January 1. This was intentionally avoided in the hope that in some cities at least its benefits could be secured at once. This was in mind chiefly because of the enrollment proviso, it seeming eminently desirable that wherever possible an enrollment should be secured at this year's city election, to serve next September for lessening the packing of caucuses. The participation of members of one party in the caucuses of another in some of the congressional districts last year was a flagrant evil that contributed largely to make possible the passage of the new law. Next year's congressional contests, coming in a presidential year, are likely to see this evil even more widespread, and it was entirely hoped that an enrollment secured now would check it. For this reason it was thought that the inconvenience of hasty application of the new system wherever adopted, would be more than offset by the advantage gained. Personally I much hope that city clerks will not find such haste an intolerable burden, and will not throw obstacles in the way of the reform where they have any option in the matter, or deem themselves to have option.

ROBERT LUCE.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S VIEWS.

Accompanying the above communication is a letter from Rep. Luce stating that while the above is his personal view of the question, the attorney general has rendered an opinion which is in the hands of the secretary of state and which states that the law may not be put into effect in municipal caucuses in cities that hold their election this year on the second Tuesday in December. It is held by him that the law does not operate till the result of vote has been declared by the board of aldermen, and when declared does not relate back to the day of actual voting, but operates from the moment the result is declared and without reference to intervening days.

NOT APPLICABLE

The Luce Law Won't Go This Year

City Clerk Dadman, this morning, called a meeting of the registrars of voters for the purpose of fixing a time for the recount in the 25th and 27th districts. The meeting will be held as soon as the registrars can be reached, and the recounts will probably be held on Monday or Tuesday. Mr. Dadman states that he has consulted with many of the city clerks of the state and all appear to agree that the Luce law cannot be applied to this year's municipal caucuses, Rep. Luce to the contrary notwithstanding.

In the case of Lowell the city clerk cannot report the corrected returns to the board of aldermen until after the coming recounts have been concluded which will necessarily delay the official announcement of the board of aldermen to within the prescribed 30 days before the city election, thus making the law inapplicable this year.

City Clerk Dadman states positively that only cities in which the election takes place on December 15, as Cambridge, are the only ones that can be affected by the Luce law this year.

The committee in polling places met yesterday and assigned the places for the caucuses as follows:

Democrats, Nov. 19, Thursday; ward 1, ward room, Jackson hall; ward 2, Green school; ward 3, Branch street engine house; ward 4, Lyon street school; ward 5, Keyes' auction room; ward 6, vacant store at 186 Bridge street; ward 7, Fletcher street engine house; ward 8, Lincoln school; ward 9, High street engine house.

Republicans, Friday evening, Nov. 20. The same places were designated in this communication with the exception of ward 5, over Hodges' grocery store, Middlesex street, and ward 8, Highland school.

Socialists, Thursday evening, Nov. 12. The socialists' communication gave all of the places the same as the Democrats, except ward 5, over Hodges' grocery store.

Col. Royal S. Ripley is the petitioner for the recount vote cast for representative in the 25th district.

The following members of the common council are before the voters again, nearly all for re-election:

Ward 1, James W. Barry and James J. Hayes; ward 2, Frederick Cronin; ward 3, Thomas H. Braden and Charles H. Worster; ward 4, Dennis J. Cooney and Patrick F. Welch; ward 5, Hugh Finnerty, George B. Roche, Frank McLaughlin; ward 6, Frederick G. Baldwin and Samuel Fleming; ward 7, Wm. J. Hayes, Edward Fontaine and Andrew Livingston; ward 8, William H. Dodge; ward 9, John W. Daly and John S. Palm.

Hamlet S. Greenwood is thinking seriously of taking a chance as the republican candidate for purchasing agent. Frank M. Merrill is in doubt.

Thomas H. Byrne, "Humanity's Friend," and the "magraphone" candidate, is contemplating running for mayor on the labor ticket.

The republican city committee has fixed the following price list for all candidates:

The fee for the mayoralty candidate will be $150. The fee for purchasing agent will be $125, with a $100 rebate to candidates not nominated by the caucuses. The fee for candidates for the school board or overseers of the poor will be $40 with a rebate of $30 and for common council candidates $25, with $15 returned in case of defeat in the caucuses. The aldermanic candidates will pay $50 and lose $10 if defeated. The schedule is the same as last year, excepting the fee for purchasing agent, which has been reduced $25.

Michael H. Carey, a popular member of the Y. M. C. L. and employed by the Bigelow Carpet Co., is a candidate for the common council from ward five and has a host of friends hustling for him.

So many French-Americans are running for the common council in ward seven that a mass meeting of French citizens will be held tomorrow when they will decide upon whom to center their strength.

Ward seven this year will elect a democratic councilman if all vote straight for Ernest Bernard, who is a democratic candidate for the position. Ernest is the well-known barber at the corner of Merrimack and Cabot street and has a host of friends in both parties. He is a straight democrat and a good party worker.

NATURALIZATION

Would-Be Citizens Must Speak English Language

Because an Albany, N. Y., judge refused to naturalize some 60 applicants for naturalization, the press in various parts of New York said that he had established a very valuable precedent in the matter of naturalizing aliens.

It may be that the Albany judge established a precedent in that particular part of the country, but the newsiness of it did not reach Lowell. Judge Hadley never did, and he says he never will, naturalize a man who is unable to speak the English language.

The law governing naturalization says that inability to speak the English language affords doubtful grounds for the applicant's good faith. If the applicant is unable to speak English it shows lack of interest in the government or principles of the country.

Judge Hadley said to The Sun representative: "I will not naturalize any person who comes before me and is unable to speak the English language sufficiently to make himself understood."

Judge Hadley believes that "indecent haste" is a fair characterization of the practice of many courts heretofore in naturalizing foreigners. It has sometimes been a scandal of large proportions. Large numbers of men ignorant, of not only the English language, but of almost everything else, have been railroaded through the naturalization courts just before election. Courts have recently become more particular in most places, but there is room for more improvement. A person who can not understand the language certainly lacks one essential element of fitness for citizenship in the United States.

Judge Hadley does not require that the applicant for naturalization shall be able to speak the English language fluently and correctly, but if his knowledge is so limited as not to allow an understanding of the judge's questions the applicant must walk the plank.

Once upon a time the applicant and the names of his witnesses had to be published in the office of the city clerk for five days before the date set for the naturalization. That has been done away with. Although the law of the United States doesn't demand it, the judge who has the making of American citizens would not be exceeding his authority if he should demand five days' notice from applicants for naturalization. If the judge did demand that notice he would post the names of the applicant and two witnesses in some conspicuous place about the court office so that objections, if any, might be made if the applicants or witnesses were unworthy.

Judge Hadley, however, is very careful about the naturalization process and if an applicant passes him it is safe betting that he filled the bill in every particular.

Judge Hadley had rather an unusual experience a few days ago. A man, who is quite interested in the naturalization of a certain foreign element in this city, called at Judge Hadley's office and said he had an applicant for naturalization.

Judge Hadley told him to fill out an application and the same was done.

The applicant was on hand after court and Judge Hadley asked him his name.

He gave a name that the judge said was unpronounceable.

"Where did you come from?" asked the court.

The applicant didn't understand.

"How long have you been in this country?"

The applicant said something the Judge couldn't understand.

"Who is president of the United States?"

Judge Hadley thinks the applicant said "McKinley," but the judge wasn't sure. Several other questions were asked and the applicant didn't appear to understand them. His knowledge of the English language was hardly worth mentioning and Judge Hadley told the man who brought him there that he couldn't make a citizen from such timber as he had provided.

The sequel, to the affair, however, arrived the following day in the shape of a notice from the emigration agency in New York stating that a woman with a noxious disease had arrived there and the agency wanted to return her.

She said that her husband lived in this city and that he was a citizen of the United States. If that was the case she could not be sent back and the agency there communicated with the proper authorities.

After the case had been investigated it was found that the woman was the wife of the man whom Judge Hadley refused to naturalize because of his insufficient knowledge of the English language. It was evidently an attempt on the part of the husband and his advisor to become a citizen in order that his wife could not be sent back.

Another fact about naturalization, not generally known, is the exclusion of the Chinese and Japanese. They cannot be admitted to citizenship because they are of the Mongolian race.

POISONING CASE

Investigating Committee is Very Reticent

The committee inquiring into the poisoning at the state hospital in Tewksbury held another meeting today.

"Nothing for publication," said Dr. Huntress to an inquiry this forenoon.

"Has the committee established a theory?" asked the reporter.

"The committee will make its report just as soon as the investigation has been gone through with," was the somewhat evasive answer.

An attache of the institution said to a Sun representative that he believed, from what he had overheard, that the committee had arrived at a conclusion, but he didn't know what the conclusion was. "One thing you may depend upon," he said, "Thomas Smith will not be found guilty. Dr. Nichols and the committee refuse to discuss the investigation and even if it is of the whitewash order none but the committee and the hospital doctors will know it.

CUDAHY KIDNAPPER

A WOMAN "PEACHED" ON HIM.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ST JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 7.—Thomas Costello of Omaha, who was arrested here yesterday, fell into the hands of the police after quarreling with a woman who later informed the officers that Costello was an associate of Pat Crowe and one of the kidnappers, three years ago, of young Edward Cudahy, son of a millionaire packer. The lad was restored to his parents after the payment of a large ransom.

To Captain McNamara, Costello made what he said was a complete confession. He says that a man named Johnson, who is now serving time in Montana for train robbery, seized young Cudahy while he and Pat Crowe awaited at a little house on the outskirts of Omaha. Chief of Police Franz last night said he had verified Costello's statement.

ATTORNEY LAMB

IS ACCUSED OF FRAUD IN PETER POWER CASE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

The accusations against Lamb are that he procured Peter Power as a dummy plaintiff in the Northern Securities suit; that he tried to prevent Power from obeying an order of the United States court and that he declared under oath that he had held in his own possession 100 shares of stock which Power claimed to own, but which really belonged to Camilla Weidenfeld, a stock broker, who has been suspended from the exchange in connection with the suit.

DANGER!

Many of the lotions and salves alleged to be cures for Eczema and other skin diseases are positively a menace to sufferers. BRYAN WINS

He is Allowed to Qualify As Executor

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 7.—The proceedings in the Probate court today in the contest over the will of Philo S. Bennett, in which William J. Bryan has figured prominently for several weeks, were enlivened by a protest made by former Judge Henry Stoddard, counsel for the heirs, against Mr. Bryan being allowed to qualify as an executor.

Court's proceedings opened with a question from Judge Cleaveland, who presided, as to whether counsel desired to be heard on the form of the decree to be entered in the case. After some discussion it was agreed that a conference between counsel on both sides early next week should determine the form of decree to be submitted to the court for approval.

Judge Stoddard asked if counsel for the executors would state definitely whether Mr. Bryan intended to qualify as an executor. He pointed out that if Mr. Bryan declined to do so, Mr. Sloan, partner of Mr. Bennett, would remain sole executor. Mr. Stoddard said that he would urge Mr. Sloan to continue, but he would protest Mr. Bryan.

Henry G. Newton, counsel for Mr. Bryan, said that Mr. Bryan intended to qualify and to act as executor.

"Then I want to know, further," said Judge Stoddard. "If Mr. Bryan intends to take any appeal from the decision of your honor."

Mr. Newton—"That we shall decide in due time."

"Then I enter protest now against Mr. Bryan as executor," said Judge Stoddard.

Mr. Newton answered: "Mr. Bryan will not appeal from the admission of the will to probate. Whether he will appeal on the court's decision to exclusion of the sealed letter he is not required to answer now."

JUDGE STODDARD OBJECTS.

Judge Stoddard began a speech of further objection and explanation. He said:

"Your honor has decided that the sealed letter is not a part of the will. We shall insist upon the performance of his duty as executor if Mr. Bryan is to act as such. But if there is any lingering suspicion that he intends to take an appeal. It is not right that he shall qualify also as executor. We cannot serve two masters in this matter. If he intends to uphold the law as your honor has spoken it in your decision, it will be contrary to the law to undertake to destroy the will. By taking appeal from your decision Mr. Bryan undertakes a course for the advantage of himself and family. He cannot put aside the interests of his family if he chooses to put aside his own in this matter. This is a property affair. If that sealed letter is a part of the will Mr. Bryan's family have a property interest and unless by some formal renunciation he puts beyond peradventure the question of whether he will try to claim a property interest. It is utterly inconsistent for Mr. Bryan to act as executor and at the same time take an appeal from the court's decision. If your honor should hold that is law, I shall advise my clients to take an appeal to test the matter. This contest is so exceptional that this is a proceeding which I am confident the courts will not sustain.

"Under some other clauses of the will, certainly the seventeenth clause, Mr. Bryan takes as trustee and not as an individual certain moneys. I am inclined to think that gift is not a good gift. As trustee under that section of the will it will be Mr. Bryan's duty to uphold that section. If he becomes executor he also stands as trustee under the will. In that particular his position is also extraordinary. That creates two contesting parties under the will, and one of them seeks to qualify as an executor under the instrument. I should not think that he would want to feel that his duty as trustee might influence him against his duty as executor. I again protest against the selection of William J. Bryan as an executor."

NEWTON'S REPLY.

Mr. Newton, for Mr. Bryan, said:

"I do not know that this court has jurisdiction in this matter. Mr. Bryan's duty as executor in no way conflicts with his other duty under the will. In a very large majority of wills probated here the executor is also a beneficiary, and the fact that he is a beneficiary does not prevent his acting as executor. Often also the executor is a trustee and often the executor brings suit to construe the will. This court certainly has left no uncertainly in its decision. The argument by Mr. Stoddard is on behalf of those who intend to frustrate the intent of the man through whom they have received large benefits."

Judge Cleaveland ruled that he had no discretion in the matter and had no right to prevent Mr. Bryan from qualifying as executor.

BRYAN'S REMARKS.

When the amount of the bond to be required was broached, Mr. Bryan said to the court:

"The amount of the estate, is, on face value, about $302,000. A part of that is book accounts, and the actual value thereof cannot be stated by anyone without a careful examination of the books, more extensive than I have given. I am willing that Mr. Stoddard shall suggest the amount of the bond. I have no preference in the matter at all. So far as acting as executor is concerned, I was asked to act by the testator, and as I have said publicly, I feel I ought to do it unless the court appoints someone who is interested in carrying out the will instead of attempting to defeat it."

Mr. Stoddard remarked. "That suggestion is rather irrelevant. The court has already said he has no jurisdiction. I take it that you will obey the decrees of the superior court. Of course, my clients will have to pay for this bond. It all comes out of their share. The estate is practically a partnership property in New York city. That partnership property has got to be turned into money by the surviving partners, and then the money turned over to the heirs by the executors. That will not be for some months, and I suggest that a small bond be fixed now with the reservation that we have the right to come to your honor whenever a large amount is coming into the executor's hands and then seek to have the bond increased.

BOND IS $350,000.

Judge Cleaveland said he made it a rule always to have the bond ample. He suggested either $325,000 or $350,000.

Mr. Bryan said that would be satisfactory to him and the court fixed the bond at $350,000.

At the suggestion of the court Charles Kleiner of this city was appointed an appraiser. Judge Cleaveland said Mr. Kleiner would in a sense represent the court because the court must certify under the succession tax law that the appraisal is correct.

The other appraiser will be suggested by Judge Stoddard to the court and Mr. Bryan's counsel early next week, Mr. Stoddard desiring to consult with Mrs. Bennett, the widow, about the matter.

By Associated Press to The Sun

OMAHA, Neb. Nov. 7.—For participating in a palpable "fake" fight, "Philadelphia Tommy" Ryan and Billy Rhodes of Omaha, were arrested as the gong clanged for the end of the sixth round of their ten round go last night.

The attendance was large, the fighters standing to clear $200 apiece. An unsuccessful effort was made to secure the release of Ryan and Rhodes on bail. They will be arraigned in police court on the charge of vagrancy.

OFFICIAL NOTE

POPE ACCEPTS INVITATION TO BE REPRESENTED AT ST. LOUIS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 7—An official note has been written by Monsignor Merry del Val, papal secretary of state, under instructions from the pope, accepting the invitation to be represented at the St. Louis exposition. The letter said in part:

While the rule of a precedent does not allow of the possibility of sending a representative from Rome in the person of a member of the Sacred College, his holiness is willing to consider the proposal of being represented in some way at the coming exposition. Anyway, as far as conditions will permit, his holiness is disposed to send an exhibit which will serve as a token of his lively interest in the success of the enterprise under consideration.

SNOW IN BANGOR

EARLY STORM THE HEAVIEST FOR YEARS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BANGOR, Me., Nov. 7—Not for years has Bangor had such a heavy snow storm so early in the season as that which has been raging since yesterday afternoon.

Already between eight and ten inches have fallen and it looks as if there will be a foot.

It is drifting considerably and while the steam railroads have not been inconvenienced to any extent, the local and suburban trolley lines are having a hard time to keep cars going on regular time.

The football game to have been played at Orono this afternoon between the Bates college and University of Maine elevens has been postponed to Monday, the Bates players remaining over Sunday as guests at the fraternity houses.

The coming of the snow causes joy in the hearts of the hunters and a large party left this morning to take advantage of following the early track of deer and moose.

Some large shipments are looked for as a consequence of the storm.

FRAPPIER CAUGHT

IS ACCUSED OF ROBBING CANADIAN PACIFIC ROAD.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—Canadian detectives, after a long chase, have arrested Frank Frappier in Brooklyn, on a warrant charging him with the theft of $40 from the Canadian Pacific railway.

The detectives say that this charge is merely technical and allege that the prisoner robbed the company of many thousands of dollars by means of "dummy" pay-rolls and a check system which he devised for paying employes at distant points on the line while he was employed as section foreman.

Frappier said he would fight extradition He was traced by the detectives through his wife, who led the men a chase all over the New England states. Finally, by a most circuitous route, she entered a boarding house in Brooklyn. At the door the husband met her. A few minutes later he was under arrest. Besides being in the employ of the Canadian Pacific, Frappier owned a large hotel in Montreal and was considered to be quite wealthy.

GOELET FAMILY

SAYS AN IMPOSTER USED YOUNG BOB'S NAME.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—Convinced that an imposter used their name to gain the hand of Miss Eleanor Anderson, a telegraph operator in an uptown hotel, the family of Robert Goelet has employed detectives to find the man with instructions to leave no stone unturned to clear up the mystery which a day or two ago took the form of an announcement that the young millionaire was about to wed Miss Anderson. The latter story was quickly denied, but the Anderson family insisted that a man representing himself as Robert Goelet had presented to their daughter letters of introduction and that he also used cards bearing that name. It has been learned that the letters, which are still in possession of the Andersons, were forgeries. The imposter went so far as to show Miss Anderson her future home on Fifth avenue, and all preparations had been made for the wedding when the story got into the newspapers and thus reached the man who was supposed to be taking the leading part in the romance. Thus far no trace of the man's true identity has been secured.

THE COPPER WAR

HEINZE AND AMALGAMATED CO. WILL AGREE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7.—The Oregonian today prints the following special from Butte, Mont.:

A report, apparently based upon the very best authority, indicates that the settlement of the long and bitter copper war between F. Augustus Heinze and the Amalgamated Copper company is in sight and that resumption of the latter's mines and smelters is not far distant.

According to information Heinze has sold his entire Butte holdings with the exception of a small interest and he will act as the Amalgamated Copper company's manager of all its mines and smelters.

The price paid by the Amalgamated, or price it is to pay, could not be ascertained.

President William Scallon of the Anaconda company and representative of the Amalgamated, refuses to either affirm or deny the report. Upon the most reliable statements made by the Amalgamated people it is understood that Gov. Toole will call an extra session of the legislature within the next week, that a fair trial bill of the Amalgamated Copper company may be enacted.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—John Alexander Dowie, who is to depart for Zion City Monday, has been served with papers in a suit by the keeper of a Lexington avenue boarding house for $580 unpaid board alleged to have been contracted for by Deacon Corlette acting as agent for the restoration host. Dowie's legal representative declares no such contract was entered into for the members of the "host."

DIAMOND THIEF

BELL BOY IS HELD BY THE POLICE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Nov. 7—Diamond jewelry valued at more than $3000, was stolen from the rooms of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Mann, Hotel Bellevue, Beacon street, Thursday evening, and none of the jewelry has been recovered.

The police have arrested a bell boy at the hotel on suspicion of having been the thief.

Arthur E. Mann is engaged in the wholesale boot and shoe business at 36 Lincoln street. Thursday evening when they went down to dinner, Mrs. Mann wore but a few of her jewels, the greater part of them being left in her jewel case, which was placed in a black alligator skin bag with gold trimmings. In the bag there was also a collection of rare coins valued at $200. The bag was locked and was left lying in a drawer of a bureau in Mrs. Mann's room, where it had been kept right along.

When they returned to their suite, Mrs. Mann, as was her custom, went to the drawer where she kept her jewel case to see if everything was all right. The bag was missing, but nothing else in the room had been disturbed.

INDUSTRIAL SITUATION

AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS WILL RESUME WORK.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BURLINGTON, Vt., Nov. 7—The industrial situation in the Mascoma valley, N. H., is not so uncertain as has been reported in that state during the past ten days. It is learned here that none of the American woolen mills in Lebanon and Enfield will be dismantled, as was feared, but that on the contrary, all will be running in full by December 1.

The removal to this city of Senator George E. Whitney, agent of the Riverside and Mascoma mills at Lebanon, Baltic mills at Enfield, N. H., and Burlington, Winooski and Colchester mills of this state, led to a report that the idle machinery in the Mascoma valley would not again be started.

Mr. Whitney states that 60 looms in the Mascoma mills are running and that the Baltic plant is now on full time. The Lebanon mills are still shut down for repairs. The other mills were running slack to permit of a change in the fabrics to be manufactured for next season. All machinery will be running in a few weeks.

MINISTER DELCASSE

WANTS A GUARANTEE FROM NEW REPUBLIC.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PARIS, Nov. 7—Before giving a formal recognition by France of the new republic of Panama, Foreign Minister Delcasse has decided to secure a specific declaration that the new regime will carry out Colombia's former obligations in connection with the canal and other French property interests. Until this declaration is unmistakably given, French recognition will be withheld, but so soon as it is given, there is the best reason to believe that France will recognize the independence of the new state.

Cable inquiries are now proceeding to secure the specific assurance required. The French consul at Panama cabled yesterday that Panama would assume Colombia's former treaty and legal obligations. This is considered by the officials here as making practically certain the intention of the new state towards French property rights, but in order to remove the slightest question of doubt, a definite declaration from the new regime is awaited. When this is received, it is expected that the French course towards the recognition of the new state will follow substantially that taken by Washington yesterday, the French consul at Panama being directed to enter into relations with the new authorities and formal letters of recognition following later.

The officials here construe the action taken by the United States as being equivalent to a full recognition of the new state.

It was very considerate of the saloons to close on election day. If they would show a little respect for the screen law they would greatly facilitate Officer Brown's work.

Had the aldermen announced the election results in this city immediately after election day, the caucuses for the city election could have been held under the Lace law, assuming that the law takes effect on the official announcement of its adoption.

The Esquimaux who can endure the most intense cold, cannot withstand the sudden changes of our New England climate without danger. It is better now to take precautions against this danger, than to be using doubtful remedies for colds later, or maybap to finish the struggle by calling the "funeral director."

Before going any further in pushing his candidacy for the presidency in 1904, William Waldorf Jackson, jr., should shed some light upon the age of Ann. The people of this republic do not want to elevate a man to the highest office in their gift unless he shows some capability for wrestling with great questions of this kind.

It would not be surprising to find the republic of Panama annexed to the United States in the near future. The possession of the isthmus would reward this country for the difficultyand the risks of enforcing the Monroe doctrine. These southern republics do not seem to appreciate their indebtedness to this country for the security they thus enjoy.

A WORD ABOUT THE WEATHER.

Those people who go around in weather like the present in their fall and summer clothing need not expect to live a hundred years. Some people can stand more exposure than others; but we do not know any individual or any race that can safely encounter the sudden changeso of temperature in this climate.

EX-GOVERNOR CRANE IS WILLING.

We are somewhat surprised that ex-Governor Crane is so ready to take charge of the national republican committee which the president is pressing upon Mark Hanna as a means of keeping the latter out of the presidential contest. Mr. Crane would find himself an equal for Hanna in the matter of collecting funds and applying them in carrying close states. In this particular Hanna is a born genius. No man with a conscience should ever tackle the job. It may be, however, that our genial ex-governor wants to figure in national politics, for a time with the hope that later on the presidential lightning may come his way. He would be a good man for vice-president on the ticket with Roosevelt, but in all probability a candidate will be selected from a state less solidly republican than Massachusetts.

BALFOUR MAY WEATHER THE GALE.

There is a growing sentiment in England against a leap in the dark on the tariff problem. It is now proposed to submit the question to the investigation of a royal commission on which both parties will be equally represented. By this expedient Premier Balfour may be able to weather the storm for a couple of years and it is probable that Mr. Chamberlain would be willing to risk the delay feeling that the longer he gets to educate the voters upon the tariff issue the better for his fiscal policy. The elections to fill the vacancy of the members appointed to office show that there is not the popular reaction against Mr. Chamberlain's policy that was expected.

There are about sixty seats of the unionist party in parliament controlled by the Free Traders, so-called and the only way in which Mr. Balfour can overcome their opposition on a division is to secure the support of the Irish Nationalists. For this reason it is expected that some very substantial concessions will be made to Ireland. One of these will be an act for the relief of agricultural laborers and another may be an improvement in the educational system of the country. If the Irish party exerts great pressure upon the government for home rule, that may be forthcoming before parliament be prorogued.

REVIEW OF NO-LICENSE REGIME.

It must be patent to everybody in this city that since the inauguration of the no-license regime there has been a vast amount of money saved for the rightful uses to which it should be applied. There has been less neglect of families, less crimes from the use of drink, fewer arrests, fewer convictions and fewer families disgraced by having relatives or friends brought to police court and sent to prison.

The open saloon with most of its evil allurements has been banished. It is true that still there is some attempt made to sell here and there, but the most that the most courageous of the saloonists have dared is to sell a little from the hip-pocket. When the business is driven to that extremity it is on its last legs. All the profits that are derived from the business as now conducted even though it be continued unmolested throughout the year would not pay the gas bills and the wages of the bartender and his assistant at the door. Who cares for drink sold in this way? None but the most confirmed topers, and to these nobody cares to sell. The treating habit is killed by the hip-pocket process of sale and with it goes one of the worst temptations connected with the liquor business.

It is the jollification, the conviviality brought out around the drinking table that lures young men to the saloon until they contract the drinking habit. That feature has been completely banished since the first of May last, for nowhere have the most courageous or the most reckless set of men the hardihood to sit down in a saloon and call for drink after drink to be served from the hip-pocket. They are afraid of being caught, and there is not a saloonist in Lowell who would want them to sit in his place for the proprietor of the saloon has good reason to be more timid than are his customers.

Besides, the liquor sold in this way is the poorest and most dangerous. Speak-easy whiskey is a dangerous commodity. The customers who use it for the first time should beware of it lest they be suddenly overcome and fall helpless on the street. It is deadly stuff.

Now, under such circumstances with the saloons closed up and practically out of business, with the sale of brewed drinks practically stopped, it is clear that the saloons keep open only with the hope that the city will return to license next year. If the city goes no-license in December three-fourths of the saloons now in waiting would close up for good and their proprietors would look around ofr some other business. The bartenders as a class suffer most from no-license. That is one of the evils of the business; the young man is foolish who embarks in a business so precarious. It is as bad as a political job, he never can tell when he is going to be left in idleness. It would be better alike for the liquor dealers and their employes to get out of this business and into one more stable and more reliable.

SEEN AND HEARD

The ambitious candidates are abroad with their campaign pictures and cards.

A fine workman, a good friend and an earnest, honest man was lost in the death of William E. Costello, the Centralville painter.

Mayor Feeney of Woburn, the youngest mayor in the state, who has many friends in Lowell and occasionally visits here, is a candidate for re-election.

The plan of the park board to have playgrounds on the South common and baseball grounds on the North common is admirable. Let both grounds be put in good shape and see to it that proper regulations shall govern their use.

Gov. Bates has officially approved of the selection of Sept. 17, 1850, as "Massachusetts day," at the St. Louis exposition. This date commemorates the signing of the charter, on Sept. 17, 1630, of the Town of Tri-Mountain, afterward named Boston.

LEARNED FROM GEN. BUTLER.

"Why do you take off your hat when you go to vote?" asked one citizen of another, as they left the polling place in Lawrence election day. "Gen. Butler brought me that," was the answer. "He said that next to his God, a man should do reverence to his right of free suffrage. The general never approached the ballot box in any other than a reverent manner. I have always followed his example."—"Bud Brier" in the Boston Globe.

FALL OF THE PEMBERTON.

A Sun reader telephones that the Pemberton mill in Lawrence fell on Jan. 10, 1860, and not on the 11th, as stated in this column. Judge Cowley's history of Lowell names Jan 11th as the date, but Edward H. Savage, a Boston historian, says Jan. 10th. So there you are; but whatever the day, it was the most horrible accident that ever occurred in these parts. A Lowell resident recently said that he well recalls the event, and that hundreds of Lowell people walked to Lawrence to see the ruins.

FRESH EGGS SCARCE.

The housekeepers are complaining about the unusual scarcity of fresh eggs. Perhaps never before at this season of the year were strictly fresh eggs so short and high as at present. The hens are on a sort of strike, and if it was not for storage eggs the housekeepers would be in a quandary. The use of storage eggs is greatly increased over former years. The large dealers are learning how to treat eggs properly, so that there is no bad flavor when taken out.

THOMAS TALBOT'S STABLE.

Probably the finest stable near Lowell is that in North Billerica owned by Thomas Talbot, chairman of the republican state committee. It is elegantly appointed, and is splendidly equipped with all sorts of harness and carriages. The rooms of the coach one stable are on the second floor, are very home-like and have all modern conveniences. Not the least of Mr. Talbot's possessions, that makes a home in the stable, is a dog valued at $1600.

MADE DOUBTFUL ANSWER.

The appearance of John Lavery in police court Saturday morning reminded Deputy Welch of John's last visit. It was his third offence but the court wanted to give him a show.

"Are you a married man?" asked the court.

"I am, I have a wife."

"Have you any children?"

"I have, your honor."

"How many?"

"P-o-u-r," replied John rather doubtfully.

John was placed on probation, and when he resumed his seat in the dock the fellow directly behind him snickered and John joined in the snicker.

The court saw him and said: "Stand up Lavery."

John stood up and the court asked: "Are you sure you have four children?"

"Y-e-s, I have them, but they're dead," replied John.

The deputy said he was sure the court would reconsider John's case and send him away, but he didn't. "Perhaps," remarked the deputy, "the court thought it was out on him."

FEAR OF ASSASSIN

Attorney Byrd Will Not Attend Session of Court

By Associated Press to The Sun

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 9.—A. Floyd Byrd, commonwealth attorney of Breathitt county, who gained a reputation in the prosecution of Curtis Jett and Thomas White for the Marcum murder, last night confirmed the rumor that he has decided to remain away from Breathitt county during the term of court which begins at Jackson today.

His action is taken upon the insistent solicitations of friends and relatives who declare that, judging from the past history of the county, his life would be in constant peril there. He has not received warning of a definite plot to take his life as has been rumored.

L. F. Cole of Jackson has been temporarily appointed prosecuting attorney. "There will be no indictments at the coming term of court, Mr. Byrd says, in connection with the numerous assassination cases, and further investigation will be postponed for the present.

Mr. Byrd's term of office will expire January 1. He will then move to Winchester, Ky., to reside permanently, but does not expect to sever himself entirely from the mountains in which he has been instrumental in bringing about a revolution of law and order. Only minor cases are on the docket of the Breathitt circuit court.

ORGANIZED LABOR

DISCUSSED BY PRESIDENT SHAFFER.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 9.—President Thomas J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated Iron and Steel and Tin Workers' union, spoke at a mass meeting of local union labor men here yesterday afternoon. The address was devoted entirely to the outlook for organized labor in this country. He said:

"I am hopeful of better things. In the church we hear of the good work in behalf of the laboring classes by Bishop Potter and Archbishop Ireland. In politics we have that manly man, Hanna, and President Roosevelt. A union of interest between the nation, the church and organized labor will accomplish much for the American people."

WARSHIPS WANTED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9.—The Italian minister at Havana, Oreste Savina, has cabled to his government information concerning the revolution in Santo Domingo and asking that a warship be sent there and placed at the disposal of the Italian consul general for the protection of Italian subjects and property.

Until his warship arrives the protection of Italians has been entrusted to the British representative.

Some Lowell People Fully Realize It Now

When the back aches from kidney ills.

When urinary troubles annoy you,

There's a certain way to find relief.

A sure way to be cured.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do it.

Lowell people endorse this claim.

Mr. G. S. Emerson, of 512 Westford street, says:

"Lapse of time has increased my appreciation of Doan's Kidney Pills. The cure effected by that remedy in 1896 when I procured a supply at Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store, and took a course of the treatment, has been permanent. Other members of my family have used the remedy during that period, and add their endorsement to mine."

THAT there's less prejudice than ever against ready-made--the ready-made--made by Rogers, Peet & Co., we have the best evidence in our constantly increasing sales.

He must be an extremely clever merchant-tailor who can turn out suits as good as these and he must have an exceptional collection of fabrics if he would match the variety we show in quality and excellence of patterns.

It is likely that price has had something to do with the success of Rogers-Peet suits, $18 to $30--instead of a tailor's figures.

GREAT RECEPTION

To People of Rome by Pope Pius X

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9—Pope Pius X. yesterday afternoon held another of the receptions inaugurated by him this autumn, that the people of Rome might have his blessing.

At an early hour the large court of San Damaso was so full that not another person could be squeezed in. It is believed that there were 30,000 persons in the court and many were turned away, while raphicls loggia around the court was full to overflowing.

The appearance of the pope was made amidst great pomp. Preceded by guards and surrounded by the prelates of the court, he took up his position on the throne under the clock, facing the entrance. As he came in, a tremor of emotion was quite perceptible in the vast crowd, the present generation being unaccustomed to any public view of a pope. His Holiness was visibly touched and his eyes filled with tears. After a brief silence there were loud cries of "Long Live Pius." Then a chorus of clear voiced girls sang a hymn to the pope, which had an effect of indescribable sweetness.

As soon as this hymn was finished another was begun by a chorus of boy students, including pupils from the American college, led by Vice Rector Murphy of New York.

The pope spoke for fifteen minutes on the gospel of the day and was clearly heard by all. His concluding words were "Times are evil, but the evil can be cured by prayer."

His Holiness imparted the apostolic benediction to the great gathering. Several persons were then permitted to kiss his hand.

JOHN REDMOND

Will Not Retire From Irish League

By Associated Press to The Sun

LONDON, Nov. 9—William O'Brien's retirement from parliament and the directory of the United Irish league will not cause any split in the Irish National party, nor has John Redmond any intention of retiring from the leadership.

William O'Brien has been at loggerheads with the Freeman's Journal as to the number of years of purchase the Irish tenants should on the average pay the landlords for their land under the new act.

The Freeman's Journal argues that 18 1-2 years of purchase and the other advantages given the landlord, equalling five years additional, is sufficient, while O'Brien contends that 23 1-2 years purchase, exclusive of the bonus, is the correct average.

The dispute has been purely one of figures. The Freeman's Journal never has said a discourteous word of Mr. O'Brien, and now strongly urges him to reconsider his resignation. Mr. O'Brien's health, however, has been seriously undermined. His nervous system is in a bad state and it is believed that he will be forced to take a long rest.

In any event the Irish party, while deploring his decision, is united in support of Redmond and is determined that there shall be no repetition of the Parnell split.

The Irish landlords undoubtedly were encouraged to make exorbitant demands of their tenants by the controversy between O'Brien and the Freeman's Journal, and now that the latter has the field to itself the landlords will soon realize that they must negotiate on a fair basis.

DERELICT SCHOONER

FOUND DRIFTING AND TOWED INTO FRESHWATER BAY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 9.—A special from St. Johns, N. F., says that a 45 ton derelict schooner has been picked up by some fishermen at Freshwater Bay. The spars were in her and the sails hanging on them were torn to pieces. There was no name to be seen anywhere on the vessel and no cargo of any kind. The rail was carried away and the spars were swinging clear. The fishermen succeeded in getting the schooner in after considerable trouble and she now lies on the strand badly broken up. There are no tidings of the crew.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and for some causes are building human wrecks by sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the record of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured and hopeless consumption is no longer to despair. Mrs. Inga Cragy of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by F. C. Goodale, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

A GRIM TRAGEDY

Schooner Wrecked Off Sable Island

NINE DECOMPOSED BODIES FOUND IN HOLD

Several Other Boats Had Close Calls

By Associated Press to The Sun

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 9.—News of a grim tragedy of the sea was brought to this port Saturday by the steamer Tyrian, which arrived from Sable Island, the barren stretch of sand in the ocean, 175 miles east of Halifax, known among mariners everywhere as the graveyard of the North Atlantic. The captain of the Tyrian announced that two weeks ago, the battered hulk of a vessel, undoubtedly that of a schooner, drifted ashore on the island with nine decomposed bodies in it. The name of the wrecked craft was made out as "Topaz" but the name of her hailing port is not known.

The steamer Tyrian is in the lighthouse supply service of the Canadian government and is one of the vessels which makes periodical visits to Sable Island for the purpose of carrying oil and supplies to the light keepers and patrolmen on the island. These vessels are the only means of communication between the mainland and the island, the government, while maintaining a complete marine signal service, never having laid a cable.

The Tyrian reports that the hull of the ill-fated craft was bottom up when it came ashore. The life savers inspected the wreck closely but could find only the name "Topaz" of "S——." The remaining letters in the name of her hailing port had been obliterated by the action of the sea.

When the inside was examined the life savers beheld a horrible sight. In all nine bodies, decomposed to such an extent that recognition would have been out of the question, were found in various parts of the hold.

CLAIMS $100 BILL

LEGAL TANGLE IN NASHUA COURT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 9.—A hearing was held before Judge Holtt Saturday morning, involving one of the most novel suits ever brought in this part of the state.

The suit was for the retention of a $100 bill found by Lawrence Henry and Philip O'Neil in a waste barrel in front of J. D. Bickford's store.

The boys testified to finding the bill, torn in two parts, one end near the top of the barrel and the other lower down.

Mr. Bickford testified to having received at his store several $100 bills during the summer, and that as the bill was found in waste from his place of business he believed that it was his, though he could not remember having lost it. Decision was reserved and counsel are to present briefs.

TERRIBLY BEATEN

LAWRENCE MAN FOUND LYING IN POOL OF BLOOD.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LAWRENCE, Nov. 9.—Alfred Gagnon, who operates a wood yard on Melrose street, was found late Saturday night lying in a pool of blood in the yard unconscious and suffering from terrible injuries to his head and body. He was removed to the general hospital, where, it was stated last night, his condition was critical.

Investigation yesterday by the police shows that Gagnon had been out collecting bills Saturday, and had considerable money with him when he returned to his office. When he was found this money was gone, and it is supposed that robbery was the motive for the assault.

In searching the yard a large piece of iron pipe was found in a pool of blood, and with this weapon, it is believed, the assault was committed. There have been no arrests as yet, although the police believe the guilty person or persons may yet be captured.

DOWIE'S CLOSING WORD

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—John Alexander Dowie held his final meeting in New York in Carnegie hall last night, addressing a sparse audience, which he classed as "scrawny and miserable." He announced that he had established a branch of his church in New York and that in future regular Sunday meetings would be addressed by various overseers. He also declared that he intended to return in two years at the head of a host ten thousand strong.

YELLOW FEVER

IT CONTINUES TO RAGE IN TEXAS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LAREDO, Texas, Nov. 9.—Yellow fever continues without much abatement notwithstanding the efforts of physicians.

Dr. E. D. Murray, the international yellow fever expert, returned Saturday from a trip as far as Saltillo, where he has been investigating the yellow fever situation.

He stated yesterday that conditions in Monterey, if judged by other cities where yellow fever has been epidemic, indicated no less than 25,000 cases there this year, with the mortality rate placed conservatively at five per cent. The deaths have been greatly in excess of the number reported in the official bulletin issued in this city and fully 500 cases exist at the present time. All the nations on the line of the Mexican Central, he says, between Laredo and Saltillo, have suffered an invasion of the yellow fever and have contributed an unknown number of deaths and cases.

DRINK HABIT

"Drunkenness Is a Disease" Says Prof. MUNYON

APPETITE

For Strong Drink Is Surely Taken Away by this New Vegetable Tonic

A mother writing to Professor Munyon from Lowell, Mass., says: "My son, through bad associations, became addicted to strong drink, and we had almost despaired of saving him from a drunkard's grave. His stomach and nerves had become totally wrecked.

Two weeks ago, my sister, who lives in Boston, sent me a bottle of Paw-Paw for him, and, strange to say, it not only cured his stomach trouble but has taken away all desire for alcoholic drink. He has gained 11 pounds in flesh and now eats well and sleeps well. May God bless you for giving the world this wonderful medicine."

Surely this mother has reason to feel grateful, and it is my opinion, previously expressed, that the clergymen in this country could do no greater service to the cause of temperance than to advocate the general use of my Paw-Paw, for by its use drunkenness would be lessened and the morals and health of the community greatly improved.

A wife whose husband is addicted to drinking can do nothing better for herself or family than to get a bottle of this Paw-Paw and whenever her husband feels the need of a tonic give him a tablespoonful of Paw-Paw. She will find that he will soon lose all cravings for strong drinks that his appetite will soon become natural, that his nervousness and longing for excitements will disappear and he will be perfectly satisfied, without alcoholic stimulants and harmful beverages.

Almost every human being some time requires a stimulant, NOT AN ALCOHOLIC STIMULANT, not a stimulant that will buoy up for a moment and then cast down to lower depths of depression, but a stimulant that will give an abiding and lasting force.

My Paw-Paw aids the stomach to digest hearty foods and to make good, rich blood, which again in turn strengthens the nerves, vitalizing all the tissues, and soon produces muscles, tissues and bone.

MUNYON.

Paw-Paw does away with the desire for strong drink by satisfying and strengthening the stomach and nerves. It gives exhilaration without intoxication.

Paw-Paw gives you a good appetite and secures for the body every benefit which food is designed to bring.

Take a bottle home with you today, and if that home contains a weak or rebellious stomach, a set of disordered nerves, a pain racker after sleep, Paw-Paw will bring quick relief and more results will be gained in Munyon's great and growing army of the cured.

Munyon's Paw-Paw (large bottles), price $1.00. Paw-Paw Pills, 25 cents per box. All druggists.

LOWELL VICTORY

Concord Outplayed by Manager Gray's Team

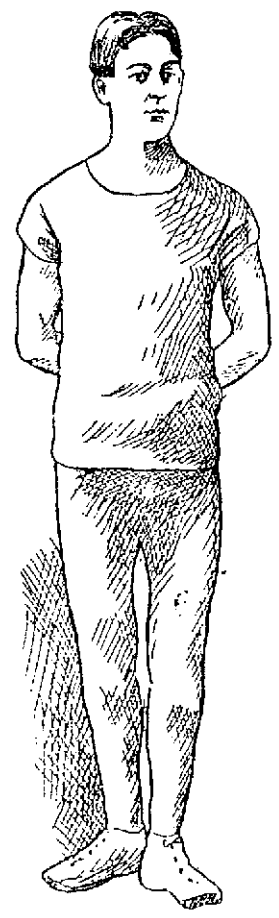

Lowell 38, Concord 15.

Lowell is tied for second place in the basketball league.

Saturday night, in Huntington hall, before an audience numbering 1200 people, Manager Gray's team rubbed it into the Concord men, hailed as the strongest team in the league.

From a Lowell standpoint, the game was a dandy. The local team seemed to have struck their gait and their team work was excellent. It was the verdict of all who saw the game that Lowell playing as the team did Saturday night, is without a peer in this league. The passing and offensive work was simply grand and the entire team took a hand in adding to the Concords' troubles.

Previous to the game and between periods the Lowell Cadet band played lively music, and so well pleased was

JOE KYNOCH.

Manager Gray with their work that he presented the young men a box of cigars. John Tierney refereed and he gave general satisfaction, though Stewart was inclined to object to some of his decisions.

The victory of the Lowell team was a surprise to many. In fact to the majority of those present. They had figured Concord as being well nigh invincible and they reckoned, too, that Lowell had not struck its speed yet. In both reckonings they were in error. Lowell played a game that will prove a winner nine times out of ten. From the moment the whistle blew Concord was lost and the Lowell men piled up baskets by the cleverest kind of play.

Allard played a remarkable game, and for the first time this season showed his old speed and form. He was fast on the floor, quick to pass, covered well and had a fine eye for the basket. The way he dodged interference and broke through the Concord defense was repeatedly cheered. Allard threw five baskets. Abbott, too, was in the game all the time and his head work was an important factor in the victory. He carried the ball well, found plenty of openings and landed three baskets after the most skolful kind of play. Capt. Holleron also scored five times and made himself solid with the patrons. The captain's scoring was done mostly in the latter part of the game and two baskets were made after he carried the ball the entire length of the floor. Joe Kynoch played a grand, rushing game and carried the ball into Concord territory repeatedly. He scored a brace of goals and did some excellent passing.

Kane, the Scranton man, who leads the league in basket throwing, scored two of Concord's five field goals. One of them was a throw from near the center of the cage, and was loudly cheered. The other three goals for the visitors were thrown by Herron who showed remarkable speed.

Though Concord was beaten from the start, yet the game was exciting throughout, and not one of the large audience left before the referee's whistle blew for the finish.

Playing the game they did Saturday night there is no reason why the Lowell team cannot get away with any team in the league. If ever a team played in championship form Manager Gray's boys did. True, they missed many chances for baskets, some of them very easy ones, but such luck falls to the best of them.

A pleasing feature of the attendance Saturday night was the presence of so many ladies and leading business men and city officials.

The Lowell team will meet Haverhill tomorrow night in Huntington hall.

A HARD GAME

HAVERHILL LOST THE CONTEST TO MANCHESTER.

Haverhill N. E. league basketball team gave the Manchester team a hard game in Haverhill Saturday evening, the visitors being victorious by a score of 25 to 17 in a rough game, no less than 41 fouls being called.

The visitors gave a great exhibition of team work, completely outclassing the locals in this respect. The home team felt the loss of Tighe, who is laid up with an injury. In the first two periods the score was close, but the visitors forged ahead in the third period. The work of Reagan and Devlin for the visitors, and that of Low, Crittenden and Harrington for the locals was good. The lineup:

BASKET BALL NOTES.

Haverhill played 12 men in the games of last week; Nashua seven and the other teams six each.

Harry Hough is putting up a star game for Pittsfield.

Allard went on the road last Friday and Saturday mornings and made ten miles each time. He will have to take a lot of this kind of exercise before he regains his old time speed. Allard's friends have tipped him off on this point, but he has an idea that any one who criticises his play must have some personal feeling against him. The sooner he gets rid of this idea the better off he will be.

Lowell people will give Manager Gray credit for one thing and that is that he is willing to spend the money and has done so in order to get a championship team.

Those Concord men are wonders. Stewart is the only drawback to the team. Had some one else played in his place in Manchester, Friday night, the story of the result might have been different.

The Lowell team has been studying a new style of play and this has held them back some. Now they have it down pretty fine and from this time out should land the goods.

The Connecticut league is on its last legs. This news must tickle Connelly and Devlin when they think how near they came to going to New Haven and taking the entire Manchester team with them.

John Smith wants the Lowell management to play on the percentage basis. Pretty soon John will want to own every team in the league. Since Freddie turned down John in the Lawrence franchise matter, the latter has thought there was a conspiracy on foot and that he was getting the bad end. As a matter of fact the Manchester man has been getting about what he wanted since he took a hand in the game last year.

Guthrie the new man who is playing with Nashua, is none other than our old friend "Darry," who made his reputation on the old Burke team.

The referees are giving satisfaction all along the line. The only vigorous kick so far was made by Stewart at Manchester.

The Gray team will go up against Burke Low, Jimmy Harrington, Tighe, former P. A. C. players in Haverhill, tonight.

Bill Kellher's Nashua tribe will come to Lowell tomorrow night. McFarlane and Guthrie, two other Lowell men will be in the visitors' lineup. Big Horne another league star, and Labelle, the Nashua baseball player with Doyle, one of the best basket throwers in the league will complete the team.

Capt. Stewart of the Concord basketball team has protested the game which his team lost in Manchester last Friday night on the ground that certain decisions by the referee were erroneous and contrary to the rules.

Manchester and Concord will meet again tomorrow night. The game will be played in Concord and quite a crowd of Manchester sports will go up to place their money on their team.

THE FIRST WEEK

What Basket Ball Teams Have Done

CONCORD LEADS IN THROWING FIELD GOALS

Kane Holds the Individual Record

The first week of the basket ball season of the New England league was as lively as the most ardent admirer of the game could wish for.

There have been all kinds of plays, big scores, scientific work, and the games have been witnessed by large audiences. In the games played 226 baskets were thrown from the field.

Concord has the largest team total in this respect, Lowell is second, Manchester third only one basket behind Lowell, Haverhill fourth, and Nashua last with only 21 baskets to the credit of the team.

Kane holds the individual record, having 32 baskets to his credit, while Donnelly of Manchester is second with a total of 18 baskets.

The opening of the season has been most successful, the patronage was very liberal and the spectators at each game went away satisfied with the exhibition put up by the players. Manchester, Concord and Lowell have outplayed Nashua and Haverhill, but the management in the latter cities promise to strengthen their teams and are looking for good timber now. Manchester has a clean record of four victories, Lowell and Concord are tied for second place, and Haverhill and Nashua stand even.

The present week may see changes for the teams are getting down to regular work and individual play is being cut out.

Below will be found a record of each player and team, in basket throwing during the week:

CHINAMEN HELD

Both Were Indicted for Murder

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Nov. 9—Two Chinamen were indicted on the charge of murder in the second degree by the Suffolk county grand jury which reported its findings Saturday before Judge White in the superior criminal court. They are Charlie Ching and Wong Chong and they are accused of killing Wah Chung in the Chinese district on the night of October 2 last. The government will allege that the death of Wah Chong occurred during a clash between two Chinese rival societies and it will endeavor to prove that the defendants who were members of one of these societies killed Chong, who was a representative of the other. This homicide created great excitement in Chinatown and was the immediate cause of the greatest raid ever made in the district, and 200 Chinamen were arrested on the charge that they were in this country without the necessary admission papers.

The case of Patrolman E. F. Lewry of Division 2, who is held on the charge of manslaughter in killing Louis Brandt, was postponed until the next session of the grand jury.

Dominico Allolo was indicted for manslaughter in causing the death of Alberto Mollona.

About 40 other true bills were reported.

JOHN MITCHELL.

JOHN MITCHELL

May Get Place in the Cabinet

HE WILL BE SECRETARY CORTELYOU'S SUCCESSOR

Will Not be Miners' President

By Associated Press to The Sun

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 9—The Dispatch today will publish a story to the effect that John Mitchell will not be a candidate for re-election as president of the United Mine Workers' union at the January convention.

This statement was made by a close personal friend of Mr. Mitchell, while the miner's president and other officials of the organization, who are on their way to Boston to attend the convention of the American Federation of Labor, stopped over here.

The announcement by his apparent authentic source is raised above mere rumor.

The same gentleman said Mr. Mitchell, assuming that President Roosevelt would be elected, decided to lay aside the miner's offer to become a member of the president's cabinet, succeeding George B. Cortelyou, as secretary of the department of commerce and labor.

Secretary Cortelyou, it is said, has decided not to again be the head of the department, and may go back to the position of private secretary to the president.

THE HANNA BOOM

Southern States Will Support Him

IN A FIGHT AGAINST PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

The Latter's Friends are Troubled

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—There has been a recrudescence among the machine members of the republican party of the anti-Roosevelt disease, since Senator Hanna won his remarkable victory in Ohio, and Maryland and New York city went democratic. It has become so strong that another statement from Senator Hanna, stronger than the one he made several months ago, was necessary to hold it in check. The revived Hanna boom has the support of the financial interests in New York, who think the president is hostile to them, and also former office-holders and others who want to see a "practical politician of the old guard" at the head of the ticket.

Senator Hanna arrived here today and was overwhelmed with congratulations on his success in beating Tom L. Johnson and Clark, his opponents for the senate, in such a signal manner. He gave no sign that he was a receptive or any other kind of a candidate for the presidential nomination, but he laughingly referred to his threat to throw any man who talked presidency to him out of the sixth-story window as still holding good.

Senator Hanna has this to say about the result in Ohio:

"I have no complaint to make. We are still on top in Ohio, but there is one thing I would like to say: That is that the bringing forward by the democrats of a dead issue and breathing the breath of life into the ship subsidy bill as an argument increased the republican majority in Ohio."

ANCIENT TREASURE

GOLD AND PRECIOUS STONES FOUND NEAR SICILY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9.—Peasants while digging near Palazzolo Acrede, Sicily, found a rich treasure of ancient objects from Syracuse. The most valuable were an artistic diadem encrusted with precious stones, a belt of solid gold and several rings of beautiful shapes. There were also found a number of coins of different value. The government authorities took possession of the treasure on the ground that it was national property but they will compensate the proprietor of the estate according to an estimate which will be made by experts.

HIS WIFE MISSING

Neighbors Discredit the Suicide Story

By Associated Press to The Sun

GLOUCESTER, Nov. 9.—The mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Asa Josselyn, wife of the assistant lightkeeper at Thatcher's island, and the peculiar conduct of the missing woman's husband, have aroused much interest here.

Mrs. Josselyn disappeared from the island on Nov. 2, under circumstances which led to the report that she had committed suicide. None of the boats had been taken, and so far as was known at the time it would have been impossible for her to reach land. The matter was reported to the police, who made a careful search of the shore, but no trace of the woman's body was found. The next morning the woman's husband went to Boston, and on Wednesday returned with a young woman, who one of the townspeople said was his cousin. The young woman accompanied him to the island.

On the morning of Nov. 5 Josselyn sent to the Rockport Review a request that his wife's death notice be published, after which he went to the residence of Town Clerk C. W. Pool and made application for a marriage license. His application gave the name of the young woman he proposed to marry as Mrs. Cora Frances Smith Trimmer of North Scituate, and her age as 29.

REYNOLDS IS COOL

Long Distance Rider Was Taken to Peabody

Chief of Police of Peabody M. H. Grady came to Lowell Saturday afternoon for Harmond Reynolds, the young fellow who rode from Colebrook, N. H., to Lowell on an old bicycle and applied for lodging at the police station here. Reynolds is wanted for breaking and entering a summer cottage in Peabody. He was one of three who did the job, and when he found out that the police were after him he left town.

Harmond didn't know Chief Grady when they met in the guard room at police station.

"I didn't get a chance to form your acquaintance," said Mr. Grady, "you left town too quick. I met the other two fellows."

"Hope you formed a good impression of them," said Reynolds.

"They were placed on probation," said the chief, "and you would have been too, if you hadn't skipped."

"'Twas just like this," said Reynolds. "They wanted to go but they were too slow. I told them at noon time that you fellows were after us and they had plenty of time to quit town if they wanted to hustle, but they were too slow. I was fifty miles from Peabody when the other two fellows were arrested, and I didn't have as much to do with the job as they did, either."

When Chief Grady went to put the twisters on Reynolds, the latter said: "You don't need them on me. I'm just as anxious to get to Peabody as you are."

"Well, I'm not as good a runner as I used to be," replied the chief, "and I'm not taking any chances."

Before leaving the police station Reynolds thanked the keeper and other officers for their courteous and considerate treatment and he told Deputy Welch that he wouldn't forget his kindness.

It was to the deputy that Reynolds, leg wearied, cold, hungry and penniless, applied for a night's lodging, and he got it.

LABOR CANDIDATES

Trades and Labor Council in Politics

Will Endeavor to Centre Strength of Organized Labor Men on Candidates Who are Members of Labor Organizations—Other Political Notes

The Trades and Labor Council at its meeting yesterday went into the matter of labor organizations in politics, and after an intelligent discussion of the question it was decided that the interests of organized labor can be best served by the election of candidates friendly to organized labor and its purposes. It was decided, therefore, to support all candidates who are trades unionists and to interview all labor men in interest of labor candidates for aldermen and councilmen with the end in view that their numbers may be felt on election day. In the case of candidates not being members of a trades union the candidate known to be friendly to the cause will be supported.

The democratic caucuses will be held on November 19 and it is incumbent upon every democrat to go to the caucuses and vote for the best candidates of the party. The recent elections in this city have shown that the city is about evenly divided politically and hence in order for the democracy to win only the strongest democratic candidates should be put on the ballot. There is a class of voters in each party which never attends caucuses but is continually criticizing the action of caucuses. If this class gets out and votes there can be no such criticism in future. Let every democrat attend the caucus on November 19 and vote for candidates who can win on election day.

The political writer is pleased to acknowledge the receipt of a courteous little note from his old friend, Hon. William Waldorf Jackson, notifying said writer that the Hon. W. W. is still in the land of the living enjoying good health in hopeful spirits, clear of conscience and ready to don his armor and do battle for the presidency in 1904. The note concludes with the following beautiful sentiment: "O, for the dawn of the golden future. Through scholarship, statesman and a name as national as the flag and a reputation from the centre to the circumference of the globe, I shall gain the presidential heights, the greatest office in the American republic."

Tommy Byrne, the "megraphone" candidate, appeared before City Clerk Dadman today for nomination papers. Said Tommy to The Sun reporter afterward: "You can announce in your very commendious publication that I shall be a candidate for mayor on the reformed economical republican ticket. My platform is individual taxation, protection for all concerned, good roads built by local toilers and fine public playgrounds and baths. When I run for representative Mayor Howe went into his pocket to help Cecil Adams defeat me and before I finish he will wish he had kept out of the fight."

It is understood that Councilman Fontaine declines to attend the meeting and abide by its decision.

Col. James H. Carmichael states that he will not be a candidate for mayor in the caucuses this year.

John "Rucky" Halloran (under new management), the well-known democratic worker and basketball player, is a candidate for the common council in ward seven.

Dr. Hugh Walker is a candidate for the democratic nomination for school committee in ward nine. Dr. Walker was the democratic candidate two years ago and made an excellent run against the present incumbent, A. G. Thompson.

The contest for overseer of the poor is being waged by ex-Councilman William J. Dunn and the present incumbent, Frank McMahon. Mr. Dunn served two years in the common council from ward two and made a very successful representative. His friends are making an active canvass in his interest and the indications are that a very large vote will be cast in the caucus.

"I may run for mayor. I am considerin' of it now," said "Tommy" Little to The Sun reporter when asked his intentions.

The friends of Robert F. Conroy are of the opinion that he will make pretty good aldermanic timber and between now and the 19th may prevail upon him to be a candidate.

John J. Sullivan, the popular "Moxie" of ward two, wishes it understood that he is not and will not be a candidate for the school board against John J. Hanlon in that ward.

Before voting for candidates for the common council it is always well to look around your ward and see what has been done for it within a year and who has done it.

Dr. Hugh Walker, the well-known dentist, is the democratic candidate for the school board in ward nine. Dr. Walker has a host of friends and will make a formidable candidate against the strongest opponent that could be selected.

Councilman Timothy Donohue, who has served Ward Four faithfully in the common council for the past four years, is a candidate for the board of aldermen and his friends, who are found in all of the nine wards, are hustling for his nomination, confident that he can win on election day.

BUNTING TEAM

DEFEATED AT ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL BY METHUEN.

The United States Bunting fotball team went to Methuen Saturday afternoon and was defeated by the association football team of that place by a score of 4 to 2. The local players claim that the referee, who knew little or nothing of the rules of the game, robbed them of victory.

The lineup of the Bunting team was as follows: Goal, S. Burtt; backs, J. Murriott and R. Birtwhistle; halfbacks, M. Casey, W. Concannon and T. Gallagher; forwards, right wing, J. Halligan; forwards, right wing, J. Huligan, E. Nelson; centre, G. Allen; left wing, Ted Nelson and J. McEvoy; linesman, Wm. Nelson. Time, 40m. halves. The Buntings will play the Andover team on the grounds in Wigglaville Saturday.

LEATHER WORKERS' MEETING.

At a meeting of the Leather Workers' union this evening Dennis Healey, president of the Amalgamated Leather Workers of America, will address his old comrades. Mr. Healey went to Philadelphia about two months ago, where the offices of the national organization were opened. He will bring with him to this city a well-known lawyer of Philadelphia, who will also address the union.

SURPRISED BY FRIENDS.

Miss Lillian G. Abbott, of Powell street, was surprised at her home Friday evening when about fifty of her young friends called upon her and presented her with a gold locket and chain. Games were enjoyed during the evening and a fine musical and literary program was carried out. The party broke up at a seasonable hour.

HIGH SCHOOL WON

Defeated the Methuens Saturday Afternoon

IN A CONTEST RESULTING 17 TO 0

The Textile School Defeated at Haverhill

The Lowell High school football team has at last taken a spurt and may be able to redeem itself for the defeats if a few more victories are landed.

Saturday afternoon the Lowell boys met the Methuen High school team on the Fair Grounds and won by a score of 27 to 0. Much more courage and less grandstand play was shown in Saturday's game than any game previously played by the locals.

Methuen was outclassed by Lowell at almost every stage of the game and it was not a question of whether or not Lowell would win, it was how much Lowell will win by.

Masters, Jewett, Hatch and Crowley were the shining lights of the local aggregation and it was owing to their good work that Lowell scored the number of points that it did.

The game started off with Lowell kicking to Methuen's 25-yard line, and on the first play Moore gained the distance. In two downs Methuen fumbled and Lowell got the ball on downs. Masters and Jewett gained twelve yards on three line plays and then Hatch gained eight yards around left end. Jewett ploughed through the line four yards for a touchdown and Crowley kicked the goal.

Lowell kicked off to Methuen's 25-yard line and the man was dropped in his tracks. Methuen made gains through the line on the next three plays, but fumbled and McQuade fell on the ball. Lowell's ball, Masters gained a short distance around right end and Hatch made 18 yards in a dodging play between tackle and left end. Jewett gained two yards and Hatch four through the line. Masters carried the ball over the line for a touchdown, but Crowley cfailed to kick the goal. Lowell kicked to Methuen's 20-yard line and the man with the ball was tackled for a loss of five yards. After one unsuccessful line plunge Methuen attempted to kick but the kick was blocked in great style for a loss of ten yards by Raymond. Methuen lost the ball on downs on the five-yard line and Jewett made a touchdown. Crowley kicked the goal. End of first half, score 17 to 0.

In the second half Methuen kicked to Lowell's 20-yard line and soon got the ball on a fumble on the 15-yard line. Methuen fumbled and lost four yards, although managing to recover the ball. The ball went to Lowell on downs. A misplay gained 18 yards. The ball was to have gone to Masters, but McQuade got mixed on his signals and found the interference going around the right end while he was waiting for it on the left end. He took a chance and ran 18 yards. Masters gained twenty yards on an end play, Hatch made ten and then seven around left end and Masters went over for a touchdown. Crowley failed to kick the goal. Methuen kicked to Raymond, who ran the ball back fifteen yards. Masters gained around the end and Hatch got in twenty and ten yards runs, finally going over the line after ten yards of dodging. A. Campbell failed to kick the goal.

TEXTILE SCHOOL DEFEATED.

The Lowell Textile school football team went to Haverhill Saturday afternoon and met with a reverse, the High school team representing that city defeating the Textile boys by a score of 17 to 0. The result of this game came as a surprise to the admirers of the local team, for it has been putting up a great battle since it was organized early in the season, and while Haverhill was considered a strong team it was thought that the local aggregation would put up a better battle than it did. the newspaper with the largest circulation is always an evening paper. Why is it so? Because the masses in such a community have no opportunity to read in the morning. Advertisers who want to reach the masses who earn their money in Lowell and spend it in Lowell should bear this fact in mind. The people who trade in Boston read morning papers. FIRE AT GAS WORKS.

A fire which has been in progress for some time at the works of the Lowell Gas Light Co. in School street succeeded in destroying tons of soft coal stored there. Men have been fighting the fire for over five days, and the coal is now being removed from the sheds and being carried to an adjacent field where the process of raking it over has begun.

As a result of the fire in the coal pockets a new material has been formed which is neither coke nor ashes, it being a substance which is between the two and has been examined with a good deal of speculation by the gas company.

Constipation Can Be Cured

Good Health is Utterly Impossible Unless the Waste Products of the Body are Got Rid of—A Safe, Natural Remedy is to Be Had From Any Druggist.

Iron-Ox Tablets not only relieve, but permanently cure constipation.

They do it not by violent purgative and cathartic action, but by so toning up the stomach and bowels that they perform their natural functions without the aid of harmful drugs.

Remember Iron-Ox Tablets are not purgative or cathartic in their effect; they are tonic-laxative; they cure by building up the entire system. Purgatives and cathartics give only temporary relief by violent and injurious action—they do far more harm than good.

Iron-Ox Tablets are concentrated nerve food—they abound in brain-making elements—they do not produce a temporary exhilaration, followed by a weakening reaction, as do liquid tonics composed of drugged alcohol which leads to the drink habit.

Anything which shocks the system into activity is dangerous. Do not expect immediate perceptible effects from Iron-Ox Tablets. They produce a natural, regular building up of all the functions. This takes a little time, but a successful result is absolutely certain.

Fifty Iron-Ox Tablets in an attractive aluminum pocket-case, 25 cents at druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price. The Iron-Ox Remedy Co., Detroit, Mich.

Let Us Pay

For a 50c. Bottle of Liquozone, to Show You What it is

If you suffer from a germ trouble, let us buy a bottle of Liquozone and give it to you to try. It is liquid oxygen—the best thing in the world for you. And in germ diseases it does what all medical skill cannot do without it.

We had faith enough in it to pay $100,000 for the simple right to make it. We know its results so well that we will gladly pay for your test. Won't you, if you need it—in simple fairness to yourself—have faith enough to send us this coupon?

Just Oxygen

Liquozone is simply liquid oxygen; no drugs, no alcohol in it. It is the discovery of Dauli, the great German chemist, who spent 20 years on it. His object was to get such an excess of oxygen in stable form into the blood that no germ could live in any membrane or tissue.

Oxygen is life to an animal—the very source of vitality. We would die in three minutes without it. In this liquid form its effects are exhilarating, purifying, vitalizing. But germs are vegetables, and this excess of oxygen is deadly to vegetable matter.

We Offer $1,000

on every bottle of Liquozone for a germ that it cannot kill. And there is no other way to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any germ-killing drug is a poison to you, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine never destroys inside germs.

We spend 14 days in making each bottle of Liquozone, yet we offer you the first bottle free. And we supply it to physicians and hospitals everywhere at almost cost. In this fair way we are trying to introduce this product to everyone who needs it. If you will be as fair with yourself, we will gladly show you how any germ disease can be cured.

Cerm Diseases

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

If you need Liquozone, and have never tried it, please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on your local druggist for a full-size bottle, and we will pay your druggist ourselves for it. THE WASHINGTON HOUSEHOLD OF SPEAKER CANNON

THE decision of the new speaker of the house of representatives, Joseph G. Cannon, to occupy henceforth a house in Washington in place of the hotel apartments which he formerly reserved for himself while acting in the capacity of an ordinary workaday congressman naturally caused a flutter in the society circles of the capital, inasmuch as it indicated that once more the speaker's home would become a center of social activity and that the interesting question of the status of the speaker from a society standpoint would be raised again. Speaker Carlisle was the last ruler of the house to occupy a private dwelling in Washington, Speakers Crisp, Reed and Henderson having resided in hotels and having entertained to a comparatively small extent. It is known that Speaker Cannon is much more democratic in his tendencies than any of his recent predecessors, and it is thought that he will not be so exacting in the question of social precedence as were some of them, but many people are not illogically wondering what he will do in the way of entertaining and what will be his attitude as to the delicate questions of precedence regarding, for example, himself and the president pro tem. of the senate.

A Snapshot of Congressman Cannon.

Miss Helen Cannon

Speaker Reed, it will be remembered, deemed himself, from the standpoint of political importance, as second only to the president, and it is common talk that on at least one occasion he declined a vice presidential nomination because he held that the office of vice president was of inferior prestige to that of speaker, since the speaker is the head of the real legislative branch of the government. While not troubling himself much about his social status as speaker, he did pretty much as he pleased in accepting or declining invitations even when they came from the White House, and people who understood his attitude were very careful in regard to the place they gave him at social functions. Mr. Henderson, for his part, admitted that the vice president outranked him by virtue of being heir apparent to the presidency, but insisted upon taking precedence of the president pro tem. of the senate. Of late years, as may be imagined, there was much uneasiness in social quarters over this point, as Senator Frye as president pro tem. of the senate assumed that he had the social prerogatives of the vice president, and it has been said that care was taken not to invite both Speaker Henderson and Senator Frye to any function where official precedence would have to be regarded.

Those best acquainted with Speaker Cannon are of the opinion that the good people thus exercised in mind may set themselves at rest, as their knowledge of the speaker's characteristics assures them that while he will not submit to what he may deem a social indignity he will not be unduly assertive in the way of claiming what he might consider his social rights. Precedent has never troubled "Uncle Joe" Cannon to any extent one way or the other, and his friends consider it altogether unlikely that the man of the forceful speech, the windmill arms and the sound common sense will at this late day worry himself over questions that may seem of the greatest moment to those who deem "correctness" the summum bonum of the social world. Not that Speaker Cannon will allow himself to be slighted in the least; he is too much alive to the importance and dignity of his office.

Of course from the standpoint of the grandes dames of the capital much depends upon the attitude taken by Miss Helen Cannon, the speaker's daughter, who will preside over his household. It is said that had the speaker followed his own inclination he would once more have been the occupant of hotel apartments, but Miss Cannon believed that he should take a house if only to repay social obligations accruing from many years, and as her desires are his law the speaker gracefully acquiesced. Thus it was that, possessing the same democratic tastes that have distinguished her father, Miss Cannon came to Washington, looked the ground over and chose the unpretentious appearing residence on Vermont avenue a little north of K street, for so long the home of the late Senator McPherson of New Jersey, whose wealth had given the interior of the house an embellishment surpassed by few Washington homes. Here it is that Speaker Cannon will entertain his friends this winter and in all probability revive the traditions that in the past made the speaker's home a social milepost. Miss Cannon, realizing the lofty position held by her father, will naturally desire to invest that position with the dignity that it demands, despite the fact that she prefers a quiet domestic life to one busy with social obligations. She is enough a woman of the world, however, to steer the speaker's social bark through any shoals or reefs of ill feeling, and the general impression is that Mr. Cannon's house will ere long be looked upon as one of the most desirable places in Washington to which to obtain an entree.

The Cannon Home in Washington.

Since the death of her mother some years ago Miss Cannon has been her father's housekeeper in the unpretentious home at Danville, and those who have had the pleasure of visiting the speaker's Illinois residence say that they have never met a more agreeable hostess or one better calculated to put visitors at their ease. Miss Cannon is essentially a cosmopolitan, having traveled extensively in the old world and the new. She has inherited many of the characteristics of her mother, whom "Uncle Joe" wooed and won when she was a pretty Ohio schoolteacher. Miss Helen is fortunate in the possession of a large fund of that subtle quality known as tact and is blessed with a quiet dignity and a strong will, all of which will stand her in good stead in the various functions in which she will participate as head of the speaker's household.

Mrs. E. K. Le Sueres.

The house which she selected as their Washington home, and which, by the way, has been decorated and furnished throughout in accordance with her wishes, is well suited for the entertainments which it will witness during the winter. It is an old Washington landmark and since Senator McPherson's death has had several tenants, noteworthy among whom are Robert McCormick, now our ambassador to the court of the czar, and Colonel William Cary Sanger, assistant secretary of war. In appearance the house does not seem large, but it contains twenty rooms and is well laid out for social enjoyment and domestic comfort. The first floor is an especial delight to the eye.

The main entrance gives ingress to a wide hall in walnut, beyond which is the library, to which entrance can also be obtained from the dining room. This feature is one of the strong points of the house in the opinion of the speaker, who regards the library as just the place for the many conferences which will undoubtedly be held at his house during the session. And should an important visitor put in an appearance during the mealtime the speaker can easily slip from the dining room into the library without attracting attention or disturbing the guests who he may be entertaining. The parlor opens off the hall to the front of the house; back of the parlor is the music room, and back of this, again, is the dining room, the chief feature of the house, large enough to seat thirty people at table and destined to be the scene of many official and social functions. It was the size of this room that largely influenced the speaker and his daughter in deciding to occupy the McPherson house, for they realized what would devolve upon them in the way of entertaining. The room is finished in hard wood and has been tastefully decorated. The living rooms on the second floor are airy and commodious and are reached from the ground floor by a wide stairway.

Such in brief is the house that will be the home of the new speaker while he is domiciled in Washington. It is very pleasantly situated, McPherson square, with its splendid equestrian statue of General James B. McPherson, being in the immediate vicinity. Not far from the speaker's home are the Arlington, Shoreham and Normandie hotels, and among his nearest neighbors are Senators Gorman, Hale and Allison and Congressman Hitt.

In addition to Miss Cannon, the speaker's family will consist of his daughter, Mrs. E. K. Le Sueres, and her four children, who have heretofore lived at Danville. The speaker adores his grandchildren, and it is safe to say that there will be no happier household in Washington this winter than the one presided over by the rough and ready but genial speaker and his charming and tactful daughter. It is equally safe to say that neither of them will be as greatly troubled by questions of official etiquette and social precedence as are the good people who are engaged in wondering what will be the effect of the new legislative regime on the society circles of Washington.

ODD COUPLES.

A recently published table gives the respective ages of all the married couples in the United Kingdom. There is one husband of ninety-five years who has a wife of twenty-one, while three husbands ranging in age from eighty-five to ninety-five have secured wives of twenty-five. Elderly wives and youthful husbands are rarer, and the greatest disparity in this direction is between a wife of sixty-five years and her husband of twenty. The oldest couple in the list are aged one hundred and ninety-five years respectively, while the youngest pair have only numbered sixteen and fifteen summers respectively.

The Terra Nova was built in 1885 and has a total length of 187 feet. She was built specially for work in the ice. She is constructed of oak and at her bows is almost solid. Her engines only develop 120 horse power. She is commanded by Captain Harry McKay, a well known arctic navigator, who has been in command of her for many years and who was in charge of the whaler America in the Ziegler expedition.

RUSSIAN SAINT'S COFFIN.

The bones of the new Russian saint, St. Seraphim, who was not long ago proclaimed a saint at the hermitage of Sarov, are contained in the oak coffin shown in the illustration and which was a gift of the czar. The czar himself participated in the ceremonies attendant upon the canonization of Father Seraphim. The hermitage of Sarov and its monastery are famed throughout Russia. Near them is a spring the waters of which are accredited with having worked many miracles. Every year many pilgrims pay the spring a visit in the hope of being cured of their ills.

HAPPENINGS OF THE WORLD SHOWN IN PICTURES

THE FIRST LADY OF KANSAS.

To Mrs. Willis J. Bailey, as wife of the chief executive of Kansas, belongs the honor of being known as the first lady of the state. Mrs. Bailey was formerly Mrs. Ida B. Weed, widow of a railroad conductor. She had known

MRS. WILLIS J. BAILEY.

Governor Bailey in her younger days, and they became engaged two years ago. In marrying her Governor Bailey doubtless brought sorrow to at least 2,000 members of the fair sex, for that number had answered a fake proposal of marriage which a newspaper man published in the governor's name at the time the latter was elected. The alleged proposal was telegraphed all over the country, with the result that replies were received by the bushel.

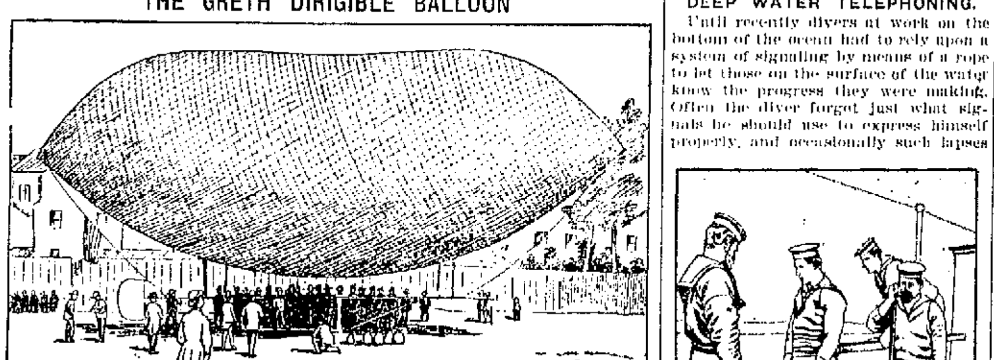

A MONUMENT OF RENAN.

The accompanying illustration will serve to give a good idea of the appearance of the monument to Ernest Renan, the famous French philosopher, which was recently unveiled at his native town of Treguier. As may be seen by the picture, the monument represents Renan seated on a bench, while over him towers a statue of Pallas Athene, the goddess of wisdom, whom he invoked in that ever memorable work "The Prayer Upon the Acropolis." The purpose of the sculptor, Jean Boucher, was to show Renan in the guise in which he was most familiar to the people of Treguier, and the consensus of opinion is that he has succeeded.

THE GRETH DIRIGIBLE BALLOON

Dr. August Greth is the latest candidate for honors in aerial navigation, and the accompanying illustration shows the dirigible balloon in which he recently made a successful ascension at San Francisco. At a distance Dr. Greth's balloon looks not unlike the famous machines of Stanley Spencer and Santos-Dumont, but closer inspection reveals several important differences. In the Greth the car is only seven feet below the balloon, despite the fact that the motive power is obtained from a twelve horse power gasoline motor. There is no little balloon or balloonette to equalize the expansion of hydrogen, its place being taken by a net which keeps the ends of the cylinder taut. The Greth balloon also has four propellers, one at each of the cardinal points of the compass, thus providing for locomotion in any direction. It is said that Dr. Greth is of the opinion that it is possible to build an air ship with accommodations for passengers and gas bag inside the ship itself.

DEEP WATER TELEPHONING.

Until recently divers at work on the bottom of the ocean had to rely upon a system of signaling by means of a rope to let those on the surface of the water know the progress they were making. Often the diver forgot just what signals he should use to express himself properly, and occasionally such lapses of memory were followed by serious results. By an ingenious device it is now possible to maintain telephonic communication between divers and those who are assisting them from the surface. The illustration shows a sailor giving directions to a diver who is hard at work in the hulk of a sunken steamer.

An organization has been formed to operate 200 or more automobiles between the hotels and the Union station in St. Louis and the fair grounds during the exhibition.

ROAD TROLLEY BUS IN OPERATION.

There are few industries that have made more rapid progress in recent years than that of trolley railroading, the latest development of which is shown in the accompanying illustration. The trolley bus, however, manages to get along very well without rails. In this respect it has a great advantage over all that has gone before it, for the delays which so often vex passengers are no longer necessary, the bus steering skillfully around anything that may obstruct its passage. The power is transmitted through a flexible wire connected with the trolley roller traveling on the feed wire.

HOW CHAMBERLAIN WOULD FENCE THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

The energetic campaign which the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain is conducting in England in behalf of a protective policy has made the British cartoonists and caricaturists work overtime in the effort to produce pictures upholding and opposing the proposed change in the policy of the British empire. The accompanying map is reproduced from a drawing made by Chamberlain's opponents for the purpose of vividly showing the electors how the empire will be fenced in from the rest of the world if "Joey's" plan is carried into effect

Some time ago she ascended from the grounds of the Crystal palace in London and made several circuits of the polo grounds before coming to earth again. She expects to accompany her husband to the St. Louis exposition and will doubtless be of the greatest assistance to him in the aerial competitions which are being arranged.

CHEAP POSTAGE IN JAPAN.

Postage is cheap in all countries in these times, but in none perhaps quite so cheap as in Japan. A letter can be sent from one end to the other of the Land of the Rising Sun for the fee of 2 sen, equal to about an eighth of a cent.

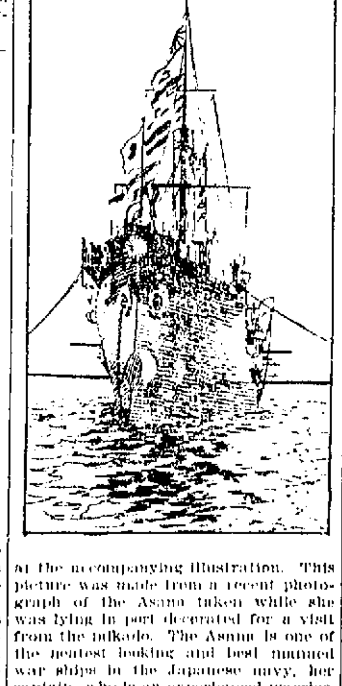

A FAMOUS LAKE IN NEW ZEALAND.

Travelers who have been to New Zealand assert that that island is a compendium of all that is wonderful and beautiful in nature. That the assertion is not without warrant may be seen from the accompanying illustration, depicting Lake Rotomahana, one of the sights of the famous Hot Lakes district of New Zealand. All about Rotomahana are grand and beautiful geysers which eject water two degrees above boiling point. On cooling this water incrusts everything with which it comes in contact, and birds that fall into it are brought out like bits of flint. About the lake also are pumice hills, the bleakness and barrenness of which are now being largely relieved by the action of the government in planting trees throughout the district.

BATTLE SHIP WITH ODD BOW.

The Japanese war ship Asama is unique in that its bow presents a remarkable appearance to the head of a collie dog, as may be seen from a glance at the accompanying illustration. This picture was made from a recent photograph of the Asama taken while she was lying in port decorated for a visit from the mikado. The Asama is one of the neatest looking and best manned war ships in the Japanese navy, her captain, who is an experienced warrior, being a great stickler for discipline.

LABOR CANDIDATES

Trades and Labor Council in Politics

Will Endeavor to Centre Strength of Organized Labor Men on Candidates Who are Members of Labor Organizations—Other Political Notes

The Trades and Labor Council at its meeting yesterday went into the matter of labor organizations in politics, and after an intelligent discussion of the question it was decided that the interests of organized labor can be best served by the election of candidates friendly to organized labor and its purposes. It was decided, therefore, to support all candidates who are trades unionists and to interview all labor men in interest of labor candidates for aldermen and councilmen with the end in view that their numbers may be felt on election day. In the case of candidates not being members of a trades union the candidate known to be friendly to the cause will be supported.

Tommy Little is seriously considering running against Mayor Howe in the caucuses, and if he doesn't get a square deal there he will run independently. In the event of Tommy running for mayor, John B. Clancy will come out flat-footed for the republican ticket and thus become eligible for the appointment to the position of police commissioner in the event of Tommy winning out.

cans of ward seven last evening in C. M. A. C. hall to decide upon a French-American candidate for the common-council in that ward, was a failure as only two candidates, Omer Allard and Prosper Cossette showed up with their friends, while a majority of the candidates remained away. A committee consisting of David A. Parthenais, P. R. Rourke, Paul Charbonneault, Alfred Morrissette and Homer L. P. Turcotte was appointed to call another meeting.

The democratic caucuses will be held on November 19 and it is incumbent upon every democrat to go to the caucuses and vote for the best candidates of the party. The recent elections in this city have shown that the city is about evenly divided politically and hence in order for the democracy to win only the strongest democratic candidates should be put on the ballot. There is a class of voters in each party which never attends caucuses but is continually criticizing the action of caucuses. If this class gets out and votes there can be no such criticism in future. Let every democrat attend the caucus on November 19 and vote for candidates who can win on election day.

The political writer is pleased to acknowledge the receipt of a courteous little note from his old friend, Hon. William Waldorf Jackson, notifying said writer that the Hon. W. W. is still in the land of the living enjoying good health in hopeful spirits, clear of conscience and ready to don his armor and do battle for the presidency in 1904. The note concludes with the following beautiful sentiment: "O, for the dawn of the golden future, Through scholarship, statesman and a name as national as the flag and a reputation from the centre to the circumference of the globe, I shall gain the presidential heights, the greatest office in the American republic."

Tommy Byrne, the "megraphone" candidate, appeared before City Clerk Dadiman today for nomination papers. Said Tommy to The Sun reporter afterward: "You can announce in your very commendious publication that I shall be a candidate for mayor on the reformed economical republican ticket. My platform is individual taxation, protection for all concerned, good roads built by local toilers and fine public playgrounds and baths. When I ran for representative Mayor Howe went into his pocket to help Cecil Adams defeat me and before I finish he will wish he had kept out of the fight."

It is understood that Councilman Fontaine declines to attend the meeting and abide by its decision.

Col. James H. Carmichael states that he will not be a candidate for mayor in the caucuses this year.

John "Bucky" Halloran (under new management), the well-known democratic worker and basketball player, is a candidate for the common council in ward seven.

Dr. Hugh Walker is a candidate for the democratic nomination for school committee in ward nine. Dr. Walker was the democratic candidate two years ago and made an excellent run against the present incumbent, A. G. Thompson.

The contest for overseer of the poor is being waged by ex-Councilman William J. Dunn and the present incumbent, Frank McMahon. Mr. Dunn served two years in the common council from ward two and made a very successful representative. His friends are making an active canvass in his interest and the indications are that a very large vote will be cast in the caucus.

"I may run for mayor, I am considerin' of it now," said "Tommy" Little to The Sun reporter when asked his intentions.

The friends of Robert F. Conroy are of the opinion that he will make pretty good aldermanic timber and between now and the 19th may prevail upon him to be a candidate.

John J. Sullivan, the popular "Moxie" of ward two, wishes it understood that he is not and will not be a candidate for the school board against John J. Hanlon in that ward.

Before voting for candidates for the common council it is always well to look around your ward and see what has been done for it within a year and who has done it.

Dr. Hugh Walker, the well-known dentist, is the democratic candidate for the school board in ward nine. Dr. Walker has a host of friends and will make a formidable candidate against the strongest opponent that could be selected.

Councilman Timothy Donohue, who has served Ward Four faithfully in the common council for the past four years, is a candidate for the board of aldermen and his friends, who are found in all of the nine wards, are hustling for his nomination, confident that he can win on election day.

BUNTING TEAM

DEFEATED AT ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL BY METHUEN.

The United States Bunting fotball team went to Methuen Saturday afternoon and was defeated by the association football team of that place by a score of 4 to 2. The local players claim that the referee, who knew little or nothing of the rules of the game, robbed them of victory.

The lineup of the Bunting team was as follows: Goal, S. Burtt; backs, J. Marriott and R. Birtwhistle; halfbacks, M. Casey, W. Concannon and T. Gallagher; forwards, right wing, J. Hailgan; forwards, right wing, J. Halgan, E. Nelson; centre, G. Allen; left wing, Ted Nelson and J. McEvoy; linesman, Wm. Nelson. Time, 40m. halves. The Buntings will play the Andover team on the grounds in Wigginville Saturday.

LEATHER WORKERS' MEETING.

At a meeting of the Leather Workers' union this evening Dennis Healey, president of the Amalgamated Leather Workers of America, will address his old comrades. Mr. Healey went to Philadelphia about two months ago, where the offices of the national organization were opened. He will bring with him to this city a well-known lawyer of Philadelphia, who will also address the union.

SURPRISED BY FRIENDS.

Miss Lillian G. Abbott, of Powell street, was surprised at her home Friday evening when about fifty of her young friends called upon her and presented her with a gold locket and chain. Games were enjoyed during the evening and a fine musical and literary program was carried out. The party broke up at a seasonable hour.

HIGH SCHOOL WON

Defeated the Methuens Saturday Afternoon

The Textile School Defeated at Haverhill

The Lowell High school football team has at last taken a spurt and may be able to redeem itself for the defeats if a few more victories are landed.

Saturday afternoon the Lowell boys met the Methuen High school team on the Fair Grounds and won by a score of 27 to 0. Much more courage and less grandstand play was shown in Saturday's game than any game previously played by the locals.

Methuen was outclassed by Lowell at almost every stage of the game and it was not a question of whether or not Lowell would win, it was how much Lowell will win by.

Masters, Jewett, Hatch and Crowley were the shining lights of the local aggregation and it was owing to their good work that Lowell scored the number of points that it did.

The game started off with Lowell Kicking to Methuen's 25-yard line, and on the first play Moore gained the distance. In two downs Methuen fumbled and Lowell got the ball on downs. Masters and Jewett gained twelve yards on three line plays and then Hatch gained eight yards around left end. Jewett ploughed through the line four yards for a touchdown and Crowley kicked the goal.

Lowell kicked off to Methuen's 25-yard line and the man was dropped in his tracks. Methuen made gains through the line on the next three plays, but fumbled and McQuade fell on the ball. Lowell's ball, Masters gained a short distance around right end and Hatch made 18 yards in a dodging play between tackle and left end. Jewett gained two yards and Hatch four through the line. Masters carried the ball over the line for a touchdown, but Crowley cfailed to kick the goal. Lowell kicked to Methuen's 20-yard line and the man with the ball was tackled for a loss of five yards. After one unsuccessful line plunge Methuen attempted to kick but the kick was blocked in great style for a loss of ten yards by Raymond. Methuen lost the ball on downs on the five-yard line and Jewett made a touchdown. Crowley kicked the goal. End of first half, score 17 to 0.

In the second half Methuen kicked to Lowell's 20-yard line and soon got the ball on a fumble on the 15-yard line. Methuen fumbled and lost four yards, although managing to recover the ball. The ball went to Lowell on downs. A misplay gained 18 yards. The ball was to have gone to Masters, but McQuade got mixed on his signals and found the interference going around the right end while he was waiting for it on the left end. He took a chance and run 18 yards. Masters gained twenty yards on an end play, Hatch made ten and then seven around left end and Masters went over for a touchdown. Crowley failed to kick the goal. Methuen kicked to Raymond, who ran the ball back fifteen yards. Masters gained around the end and Hatch got in twenty and ten yards runs, finally going over the line after ten yards of dodging. A. Campbell failed to kick the goal.

TEXTILE SCHOOL DEFEATED.

The Lowell Textile school football team went to Haverhill Saturday afternoon and met with a reverse, the High school team representing that city defeating the Textile boys by a score of 17 to 0. The result of this game came as a surprise to the admirers of the local team, for it has been putting up a great battle since it was organized early in the season, and while Haverhill was considered a strong team it was thought that the local aggregation would put up a better battle than it did. In Every Manufacturing City the newspaper with the largest circulation is always an evening paper. Why is it so? Because the masses in such a community have no opportunity to read in the morning. They read in the evening, and when evening comes, they do not want a morning paper containing the news of yesterday; they prefer an evening paper with the news of

TO-DAY.

Advertisers who want to reach the masses who earn their money in Lowell and spend it in Lowell should bear this fact in mind. The people who trade in Boston read morning papers. The people who trade in Lowell read evening papers, and the leader of all the local papers, morning or evening, is The Sun.

FIRE AT GAS WORKS.

A fire which has been in progress for some time at the works of the Lowell Gas Light Co. in School street succeeded in destroying tons of soft coal stored there. Men have been fighting the fire for over five days, and the coal is now being removed from the sheds and being carried to an adjacent field where the process of raking it over has begun.

As a result of the fire in the coal pockets a new material has been formed which is neither coke nor ashes, it being a substance which is between the two and has been examined with a good deal of speculation by the gas company.

Constipation Can Be Cured

Good Health is Utterly Impossible Unless the Waste Products of the Body are Got Rid of—A Safe, Natural Remedy is to Be Had From Any Druggist.

Iron-Ox Tablets not only relieve, but permanently cure constipation.

They do it not by violent purgative and cathartic action, but by so toning up the stomach and bowels that they perform their natural functions without the aid of harmful drugs.

Remember Iron-Ox Tablets are not purgative or cathartic in their effect; they are tonic-laxative; they cure by building up the entire system. Purgatives and cathartics give only temporary relief by violent and injurious action—they do far more harm than good.

Iron-Ox Tablets are concentrated nerve food—they abound in brain-making elements—they do not produce a temporary exhilaration, followed by a weakening reaction, as do liquid tonics composed of drugged alcohol which leads to the drink habit.

Anything which shocks the system into activity is dangerous. Do not expect immediate perceptible effects from Iron-Ox Tablets. They produce a natural, regular building up of all the functions. This takes a little time, but a successful result is absolutely certain.

Fifty Iron-Ox Tablets in an attractive aluminum pocket-case, 25 cents at druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price. The Iron-Ox Remedy Co., Detroit, Mich.

Let Us Pay

For a 50c. Bottle of Liquozone, to Show You What it is

If you suffer from a germ trouble, let us buy a bottle of Liquozone and give it to you to try. It is liquid oxygen—the best thing in the world for you. And in germ diseases it does what all medical skill cannot do without it.

We had faith enough in it to pay $100,000 for the simple right to make it. We know its results so well that we will gladly pay for your test. Won't you, if you need it—in simple fairness to yourself—have faith enough to send us this coupon?

Just Oxygen

Liquozone is simply liquid oxygen; no drugs, no alcohol in it. It is the discovery of Paull, the great German chemist, who spent 20 years on it. His object was to get such an excess of oxygen in staple form into the blood that no germ could live in any membrane or tissue.

Oxygen is life to an animal—the very source of vitality. We would die in three minutes without it. In this liquid form its effects are exhilarating, purifying, vitalizing. But germs are vegetables, and this excess of oxygen is deadly to vegetable matter.

We Offer $1,000

on every bottle of Liquozone for a germ that it cannot kill. And there is no other way to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any germ-killing drug is a poison to you, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine never destroys inside germs.

We spend 14 days in making each bottle of Liquozone, yet we offer you the first bottle free. And we supply it to physicians and hospitals everywhere at almost cost. In this fair way we are trying to introduce this product to everyone who needs it. If you will be as fair with yourself, we will gladly show you how any germ disease can be cured.

Cerm Diseases

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

THE WASHINGTON HOUSEHOLD OF SPEAKER CANNON

THE decision of the new speaker of the house of representatives, Joseph G. Cannon, to occupy henceforth a house in Washington in place of the hotel apartments which he formerly reserved for himself while acting in the capacity of an ordinary workaday congressman naturally caused a flutter in the society circles of the capital, inasmuch as it indicated that once more the speaker's home would become a center of social activity and that the interesting question of the status of the speaker from a society standpoint would be raised again. Speaker Carlisle was the last ruler of the house to occupy a private dwelling in Washington, Speakers Crisp, Reed and Henderson having resided in hotels and having entertained to a comparatively small extent. It is known that Speaker Cannon is much more democratic in his tendencies than any of his recent predecessors, and it is thought that he will not be so exacting in the question of social precedence as were some of them, but many people are not illogically wondering what he will do in the way of entertaining and what will be his attitude as to the delicate questions of precedence regarding, for example, himself and the president pro tem. of the senate.

Speaker Reed, it will be remembered, deemed himself, from the standpoint of political importance, as second only to the president, and it is common talk that on at least one occasion he declined a vice presidential nomination because he held that the office of vice president was of inferior prestige to that of speaker, since the speaker is the head of the real legislative branch of the government. While not troubling himself much about his social status as speaker, he did pretty much as he pleased in accepting or declining invitations even when they came from the White House, and people who understood his attitude were very careful in regard to the place they gave him at social functions. Mr. Henderson, for his part, admitted that the vice president outranked him by virtue of being heir apparent to the presidency, but insisted upon taking precedence of the president pro tem. of the senate. Of late years, as may be imagined, there was much uneasiness in social quarters over this point, as Senator Frye as president pro tem. of the senate assumed that he had the social prerogatives of the vice president, and it has been said that care was taken not to invite both Speaker Henderson and Senator Frye to any function where official precedence would have to be regarded.

Those best acquainted with Speaker Cannon are of the opinion that the good people thus exercised in mind may set themselves at rest, as their knowledge of the speaker's characteristics assures them that while he will not submit to what he may deem a social indignity he will not be unduly assertive in the way of claiming what he might consider his social rights. Precedent has never troubled "Uncle Joe" Cannon to any extent one way or the other, and his friends consider it altogether unlikely that the man of the forceful speech, the windmill arms and the sound common sense will at this late day worry himself over questions that may seem of the greatest moment to those who deem "correctness" the summum bonum of the social world. Not that Speaker Cannon will allow himself to be slighted in the least; he is too much alive to the importance and dignity of his office.

Of course from the standpoint of the grandes dames of the capital much depends upon the attitude taken by Miss Helen Cannon, the speaker's daughter, who will preside over his household. It is said that had the speaker followed his own inclination he would once more have been the occupant of hotel apartments, but Miss Cannon believed that he should take a house if only to repay social obligations accruing from many years, and as her desires are his law the speaker gracefully acquiesced. Thus it was that, possessing the same democratic tastes that have distinguished her father, Miss Cannon came to Washington, looked the ground over and chose the unpretentious appearing residence on Vermont avenue a little north of K street, for so long the home of the late Senator McPherson of New Jersey, whose wealth had given the interior of the house an embellishment surpassed by few Washington homes. Here it is that Speaker Cannon will entertain his friends this winter and in all probability revive the traditions that in the past made the speaker's home a social milepost. Miss Cannon, realizing the lofty position held by her father, will naturally desire to invest that position with the dignity that it demands, despite the fact that she prefers a quiet domestic life in one busy with social obligations. She is enough a woman of the world, however, to steer the speaker's social bark through any shoals or reefs of ill feeling, and the general impression is that Mr. Cannon's home will ere long be looked upon as one of the most desirable places in Washington to which to obtain an entree.

A Snapshot of Congressman Cannon.

The Cannon Home in Washington.

Since the death of her mother some years ago Miss Cannon has been her father's housekeeper in the unpretentious home at Danville, and those who have had the pleasure of visiting the speaker's Illinois residence say that they have never met a more agreeable hostess or one better calculated to put visitors at their ease. Miss Cannon is essentially a cosmopolitan, having traveled extensively in the old world and the new. She has inherited many of the characteristics of her mother, whom "Uncle Joe" wooed and won when she was a pretty Ohio schoolteacher. Miss Helen is fortunate in the possession of a large fund of that subtle quality known as tact and is blessed with a quiet dignity and a strong will, all of which will stand her in good stead in the various functions in which she will participate as head of the speaker's household.

The house which she selected as their Washington home, and which, by the way, has been decorated and furnished throughout in accordance with her wishes, is well suited for the entertainments which it will witness during the winter. It is an old Washington landmark and since Senator McPherson's death has had several tenants, noteworthy among whom are Robert McCormick, now our ambassador to the court of the czar, and Colonel William Cary Sanger, assistant secretary of war. In appearance the house does not seem large, but it contains twenty rooms and is well laid out for social enjoyment and domestic comfort. The first floor is an especial delight to the eye.

The main entrance gives ingress to a wide hall in walnut, beyond which is the library, to which entrance can also be obtained from the dining room. This feature is one of the strong points of the house in the opinion of the speaker, who regards the library as just the place for the many conferences which will undoubtedly be held at his house during the session. And should an important visitor put in an appearance during the meantime the speaker can easily slip from the dining room into the library without attracting attention or disturbing the guests whom he may be entertaining. The parlor opens off the hall to the front of the house; back of the parlor is the music room, and back of this, again, is the dining room, the chief feature of the house, large enough to seat thirty people at table and destined to be the scene of many official and social functions. It was the size of this room that largely influenced the speaker and his daughter in deciding to occupy the McPherson house, for they realized what would devolve upon them in the way of entertaining. The room is finished in hard wood and has been tastefully decorated. The living rooms on the second floor are airy and commodious and are reached from the ground floor by a wide stairway.

Mrs. E. K. LeSueres.

Such in brief is the house that will be the home of the new speaker while he is domiciled in Washington. It is very pleasantly situated, McPherson square, with its splendid equestrian statue of General James B. McPherson, being in the immediate vicinity. Not far from the speaker's home are the Arlington, Shoreham and Normandie hotels, and among his nearest neighbors are Senators Gorman, Hale and Allison and Congressman Hitt.

In addition to Miss Cannon, the speaker's family will consist of his daughter, Mrs. E. K. Le Sueres, and her four children, who have heretofore lived at Danville. The speaker adores his grandchildren, and it is safe to say that there will be no happier household in Washington this winter than the one presided over by the rough and ready but genial speaker and his charming and tactful daughter. It is equally safe to say that neither of them will be as greatly troubled by questions of official etiquette and social precedence as are the good people who are engaged in wondering what will be the effect of the new legislative regime on the society circles of Washington.

ODD COUPLES.

A recently published table gives the respective ages of all the married couples in the United Kingdom. There is one husband of ninety-five years who has a wife of twenty-one, while three husbands ranging in age from eighty-five to ninety-five have secured wives of twenty-five. Elderly wives and youthful husbands are rarer, and the greatest disparity in this direction is between a wife of sixty-five years and her husband of twenty. The oldest couple in the list are aged one hundred and ninety-five years respectively, while the youngest pair have only numbered sixteen and fifteen summers respectively.

THE ANTARCTIC RELIEF SHIP TERRA NOVA.

Things have reached such a pass in polar explorations that before long it will be the rule when fitting out an expedition to equip simultaneously the ship which is intended to do the rescuing. The illustration shows the Terra Nova, fitted out by the British government. She recently sailed for the south in quest of the exploring ship Discovery, which is known to be locked in the ice in the antarctic regions.

The Terra Nova was built in 1885 and has a total length of 187 feet. She was built specially for work in the ice. She is constructed of oak and at her bows is almost solid. Her engines only develop 130 horse power. She is commanded by Captain Harry McKay, a well known arctic navigator, who has been in command of her for many years and who was in charge of the whaler America in the Ziegler expedition.

RUSSIAN SAINT'S COFFIN.

The bones of the new Russian saint, St. Seraphim, who was not long ago proclaimed a saint at the hermitage of Sarov, are contained in the oak coffin shown in the illustration and which was a gift of the czar. The czar himself participated in the ceremonies attendant upon the canonization of Father Seraphim. The hermitage of Sarov and its monastery are famed throughout Russia. Near them is a spring the waters of which are accredited with having worked many miracles. Every year many pilgrims pay the spring a visit in the hope of being cured of their ills.

HAPPENINGS OF THE WORLD SHOWN IN PICTURES

THE FIRST LADY OF KANSAS.

To Mrs. Willis J. Bailey, as wife of the chief executive of Kansas, belongs the honor of being known as the first lady of the state. Mrs. Bailey was formerly Mrs. Ida B. Weed, widow of a railroad conductor. She had known

MRS. WILLIS J. BAILEY.

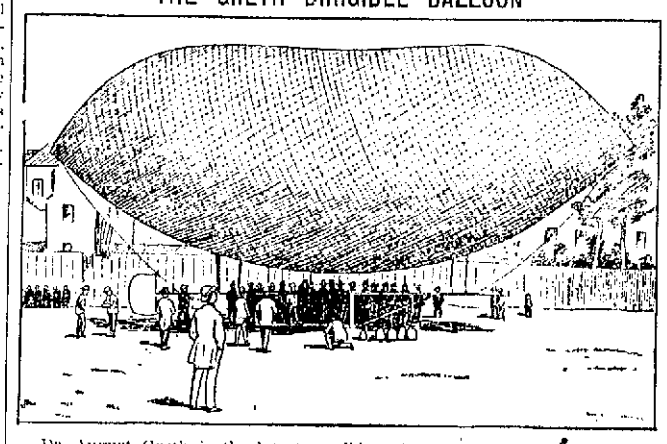

Governor Bailey in her younger days, and they became engaged two years ago. In marrying her Governor Bailey doubtless brought sorrow to at least 2,000 members of the fair sex, for that number had answered a fake proposal of marriage which a newspaper man published in the governor's name at the time the latter was elected. The alleged proposal was telegraphed all over the country, with the result that replies were received by the bushel.

A MONUMENT OF RENAN.

The accompanying illustration will serve to give a good idea of the appearance of the monument to Ernest Renan, the famous French philosopher, which was recently unveiled at his native town of Treguier. As may be seen by the picture, the monument represents Renan seated on a bench, while over him towers a statue of Pallas Athene, the goddess of wisdom, whom he invoked in that ever memorable work "The Prayer Upon the Acropolis." The purpose of the sculptor, Jean Boucher, was to show Renan in the guise in which he was most familiar to the people of Treguier, and the consensus of opinion is that he has succeeded.

THE GRETH DIRIGIBLE BALLOON

Dr. August Greth is the latest candidate for honors in aerial navigation, and the accompanying illustration shows the dirigible balloon in which he recently made a successful ascension at San Francisco. At a distance Dr. Greth's balloon looks not unlike the famous machines of Stanley Spencer and Santos-Dumont, but closer inspection reveals several important differences. In the Greth the car is only seven feet below the balloon, despite the fact that the motive power is obtained from a twelve horse power gasoline motor. There is no little balloon or balloonette to equalize the expansion of hydrogen, its place being taken by a net which keeps the ends of the cylinder taut. The Greth balloon also has four propellers, one at each of the cardinal points of the compass, thus providing for locomotion in any direction. It is said that Dr. Greth is of the opinion that it is possible to build an air ship with accommodations for passengers and gas bag inside the ship itself.

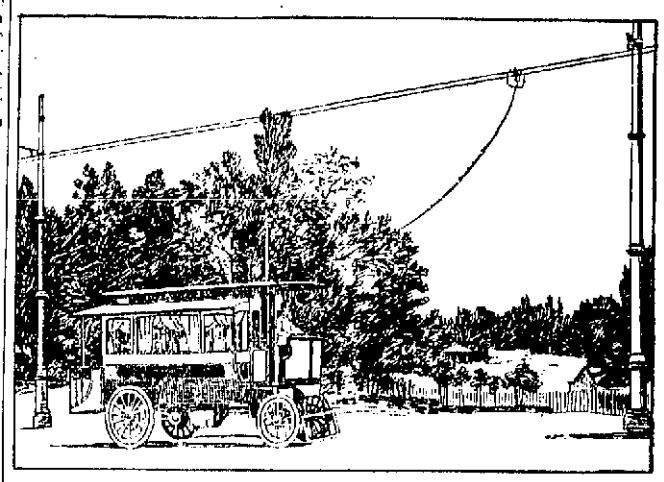

DEEP WATER TELEPHONING.

Until recently divers at work on the bottom of the ocean had to rely upon a system of signaling by means of a rope to let those on the surface of the water know the progress they were making. Often the diver forgot just what signals he should use to express himself properly, and occasionally such lapses of memory were followed by serious results. By an ingenious device it is now possible to maintain telephonic communication between divers and those who are assisting them from the surface. The illustration shows a sailor giving directions to a diver who is hard at work in the hulk of a sunken steamer.

An organization has been formed to operate 200 or more automobiles between the hotels and the Union station in St. Louis and the fair grounds during the exhibition.

ROAD TROLLEY BUS IN OPERATION.

There are few industries that have made more rapid progress in recent years than that of trolley railroading, the latest development of which is shown in the accompanying illustration. The trolley bus, however, manages to get along very well without rails. In this respect it has a great advantage over all that has gone before it, for the delays which so often vex passengers are no longer necessary, the bus steering skillfully around anything that may obstruct its passage. The power is transmitted through a flexible wire connected with the trolley roller traveling on the feed wire.

A VERITABLE QUEEN OF THE AIR.

There are few women who would have the nerve to ascend alone in an air ship, but Mrs. Stanley Spencer is a member of this rare class. She is the wife of the famous aeronaut and is as enthusiastic as he is on the subject of aerial navigation. Some time ago she ascended from the grounds of the Crystal palace in London and made several circuits of the polo grounds before coming to earth again. She expects to accompany her husband to the St. Louis exposition and will doubtless be of the greatest assistance to him in the aerial competitions which are being arranged.

CHEAP POSTAGE IN JAPAN.

Postage is cheap in all countries in these times, but in none perhaps quite so cheap as in Japan. A letter can be sent from one end to the other of the Land of the Rising Sun for the fee of 2 sen, equal to about an eighth of a cent.

BATTLE SHIP WITH ODD BOW.

The Japanese war ship Asama is unique in that its bow presents a remarkable appearance to the head of a collie dog, as may be seen from a glance at the accompanying illustration. This picture was made from a recent photograph of the Asama taken while she was lying in port decorated for a visit from the mikado. The Asama is one of the neatest looking and best manned war ships in the Japanese navy, her captain, who is an experienced warrior, being a great stickler for discipline.

AN INTERESTING PUPIL OF UNCLE SAM.

Crispulo Patajo is the name of a dusky gentleman who will be extremely busy this winter at the war college at Leavenworth, Kan. He is a Filipino and has been serving for some time as a member of the Philippine scouts, his detail to Fort Leavenworth being a recognition of his services to Uncle Sam's uniform. Patajo is about thirty-two years old, was one of the insurrectionists against Spain and is known as a good fighter. When the United States occupied the Philippine Islands he abandoned the native cause and proved so successful in running to earth insurgent plotters that he was appointed a chief of detectives.

CRISPULO PATAJO.

HOW CHAMBERLAIN WOULD FENCE THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

The energetic campaign which the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain is conducting in England in behalf of a protective policy has made the British cartoonists and caricaturists work overtime in the effort to produce pictures upholding and opposing the proposed change in the policy of the British empire. The accompanying map is reproduced from a drawing made by Chamberlain's opponents for the purpose of vividly showing the electors how the empire will be fenced in from the rest of the world if "Joey's" plan is carried into effect

A FAMOUS LAKE IN NEW ZEALAND.

Travelers who have been to New Zealand assert that that island is a compendium of all that is wonderful and beautiful in nature. That the assertion is not without warrant may be seen from the accompanying illustration, depicting Lake Rotomahana, one of the sights of the famous Hot Lakes district of New Zealand. All about Rotomahana are grand and beautiful geysers which eject water two degrees above boiling point. On cooling this water incrusts everything with which it comes in contact, and birds that fall into it are brought out like bits of flint. About the lake also are pumice hills, the blackness and barrenness of which are now being largely relieved by the action of the government in planting trees throughout the district.

Taunton Boy Was Held in $10,000

By Associated Press to The Sun

TAUNTON, Nov. 9.—Because Peter Clark, 11 years old, would not leave the yard of Walter E. Bassett, a boy of the same age, on Jackson street, Saturday afternoon, after being repeatedly ordered to, the Bassett boy procured a shotgun from his house and blew the top of Clark's head off.

Young Bassett was held by the police on a charge of homicide after they had investigated the case, and after consultation with Dist.-Att'y Swift his bail was fixed at $10,000.

HAPPY MOHAIRS

Closed Successful Season With a Banquet

In Odd Fellows' Hall Saturday Evening—Prizes Awarded to Winners on First and Second Elevens

The Mohair Cricket club held its annual banquet in Odd Fellows Temple, in Middlesex street, Saturday night, and did honor to the 11 players of the cricket team who won the championship of the Merrimack Valley league for the third consecutive time. The occasion was graced by the presence of the wives and lady friends of the members.

A feature of the banquet in former years has been the after-dinner speeches, but this year a fine musical and literary entertainment took the place of the speeches.

A sumptuous repast was served and for two hours the guests discussed the menu. At 9 o'clock President J. W. Harrison called to order. He is also captain of the victorious club.

After brief remarks of welcome he introduced as master of ceremonies, Harry Dayton, who spoke briefly. Then followed a song by Alec Williams.

The annual report of the secretary was then read in part and was as follows:

The season which has just closed has been one of the most successful that the club has ever experienced during the course of its career. The main object of the organization is to further the interests of cricket and in this respect it is satisfactory to be able to state that once again it has been able to maintain that high state of efficiency which marks it as one of the best, if not the best, club in this part of the state. Another object is to uphold its reputation as a social body and judging from the success in this respect it can be safely said that its efforts in this direction have not been futile.

Since the last banquet, and before the cricket season began the annual ball was held, and although it was not attended, perhaps, so largely as some of its predecessors, still it was a reunion that provided enjoyment to many members and friends.

From a cricket standpoint the past year has been all that could be desired. The first eleven composed principally of the same talent, which has helped the club to maintain its supremacy in previous years, was reinforced by some new players, who generally speaking have given a good account of themselves. The records of the doings of the players are fresh in your memories and therefore, it is unnecessary to repeat them now. On nearly every Saturday afternoon the team has been engaged, and the players have often inconvenienced themselves in order to participate in the matches which were arranged.

At the end of the season the record is one which certainly any team may well be proud of. The championship of the Merrimack Valley league has been won with a handsome margin, and the pennant which during the year has been flying on our flag staff on our grounds at Chelmsford street has now become our permanent property. It was given to the league on the condition that it should be won twice before being the property of any team. Last year by winning the championship of the league the club became its custodian for a year, but by being again successful this season the flag is our property.

The report concludes with the averages of the first and second elevens.

Miss Sidebottom entertained the gathering with two delightful readings, followed by a selection by Mr. Harry Mosley. There were other vocal numbers by Miss Marion Brown of Lawrence, Miss Agatha Wynne, Mrs. Charles Jenkins and Messrs. David Hird, Michael Gorman and John McNamara and a sleight-of-hand performance by Charles Johnson.

President Harrison then awarded the prizes. David Hird, the leading batter, was called up first. Then Henry Allen, a recent acquisition to the team, was presented with a gold watch suitably inscribed. Allen was the leading bowler in the team. The second prizes were then awarded and both were awarded to Harry Mosley. Mr. Allen then on behalf of the members of the club presented to Mr. Alec Williams a beautiful Morris chair, and to his wife a handsome oak music cabinet as a mark of appreciation for the yeoman service both of them had rendered in the musical arrangements in connection with the social fixtures of the club during the past year.

The list of victories accomplished by the first eleven have practically been the same as last year. The defeats have only numbered two, and strange to say that our victors have been the two teams, viz., Lawrence Athletic and Lynn who caused our downfall in the season of 1902.

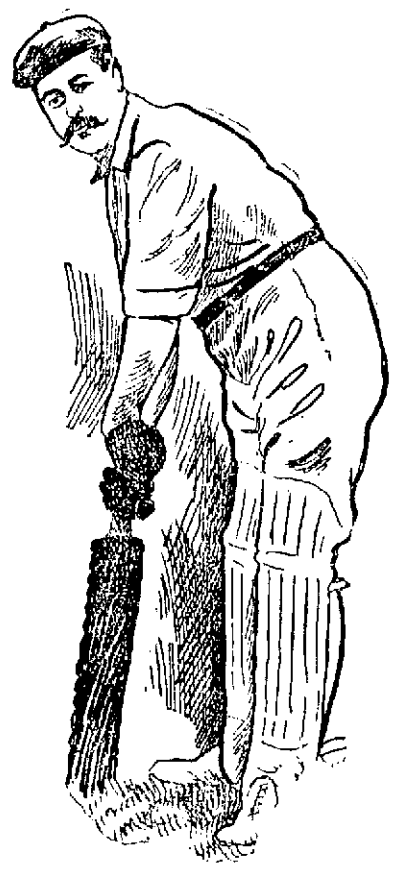

An analysis of the matches which the first eleven has played shows the general superiority of the team over its opponents. In all the players have made the grand total of 1581 runs for the loss of 136 wickets which gives an average of 11.62 per wicket. Their opponents have lost 177 wickets in compiling 999 runs which gives them an average of 5.64 runs. These figures speak for themselves.

The second team's achievements have like those of the first's been most praiseworthy. The club entered the Central Massachusetts League and they managed to win the championship having only lost one game, being defeated by the Buntings on the Fourth of July. It was satisfactory, however, to know that in the return match the tables were turned. The eleven by their victories secured for the club to hold for one year the Nicholson trophy.

The club during the year in addition to holding two lawn parties of its own which were attended with very great success, assisted in a lawn party which was run in conjunction with the Zion and Pilgrim clubs in aid of the fund for the relief of sufferers by the terrible disaster at South Lowell on the 29th of July. A very enjoyable social party in which the members and their friends participated in dancing and a ping pong tournament and listened to a concert also took place in the Odd Fellows' Temple at the beginning of the season.

During the past few weeks the members in their wisdom have taken somewhat drastic measures with regard to certain individuals whose actions have been considered to be far from conducive to the welfare of the organization. The suspension of the second team from membership is perhaps the only incident which has marred the otherwise harmonious working of the club, and it is greatly to be regretted that those who were ultimately suspended did not as requested of them attend the meeting at which it was hoped that all strained relations might have been straightened out and all difficulties overcome.

The club both in point of finances and membership is strong, and can, it may honestly be said, point with pride to the records of the season and confidently look for support in the future.

HARD ARGUMENTS

Coffee Uses Them Whether One Likes or Not.

The ill effects of coffee are present in many coffee drinkers but some people pay no attention to the warning signals like dyspepsia, insomnia, nervousness, fluttering of the heart, etc., until coffee finally uses a knock down argument which means collapse on the part of the drinkers.

"I am 30 years old and have drunk coffee since I can remember until four years ago when I broke down completely with nervous prostration and indigestion. I simply cannot describe the agony I suffered.

"Doctor told me he could not help me if I did not leave coffee alone so I bought some Postum to give it a trial. At first I did not know how to make it and was disappointed in the taste, but after reading the directions on the package carefully, made it right, and then I thought it better than coffee. At that time I weighed 140 pounds and now I weigh 185 pounds, that's quite a gain isn't it? I never have indigestion now and the headaches are all gone and I am otherwise entirely well and strong.

"I never had any troubles that were not due to drinking coffee and these disappeared and health came in their place when I shut off coffee and drank Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Mr. Keyes states that the attendance and the prices obtained during the past week at the various sales were very satisfactory, for certain properties can be sold as well in the fall of the year as at any time. The sale of the Snyder property this afternoon should attract the attention of investors and real estate men, as it is a very fine piece of property.

Mr. Keyes has a number of sales yet to be placed under the hammer during November and December.

Tomorrow Afternoon at 2.30 o'clock

PROPERTY OPEN AFTER 10 A. M.

It is my purpose, on Tuesday, the 10th day of Nov., 1903, to sell to the highest bidder at absolute auction sale the real estate numbered 21 Bachman street, and extending through to Book street, known as the J. M. Book property. Bachman street leaves Lakeview avenue just opposite the residence of Mr. August Fels, and the property now offered is the first estate on the right from the corner of Lakeview avenue and Bachman street.

The sale will take place upon the premises, regardless of weather, will begin promptly at half past two o'clock in the afternoon, and the purchaser must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $300 just as soon as the property is struck off. From one-half to three-quarters of the purchase money can remain on mortgage.

The house is a two story one of nine rooms, has bath room, laundry and cellar; is in good condition and a very pleasant home. In fact it is one of the best moderate priced places in the neighborhood. In rear of house is a good stable for three horses, carriage house and wagon shed.

Facing Book street and adjoining the stable is a two story building erected with the idea of some time making it into a cottage house. Today, from the outside, it has the appearance of a dwelling. Mr. Book used it as a bakery, there being no partitions on either floor. On the lower floor is a large bricked-up baker's oven.

The land has a frontage of 59 feet on Bachman street, a frontage of 45 feet on Book street, and an area of 6271 square feet. There are concrete walks shaded by trees, leading in from Lakeview avenue to the property, on both streets; and fruit trees, vines, etc., set out about the yard. The neighborhood is an excellent one, the street car service is good, the location healthy and the situation pleasant.

MINISTER WELLES

Found Sermon Subject in Police Court

Rev. T. Clayton Welles, pastor of the Highland Congregational church, was in police court today sizing up the situation, as it were. The reverend gentleman was in search of a sermon subject. He is a friend to his fellowman and in order that he might be better able to assist his fallen brethren he decided to study all phases of their conditions and surroundings, including police court.

Rev. Mr. Welles was visibly distressed over conditions, as he found them in police court and he made up his mind that he would rather continue as a spiritual adviser than to assume the trying office of police court judge.

There was an unusually large number of drunken offenders in court. The dock was filled and there was room for only one more on the side seats supplied for the women.

The minister of the gospel was surprised to discover the evidence of so much drunkenness in a no-license city and he spoke to the police about it.

The police told him that the number of drunken offenders this morning was larger than usual; that the aggregation represented the draggings of the police net since Saturday at noon.

"Monday mornings in a license year," said one of the officers to the minister, "the dock is inadequate to accommodate the prisoners. The crowd this morning is larger than on any morning since the 1st of May, but not any larger than the average daily crowd in a license year."

Another officer said that if the city went license the coming year, the police court dock would have to be enlarged.

The good minister was sorry to witness so much evidence of drunkenness, but was glad to learn that today's police court crowd was exceptionally large and to learn from an officer's own lips the benefits of the no-license system.

There were twenty-six drunks in all.

Two women sentenced to the prison for women at Sherborn appealed. Judge Hadley explained to them that under the new law, if a prisoner at that institution behaved well, she would be released in three months. The women heard what the court had to say, and although they deserved the sentence imposed, they were inclined to be a bit stuffy and left the court room without withdrawing their appeals. A few moments of silent reflection, however, sufficed to convince them that it didn't pay old offenders to be stuffy and they asked to be returned to the court room for the purpose of withdrawing their appeals. The court allowed them to do so.

JUVENILE CASES.

Eli Cayer and William Burns, juveniles, charged with larceny, were ordered in $100 each for their appearance before the court, Friday morning, Nov. 13.

FOR DRUNKENNESS.

James Connors, state farm; Philip Couture, workhouse, one month; Thomas F. Lynn, jail, twenty days; Thomas F. Cassidy, jail, ten days; Kate Coates and Annie Fahey, Sherborn; John Totten, Patrick O'Hare, Thomas J. Lannon, Thomas Canfield and David Welch, $6 each; Ovild Couture, John J. Goddard, Thomas Jackson, George Black, Edwin V. Bird and Patrick O'Neil, $5 each. Four first offenders were fined $2 each and three were released.

THE IRISH LEAGUE

Held Rousing Meeting in Barristers Hall

There was a rousing meeting of the United Irish league in Barristers hall last evening, when the need of larger quarters was again made evident by the fact that standing room was at a premium.

The executive committee reported that a larger hall was under consideration and the committee and officers were invited to make an inspection of several halls next Friday night, with the purpose of selecting the one most suitable.

It was announced also that the prizes in the membership contest would be a solid gold ring with the initials U. I. L. in raised letters and a cash prize exchangeable for a similar ring or a gold headed cane in case the prize should be won by a gentleman. The treasurer was appointed to receive the list of new members and make out the membership cards so that no contestant will know what the others are doing.

It was decided to run a ladies' night on Nov. 21th and the following committee was appointed to make all the necessary arrangements:

Mr. McMenamin, Miss Lizzie Honan, Richard Lyons, Michael Nellon, Michael Connolly, Delia Conway, Minnie Clancy, Bridget Gaynor, Julia Reilly, E. J. Gallagher, John Lee, Della Clancy, Katie Conway, Maurice O'Connor, Edmund Costello, Patrick Connelly, Alice Landers, Miss Lynch, Julia Casey, Miss McGowan, Katherine Clancy, Sarah McNichols, Peter McCunn, Peter McNamara, Michael Casey, Michael A. Lee, Maria Mullin, Bernard Gagan. The committee will meet Tuesday evening. The sociable will be free to the ladies.

Five new members were admitted and the secretary of the recent sociable reported that the proceeds would amount to $50. A musical and literary program was then carried out, including songs by Mr. Gagan and Miss Honan. Addresses were delivered by E. J. Gallagher, Richard Lyons, Michael Connolly and Mr. Roarke.

Mr. Lyons delivered a very fine address upon the subject of Irish immigration. He gave statistics showing how the country had been depopulated by the stream of immigration to this and other countries since 1847, stating that if it continued for fifty years more the population, now about four millions, would have entirely disappeared. He urged upon the members not to encourage the bone and sinew of the Irish race to leave their homes and perhaps their parents without a friend to aid or protect them in their declining years. He predicted that under the operation of the land act new industries would spring up offering opportunities for profitable employment at home, so there would not be the necessity of leaving the country to obtain a livlihood such as formerly existed. Furthermore he predicted that the cession of home rule in the near future would revive the industries and commerce of Ireland so that the people could live in comfort and abandon the idea of going to other lands.

It was announced that a public meeting will be held before the end of this month with a prominent speaker. The meeting adjourned for one week.

Lottery Ticket Swindle in Lynn

BOGUS TICKETS SENT ALL OVER COUNTRY

United States Authorities In the Case

By Associated Press to The Sun

LYNN, Mass., Nov. 9—United States postal authorities will take action on the bogus lottery ticket swindle discovered in Lynn through the raid on the Wells printing office yesterday morning. William F. Wells, who did the printing, was arraigned in police court this morning and pleaded not guilty to a charge of aiding and promoting a lottery. He was held in $2000 bonds for hearing on Tuesday. His attorneys, Starr Parson, city solicitor, and W. Bennett Murphy, asked for reduction of bail, but Judge Berry said that the case was one of gigantic fraud and that hundreds of thousands had been swindled. Not only was Wells apparently engaged in printing lottery tickets, itself a violation of the law, but the tickets were bogus, and further the United States postal regulations had been violated, if what he understood of the case proved true.

Further examination of books seized at the printing office show that the tickets were sent to all parts of the United States. Most of the distributing was done directly from Dayton, Ohio, where the tickets were shipped by express, and some was done from New York. Further shipments of tickets were made according to instructions from Dayton, Ohio, where the headquarters of the swindlers appear to be located, although there is reason to believe that some direct shipments to customers were made from the Lynn printing office, as letters have been found from agents asking for more tickets. One Worcester man writes that he has been looking for just such a scheme for years. Among the printed tickets and drawing announcements seized is one of the Honduras lottery printed for the drawing of Nov. 14, announcing the name of the man who drew the capital prize of $30,000 on that date. The ticket that bears the number printed against this name on the announcement was found in an envelope in Wells' desk with other lucky numbers, showing that the prizes were never given out. Wells still insists that nothing was done by him other than to print the tickets and send them by express as ordered from Dayton. The postal authorities have not noticed any large amount of mail for Wells and believe that the express companies did most of the forwarding of slips. Since Wells' arrest the police have received information that indicates another gang has been actively at work in Lynn printing bogus lottery tickets and selling them through New England and there are rumors of still another man engaged as a wholesale agent and doing his own printing on a small hand-press at his own home for a lottery that is never drawn. These things are under investigation.

EMPEROR WILLIAM

Had Polypous Removed From Larynx

By Associated Press to The Sun

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—Emperor William Saturday underwent an operation for the removal of a polypus from his larynx, which was performed by Prof. Moritz Schmidt and was entirely successful.

The only inconvenience suffered by the patient is that he has been enjoined not to speak until the wound caused by the operation has healed.

The bulletin announcing the result of the operation caused much astonishment, even among court officials, who had no suspicion that the Emperor was suffering from any affection of the throat.

The Emperor does not appear to have known of the growth in his larynx, and, until a few days ago, it is not thought he suffered any discomfort from it.

Besides his parents he leaves three brothers, James, Joseph and Bernard, and one sister, Mrs. Arthur Simpson.

MALLORY—Rev. Norman Clark Mallory, D. D., who was widely known in New England, and in the Central and Western states, died Saturday morning in Warrenville, Ill. While running to catch a train he suffered from an attack of heart failure, and expired in a short time.

Dr. Mallory was the son of a Castle, New York, farmer, and was born Sept. 23, 1835. He attended Madison, now Colgate, University, Hamilton, N. Y., and was graduated in 1861. He was graduated from Hamilton Theological Seminary in the class of 1863. Other members of the class were W. E. Stanton, D. D., now of Florida, and William Newton Clarke, the present president of Hamilton Theological Seminary, and the author of many books, particularly Clarke's Theology, which is a celebrated work. Dr. Mallory married Miss Lydia Anderson of Earlville, N. Y., and settled in Morrisville, N. Y. He afterwards became pastor of the First church, Manchester, N. H., and he accepted the call of the First Baptist church, Lowell, and assumed his pastorate in 1870, remaining for about three years.

Dr. Mallory leaves besides a wife three sons, Hervey Foster Mallory, corresponding secretary of Chicago University; Rollin Ellis, a travelling auditor for the National Biscuit Company, with a route from Chicago to Denver, Col., and Dr. Norman Anderson Mallory of Lowell, Mich.; a brother, Rev. O. E. Mallory, pastor of the Dewey Street Baptist church, Worcester; two sisters, one Miss Sarah, for many years a teacher in Spellman Seminary, Atlanta, Georgia, now a resident of Castile, N. Y.; three grandchildren and a host of sorrowing friends. The interment will be at Earlville, N. Y.

SARGENT—Luther H. Sargent, aged 61 years, died Saturday at his home in North Chelmsford. For several years Mr. Sargent's health had been so delicate that he was compelled to withdraw in a large degree from active participation in the affairs of his village and of the town, but in his days of physical vigor he could always be counted upon as an indefatigable supporter of all measures designed to promote the highest interests of the community.

When a young man he took an active part in a local temperance organization, and along political lines he was an ardent supporter of the principles of the republican party. One year he represented his town in the lower branch of the legislature.

At the time of his decease he was a member of the board of trustees of the Adams library. For a long term of years he was the valued bookkeeper for Silver & Gay. Mr. Sargent possessed some literary tastes, his nature was singularly refined, and coarseness of thought or expression found no lodgment with him. He was truly a good man and the world has need of more of such refined and honorable characters. He leaves a widow and one child, Miss C. Frank Butterfield of North Chelmsford.

There are also three grandchildren left to mourn his loss, Jessie S. Nellie L. and Hazel L. Richardson, and one sister, Mrs. F. W. Marshall of Jamaica Plain.

GREEN—Mary E. Green, a former resident of Lowell, died today at the home of her mother, Mrs. Catherine Black, 156 Chapel street. Deceased was 53 years of age and formerly sang in St. Peter's church choir. She is survived by her husband, John Green, four sons and four daughters, her mother and two brothers, Edward and William P. Black.

$5000 FOR EAR

MANY WILLING TO ACCEPT DOCTOR'S OFFER.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Dr. A. L. Nelden of 15 East Twenty-ninth street was the busiest physician in the city yesterday. His sudden growth of practice was due to an advertisement in which he offered $5000 for the right ear of a healthy male or female, the only stipulation being that the ear should have perfect curves, a full loop and be 2½ inches long by 1¾ inches wide. Dr. Nelden desires to graft this sort of an ear to the side of the head of a friend of his, who lost an ear in a fight with a grizzly bear in Colorado.

When the doctor opened his office yesterday, he found 30 persons in his waiting room, and the sidewalk and steps leading to his house literally jammed with people who were willing and anxious to part with their right ears for a consideration. In all Dr. Nelden examined more than 300 persons, but of this number only two were selected as desirable subjects, and one of these will be selected for the operation.

WRESTLING MATCH

HEIDKE OF THIS CITY TO MEET REINECKE OF WORCESTER.

Frank Heidke, the welter weight wrestler of this city, employed at the Harvard brewery, will soon have an opportunity to show his prowess against one of the best men of the country, for he has recently challenged Charles Reinecke, the 145 pound wrestler of Worcester, and Reinecke has accepted the challenge.

Mr. Reinecke will be at The Sun office Tuesday evening, prepared to make a match and desires to meet Mr. Heidke at that time and place. If possible, the match will take place in Lowell and as it has been several years since good wrestling has been seen here, a bout in this city should draw well.

John L. Shaw of the Merrimack Mfg. Co., left Lowell on Saturday for a two weeks' vacation in the woods of Lower Wakefield, Carleton county, N. B.

JOHN MITCHELL

Does Not Expect to Enter Cabinet

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Nov. 9—"There isn't a bit of truth in it, so far as I am concerned," was the comment made today by John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers' union, concerning a dispatch from Pittsburg, Pa., published this morning which stated that Mr. Mitchell would become a member of the cabinet of President Roosevelt in the event of his election, to succeed George B. Cortelyou, who was to resume his former position as secretary to the president.

"I saw the story this morning," said he, "but it is all news to me. I know nothing whatever about it. There isn't a bit of truth in it, so far as I am concerned and that is all that there is need of saying about it."

The doctors there stated that Mr. Smith can live only a short time.

Years ago Mr. Smith was a prominent member of the Foresters and the Knights of Columbus. He was the proprietor of a junk and waste paper shop on Market street.

IN HIS SALOON

Liquor Dealer Was Found Murdered

By Associated Press to The Sun

CHICAGO, Nov. 9—With a bullet hole in his forehead and a shattered glass on the floor beside him, Theodore A. Huffmeyer has been found dead in his saloon. The police believe he was killed by some person whom he thought was a friendly customer. William Becker, the bartender, was arrested soon after the crime was discovered, but was quickly released.

Although the cash register had been robbed, the detectives are not inclined to believe that robbery was the motive for the murder. A glass of beer on the bar, a 25-cent piece beside it and a glass and seltzer bottle which the saloon keeper had dropped when the shot was fired, all support the theory that he was shot by a late customer.

Huffmeyer was a brother-in-law of County Commissioner Jacob H. Tieden, and reputed to be wealthy.

CONSTANTINE O'DONNELL

SUGGESTED AS DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

There are thousands of democrats in Lowell who feel that in the interests of the party a strong candidate should be nominated for mayor this year; and they suggest Constantine O'Donnell of the O'Donnell & Gilbride company as one of the best that could be selected. They believe that if Mr. O'Donnell would consent to be a candidate he could get the nomination and could easily defeat Mayor Howe at the polls.

HE SOLD LIQUOR

John Goddard Told This Story in Police Court

"I bought a gallon of whiskey Saturday night and sold it.

"Because I refused to sell a quart of whiskey for her she called the cop and told him to take me away."

These are samples of a series of damaging statements made by John J. Goddard, who pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with drunkenness.

He was arrested in Mrs. Fitzgerald's boarding house, 29 Bridge street, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Fitzgerald told the officer that Goddard was drunk and disorderly.

The officer said Goddard was drunk when arrested.

"I'll tell you the whole story if you'll allow me to speak," said Goddard.

"You may speak," said the court," if you wish to be sworn."

Goddard wished to be sworn and he "squared away" on his story.

"I have a brother, your honor, who is very hard of hearing and he's very noisy when drunk. I was trying to keep him quiet, but I couldn't do it. I was not drunk.

"I'll tell you the whole trouble, your honor. I've been selling liquor for Mrs. Fitzgerald right along and—"

"What's that?" said the deputy, with a snap.

"That's the truth," said Goddard. "I suppose I'll convict myself, but I'm going to tell the truth. I sold liquor for her for months. She allowed me $1 a gallon for it."

"How much did you charge for it?" asked the court.

"Fifty cents a pint 10 cents a drink," replied Goddard.

"When the officers raided Mrs. Fitzgerald's place a few days ago," he continued, "they found some whiskey. She wanted me to say it was mine, but I wouldn't do it. I told the officers it belonged to her and I had six half-pints of whiskey in my pockets when I was talking with the officers."

Goddard struck off on another whiskey-selling lark, but the court said "That will do," and the illegal vendor, self-confessed, went back to the dock. He was fined $5.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY

Observed by L'Association Catholique

The annual pilgrimage of the C. M. A. C. to the cemetery where deceased members of the organization are laid at rest, was held yesterday. Over three hundred members marched from the clubhouse in Pawtucket street to St. Jean Baptiste church, where a Libera was sung by Rev. Fr. Campeau, O. M. I. The procession was headed by L'Talon Musicale band, followed by the Garde d'Honneur, in uniform, commanded by Capt. Moise Cossette and Lieut. Albert Bergeron. Next in line was the chaplain, Rev. Lewis V. Lewis, O. M. I., with the board of directors, and then came the members of L'Association Catholique. Chopin's funeral march was played on the way to the church.

After the services at the church seven special cars were waiting in Merrimack street to take the marchers to St. Joseph's cemetery. At the cemetery Rev. Fr. Lewis, O. M. I., delivered a very impressive sermon, taking as his text, "Have mercy on me, you, at least, my friends," from the Book of Psalms.

In the course of his address the reverend speaker spoke of the members who had made the pilgrimage last year, but who were now among the raissing, speaking in a very pathetic manner on the deaths of Louis E. Richards and Charles Giroux. At the conclusion of the sermon the members of the association were congratulated on their religious work and he spoke on the good showing of the members in turning out in such large numbers.

The exercises closed with the singing of the Libera by the male chorus under the direction of Dr. Caisse and the playing of a funeral march by the band.

LOWELL GIRL

Figured in a Sensation in Wakefield

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lake, bride and groom of but four days, were the cause of considerable excitement yesterday afternoon, which drew a crowd of fully 300 people to the corner of Avon and Railroad streets, Wakefield.

Mrs. Lake, who has a room with her husband at the residence of Edward de Anguera, 35 Avon street, left the house shortly before 2 o'clock, to take dinner with her sister, Miss Susie Tillotson, who boards with Mrs. Charles H. Richardson at 19 Avon street. To this arrangement Mr. Lake objected. He followed his wife to Mrs. Richardson's front door, where he was refused admittance. This so enraged him that he would not allow his wife to dine with her sister, and by main force dragged her by the arm back to the street.

Mrs. Lake broke away from her husband several times and tried to join her sister, but Lake forcibly dragged her back to the street each time. So fiercely did husband and wife struggle that most of Mrs. Lake's clothing was torn to shreds.

Chief-of-Police Cate was notified and was quickly upon the scene with Officer Kennedy, and they hustled Mr. and Mrs. Lake into a hack and drove away to avoid the crowd. After hearing both sides of the story, Chief Cate asked Mrs. Lake if she wanted her husband arrested she answered "No." When asked if she was afraid of him and wanted protection she again answered in the negative and wanted to accompany her husband to their room, to which Chief Cate assented.

Hardly had they reached their room, when they received orders from Mrs. De Anguera to leave at once. Without any words, and after Mrs. Lake had changed her torn clothing, they departed, taking the train which left Wakefield at 3.30 o'clock, going toward Boston.

Mrs. Lake, who was formerly Miss Rowena Tillotson, is a very pretty and refined young lady about 22 years of age. She is a Lowell girl and resided on Appleton street in this city. She first met Lake, who is many years her senior, last June at Crescent Beach. He immediately became infatuated with her and was extremely jealous, so much so that, a few days before they were married, he commanded her not to speak to any of the mate boarders, Mrs. Richardson's husband included.

A few hours before they were married, she rushed into her sister's room, where several of her friends were assembled, and said: "I cannot marry him." When asked why not, she said "I do not dare do any different." They were married, however, last Wednesday night by the Rev. Hugh A. Health of the Wakefield Baptist church.

Miss Susie Tillotson is prostrated over the affair, and lay in an unconscious state for hours after it happened.

GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

Beginning Wednesday next, I will offer the best toothbrush bargain ever shown in Lowell. That sounds "strong," but is nevertheless true. A large importer about to discontinue handling tooth brushes, has sacrificed a lot of fine (standard brands) brushes never retailed before at less than 35c to 50c. My price will be 23c. home since Oct. 24, and her parents are exceedingly anxious about her. She was employed by the Norwood Press Co. at Norwood, and when she last left home it was supposed her intention was to go to her work as usual.

Miss Hennessey at the time of her departure wore a Tam O'Shanter with white centre, a light colored Eaton jacket, the front trimmed with white silk, pink shirtwaist with white lines and a black skirt trimmed with two rows of black silk around the bottom. She wore patent leather shoes.

The missing girl is 16 years old and tall for her age. She is of medium complexion, has light brown hair and gray eyes, rather small. Her friends are looking for her in this city.

PAPER ON FIRE

BLAZE WAS STARTED BY A CHILD.

An alarm from box 83 at 7.26 this morning summoned a portion of the fire department to a blaze in a three-story building in Smith street, near the corner of Liberty street, and the property of the Daniel Gage estate.

The fire started in a toilet room, a child having lighted a match and thrown it into a pile of waste paper. When the department arrived, there was quite a lively blaze in progress, but it was soon placed under control.

OWES EVERYBODY

LAWRENCE MAN SENTENCED IN LAWRENCE POLICE COURT.

Benjamin S. Emery was arrested for drunkenness in Lawrence, last Friday, and another complaint charged him with assaulting his wife, Elizabeth Emery. In police court Emery admitted being drunk but pleaded not guilty of the assault. Mrs. Emery and her little girl were in court. Mrs. Emery testified that the defendant came home drunk Thursday, smashed glass in the house and struck her. Policeman Benoit and Policeman Woodcock testified that when they went to the house, the defendant had run away, that they located him near a saloon.

Emery claimed that his wife smashed the glass and cut herself, and screeched and yelled because the defendant would not give her money for beer. He said he never touched her. "Lizzie," he said, "you know I did not strike you, that since I married you, there has been trouble because you get drunk." He wound up by stating that he would never live with her again.

While he told his story she interrupted with, "That's a lie then, that's a lie." She stated that he often told her he would do as he liked with her because she was not educated, that he could even murder her. She stated that he whipped her every time he got drunk, that she supported him and bought clothes for him, that he owed everybody in Lowell. He denied that. For drunkenness he was fined $5 and for assault on his wife he was sent to jail for four months. As he went to the cell room he bade his child good-bye with "good-bye Dollie."

CHINESE BABY

THE FIRST BORN IN THIS CITY IS DEAD.

George Francis Wong, aged three weeks, the first Chinese-American born in this city, died Saturday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wong, 302 Middlesex street.

Mr. Wong is a laundry man, and was married to a young lady of Manchester, fourteen months ago. The wedding created considerable talk, inasmuch as that time there seemed to be an epidemic of Chinese-American weddings.

Shortly after their wedding Mr. and Mrs. Wong removed to this city, where they have since resided. The child was born three weeks ago, and was the occasion of much talk among Mr. Wong's Chinese friends, who very much admired the child, and showered gifts upon it as is the native custom.

The child was taken sick last week and although all possible was done to bring it back to health, death came Saturday.

MARTIAL LAW

Proclaimed in District of Hasan Kala

By Associated Press to The Sun

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 9.—Martial law has been proclaimed in the district of Hasan Kala, province of Erzeroum, Asia Minor, and troops have been quartered in all the villages of that district in consequence of the revolutionary movements on the part of the Hunstchakists, or members of the Armenian revolutionary society. Two bands of Hunstchakists recently crossed the Russo Turkish frontier with the intention of inciting the inhabitants to rise against the Turkish government; but they were quickly overtaken by troops. One band was exterminated and the second was driven back into Russian territory. The Turkish governor of the district has redistributed among the Kurds the weapons which they recently were compelled to give up.

FITZ FAVORITE

In His Bout With George Gardner

By Associated Press to The Sun

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 9.—Robert Fitzsimmons and George Gardner, who are to meet in this city Nov. 25 to battle for the lightweight championship, are quietly preparing for the encounter.

While Fitzsimmons is favorite at odds of 2 to 1, Gardner is gaining admirers every day. A glance over the latter's record shows that in the last year he has had several important battles with men of his own weight, and he has always come out successful.

It is his admirers' confidence in his ability that has made Fitzsimmons the favorite, and they are willing to back him for any amount of money.

These comparisons of the men will be interesting:

ATTACKED BY SOCIALISTS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9.—Since the formation of the new cabinet, the socialists have attacked Signor Rosano, the minister of finance, charging him with corruption during his political career, challenging him to disprove the charges and adding that otherwise they would bring the matter up at the opening of the Chamber of Deputies.

It was at first announced from Naples that the minister had been stricken with apoplexy and died while taking a train for Rome. Later it became known that he had committed suicide which caused a sensation.

PROTEST LODGED

Colombia Objects to United States' Action

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—It was learned in official circles last night that the United States of Colombia has lodged a protest with the state department against the action of the United States in connection with the events which have occurred on the Isthmus of Panama. The terms of the protest could not be ascertained last night, but it is known that strong objection is made to the attitude of the United States in general and against interpretations made by this government of the treaty of 1846 between the United States of America and the United States of Colombia. The state department has the protest under serious consideration, but the nature of its reply, if any, or the time when it will be made, is not known. Other than admitting that such a document had been filed in the state department, the officials there will say nothing about the matter.

Word reached the navy department yesterday of the arrival of the United States cruiser Boston at Panama Saturday. Commander Diehl in reporting her arrival, announced also the receipt of instructions from the navy department which directs the keeping open of the transit of the Isthmus. He also said that at this time the traffic was undisturbed.

The president's yacht, the Mayflower, left the navy yard here yesterday for Colon. Aboard her is H. A. Gudger, U. S. consul general at Panama, who goes to Colon to assume full charge of the American consular affairs. The Mayflower is expected to reach her destination in about eight days. On his arrival at Panama Mr. Gudger will do business with the new government at Panama. He has full instructions from the secretary of state governing his dealings with the new government. M. Philippe Bunau-Varilla, whose appointment as diplomatic agent of the Panama republic was announced Saturday and who reached here Saturday night from New York, saw Assistant Secretary Loomis of the state department yesterday.

It is expected that the new diplomatic agent will be presented to Secretary Hay and to the President in a day or two, the state department probably accepting as satisfactory the telegraphic credentials of the new envoy and waiving the usual requirements of more formal credentials.

ITALY DOES NOT OBJECT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9.—The formation of the new republic of Panama and its recognition by the United States is looked upon with satisfaction all over Italy. Old disputes between Italy and Colombia have never been settled as the latter always succeeded in eluding its obligations to the Italian government. Italy has therefore hastened to recognize the new republic in the hope of contributing to the establishment of order in Central America and of hastening the building of the Panama canal.

United States Ambassador Myer, while visiting Minister of Foreign Affairs Littoni, had an informal conversation with the minister on the subject of Panama.

REV. SMITH T. FORD.

REV. S. T. FORD

Took Issue With Editor's Comment

IN WHICH HIS PRELUDE WAS CRITICIZED

Said His Critic Was Unfair

Rev. Smith Thomas Ford, D. D., made answer, last evening, to a morning paper's criticism of his prelude of Sunday evening, November 1, in which he condemned dancing in the high school. He contended that the school was for educational purposes and that the original purpose of the institution should not be diverted.

"First of all," said Rev. Mr. Ford, "I want to say that the Lowell papers have shown a marked courtesy during the seven years that I have lived in this city. I think the courtesy was unusual, and anything I say this evening must not be mistaken as a reflection on the papers as a whole.

"In the criticism of my prelude the spirit of courtesy extended by the newspapers during the years that I have labored here is missing. The author of the criticism does not treat the prelude fairly. Judging from its tone, the one who wrote it is not accustomed to argument and unfair with an opponent. He quotes me as using the word 'auspices' but from the reports of my prelude I cannot find that I used the word. The word would have fitted the occasion so that is but a small matter.

"My critic does not, in the beginning or in any part of his article, deal fairly with the prelude, and a person familiar with the words and meaning of the prelude and with his criticism would say, in the beginning, that he had lost his case.

"Every little while the papers ask why ministers don't preach about some current event, and when the minister picks up a current event the same paper will inform you that current events are not good pulpit subjects.

"In the prelude I stated four propositions very clearly. I did not talk about the right or wrong of dancing and I did not say anything about theological thunder or Scriptural interpretation. My critic does and I wonder what he means by it. It was his evident intention to throw discredit upon what I said.

"A woman who read what I had to say about high school dancing said to me that she was very much in favor of it. She said that if she sent a child to school it was for the purpose of getting an education. 'If I wanted my child to learn to dance,' she said, 'I would send her to a dancing school.'

"The writer of the prelude criticism says that high school dances do not create class distinctions. I know it does. Some children wear better clothes than others and there's a certain conservativeness on the part of some that tends to create hard feelings.

"The point of the newspaper article was to divert from dancing in school to the moral side of the question. I did not treat the question from a moral standpoint. I spoke against dancing in the high school. It must be remembered that the high school is much different than a boarding school. The boarding school has to afford entertainment as well as instruction. In the case of high school pupils, however, they can entertain and be entertained at home or at church. I do not believe in dancing under the patronage of teachers. Such a condition cannot increase the pupil's respect for her teacher.

"I believe in amusements, but I also believe in adhering to the principles and purposes for which our institutions were intended."

IMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH.

Yesterday was observed as evangelistic day at Immanuel Baptist church, Blossom street, and the services were largely attended. The preacher of the day was Mrs. E. H. Leger, the noted evangelist, late of Liverpool, Eng., who was assisted by her husband, Mr. Moses Leger, who is also an evangelist and gospel singer, and who rendered effectively the solo entitled "The Unsearchable Riches of Christ."

Rev. Thomas Sayer, a former pastor of the church, was also present and assisted in the opening exercises.

FIRST TRINITARIAN CHURCH.

At the First Trinitarian Congregational church last evening, the pastor, Rev. George F. Kenngott, spoke on "The Christian Endeavor Convention at Denver and the Great West." The lecture was illustrated by seventy-five views, many of them being snap-shots of the convention scenes. The next service will be on "The Winning of the West," next Sunday at 7 o'clock, with special music by the chorus.

On Saturday evening Mr. Kenngott gave an illustrated lecture on "The Life of Christ," with a hundred fine views of the masterpieces, especially for the Greeks and Syrians. While Mr. Kenngott lectured in English, Rev. Stephen Vallues interpreted in Greek, and Madame Dakin Abood in Syrian.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

Another large service marked the Y. M. C. A. meeting for men in the First Congregational church Sunday afternoon, when S. M. Sayford, secretary of the New England Evangelistic association, delivered an address. His text was from Deut. 1:19, "And we came to Kadesh-barnea." Mr. Sayford said Kadesh-barnea might be construed to mean golden opportunity and that every Young Men's Christian association came, sooner or later, to that point, which, if grasped, meant a great work for humanity. Every church reaches that point in its history and woe betide the one which does not realize the possibilities which may be hers if she will but seize them. A man comes face to face with a business opportunity and if he is shrewd enough to profit by it success will crown his efforts. Individual men, come at some one time, some times oftener, to Kadesh-barnea, when they decide their destinies for time and eternity. Some men choose, like the Israelites in the chapter from which the text was taken, to go back into the wilderness, there to roam for years, while others decided to take Christ and immediately begin the Christian life. These latter made the wise choice and one that fills their lives with satisfaction.

On the invitation for those who wished to step over the line and ally themselves with Christ and his followers, seven arose to their feet.

The selections on the harp by Gertrude Holyoke French of Boston were much enjoyed, particularly "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

A noticeable part of the service was the taking of the collection by the following ministers: S. D. Millen, Mt. Vernon Free Baptist; Benj. F. Kingsley, Highland Methodist; C. R. Crossett, Advent Christian, and George B. Dean, St. Paul's Methodist. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. M. Craig of First Presbyterian church.

TWO SEIZURES

LIQUOR OFFICERS GOT NEXT TO SOME BEER.

The liquor officers made two seizures between Saturday noon and Sunday night. The first raid was at 129 Salem street, about 5 o'clock Saturday evening. Two cases of beer were found. It is alleged that the place is kept by Denis Landry.

The second raid was at the house of Isidore Dyer, 348 Chelmsford street. The officers visited the house shortly after 10 o'clock Saturday night and found two men in the kitchen, drinking beer. The men made their escape, bottles and all, but the officers found more of the contraband stuff, which they took unto themselves.

ANNUAL HUNT.

The 30th annual grand Tyngsboro hunt was held Saturday afternoon. The contest was between teams captained by Walter T. Perham and Charles Sherburne. Carkin, Harry Davis, William Ayer, Austin Davis, George W. Stevens, J. F. Spaulding, Lorenzo Ayer, Charles E. Hunter, James Gotham, W. P. Butterfield, Ernest Bridgeford, C. P. Littlefield, P. O. GREAT ENTHUSIASM

AT MEETING OF THE MATHEWS YESTERDAY.

Literary work in the Mathew Temperance Institute received a decided impetus yesterday when a special meeting of the society was held in the afternoon and the members turned out in large numbers.

Vice President George L. Hunt presided and unusual interest and enthusiasm was manifested in the matter. The committee appointed to devise ways and means in which to further literary matters in the society, reported that the following dates for the formation of the various classes. Music class, Tuesday evening, Nov. 17; parliamentary class, Friday evening, Nov. 20th; and the reading class, Sunday, Nov. 22.

The success of the various classes is assured from the start, if enthusiasm is to be taken as a criterion. During the meeting several of the members made brief remarks relative to literary work, among them being ex-President John J. Lyons, John A. McKenna, M. H. Harrington, James M. Fagan and others.

Following adjournment a musical and literary program was carried out, with the following numbers: Piano solo, Wm. McAloon; solo, James Fagan; recitation, James B. Coughlin; solo, Mr. George F. O'Dwyer; recitation, John A. McKenna; solo, Thomas Kearney; solo, Walter E. Flaherty; recitation, Frank J. Higgins; solo, Thomas J. Lynch; solo, Wm. Dwyer.

Messrs. William F. McAloon and George F. O'Dwyer officiated as accompanists throughout the exercises. The entertainment was conducted by Eugene Crane, ex-President Thomas H. Gallagher and the society secretary.

This new departure, which has found ready support in the Mathews, of improving the members intellectually is heartily commended on all sides by the many friends of the Institute. In the past the Mathews have always been prominent in undertakings of a literary nature, and the revival of the once-famous reading circle is hailed with delight by all interested in the society's work.

LABOR PROBLEM

Carroll D. Wright Before the Women's Club

Hon. Carroll D. Wright lectured before the Women's club in Colonial hall, Saturday afternoon, having for his subject, "Is there any solution of the Labor Problem?" The lecture was under the auspices of the department of sociology, Mrs. M. D. B. Hooper, chairman. The lecturer said in part:

"We should set a higher standard of living, and seek to surround the laborer with better conditions. Industrialism is the present order today, in the great countries of the world, all other phases of society being made subordinate to it. It is a complication of these, that causes the labor problems—a constant struggle for something better and higher. The real labor problem is the question of life. One class of men propose an increase in the pay-roll, and a decrease in the hours of work. John Stuart Mills has said, 'There is not any one abuse, if corrected would cause the human race to pass out of this restlessness and make them happy, there would still remain a legion of evils. A successful army is one well defended on the right and left flanks as well as in the centre. We must attack the evils that attack society. We have had labor legislation for 101 years. Sir Robert Piel's laws of 1802 have been followed by the labor legislation of 1815, 1820 and 1844, and every parliament since Sir Robert's time has had more or less labor laws to consider. We have the inspection of factory laws, safety of life and limb, hygienic conditions, hours of labor reduced, and attempts at arbitration. Arbitration is refined socialism; it is the attempt of society to interfere in industrial matters. Some have said, 'If you can secure temperance laws, the labor question will settle itself.' If the manufacture of liquor was prohibited, 60,000,000 bushels of grain would be thrown back upon the farmer. Some advise the closing of the theatres. These are all cranks. I always read everything a crank sends to me, for he sees something very clearly, but he does not see things in their correct relation to other things.

"Collective bargaining is a solution of labor difficulties. A corporation of some thousands of stockholders appoints a committee to attend to the affairs of the company. This committee appoints a smaller board, called directors, and these choose a managing director or superintendent and this man confers with representatives from the employes; trade agreements follow, and where the system has been brought to perfection, strikes and lockouts are unknown. Thousands of labor troubles have been settled by these conciliatory methods of which we never hear, for the peaceful events of life are never recorded. The single tax system has not worked well in Switzerland, where it was born. Henry George said, 'Single tax means the transfer of ownership of all things to the community.' This is simply state socialism; it means if you wish it, that the city of Lowell shall own her water, gas, electric light plant and trolley system. Social democrats is a misnomer. Social democracy does not believe in organization, it means a revolution from the very foundation; it would destroy the state. * * * The decalogue is a pretty good platform for with labor and capital 'Love your neighbor as yourself,' has the germ of the method of softening and regulating the great struggle of humanity for better conditions. Men are realizing that they live for something more than the iron law of wages, which is that a laborer shall have just enough to keep soul and body together, leaving no margin for the education of the family. The solution of the difficulty lies in the practical application of the religious principles of the Golden Rule to 'Do unto others as ye would they should do to you.' Avoid the golden rule of the horse trader: 'Do unto the other fellow what you think the other fellow is going to do to you, and do it first.' A lack of confidence, and the existence of suspicion works harm. The new political economy looks first to the care and culture of man. The individual puts the family before himself, his country before the family. We want a divine discontent that seeks for something nobler—something higher, as an integral part of society."

SWEET CHARITY

Movement in Interest of Destitute Children

A meeting was held in Knights of Columbus hall yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the local council, the object being to devise a means of providing for the sustenance, care and education of destitute Catholic children.

His Grace Archbishop Williams has established a bureau of charities for this purpose in Boston, and has appointed a committee of priests to interest the Knights of Columbus in the work so that orphans and other destitute Catholic children in every city of the state may be provided for as far as possible without letting them be sent to state institutions.

Mr. T. C. Lee called to order and introduced James J. Nolan of Boston as presiding officer. Mr. Nolan outlined the scope of the work. Addresses were made by Mgr. Teeling, of Newburyport; Joseph C. Pelletier, Esq., state deputy K. C.; Rev. Fr. Anderson, of Boston; Dr. M. F. Sullivan, of Lawrence; Rev. John J. Shaw, Rev. James A. Walsh and Rev. Fr. Ronan.

The meeting was intended to cover Lawrence, Haverhill and Newburyport, and these cities were represented by delegates.

The object is wholly charitable and charity was the keynote of the addresses. Rev. Fr. Shaw in his address said there can be no true Catholicity without charity and he knew of no greater charity than the care and protection of destitute children. Christ showed his love for little children when he said, Suffer them to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

Rev. Fr. Ronan said he had been working along the lines of this charity for years, as head of an orphanage for girls and hoped that at some future day he would be able to add a department for boys.

Mr. Nolan cited many instances showing that this work had not received the attention that it should have, not from want of a charitable spirit but for lack of organization. He hoped the evil would be remedied so that fewer Catholic children would become public charges with the risk of falling among evil associations.

RECOUNTS BEGUN

McManmon Gains One in First Precinct

The recount of the votes cast for representative in the 25th district was begun by the registrar of voters in the basement of city hall, this morning.

The four registrars were present and Candidates McManmon and Roarke and a few spectators. Up to 11.30 o'clock only precinct 1 of Ward Four had been recounted.

In this precinct John J. McManmon gained one vote and the three republicans lost one each.

The recount of the vote in the 27th district is due to start at 3 o'clock this afternoon, but it is doubtful if the 25th will be finished by that time. Registration for the city election begins tomorrow evening and the recounts must be finished by that time.

THE LUCE LAW

What He Says About Time of Its Operation—Attorney General Says It Does Not Apply to This Year's Caucuses in Lowell — Luce Regrets That Voters Will Not be Enrolled This Year

Representative Robert Luce, who is the author of the Luce joint caucus law, adopted by the voters of this city last Tuesday, was written to by The Sun for information on the point as to whether it could go into effect this year if adopted by the voters of the city, at the same time calling attention to the brief time existing between the announcement of the vote on the law and the preparation of the nomination papers. Mr Luce, in his reply, is explicit.

The intention of the framers of the law was that it should apply to any city holding an election on the second Tuesday in December (that includes Lowell), and city clerks will not find it difficult to procure blanks to guide them, as they are already used in cities that have adopted the Boston caucus act. Mr. Luce has this significant conclusion:

"It was thought that the inconvenience of hasty application of the new system wherever adopted, would be more than offset by the advantage gained."

The communication to The Sun should be carefully read by every voter:

WHAT MR. LUCE SAYS.

Messrs. Editors—In response to your inquiry I would say that it was expected the primary election law would be put in force in any city adopting it at a municipal election held on the second or third Tuesday in December. It was quite clear that the schedule would not permit its use this year in any city holding its municipal election on the first Tuesday in December; no question is made, I think, that it can be applied at an election held on the third Tuesday. The differences of opinion relate to cities holding their elections on the second Tuesday. The point at issue is whether a law is adopted as soon as the vote is counted, if the result is favorable; or whether it is not adopted till the official declaration of the result is made by the board of aldermen. It chances that in the case of a city holding its municipal election on the second Tuesday of December, this official declaration cannot be made till the day after the last day on which nomination papers can be filed.

If the law is in fact adopted when the result is announced by the city clerks on the evening of election day, two days would be available for the filing of nomination papers. The official blanks used for this purpose are already employed in cities that have adopted the Boston caucus act, and no trouble would result on this score.

In other cities the city clerk who contemplates that the law, if adopted, shall go into force this year, will have to get his blanks printed in anticipation of the adoption of the act. Should it be rejected, these would be wasted. Hence, I presume, the reluctance of city clerks to proceed in the matter before they are sure of the need.

In my own city the question as to when the law will have been "adopted" if at all, has been submitted to the city solicitor, and I have not heard of his giving an opinion as yet. Other city solicitors have been considering it, but of their views I have not heard.

Regret has been expressed that the law did not specify a date for its operation, say after January 1. This was intentionally avoided in the hope that in some cities at least its benefits could be secured at once. This was in mind chiefly because of the enrollment proviso, it seeming eminently desirable that wherever possible an enrollment should be secured at this year's city election, to serve next September for lessening the packing of caucuses. The participation of members of one party in the caucuses of another in some of the congressional districts last year was a flagrant evil that contributed largely to make possible the passage of the new law. Next year's congressional contests, coming in a presidential year, are likely to see this evil even more widespread, and it was entirely hoped that an enrollment secured now would check it. For this reason it was thought that the inconvenience of hasty application of the new system wherever adopted, would be more than offset by the advantage gained. Personally I much hope that city clerks will not find such haste an intolerable burden, and will not throw obstacles in the way of the reform where they have any option in the matter, or deem themselves to have option.

ROBERT LUCE.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S VIEWS.

Accompanying the above communication is a letter from Rep. Luce stating that while the above is his personal view of the question, the attorney general has rendered an opinion which is in the hands of the secretary of state and which states that the law may not be put into effect in municipal caucuses in cities that hold their election this year on the second Tuesday in December. It is held by him that the law does not operate till the result of vote has been declared by the board of aldermen, and when declared does not relate back to the day of actual voting, but operates from the moment the result is declared and without reference to intervening days.

NOT APPLICABLE

The Luce Law Won't Go This Year

City Clerk Dadman, this morning, called a meeting of the registrars of voters for the purpose of fixing a time for the recount in the 25th and 27th districts. The meeting will be held as soon as the registrars can be reached, and the recounts will probably be held on Monday or Tuesday. Mr. Dadman states that he has consulted with many of the city clerks of the state and all appear to agree that the Luce law cannot be applied to this year's municipal caucuses, Rep. Luce to the contrary notwithstanding.

In the case of Lowell the city clerk cannot report the corrected returns to the board of aldermen until after the coming recounts have been concluded which will necessarily delay the official announcement of the board of aldermen to within the prescribed 30 days before the city election, thus making the law inapplicable this year.

City Clerk Dadman states positively that only cities in which the election takes place on December 15, as Cambridge, are the only ones that can be affected by the Luce law this year.

The committee in polling places met yesterday and assigned the places for the caucuses as follows:

Democrats, Nov. 19, Thursday; ward 1, ward room, Jackson hall; ward 2, Green school; ward 3, Branch street engine house; ward 4, Lyon street school; ward 5, Keyes' auction room; ward 6, vacant store at 446 Bridge street; ward 7, Fletcher street engine house; ward 8, Lincoln school; ward 9, High street engine house.

Republicans, Friday evening, Nov. 20. The same places were designated in this communication with the exception of ward 5, over Hodges' grocery store, Middlesex street, and ward 8, Highland school.

Socialists, Thursday evening, Nov. 12. The socialists' communication gave all of the places the same as the Democrats, except ward 5, over Hodges' grocery store.

Col. Royal S. Ripley is the petitioner for the recount vote cast for representative in the 25th district.

Ward 1, James W. Barry and James J. Hayes; ward 2, Frederick Cronin; ward 3, Thomas H. Braden and Charles H. Worster; ward 4, Dennis J. Cooney and Patrick F. Welch; ward 5, Hugh Finnerty, George B. Roche, Frank McLaughlin; ward 6, Frederick G. Baldwin and Samuel Fleming; ward 7, Wm. J. Hayes, Edward Fontaine and Andrew Livingston; ward 8, William H. Dodge; ward 9, John W. Daly and John S. Palm.

Hamlet S. Greenwood is thinking seriously of taking a chance as the republican candidate for purchasing agent. Frank M. Merrill is in doubt.

Thomas H. Byrne, "Humanity's Friend," and the "magraphone" candidate, is contemplating running for mayor on the labor ticket.

The republican city committee has fixed the following price list for all candidates:

The fee for the mayoralty candidate will be $150. The fee for purchasing agent will be $125, with a $100 rebate to candidates not nominated by the caucuses. The fee for candidates for the school board or overseers of the poor will be $40 with a rebate of $30 and for common council candidates $25, with $15 returned in case of defeat in the caucuses. The aldermanic candidates will pay $50 and lose $10 if defeated. The schedule is the same as last year, excepting the fee for purchasing agent, which has been reduced $25.

Michael H. Carey, a popular member of the Y. M. C. I., and employed by the Bigelow Carpet Co., is a candidate for the common council from ward five and has a host of friends hustling for him.

So many French-Americans are running for the common council in ward seven that a mass meeting of French citizens will be held tomorrow when they will decide upon whom to center their strength.

Ward seven this year will elect a democratic councilman if all vote straight for Ernest Bernard, who is a democratic candidate for the position. Ernest is the well-known barber at the corner of Merrimack and Cabot street and has a host of friends in both parties. He is a straight democrat and a good party worker.

NATURALIZATION

Would-Be Citizens Must Speak English Language

Because an Albany, N. Y., judge refused to naturalize some 60 applicants for naturalization, the press in various parts of New York said that he had established a very valuable precedent in the matter of naturalizing aliens.

It may be that the Albany judge established a precedent in that particular part of the country, but the newsiness of it did not reach Lowell. Judge Hadley never did, and he says he never will, naturalize a man who is unable to speak the English language.

The law governing naturalization says that inability to speak the English language affords doubtful grounds for the applicant's good faith. If the applicant is unable to speak English it shows lack of interest in the government or principles of the country.

Judge Hadley said to The Sun representative: "I will not naturalize any person who comes before me and is unable to speak the English language sufficiently to make himself understood."

Judge Hadley believes that "indecent haste" is a fair characterization of the practice of many courts heretofore in naturalizing foreigners. It has sometimes been a scandal of large proportions. Large numbers of men ignorant, of not only the English language, but of almost everything else, have been railroaded through the naturalization courts just before election. Courts have recently become more particular in most places, but there is room for more improvement. A person who can not understand the language certainly lacks one essential element of fitness for citizenship in the United States.

Judge Hadley does not require that the applicant for naturalization shall be able to speak the English language fluently and correctly, but if his knowledge is so limited as not to allow an understanding of the judge's questions the applicant must walk the plank.

Once upon a time the applicant and the names of his witnesses had to be published in the office of the city clerk for five days before the date set for the naturalization. That has been done away with. Although the law of the United States doesn't demand it, the judge who has the making of American citizens would not be exceeding his authority if he should demand five days' notice from applicants for naturalization. If the judge did demand that notice he would post the names of the applicant and two witnesses in some conspicuous place about the court office so that objections, if any, might be made if the applicants or witnesses were unworthy.

Judge Hadley, however, is very careful about the naturalization process and if an applicant passes him it is safe betting that he filled the bill in every particular.

Judge Hadley had rather an unusual experience a few days ago. A man, who is quite interested in the naturalization of a certain foreign element in this city, called at Judge Hadley's office and said he had an applicant for naturalization.

Judge Hadley told him to fill out an application and the same was done.

The applicant was on hand after court and Judge Hadley asked him his name.

He gave a name that the judge said was unpronounceable.

"Where did you come from?" asked the court.

The applicant didn't understand.

"How long have you been in this country?"

The applicant said something the judge couldn't understand.

"Who is president of the United States?"

Judge Hadley thinks the applicant said "McKinley," but the judge wasn't sure. Several other questions were asked and the applicant didn't appear to understand them. His knowledge of the English language was hardly worth mentioning and Judge Hadley told the man who brought him there that he couldn't make a citizen from such timber as he had provided.

The sequel to the affair, however, arrived the following day in the shape of a notice from the emigration agency in New York stating that a woman with a noxious disease had arrived there and the agency wanted to return her.

She said that her husband lived in this city and that he was a citizen of the United States. If that was the case she could not be sent back and the agency there communicated with the proper authorities.

After the case had been investigated it was found that the woman was the wife of the man whom Judge Hadley refused to naturalize because of his insufficient knowledge of the English language. It was evidently an attempt on the part of the husband and his advisor to become a citizen in order that his wife could not be sent back.

Another fact about naturalization, not generally known, is the exclusion of the Chinese and Japanese. They cannot be admitted to citizenship because they are of the Mongolian race.

Investigating Committee is Very Reticent

The committee inquiring into the poisoning at the state hospital in Tewksbury held another meeting today.

"Nothing for publication," said Dr. Huntress to an inquiry this forenoon.

"Has the committee established a theory?" asked the reporter.

"The committee will make its report just as soon as the investigation has been gone through with," was the somewhat evasive answer.

An attache of the institution said to a Sun representative that he believed, from what he had overheard, that the committee had arrived at a conclusion, but he didn't know what the conclusion was. "One thing you may depend upon," he said, "Thomas Smith will not be found guilty. Dr. Nichols and the committee refuse to discuss the investigation and even if it is of the whitewash order none but the committee and the hospital doctors will know it.

CUDAHY KIDNAPPER

A WOMAN "PEACHED" ON HIM.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 7.—Thomas Costello of Omaha, who was arrested here yesterday, fell into the hands of the police after quarrelling with a woman who later informed the officers that Costello was an associate of Pat Crowe and one of the kidnappers, three years ago, of young Edward Cudahy, son of a millionaire packer. The lad was restored to his parents after the payment of a large ransom.

To Captain McNamara, Costello made what he said was a complete confession. He says that a man named Johnson, who is now serving time in Montana for train robbery, seized young Cudahy while he and Pat Crowe awaited at a little house on the outskirts of Omaha. Chief of Police Frank last night said he had verified Costello's statement.

ATTORNEY LAMB

IS ACCUSED OF FRAUD IN PETER POWER CASE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—A petition has been laid before the appellate division of the supreme court by the Bar association accusing Attorney George Alfred Lamb of this city, who represented Peter Power in the suit to prevent the merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways, of fraud, deceit, malpractice and gross unprofessional conduct and proceedings were begun to disbar him.

The accusations against Lamb are that he procured Peter Power as a dummy plaintiff in the Northern Securities suit; that he tried to prevent Power from obeying an order of the United States court and that he declared under oath that he had held in his own possession 100 shares of stock which Power claimed to own, but which really belonged to Camilla Weidenfeld, a stock broker, who has been suspended from the exchange in connection with the suit.

"COULDN'T SLEEP FROM THE TERRIBLE ITCHING."

"FIRST NIGHT I USED ZEMA-CURA I SLEPT WELL."

"I gratefully recommend your wonderful medicine, 'Zema-Cura.' For three months I suffered the most ACUTE annoyance with that dreadful disease, Eczema. Couldn't sleep from the terrible itching. Had about given up all hope of being cured, when in despair I bought a bottle of Zema-Cura. The first night after the first application I enjoyed a sound and refreshing sleep, the first restful sleep in three months. I bought three bottles in all and am to-day entirely cured."

WILLIAM JOHNSON,
Pres't Pittsburg Mfg. Co.,
Twenty-Eighth and Railroad Sts.,
Pittsburg, Pa.

Why should any Eczema sufferer continue to suffer when Zema-Cura will positively cure him? You take no risk in using Zema-Cura. It is absolutely safe. Physicians recommend it and prescribe it. It is the only SAFE, SURE CURE for Eczema known to medical science.

ZEMA-CURA

is a liquid, applied externally. It has none of the disagreeable features of a salve or ointment. It is the only CURE of skin diseases yet discovered. Zema-Cura will positively cure Eczema, Acne, Heat, Herpes, Lupus, Erysipelas, Urticaria (Nettle Rash), Barber's Itch, Mosquito Bites, Blackheads, Pimples and Blotches on the face, Hives, Burns, Cuts, or any itching condition of the skin or scalp.

DANGER!

Many of the lotions and salves alleged to be cures for Eczema and other skin diseases are positively a menace to sufferers. They contain OPIATES to allay irritation, and the awful effects resulting from their use are often worse than the disease itself. Such compounds may apparently relieve, but THEY DO NOT CURE, and the danger of using them is terrible to contemplate.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR ZEMA-CURA. No other remedy is even similar to it. Curse OF DRINK

DRINK EVIL DRUNKENNESS

CURED TO STAY CURED BY

WHITE RIBBON REMEDY

I announce to the world that I have an absolute cure for drunkenness in White Ribbon Remedy, based on thousands of cures made of the most obstinate cases. In a majority of cases White Ribbon Remedy was given secretly in tea, coffee, or food, without the patient's knowledge. By degrees the patient gets a distaste for intoxicants and finally leaves off altogether. It is wonderful. Many a hard drinker has thus been reclaimed and restored to his family and friends. White Ribbon Remedy is easily given by following the simple directions. It is tasteless, odorless and perfectly safe to give or take.

White Ribbon Remedy will cure or destroy the diseased appetite for all alcoholic drinks, whether the patient is a confirmed inebriate, a "jag-er," social drinker or drunkard. Impossible for any one to have an appetite for alcoholic liquors after using White Ribbon Remedy. It restores a victim to normal health, giving him or her steady nerves, and a determination to resist temptation. Builds up the will power.

Indorsed and sold by members of a Woman's Christian Temperance union.

Mrs. Anna Moore, Press Superintendent of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Los Angeles, California, states: "I have tested White Ribbon Remedy on very obstinate drunkards and the cures have been many. I cheerfully recommend and indorse White Ribbon Remedy, and advise any woman to give it to any relative suffering from drunkenness."

Sold by druggists everywhere, 50c, and $1. Trial package free by writing or calling on MRS. A. M. TOWNSEND (for years Secretary of a Woman's Christian Temperance Union), 218 Tremont street, Boston, Mass. Special agents in Lowell, Mass., Ellingwood & Co., corner Merrimack and Central streets.

It is more profitable to advertise honorably and fail in the attempt to get business, than to advertise dishonorably and succeed for a little while.

BRYAN WINS

He is Allowed to Qualify As Executor

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 7.—The proceedings in the Probate court today in the contest over the will of Philo S. Bennett, in which William J. Bryan has figured prominently for several weeks, were enlivened by a protest made by former Judge Henry Stoddard, counsel for the heirs, against Mr. Bryan being allowed to qualify as an executor.

Court's proceedings opened with a question from Judge Cleaveland, who presided, as to whether counsel desired to be heard on the form of the decree to be entered in the case. After some discussion it was agreed that a conference between counsel on both sides early next week should determine the form of decree to be submitted to the court for approval.

Judge Stoddard asked if counsel for the executors would state definitely whether Mr. Bryan intended to qualify as an executor. He pointed out that if Mr. Bryan declined to do so, Mr. Sloan, partner of Mr. Bennett, would remain sole executor. Mr. Stoddard said that he would urge Mr. Sloan to continue, but he would protest Mr. Bryan.

Henry G. Newton, counsel for Mr. Bryan, said that Mr. Bryan intended to qualify and to act as executor.

"Then I want to know, further," said Judge Stoddard. "If Mr. Bryan intends to take any appeal from the decision of your honor."

Mr. Newton—"That we shall decide in due time."

"Then I enter protest now against Mr. Bryan as executor," said Judge Stoddard.

Mr. Newton answered: "Mr. Bryan will not appeal from the admission of the will to probate. Whether he will appeal on the court's decision to exclusion of the sealed letter he is not required to answer now."

JUDGE STODDARD OBJECTS.

Judge Stoddard began a speech of further objection and explanation. He said:

"Your honor has decided that the sealed letter is not a part of the will. We shall insist upon the performance of his duty as executor if Mr. Bryan is to act as such. But if there is any lingering suspicion that he intends to take an appeal. It is not right that he shall qualify also as executor. We cannot serve two masters in this matter. If he intends to uphold the law as your honor has spoken it in your decision, it will be contrary to the law to undertake to destroy the will. By taking appeal from your decision Mr. Bryan undertakes a course for the advantage of himself and family. He cannot put aside the interests of his family if he chooses to put aside his own in this matter. This is a property affair. If that sealed letter is a part of the will Mr. Bryan's family have a property interest and unless by some formal renunciation he puts beyond peradventure the question of whether he will try to claim a property interest. It is utterly inconsistent for Mr. Bryan to act as executor and at the same time take an appeal from the court's decision. If your honor should hold that is law, I shall advise my clients to take an appeal to test the matter. This contest is so exceptional that this is a proceeding which I am confident the courts will not sustain.

"Under some other clauses of the will, certainly the seventeenth clause, Mr. Bryan takes as trustee and not as an individual certain moneys. I am inclined to think that gift is not a good gift. As trustee under that section of the will it will be Mr. Bryan's duty to uphold that section. If he becomes executor he also stands as trustee under the will. In that particular his position is also extraordinary. That creates two contesting parties under the will, and one of them seeks to qualify as an executor under the instrument. I should not think that he would want to feel that his duty as trustee might influence him against his duty as executor. I again protest against the selection of William J. Bryan as an executor."

NEWTON'S REPLY.

Mr. Newton, for Mr. Bryan, said:

"I do not know that this court has jurisdiction in this matter. Mr. Bryan's duty as executor in no way conflicts with his other duty under the will. In a very large majority of wills probated here the executor is also a beneficiary, and the fact that he is a beneficiary does not prevent his acting as executor. Often also the executor is a trustee and often the executor brings suit to construe the will. This court certainly has left no uncertainty in its decision. The argument by Mr. Stoddard is on behalf of those who intend to frustrate the intent of the man through whom they have received large benefits."

Judge Cleaveland ruled that he had no discretion in the matter and had no right to prevent Mr. Bryan from qualifying as executor.

BRYAN'S REMARKS.

When the amount of the bond to be required was broached, Mr. Bryan said to the court:

"The amount of the estate, is, on face value, about $302,000. A part of that is book accounts, and the actual value thereof cannot be stated by anyone without a careful examination of the books, more extensive than I have given. I am willing that Mr. Stoddard shall suggest the amount of the bond. I have no preference in the matter at all. So far as acting as executor is concerned, I was asked to act by the testator, and as I have said publicly, I feel I ought to do it unless the court appoints someone who is interested in carrying out the will instead of attempting to defeat it."

Mr. Stoddard remarked. "That suggestion is rather irrelevant. The court has already said he has no jurisdiction. I take it that you will obey the decrees of the superior court. Of course, my clients will have to pay for this bond. It all comes out of their share. The estate is practically a partnership property in New York city. That partnership property has got to be turned into money by the surviving partners, and then the money turned over to the heirs by the executors. That will not be for some months, and I suggest that a small bond be fixed now with the reservation that we have the right to come to your honor whenever a large amount is coming into the executor's hands and then seek to have the bond increased.

BOND IS $350,000.

Judge Cleaveland said he made it a rule always to have the bond ample. He suggested either $325,000 or $350,000.

Mr. Bryan said that would be satisfactory to him and the court fixed the bond at $350,000.

At the suggestion of the court Charles Kleiner of this city was appointed an appraiser. Judge Cleaveland said Mr. Kleiner would in a sense represent the court because the court must certify under the succession tax law that the appraisal is correct.

The other appraiser will be suggested by Judge Stoddard to the court and Mr. Bryan's counsel early next week, Mr. Stoddard desiring to consult with Mrs. Bennett, the widow, about the matter.

OFFICIAL NOTE

POPE ACCEPTS INVITATION TO BE REPRESENTED AT ST. LOUIS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 7.—An official note has been written by Monsignor Merry del Val, papal secretary of state, under instructions from the pope, accepting the invitation to be represented at the St. Louis exposition. The letter said in part:

While the rule of a precedent does not allow of the possibility of sending a representative from Rome in the person of a member of the Sacred College, his holiness is willing to consider the proposal of being represented in some way at the coming exposition. Anyway, as far as conditions will permit, his holiness is disposed to send an exhibit which will serve as a token of his lively interest in the success of the enterprise under consideration.

SNOW IN BANGOR

EARLY STORM THE HEAVIEST FOR YEARS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BANGOR, Me., Nov. 7.—Not for years has Bangor had such a heavy snow storm so early in the season as that which has been raging since yesterday afternoon.

Already between eight and ten inches have fallen and it looks as if there will be a foot.

It is drifting considerably and while the steam railroads have not been inconvenienced to any extent, the local and suburban trolley lines are having a hard time to keep cars going on regular time.

The football game to have been played at Orono this afternoon between the Bates college and University of Maine elevens has been postponed to Monday, the Bates players remaining over Sunday as guests at the fraternity houses.

The coming of the snow causes joy in the hearts of the hunters and a large party left this morning to take advantage of following the early track of deer and moose.

Some large shipments are looked for as a consequence of the storm.

FRAPPIER CAUGHT

IS ACCUSED OF ROBBING CANADIAN PACIFIC ROAD.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—Canadian detectives, after a long chase, have arrested Frank Frappier in Brooklyn, on a warrant charging him with the theft of $40 from the Canadian Pacific railway.

The detectives say that this charge is merely technical and allege that the prisoner robbed the company of many thousands of dollars by means of "dummy" pay-rolls and a check system which he devised for paying employes at distant points on the line while he was employed as section foreman.

Frappier said he would fight extradition. He was traced by the detectives through his wife, who led the men a chase all over the New England states. Finally, by a most circuitous route, she entered a boarding house in Brooklyn. At the door the husband met her. A few minutes later he was under arrest. Besides being in the employ of the Canadian Pacific, Frappier owned a large hotel in Montreal and was considered to be quite wealthy.

GOELET FAMILY

SAYS AN IMPOSTER USED YOUNG BOB'S NAME.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—Convinced that an imposter used their name to gain the hand of Miss Eleanor Anderson, a telegraph operator in an uptown hotel, the family of Robert Goelet has employed detectives to find the man, with instructions to leave no stone unturned to clear up the mystery which a day or two ago took the form of an announcement that the young millionaire was about to wed Miss Anderson. The latter story was quickly denied, but the Anderson family insisted that a man representing himself as Robert Goelet had presented to their daughter letters of introduction and that he also used cards bearing that name. It has been learned that the letters, which are still in possession of the Andersons, were forgeries. The imposter went so far as to show Miss Anderson her future home on Fifth avenue, and all preparations had been made for the wedding when the story got into the newspapers and thus reached the man who was supposed to be taking the leading part in the romance. Thus far no trace of the man's true identity has been secured.

THE COPPER WAR

HEINZE AND AMALGAMATED CO. WILL AGREE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7.—The Oregonian today prints the following special from Butte, Mont.:

A report, apparently based upon the very best authority, indicates that the settlement of the long and bitter copper war between F. Augustus Heinze and the Amalgamated Copper company is in sight and that resumption of the latter's mines and smelters is not far distant.

According to information Heinze has sold his entire Butte holdings with the exception of a small interest and he will act as the Amalgamated Copper company's manager of all its mines and smelters.

The price paid by the Amalgamated, or price it is to pay, could not be ascertained.

President William Scallon of the Anaconda company and representative of the Amalgamated, refuses to either affirm or deny the report. Upon the most reliable statements made by the Amalgamated people it is understood that Gov. Toole will call an extra session of the legislature within the next week, that a fair trial bill of the Amalgamated Copper company may be enacted.

DIAMOND THIEF

BELL BOY IS HELD BY THE POLICE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Nov. 7—Diamond jewelry valued at more than $3000, was stolen from the rooms of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Mann, Hotel Bellevue, Beacon street, Thursday evening, and none of the jewelry has been recovered.

The police have arrested a bell boy at the hotel on suspicion of having been the thief.

Arthur E. Mann, is engaged in the wholesale boot and shoe business at 36 Lincoln street. Thursday evening when they went down to dinner, Mrs. Mann wore but a few of her jewels, the greater part of them being left in her jewel case, which was placed in a black alligator skin bag with gold trimmings. In the bag there was also a collection of rare coins valued at $200. The bag was locked and was left lying in a drawer of a bureau in Mrs. Mann's room, where it had been kept right along.

When they returned to their suite, Mrs. Mann, as was her custom, went to the drawer where she kept her jewel case to see if everything was all right. The bag was missing, but nothing else in the room had been disturbed.

INDUSTRIAL SITUATION

AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS WILL RESUME WORK.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BURLINGTON, Vt., Nov. 7—The industrial situation in the Mascoma valley, N. H., is not so uncertain as has been reported in that state during the past ten days. It is learned here that none of the American woolen mills in Lebanon and Enfield will be dismantled, as was feared, but that on the contrary, all will be running in full by December 1.

The removal to this city of Senator George E. Whitney, agent of the Riverside and Mascoma mills at Lebanon, Baltic mills at Enfield, N. H., and Burlington, Winooski and Colchester mills of this state, led to a report that the mills machinery in the Mascoma valley would not again be started.

Mr. Whitney states that 60 looms in the Mascoma mills are running and that the Baltic plant is now on full time. The Lebanon mills are still shut down for repairs. The other mills were running slack to permit of a change in the fabrics to be manufactured for next season. All machinery will be running in a few weeks.

MINISTER DELCASSE

WANTS A GUARANTEE FROM NEW REPUBLIC.

By Associated Press to The Sun

PARIS, Nov. 7—Before giving a formal recognition by France of the new republic of Panama, Foreign Minister Delcasse has decided to secure a specific declaration that the new regime will carry out Colombia's former obligations in connection with the canal and other French property interests. Until this declaration is unmistakably given, French recognition will be withheld, but so soon as it is given, there is the best reason to believe that France will recognize the independence of the new state.

Cable inquiries are now proceeding to secure the specific assurance required. The French consul at Panama cabled yesterday that Panama would assume Colombia's former treaty and legal obligations. This is considered by the officials here as making practically certain the intention of the new state towards French property rights, but in order to remove the slightest question of doubt, a definite declaration from the new regime is awaited. When this is received, it is expected that the French course towards the recognition of the new state will follow substantially that taken by Washington yesterday, the French consul at Panama being directed to enter into relations with the new authorities and formal letters of recognition following later.

The officials here construe the action taken by the United States as being equivalent to a full recognition of the new state.

SWORN CIRCULATION FOR OCTOBER

The sworn daily average circulation of the Lowell Sun for the month of October, 1903, was 14,232. A gain of 725 copies per day over the average for the year of 1902.

Sworn to by Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman of The Sun, before me, November 2, 1903.

JOHN J. HOGAN, Notary Public.

☞This is a larger circulation than the combined circulation of all the other daily papers in Lowell.

☞An advertisement placed in The Sun is of more value to the advertiser than if it were inserted in all the other newspapers in Lowell, and the cost of inserting it in The Sun is about ONE THIRD the price charged by the other papers.

It was very considerate of the saloons to close on election day. If they would show a little respect for the screen law they would greatly facilitate Officer Brown's work.

Had the aldermen announced the election results in this city immediately after election day, the caucuses for the city election could have been held under the Lurce law, assuming that the law takes effect on the official announcement of its adoption.

The Esquimaux who can endure the most intense cold, cannot withstand the sudden changes of our New England climate without danger. It is better now to take precautions against this danger, than to be using doubtful remedies for colds later, or mayhap to finish the struggle by calling the "funeral director."

Before going any further in pushing his candidacy for the presidency in 1904, William Waldorf Jackson, Jr., should shed some light upon the age of Ann. The people of this republic do not want to elevate a man to the highest office in their gift unless he shows some capability for wrestling with great questions of this kind.

It would not be surprising to find the republic of Panama annexed to the United States in the near future. The possession of the isthmus would reward this country for the difficultyand the risks of enforcing the Monroe doctrine. These southern republics do not seem to appreciate their indebtness to this country for the security they thus enjoy.

A WORD ABOUT THE WEATHER.

Those people who go around in weather like the present in their fall and summer clothing need not expect to live a hundred years. Some people can stand more exposure than others; but we do not know any individual or any race that can safely encounter the sudden changeso of temperature in this climate.

EX-GOVERNOR CRANE IS WILLING.

We are somewhat surprised that ex-Governor Crane is so ready to take charge of the national republican committee which the president is pressing upon Mark Hanna as a means of keeping the latter out of the presidential contest. Mr. Crane would find himself no equal for Hanna in the matter of collecting funds and applying them in carrying close states. In this particular Hanna is a born genius. No man with a conscience should ever tackle the job. It may be, however, that our genial ex-governor wants to figure in national politics, for a time with the hope that later on the presidential lightning may come his way. He would be a good man for vice-president on the ticket with Roosevelt, but in all probability a candidate will be selected from a state less solidly republican than Massachusetts.

..ALFOUR MAY WEATHER THE GALE.

There is a growing sentiment in England against a leap in the dark on the tariff problem. It is now proposed to submit the question to the investigation of a royal commission on which both parties will be equally represented. By this expedient Premier Balfour may be able to weather the storm for a couple of years and it is probable that Mr. Chamberlain would be willing to risk the delay feeling that the longer he gets to educate the voters upon the tariff issue the better for his fiscal policy. The elections to fill the vacancy of the members appointed to office show that there is not the popular reaction against Mr. Chamberlain's policy that was expected.

There are about sixty-seats of the unionist party in parliament controlled by the Free Traders, so-called and the only way in which Mr. Balfour can overcome their opposition on a division is to secure the support of the Irish Nationalists. For this reason it is expected that some very substantial concessions wil be made to Ireland. One of these will be an act for the relief of agricultural laborers and another may be an improvement in the educational system of the country. If the Irish party exerts great pressure upon the government for home rule, that may be forthcoming before parliament be prorogued.

REVIEW OF NO-LICENSE REGIME.

It must be patent to everybody in this city that since the inauguration of the no-license regime there has been a vast amount of money saved for the rightful uses to which it should be applied. There has been less neglect of families, less crimes from the use of drink, fewer arrests, fewer convictions and fewer families disgraced by having relatives or friends brought to police court and sent to prison.

The open saloon with most of its evil allurements has been banished. It is true that still there is some attempt made to sell here and there, but the most that the most courageous of the saloonists have dared is to sell a little from the hip-pocket. When the business is driven to that extremity it is on its last legs. All the profits that are derived from the business as now conducted even though it be continued unmolested throughout the year would not pay the gas bills and the wages of the bartender and his assistant at the door. Who cares for drink sold in this way? None but the most confirmed topers, and to these nobody cares to sell. The treating habit is killed by the hip-pocket process of sale and with it goes one of the worst temptations connected with the liquor business.

It is the jollification, the conviviality brought out around the drinking table that lures young men to the saloon until they contract the drinking habit. That feature has been completely banished since the first of May last, for nowhere have the most courageous or the most reckless set of men the hardihood to sit down in a saloon and call for drink after drink to be served from the hip-pocket. They are afraid of being caught, and there is not a saloonist in Lowell who would want them to sit in his place for the proprietor of the saloon has good reason to be more timid than are his customers.

Besides, the liquor sold in this way is the poorest and most dangerous. Speak-easy whiskey is a dangerous commodity. The customers who use it for the first time should beware of it lest they be suddenly overcome and fall helpless on the street. It is deadly stuff.

Now, under such circumstances with the saloons closed up and practically out of business, with the sale of brewed drinks practically stopped, it is clear that the saloons keep open only with the hope that the city will return to license next year. If the city goes no-license in December three-fourths of the saloons now in waiting would close up for good and their proprietors would look around ofr some other business. The bartenders as a class suffer most from no-license. That is one of the evils of the business; the young man is foolish who embarks in a business so precarious. It is as bad as a political job, he never can tell when he is going to be left in idleness. It would be better alike for the liquor dealers and their employes to get out of this business and into one more stable and more reliable.

BEEN AND HEARD

The ambitious candidates are abroad with their campaign pictures and cards.

A fine workman, a good friend and an earnest, honest man was lost in the death of William B. Costello, the Centralville painter.

Mayor Feeney of Woburn, the youngest mayor in the state, who has many friends in Lowell and occasionally visits here, is a candidate for re-election.

The plan of the park board to have playgrounds on the South common and baseball grounds on the North common is admirable. Let both grounds be put in good shape and see to it that proper regulations shall govern their use.

Gov. Bates has officially approved of the selection of Sept. 17, 1901, as "Massachusetts day," at the St. Louis exposition. This date commemorates the signing of the charter, on Sept. 17, 1630, of the town of Tri-Mountain, afterward named Boston.

LEARNED FROM GEN. BITTLER.

"Why do you take off your hat when you go to vote?" asked one citizen of another, as they left the polling place in Lawrence election day. "Gen. Butler taught me that," was the answer. "He said that next to his God, a man should do reverence to his right of free suffrage. The general never approached the ballot box in any other than a reverent manner. I have always followed his example."—"Bud Brier" in the Boston Globe.

FALL OF THE PEMBERTON.

A Sun reader telephones that the Pemberton mill in Lawrence fell on Jan. 10, 1860, and not on the 11th, as stated in this column. Judge Cowley's history of Lowell names Jan 10th as the date, but Edward H. Savage, a Boston historian, says Jan. 11th. So there you are; but whether it the day, it was the most horrible accident that ever occurred in these parts. A Lowell resident recently said that he well recalls the event, and that hundreds of Lowell people walked to Lawrence to see the ruins.

FRESH EGGS SCARCE.

The housekeepers are complaining about the unusual scarcity of fresh eggs. Perhaps never before at this season of the year were strictly fresh eggs so short and high as at present. The hens are on a sort of strike, and if it was not for storage eggs the housekeepers would be in a quandary. The use of storage eggs is greatly increased over former years. The large dealers are learning how to treat eggs properly, so that there is no bad flavor when taken out.

THOMAS TALBOT'S STABLE.

Probably the finest stable near Lowell is that in North Billerica owned by Thomas Talbot, chairman of the republican state committee. It is elegantly appointed, and is splendidly equipped with all sorts of harness and carriages. The rooms of the coach and stable men, on the second floor, are very home-like, and have all modern conveniences. Not the least of Major Talbot's possessions, that makes a home in the stable, is a dog valued at $1000.

MADE DOUBTFUL ANSWER.

The appearance of John Lavery in police court Saturday morning reminded Deputy Welch of John's last visit. It was his third offence but the court wanted to give him a show.

"Are you a married man?" asked the court.

"I am, I have a wife."

"Have you any children?"

"I have, your honor."

"How many?"

"P-o-u-r," replied John rather doubtfully.

John was placed on probation, and when he resumed his seat in the dock the fellow directly behind him snickered and John joined in the snicker.

The court saw him and said: "Stand up Lavery."

John stood up and the court asked: "Are you sure you have four children?"

"Y-e-s, I have them, but they're dead," replied John.

The deputy said he was sure the court would reconsider John's case and send him away, but he didn't. "Perhaps," remarked the deputy, "the court thought it was one on him."

FEAR OF ASSASSIN

Attorney Byrd Will Not Attend Session of Court

By Associated Press to The Sun

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 9.—A. Floyd Byrd, commonwealth attorney of Breathitt county, who gained a reputation in the prosecution of Curtis Jett and Thomas White for the Marcum murder, last night confirmed the rumor that he has decided to remain away from Breathitt county during the term of court which begins at Jackson today.

His action is taken upon the insistent solicitations of friends and relatives who declare that, judging from the past history of the county, his life would be in constant peril there. He has not received warning of a definite plot to take his life as has been rumored.

L. P. Cole of Jackson has been temporarily appointed prosecuting attorney. There will be no indictments at the coming term of court, Mr. Byrd says, in connection with the numerous assassination cases, and further investigation will be postponed for the present.

Mr. Byrd's term of office will expire January 1. He will then move to Winchester, Ky., to reside permanently, but does not expect to sever himself entirely from the mountains in which he has been instrumental in bringing about a revolution of law and order. Only minor cases are on the docket of the Breathitt circuit court.

ORGANIZED LABOR

DISCUSSED BY PRESIDENT SHAFFER.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 9—President Thomas J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated Iron and Steel and Tin Workers' union, spoke at a mass meeting of local union labor men here yesterday afternoon. The address was devoted entirely to the outlook for organized labor in this country. He said:

"I am hopeful of better things. In the church we hear of the good work in behalf of the laboring classes by Bishop Potter and Archbishop Ireland. In public life we have that manly man, Hanna, and President Roosevelt. A union of interest between the nation, the church and organized labor will accomplish much for the American people."

WARSHIPS WANTED.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9—The Italian minister at Havana, Oreste Savina, has cabled to his government information concerning the revolution in Santo Domingo and asking that a warship be sent there and placed at the disposal of the Italian consul general for the protection of Italian subjects and property.

Until his warship arrives the protection of Italians has been entrusted to the British representative.

THAT there's less prejudice than ever against ready-made--the ready-made--made by Rogers, Peet & Co., we have the best evidence in our constantly increasing sales.

He must be an extremely clever merchant-tailor who can turn out suits as good as these and he must have an exceptional collection of fabrics if he would match the variety we show in quality and excellence of patterns.

It is likely that price has had something to do with the success of Rogers-Peet suits, $18 to $30--instead of a tailor's figures.

GREAT RECEPTION

To People of Rome by Pope Pius X

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9—Pope Pius X, yesterday afternoon held another of the receptions inaugurated by him this autumn, that the people of Rome might have his blessing.

At an early hour the large court of San Damaso was so full that not another person could be squeezed in. It is believed that there were 30,000 persons in the court and many were turned away, while raphiels loggia around the court was full to overflowing.

The appearance of the pope was made amidst great pomp. Preceded by guards and surrounded by the prelates of the court, he took up his position on the throne under the clock, facing the entrance. As he came in, a tremor of emotion was quite perceptible in the vast crowd, the present generation being unaccustomed to any public view of a pope. His Holiness was visibly touched and his eyes filled with tears. After a brief silence there were loud cries of "Long Live Pius." Then a chorus of clear voiced girls sang a hymn to the pope, which had an effect of indescribable sweetness.

As soon as this hymn was finished another was begun by a chorus of boy students, including pupils from the American college, led by Vice Rector Murphy of New York.

The pope spoke for fifteen minutes on the gospel of the day and was clearly heard by all. His concluding words were "Times are evil, but the evil can be cured by prayer."

His Holiness imparted the apostolic benediction to the great gathering. Several persons were then permitted to kiss his hand.

JOHN REDMOND

Will Not Retire From Irish League

By Associated Press to The Sun

LONDON, Nov. 9—William O'Brien's retirement from parliament and the directory of the United Irish league will not cause any split in the Irish National party, nor has John Redmond any intention of retiring from the leadership.

William O'Brien has been at loggerheads with the Freeman's Journal as to the number of years of purchase the Irish tenants should on the average pay the landlords for their land under the new act.

The Freeman's Journal argues that 18 1-2 years of purchase and the other advantages given the landlord, equalling five years additional, is sufficient, while O'Brien contends that 23 1-2 years purchase, exclusive of the bonus, is the correct average.

The dispute has been purely one of figures. The Freeman's Journal never has said a discourteous word of Mr. O'Brien, and now strongly urges him to reconsider his resignation. Mr. O'Brien's health, however, has been seriously undermined. His nervous system is in a bad state, and it is believed that he will be forced to take a long rest.

In any event the Irish party, while deploring his decision, is united in support of Redmond and is determined that there shall be no repetition of the Parnell split.

The Irish landlords undoubtedly were encouraged to make exorbitant demands of their tenants by the controversy between O'Brien and the Freeman's Journal, and now that the latter has the field to itself the landlords will soon realize that they must negotiate on a fair basis.

DERELICT SCHOONER

FOUND DRIFTING AND TOWED INTO FRESHWATER BAY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 9.—A special from St. Johns, N. F., says that a 45 ton derelict schooner has been picked up by some fishermen at Freshwater Bay. The spars were in her and the sails hanging on them were torn to pieces. There was no name to be seen anywhere on the vessel and no cargo of any kind. The rail was carried away and the spars were swinging clear. The fishermen succeeded in getting the schooner in after considerable trouble and she now lies on the strand badly broken up. There are no tidings of the crew.

A GRIM TRAGEDY

Schooner Wrecked Off Sable Island

NINE DECOMPOSED BODIES FOUND IN HOLD

Several Other Boats Had Close Calls

By Associated Press to The Sun

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 9.—News of a grim tragedy of the sea was brought to this port Saturday by the steamer Tyrian, which arrived from Sable Island, the barren stretch of sand in the ocean, 175 miles east of Halifax, known among mariners everywhere as the graveyard of the North Atlantic. The captain of the Tyrian announced that two weeks ago, the battered hulk of a vessel, undoubtedly that of a schooner, drifted ashore on the island with nine decomposed bodies in it. The name of the wrecked craft was made out as "Topaz" but the name of her hailing port is not known.

The steamer Tyrian is in the light-house supply service of the Canadian government and is one of the vessels which makes periodical visits to Sable Island for the purpose of carrying oil and supplies to the light keepers and patrolmen on the island. These vessels are the only means of communication between the mainland and the island, the government, while maintaining a complete marine signal service, never having laid a cable.

The Tyrian reports that the hull of the ill-fated craft was bottom up when it came ashore. The life savers inspected the wreck closely but could find only the name "Topaz" of "S——." The remaining letters in the name of her hailing port had been obliterated by the action of the sea.

When the inside was examined the life savers beheld a horrible sight. In all nine bodies, decomposed to such an extent that recognition would have been out of the question, were found in various parts of the hold.

CLAIMS $100 BILL

LEGAL TANGLE IN NASHUA COURT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 9—A hearing was held before Judge Hoitt Saturday morning, involving one of the most novel suits ever brought in this part of the state.

The suit was for the retention of a $100 bill found by Lawrence Henry and Philip O'Neil in a waste barrel in front of J. D. Bickford's store.

The boys testified to finding the bill, torn in two parts, one end near the top of the barrel and the other lower down.

Mr. Bickford testified to having received at his store several $100 bills during the summer, and that as the bill was found in waste from his place of business he believed that it was his, though he could not remember having lost it. Decision was reserved and counsel are to present briefs.

TERRIBLY BEATEN

LAWRENCE MAN FOUND LYING IN POOL OF BLOOD.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LAWRENCE, Nov. 9.—Alfred Gagnon, who operates a wood yard on Melrose street, was found late Saturday night lying in a pool of blood in the yard unconscious and suffering from terrible injuries to his head and body. He was removed to the general hospital, where, it was stated last night, his condition was critical.

Investigation yesterday by the police shows that Gagnon had been out collecting bills Saturday, and had considerable money with him when he returned to his office. When he was found this money was gone, and it is supposed that robbery was the motive for the assault.

In searching the yard a large piece of iron pipe was found in a pool of blood, and with this weapon, it is believed, the assault was committed. There have been no arrests as yet, although the police believe the guilty person or persons may yet be captured.

YELLOW FEVER

IT CONTINUES TO RAGE IN TEXAS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LAREDO, Texas, Nov. 9—Yellow fever continues without much abatement notwithstanding the efforts of physicians.

Dr. B. D. Murray, the international yellow fever expert, returned Saturday from a trip as far as Saltillo, where he has been investigating the yellow fever situation.

He stated yesterday that conditions in Monterey, if judged by other cities where yellow fever has been epidemic, indicated no less than 25,000 cases there this year, with the mortality rate placed conservatively at five per cent. The deaths have been greatly in excess of the number reported in the official bulletin issued in this city and fully 500 cases exist at the present time. All the nations on the line of the Mexican Central, he says, between Laredo and Saltillo, have suffered an invasion of the yellow fever and have contributed an unknown number of deaths and cases.

MUNYON'S PAW-PAW

Cured a Bright Young Man of the DRINK HABIT

APPETITE

For Strong Drink Is Surely Taken Away by this New Vegetable Tonic

A mother writing to Professor Munyon from Lowell, Mass., says: "My son, through bad associations, became addicted to strong drink, and we had almost despaired of saving him from a drunkard's grave. His stomach and nerves had become totally wrecked. Two weeks ago, my sister, who lives in Boston, sent me a bottle of Paw-Paw for him, and, strange to say, it not only cured his stomach trouble but has taken away all desire for alcoholic drink. He has gained 11 pounds in flesh and now eats well and sleeps well. May God bless you for giving the world this wonderful medicine."

Surely this mother has reason to feel grateful, and it is my opinion, previously expressed, that the clergymen in this country could do no greater service to the cause of temperance than to advocate the general use of my Paw-Paw, for by its use drunkenness would be lessened and the morals and health of the community greatly improved.

A wife whose husband is addicted to drinking can do nothing better for herself or family than to get a bottle of this Paw-Paw and whenever her husband feels the need of a tonic give him a tablespoonful of Paw-Paw. She will find that he will soon lose all cravings for strong drinks—that his appetite will soon become natural, that his nervousness and longing for excitements will disappear and he will be perfectly satisfied, without alcoholic stimulants and harmful beverages.

Almost every human being some time requires a stimulant, NOT AN ALCOHOLIC STIMULANT, not a stimulant that will buoy up for a moment and then cast down to lower depths of depression, but a stimulant that will give an abiding and lasting force.

My Paw-Paw aids the stomach to digest hearty foods and to make good, rich blood, which again in turn strengthens the nerves, vitalizing all the tissues, and soon produces muscles, tissues and bone.

MUNYON.

Paw-Paw does away with the desire for strong drink by satisfying and strengthening the stomach and nerves. It gives exhilaration without intoxication.

Paw-Paw gives you a good appetite and secures for the body every benefit which food is designed to bring.

Take a bottle home with you today, and if that home contains a weak or rebellious stomach, a sol of disordered nerves, a vain seeker after sleep, Paw-Paw will bring quick relief, and more recruits will be gained for Munyon's great and growing army of the cured.

Munyon's Paw-Paw (large bottles), price $1.00. Paw-Paw Pills, 25 cents per box. All druggists.

LOWELL VICTORY

Concord Outplayed by Manager Gray's Team

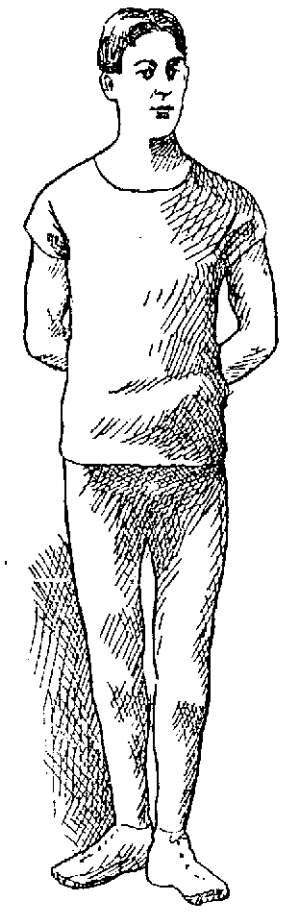

Lowell 38, Concord 15.

Lowell is tied for second place in the basketball league.

Saturday night, in Huntington hall, before an audience numbering 1200 people, Manager Gray's team rubbed it into the Concord men, hailed as the strongest team in the league.

From a Lowell standpoint, the game was a dandy. The local team seemed to have struck their gait and their team work was excellent. It was the verdict of all who saw the game that Lowell playing as the team did Saturday night, is without a peer in this league. The passing and offensive work was simply grand and the entire team took a hand in adding to the Concords' troubles.

Previous to the game and between periods the Lowell Cadet band played lively music, and so well pleased was

JOE KYNOCH.

Manager Gray with their work that he presented the young men a box of cigars. John Tierney refereed and he gave general satisfaction, though Stewart was inclined to object to some of his decisions.

The victory of the Lowell team was a surprise to many, in fact to the majority of those present. They had figured Concord as being well nigh invincible and they reckoned, too, that Lowell had not struck its speed yet. In both reckonings they were in error. Lowell played a game that will prove a winner nine times out of ten. From the moment the whistle blew Concord was lost and the Lowell men piled up baskets by the cleverest kind of play.

Allard played a remarkable game, and for the first time this season showed his old speed and form. He was fast on the floor, quick to pass, covered well and had a fine eye for the basket. The way he dodged interference and broke through the Concord defense was repeatedly cheered. Allard threw five baskets. Abbott, too, was in the game all the time and his head work was an important factor in the victory. He carried the ball well, found plenty of openings and landed three baskets after the most skilful kind of play. Capt. Holleron also scored five times and made himself solid with the patrons. The captain's scoring was done mostly in the latter part of the game and two baskets were made after he carried the ball the entire length of the floor. Joe Kynoch played a grand, rushing game and carried the ball into Concord territory repeatedly. He scored a brace of goals and did some excellent passing.

Kane, the Scranton man, who leads the league in basket throwing, scored two of Concord's five field goals. One of them was a throw from near the center of the cage, and was loudly cheered. The other three goals for the visitors were thrown by Herron who showed remarkable speed.

Though Concord was beaten from the start, yet the game was exciting throughout, and not one of the large audience left before the referee's whistle blew for the finish.

Playing the game they did Saturday night there is no reason why the Lowell team cannot get away with any team in the league. If ever a team played in championship form Manager Gray's boys did. True, they missed many chances for baskets, some of them very easy ones, but such luck falls to the best of them.

A pleasing feature of the attendance Saturday night was the presence of so many ladies and leading business men and city officials.

The Lowell team will meet Haverhill tomorrow night in Huntington hall.

A HARD GAME

HAVERHILL LOST THE CONTEST TO MANCHESTER.

Haverhill N. S. league basketball team gave the Manchester team a hard game in Haverhill Saturday evening, the visitors being victorious by a score of 25 to 17 in a rough game, no less than 44 fouls being called.

The visitors gave a great exhibition of team work, completely outclassing the locals in this respect. The home team felt the loss of Tighe, who is laid up with an injury. In the first two periods the score was close, but the visitors forged ahead in the third period. The work of Reagan and Devlin for the visitors, and that of Lew, Crittenden and Harrington for the locals was good. The lineup:

BASKET BALL NOTES.

Haverhill played 12 men in the games of last week; Nashua seven and the other teams six each.

Harry Hough is putting up a star game for Pittsfield.

Allard went on the road last Friday and Saturday mornings and made ten miles each time. He will have to take a lot of this kind of exercise before he regains his old time speed. Allard's friends have tipped him off on this point, but he has an idea that any one who criticises his play must have some personal feeling against him. The sooner he gets rid of this idea the better off he will be.

Lowell people will give Manager Gray credit for one thing and that is that he is willing to spend the money and has done so in order to get a championship team.

Those Concord men are wonders. Stewart is the only drawback to the team. Had some one else played in his place in Manchester, Friday night, the story of the result might have been different.

The Lowell team has been studying a new style of play and this has held them back some. Now they have it down pretty fine and from this time out should land the goods.

The Connecticut league is on its last legs. This news must tickle Donnelly and Devlin when they think how near they came to going to New Haven and taking the entire Manchester team with them.

John Smith wants the Lowell management to play on the percentage basis. Pretty soon John will want to own every team in the league. Since Freddie turn'd down John in the Lawrence franchise matter, the latter has thought there was a conspiracy on foot and that he was getting the bad end. As a matter of fact the Manchester man has been getting about what he wanted since he took a hand in the game last year.

Guthrie the new man who is playing with Nashua, is none other than our old friend "Harry," who made his reputation on the old Burke team.

The referees are giving satisfaction all along the line. The only vigorous kick so far was made by Stewart at Manchester.

The Gray team will go up against Bucky Lew, Jimmy Harrington, Tighe, former P. A. C. players in Haverhill, tonight.

Bill Kelliher's Nashua tribe will come to Lowell tomorrow night. McFarlane and Guthrie, two other Lowell men will be in the visitors' lineup. Big Herne another league star, and Labelle, the Nashua baseball player with Doyle, one of the best basket throwers in the league will complete the team.

Capt. Stewart of the Concord basketball team has protested the game which his team lost in Manchester last Friday night on the ground that certain decisions by the referee were erroneous and contrary to the rules.

Manchester and Concord will meet again tomorrow night. The game will be played in Concord and quite a crowd of Manchester sports will go up to place their money on their team.

THE FIRST WEEK

What Basket Ball Teams Have Done

CONCORD LEADS IN THROWING FIELD GOALS

Kane Holds the Individual Record

The first week of the basket ball season of the New England league was as lively as the most ardent admirer of the game could wish for.

There have been all kinds of plays, big scores, scientific work, and the games have been witnessed by large audiences. In the games played 226 baskets were thrown from the field.

Concord has the largest team total in this respect, Lowell is second, Manchester third only one basket behind Lowell, Haverhill fourth, and Nashua last with only 21 baskets to the credit of the team.

Kane holds the individual record, having 32 baskets to his credit, while Donnelly of Manchester is second with a total of 18 baskets.

The opening of the season has been most successful, the patronage was very liberal and the spectators at each game went away satisfied with the exhibition put up by the players. Manchester, Concord and Lowell have outplayed Nashua and Haverhill, but the management in the latter cities promise to strengthen their teams and are looking for good timber now. Manchester has a clean record of four victories, Lowell and Concord are tied for second place, and Haverhill and Nashua stand even.

The present week may see changes for the teams are getting down to regular work and individual play is being cut out.

Below will be found a record of each player and team, in basket throwing during the week:

CHINAMEN HELD

Both Were Indicted for Murder

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Nov. 9—Two Chinamen were indicted on the charge of murder in the second degree by the Suffolk county grand jury which reported its findings Saturday before Judge White in the superior criminal court. They are Charlie Ching and Wong Chong and they are accused of killing Wah Chung in the Chinese district on the night of October 2 last. The government will allege that the death of Wah Chong occurred during a clash between two Chinese rival societies and it will endeavor to prove that the defendants who were members of one of those societies killed Chong, who was a representative of the other. This homicide created great excitement in Chinatown and was the immediate cause of the greatest raid ever made in the district, and 200 Chinamen were arrested on the charge that they were in this country without the necessary admission papers.

The case of Patrolman E. F. Lewey of Division 2, who is held on the charge of manslaughter in killing Louis Brandt, was postponed until the next session of the grand jury.

Dominico Alleto was indicted for manslaughter in causing the death of Alberto Molfona.

About 40 other true bills were reported.

JOHN MITCHELL.

JOHN MITCHELL

May Get Place in the Cabinet

HE WILL BE SECRETARY CORTELYOU'S SUCCESSOR

Will Not be Miners' President

By Associated Press to The Sun

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 9—The Dispatch today will publish a story to the effect that John Mitchell will not be a candidate for re-election as president of the United Mine Workers' union at the January convention.

This statement was made by a close personal friend of Mr. Mitchell, while the miner's president and other officials of the organization, who are on their way to Boston to attend the convention of the American Federation of Labor, stopped over here.

The announcement by his apparent authentic source is raised above mere rumor.

The same gentleman said Mr. Mitchell, assuming that President Roosevelt would be elected, decided to lay aside the miner's office to become a member of the president's cabinet, succeeding George B. Cortelyou, as secretary of the department of commerce and labor.

Secretary Cortelyou, it is said, has decided not to again be the head of the department, and may go back to the position of private secretary to the president.

THE HANNA BOOM

Southern States Will Support Him

IN A FIGHT AGAINST PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

The Latter's Friends are Troubled

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—There has been a recrudescence among the machine members of the republican party of the anti-Roosevelt disease, since Senator Hanna won his remarkable victory in Ohio, and Maryland and New York city went democratic. It has become so strong that another statement from Senator Hanna, stronger than the one he made several months ago, was necessary to hold it in check. The revived Hanna boom has the support of the financial interests in New York, who think the president is hostile to them, and also former office-holders and others who want to see a "practical politician of the old guard" at the head of the ticket.

Senator Hanna arrived here today and was overwhelmed with congratulations on his success in beating Tom L. Johnson and Clark, his opponents for the senate, in such a signal manner. He gave no sign that he was a receptive or any other kind of a candidate for the presidential nomination, but he laughingly referred to his threat to throw any man who talked presidency to him out of the sixth-story window as still holding good.

Senator Hanna has this to say about the result in Ohio:

"I have no complaint to make. We are still on top in Ohio, but there is one thing I would like to say: That is that the bringing forward by the democrats of a dead issue and breathing the breath of life into the ship subsidy bill as an argument increased the republican majority in Ohio."

ANCIENT TREASURE

GOLD AND PRECIOUS STONES FOUND NEAR SICILY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9.—Peasants while digging near Pulazzolo Acrede, Sicily, found a rich treasure of ancient objects from Syracuse. The most valuable were an artistic diadem encrusted with precious stones, a belt of solid gold and several rings of beautiful shapes. There were also found a number of coins of different value. The government authorities took possession of the treasure on the ground that it was national property but they will compensate the proprietor of the estate according to an estimate which will be made by experts.

HIS WIFE MISSING

Husband Advertises Her as Dead

HAS YOUNG WOMAN TAKE HER PLACE

Neighbors Discredit the Suicide Story

By Associated Press to The Sun

GLOUCESTER, Nov. 9.—The mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Asa Josselyn, wife of the assistant lightkeeper at Thatcher's island, and the peculiar conduct of the missing woman's husband, have aroused much interest here.

Mrs. Josselyn disappeared from the island on Nov. 2, under circumstances which led to the report that she had committed suicide. None of the boats had been taken, and so far as was known at the time it would have been impossible for her to reach land. The matter was reported to the police, who made a careful search of the shore, but no trace of the woman's body was found. The next morning the woman's husband went to Boston, and on Wednesday returned with a young woman, who one of the townspeople said was his cousin. The young woman accompanied him to the island.

On the morning of Nov. 5 Josselyn sent to the Rockport Review a request that his wife's death notice be published, after which he went to the residence of Town Clerk C. W. Pool and made application for a marriage license. His application gave the name of the young woman he proposed to marry as Mrs. Cora Frances Smith Trommer of North Scituate, and her age as 29.

REYNOLDS IS COOL

Long Distance Rider Was Taken to Peabody

Chief of Police of Peabody M. H. Grady came to Lowell Saturday afternoon for Harmond Reynolds, the young fellow who rode from Colebrook, N. H., to Lowell on an old bicycle and applied for lodging at the police station here. Reynolds is wanted for breaking and entering a summer cottage in Peabody. He was one of three who did the job, and when he found out that the police were after him he left town.

Harmond didn't know Chief Grady when they met in the guard room at police station.

"I didn't get a chance to form your acquaintance," said Mr. Grady, "you left town too quick. I met the other two fellows."

"Hope you formed a good impression of them," said Reynolds.

"They were placed on probation," said the chief, "and you would have been too, if you hadn't skipped."

"'Twas just like this," said Reynolds. "They wanted to go but they were too slow. I told them at noon time that you fellows were after us and they had plenty of time to quit town if they wanted to hustle, but they were too slow. I was fifty miles from Peabody when the other two fellows were arrested, and I didn't have as much to do with the job as they did, either."

When Chief Grady went to put the twisters on Reynolds, the latter said: "You don't need them on me. I'm just as anxious to get to Peabody as you are."

"Well, I'm not as good a runner as I used to be," replied the chief, "and I'm not taking any chances."

Before leaving the police station Reynolds thanked the keeper and other officers for their courteous and considerate treatment and he told Deputy Welch that he wouldn't forget his kindness.

It was to the deputy that Reynolds, leg wearied, cold, hungry and penniless, applied for a night's lodging, and he got it.

Why Wool For Underwear?

Wright's Health Underwear is made of wool because wool is the natural body covering, and better adapted to the purpose than any vegetable fibre. It does not absorb odor as linen does, nor chill the skin after perspiring, and it retains the electricity of the body.

WRIGHT'S HEALTH UNDERWEAR

however, is woven on an entirely different plan from any other underwear, and it is this that gives it its great superiority. Instead of a tightly woven fabric, almost impervious to air and perspiration we have in Wright's Health Underwear the Fleece of Comfort and Health; a fleecy lining made up of myraids of tiny woolen loops woven into the foundation fabric. This fleece by holding air in its meshes permits the skin to breath freely and by its porous absorbent nature carries off the perspiration easily and naturally. Wright's Health Underwear costs no more than the ordinary kinds. At dealers.

LABOR CANDIDATES

Trades and Labor Council in Politics

Will Endeavor to Centre Strength of Organized Labor Men on Candidates Who are Members of Labor Organizations—Other Political Notes

The Trades and Labor Council at its meeting yesterday went into the matter of labor organizations in politics, and after an intelligent discussion of the question it was decided that the interests of organized labor can be best served by the election of candidates friendly to organized labor and its purposes. It was decided, therefore, to support all candidates who are trades unionists and to interview all labor men in interest of labor candidates for aldermen and councilmen with the end in view that their numbers may be felt on election day. In the case of candidates not being members of a trades union the candidate known to be friendly to the cause will be supported.

Tommy Little is seriously considering running against Mayor Howe in the caucuses, and if he doesn't get a square deal there he will run independently. In the event of Tommy running for mayor, John B. Clancy will come out flat-footed for the republican ticket and thus become eligible for the appointment to the position of police commissioner in the event of Tommy winning out.

The meeting of the French republiruns of ward seven last evening in C. M. A. C. hall to decide upon a French-American candidate for the common council in that ward, was a failure as only two candidates, Omer Allard and Prosper Cossette showed up with their friends, while a majority of the candidates remained away. A committee consisting of David A. Parthenais, P. H. Rourke, Paul Charbonneault, Alfred Morrissette and Homer L. P. Turcotte was appointed to call another meeting.

The democratic caucuses will be held on November 19 and it is incumbent upon every democrat to go to the caucuses and vote for the best candidates of the party. The recent elections in this city have shown that the city is about evenly divided politically and hence in order for the democracy to win only the strongest democratic candidates should be put on the ballot. There is a class of voters in each party which never attends caucuses but is continually criticizing the action of caucuses. If this class gets out and votes there can be no such criticism in future. Let every democrat attend the caucus on November 19 and vote for candidates who can win on election day.

The political writer is pleased to acknowledge the receipt of a courteous little note from his old friend, Hon. William Waldorf Jackson, notifying said writer that the Hon. W. W. is still in the land of the living enjoying good health in hopeful spirits, clear of conscience and ready to don his armor and do battle for the presidency in 1904. The note concludes with the following beautiful sentiment: "O, for the dawn of the golden future. Through scholarship, statesman and a name as national as the flag and a reputation from the centre to the circumference of the globe, I shall gain the presidential heights, the greatest office in the American republic."

Tommy Byrne, the "megaphone" candidate, appeared before City Clerk Dadman today for nomination papers. Said Tommy to The Sun reporter afterward: "You can announce in your very commendious publication that I shall be a candidate for mayor on the reformed economical republican ticket. My platform is individual taxation, protection for all concerned, good roads built by local toilers and fine public playgrounds and baths. When I run for representative Mayor Howe went into his pocket to help Cecil Adams defeat me and before I finish he will wish he had kept out of the fight."

It is understood that Councilman Fontaine declines to attend the meeting and abide by its decision.

Col. James H. Carmichael states that he will not be a candidate for mayor in the caucuses this year.

John "Bucky" Halloran (under new management), the well-known democratic worker and basketball player, is a candidate for the common council in ward seven.

Dr. Hugh Walker is a candidate for the democratic nomination for school committee in ward nine. Dr. Walker was the democratic candidate two years ago and made an excellent run against the present incumbent, A. G. Thompson.

The contest for overseer of the poor is being waged by ex-Councilman William J. Dunn and the present incumbent, Frank McMahon. Mr. Dunn served two years in the common council from ward two and made a very successful representative. His friends are making an active canvass in his interest and the indications are that a very large vote will be cast in the caucus.

"I may run for mayor. I am considering it now," said "Tommy" Little to The Sun reporter when asked his intentions.

The friends of Robert F. Conroy are of the opinion that he will make pretty good aldermanic timber and between now and the 16th may prevail upon him to be a candidate.

John J. Sullivan, the popular "Moxie" of ward two, wishes it understood that he is not and will not be a candidate for the school board against John J. Hanlon in that ward.

Before voting for candidates for the common council it is always well to look around your ward and see what has been done for it within a year and who has done it.

Dr. Hugh Walker, the well-known dentist, is the democratic candidate for the school board in ward nine. Dr. Walker has a host of friends and will make a formidable candidate against the strongest opponent that could be selected.

Councilman Timothy Donohue, who has served Ward Four faithfully in the common council for the past four years, is a candidate for the board of aldermen and his friends, who are found in all of the nine wards, are hustling for his nomination, confident that he can win on election day.

BUNTING TEAM

DEFEATED AT ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL BY METHUEN.

The United States Bunting fotball team went to Methuen Saturday afternoon and was defeated by the association football team of that place by a score of 4 to 2. The local players claim that the referee, who knew little or nothing of the rules of the game, robbed them of victory.

The lineup of the Bunting team was as follows: Goal, S. Burtt; backs, J. Marriott and R. Birtwhistle; halfbacks, M. Casey, W. Conrannon and T. Gallagher; forwards, right wing, J. Halligan; forwards, right wing, J. Halligan, E. Nelson; centre, G. Allen; left wing, Ted Nelson and J. McEvoy; linesman, Wm. Nelson. Time, 40m. halves. The Buntings will play the Andover team on the grounds in Wigginville Saturday.

LEATHER WORKERS' MEETING.

At a meeting of the Leather Workers' union this evening Dennis Healey, president of the Amalgamated Leather Workers of America, will address his old comrades. Mr. Healey went to Philadelphia about two months ago, where the offices of the national organization were opened. He will bring with him to this city a well-known lawyer of Philadelphia, who will also address the union.

SURPRISED BY FRIENDS.

Miss Lillian G. Abbott, of Powell street, was surprised at her home Friday evening when about fifty of her young friends called upon her and presented her with a gold locket and chain. Games were enjoyed during the evening and a fine musical and literary program was carried out. The party broke up at a seasonable hour.

HIGH SCHOOL WON

Defeated the Methuens Saturday Afternoon

IN A CONTEST RESULTING 17 TO 0

The Textile School Defeated at Haverhill

The Lowell High school football team has at last taken a spurt and may be able to redeem itself for the defeats if a few more victories are landed.

Saturday afternoon the Lowell boys met the Methuen High school team on the Fair Grounds and won by a score of 27 to 0. Much more courage and less grandstand play was shown in Saturday's game than any game previously played by the locals.

Methuen was outclassed by Lowell at almost every stage of the game and it was not a question of whether or not Lowell would win, it was how much Lowell will win by.

Masters, Jewett, Hatch and Crowley were the shining lights of the local aggregation and it was owing to their good work that Lowell scored the number of points that it did.

The game started off with Lowell kicking to Methuen's 25-yard line, and on the first play Moore gained the distance. In two downs Methuen fumbled and Lowell got the ball on downs. Masters and Jewett gained twelve yards on three line plays and then Hatch gained eight yards around left end. Jewett ploughed through the line four yards for a touchdown and Crowley kicked the goal.

Lowell kicked off to Methuen's 25-yard line and the man was dropped in his tracks. Methuen made gains through the line on the next three plays, but fumbled and McQuade fell on the ball. Lowell's ball. Masters gained a short distance around right end and Hatch made 18 yards in a dodging play between tackle and left end. Jewett gained two yards and Hatch four through the line. Masters carried the ball over the line for a touchdown, but Crowley ofailed to kick the goal. Lowell kicked to Methuen's 20-yard line and the man with the ball was tackled for a loss of five yards. After one unsuccessful line plunge Methuen attempted to kick but the kick was blocked in great style for a loss of ten yards by Raymond. Methuen lost the ball on downs on the five-yard line and Jewett made a touchdown. Crowley kicked the goal. End of first half, score 17 to 0.

In the second half Methuen kicked to Lowell's 20-yard line and soon got the ball on a fumble on the 15-yard line. Methuen fumbled and lost four yards, although managing to recover the ball. The ball went to Lowell on downs. A misplay gained 18 yards. The ball was to have gone to Masters, but McQuade got mixed on his signals and found the interference going around the right end while he was waiting for it on the left end. He took a chance and ran 18 yards. Masters gained twenty yards on an end play, Hatch made ten and then seven around left end and Masters went over for a touchdown. Crowley failed to kick the goal. Methuen kicked to Raymond, who ran the ball back fifteen yards. Masters gained around the end and Hatch got in twenty and ten yards runs, finally going over the line after ten yards of dodging. A. Campbell failed to kick the goal.

TEXTILE SCHOOL DEFEATED.

The Lowell Textile school football team went to Haverhill Saturday afternoon and met with a reverse, the High school team representing that city defeating the Textile boys by a score of 17 to 0. The result of this game came as a surprise to the admirers of the local team, for it has been putting up a great battle since it was organized early in the season, and while Haverhill was considered a strong team it was thought that the local aggregation would put up a better battle than it did. the newspaper with the largest circulation is always an evening paper. Why is it so? Because the masses in such a community have no opportunity to read in the morning. Advertisers who want to reach the masses who earn their money in Lowell and spend it in Lowell should bear this fact in mind. The people who trade in Boston read morning papers. FIRE AT GAS WORKS.

A fire which has been in progress for some time at the works of the Lowell Gas Light Co. in School street succeeded in destroying tons of soft coal stored there. Men have been fighting the fire for over five days, and the coal is now being removed from the sheds and being carried to an adjacent field where the process of raking it over has begun.

As a result of the fire in the coal pockets a new material has been formed which is neither coke nor ashes, it being a substance which is between the two and has been examined with a good deal of speculation by the gas company.

Constipation Can Be Cured

Good Health is Utterly Impossible Unless the Waste Products of the Body are Got Rid of—A Safe, Natural Remedy is to Be Had From Any Druggist.

Iron-Ox Tablets not only relieve, but permanently cure constipation.

They do it not by violent purgative and cathartic action, but by so toning up the stomach and bowels that they perform their natural functions without the aid of harmful drugs.

Remember Iron-Ox Tablets are not purgative or cathartic in their effect; they are tonic-laxative; they cure by building up the entire system. Purgatives and cathartics give only temporary relief by violent and injurious action—they do far more harm than good.

Iron-Ox Tablets are concentrated nerve food—they abound in brain-making elements they do not produce a temporary exhilaration, followed by a weakening reaction, as do liquid tonics composed of drugged alcohol which leads to the drink habit.

Anything which shocks the system into activity is dangerous. Do not expect immediate perceptible effects from Iron-Ox Tablets. They produce a natural, regular building up of all the functions. This takes a little time, but a successful result is absolutely certain.

Fifty Iron-Ox Tablets in an attractive aluminum pocket-case, 25 cents at druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price. The Iron-Ox Remedy Co., Detroit, Mich.

Let Us Pay

For a 50c. Bottle of Liquozone, to Show You What it is

If you suffer from a germ trouble, let us buy a bottle of Liquozone and give it to you to try. It is liquid oxygen—the best thing in the world for you. And in germ diseases it does what all medical skill cannot do without it.

We had faith enough in it to pay $100,000 for the simple right to make it. We know its results so well that we will gladly pay for your test. Won't you, if you need it—in simple fairness to yourself—have faith enough to send us this coupon?

Just Oxygen

Liquozone is simply liquid oxygen; no drugs, no alcohol in it. It is the discovery of Paull, the great German chemist, who spent 20 years on it. His object was to get such an excess of oxygen in staple form into the blood that no germ could live in any membrane or tissue.

Oxygen is life to an animal—the very source of vitality. We would die in three minutes without it. In this liquid form its effects are exhilarating, purifying, vitalizing. But germs are vegetables, and this excess of oxygen is deadly to vegetable matter.

We Offer $1,000

on every bottle of Liquozone for a germ that it cannot kill. And there is no other way to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any germ-killing drug is a poison to you, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine never destroys inside germs.

We spend 44 days in making each bottle of Liquozone, yet we offer you the first bottle free. And we supply it to physicians and hospitals everywhere at almost cost. In this fair way we are trying to introduce this product to everyone who needs it. If you will be as fair with yourself, we will gladly show you how any germ disease can be cured.

Germ Diseases

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

THE WASHINGTON HOUSEHOLD OF SPEAKER CANNON

THE decision of the new speaker of the house of representatives, Joseph G. Cannon, to occupy henceforth a house in Washington in place of the hotel apartments which he formerly reserved for himself while acting in the capacity of an ordinary workaday congressman naturally caused a flutter in the society circles of the capital, inasmuch as it indicated that once more the speaker's home would become a center of social activity and that the interesting question of the status of the speaker from a society standpoint would be raised again. Speaker Carlisle was the last ruler of the house to occupy a private dwelling in Washington, Speakers Crisp, Reed and Henderson having resided in hotels and having entertained to a comparatively small extent. It is known that Speaker Cannon is much more democratic in his tendencies than any of his recent predecessors, and it is thought that he will not be so exacting in the question of social precedence as were some of them, but many people are not illogically wondering what he will do in the way of entertaining and what will be his attitude as to the delicate questions of precedence regarding, for example, himself and the president pro tem. of the senate.

Speaker Reed, it will be remembered, deemed himself, from the standpoint of political importance, as second only to the president, and it is common talk that on at least one occasion he declined a vice presidential nomination because he held that the office of vice president was of inferior prestige to that of speaker, since the speaker is the head of the real legislative branch of the government. While not troubling himself much about his social status as speaker, he did pretty much as he pleased in accepting or declining invitations even when they came from the White House, and people who understood his attitude were very careful in regard to the place they gave him at social functions. Mr. Henderson, for his part, admitted that the vice president outranked him by virtue of being heir apparent to the presidency, but insisted upon taking precedence of the president pro tem. of the senate. Of late years, as may be imagined, there was much uneasiness in social quarters over this point, as Senator Frye as president pro tem. of the senate assumed that he had the social prerogatives of the vice president, and it has been said that care was taken not to invite both Speaker Henderson and Senator Frye to any function where official precedence would have to be regarded.

Those best acquainted with Speaker Cannon are of the opinion that the good people thus exercised in mind may set themselves at rest, as their knowledge of the speaker's characteristics assures them that while he will not submit to what he may deem a social indignity he will not be unduly assertive in the way of claiming what he might consider his social rights. Precedent has never troubled "Uncle Joe" Cannon to any extent one way or the other, and his friends consider it altogether unlikely that the man of the forceful speech, the windmill arms and the sound common sense will at this late day worry himself over questions that may seem of the greatest moment to those who deem "correctness" the summum bonum of the social world. Not that Speaker Cannon will allow himself to be slighted in the least; he is too much alive to the importance and dignity of his office.

Of course from the standpoint of the grandes dames of the capital much depends upon the attitude taken by Miss Helen Cannon, the speaker's daughter, who will preside over his household. It is said that had the speaker followed his own inclination he would once more have been the occupant of hotel apartments, but Miss Cannon believed that he should take a house if only to repay social obligations accruing from many years, and as her desires are his law the speaker gracefully acquiesced. Thus it was that, possessing the same democratic tastes that have distinguished her father, Miss Cannon came to Washington, looked the ground over and chose the unpretentious appearing residence on Vermont avenue a little north of K street, for so long the home of the late Senator McPherson of New Jersey, whose wealth had given the interior of the house an embellishment surpassed by few Washington homes. Here it is that Speaker Cannon will entertain his friends this winter and in all probability revive the traditions that in the past made the speaker's home a social milepost. Miss Cannon, realizing the lofty position held by her father, will naturally desire to invest that position with the dignity that it demands, despite the fact that she prefers a quiet domestic life to one busy with social obligations. She is enough a woman of the world, however, to steer the speaker's social bark through any shoals or reefs of ill feeling, and the general impression is that Mr. Cannon's house will ere long be looked upon as one of the most desirable places in Washington to which to obtain an entree.

A Snapshot of Congressman Cannon.

Miss Helen Cannon.

The Cannon Home in Washington.

Mrs. E. K. Le Sueres.

Since the death of her mother some years ago Miss Cannon has been her father's housekeeper in the unpretentious home at Danville, and those who have had the pleasure of visiting the speaker's Illinois residence say that they have never met a more agreeable hostess or one better calculated to put visitors at their ease. Miss Cannon is essentially a cosmopolitan, having traveled extensively in the old world and the new. She has inherited many of the characteristics of her mother, whom "Uncle Joe" wooed and won when she was a pretty Ohio schoolgirl and who was blessed with a quiet dignity and a strong will, all of which will stand her in good stead in the various functions in which she will participate as head of the speaker's household.

The house which she selected as their Washington home, and which, by the way, has been decorated and furnished throughout in accordance with her wishes, is well suited for the entertainments which it will witness during the winter. It is an old Washington landmark and since Senator McPherson's death has had several tenants, noteworthy among whom are Robert McCormick, now our ambassador to the court of the czar, and Colonel William Cary Sanger, assistant secretary of war. In appearance the house does not seem large, but it contains twenty rooms and is well laid out for social enjoyment and domestic comfort. The first floor is a especial delight to the eye.

The main entrance gives ingress to a wide hall in walnut, beyond which is the library, to which entrance can also be obtained from the dining room. This feature is one of the strong points of the house in the opinion of the possessor of a large fund of that subtle quality known as tact and is just the place for the many conferences which will undoubtedly be held at his house during the session. And should an important visitor put in an appearance during the meantime the speaker can easily slip from the dining room into the library without attracting attention or disturbing the guests whom he may be entertaining. The parlor opens off the hall to the front of the house; back of the parlor is the music room, and back of this, again, is the dining room, the chief feature of the house, large enough to seat thirty people at table and destined to be the scene of many official and social functions. It was the size of this room that largely influenced the speaker and his daughter in deciding to occupy the McPherson house, for they realized what would devolve upon them in the way of entertaining. The room is finished in hard wood and has been tastefully decorated. The living rooms on the second floor are airy and commodious and are reached from the ground floor by a wide stairway.

Such in brief is the house that will be the home of the new speaker while he is domiciled in Washington. It is very pleasantly situated. McPherson square, with its splendid equestrian statue of General James B. McPherson, being in the immediate vicinity. Not far from the speaker's home are the Arlington, Shoreham and Normandie hotels, and among his nearest neighbors are Senators Gorman, Hale and Allison and Congressman Hitt.

In addition to Miss Cannon, the speaker's family will consist of his daughter, Mrs. E. K. Le Sueres, and her four children, who have heretofore lived at Danville. The speaker adores his grandchildren, and it is safe to say that there will be no happier household in Washington this winter than the one presided over by the rough and ready but genial speaker and his charming and tactful daughter. It is equally safe to say that neither of them will be as greatly troubled by questions of official etiquette and social precedence as are the good people who are engaged in wondering what will be the effect of the new legislative regime on the society circles of Washington.

ODD COUPLES.

A recently published table gives the respective ages of all the married couples in the United Kingdom. There is one husband of ninety-five years who has a wife of twenty-one, while three husbands vaulting in age from eighty-five to ninety-five have seemed wives of twenty-five. Elderly wives and youthful husbands are rarer, and the greatest disparity in this direction is between a wife of sixty-five years and her husband of twenty. The oldest couple in the list are aged one hundred and ninety-five years respectively, while the youngest pair have only numbered sixteen and fifteen summers respectively.

THE ANTARCTIC RELIEF SHIP TERRA NOVA.

Things have reached such a pass in polar explorations that before long it will be the rule when fitting out an expedition to equip simultaneously the ship which is intended to do the rescuing. The illustration shows the Terra Nova, fitted out by the British government. She recently sailed for the south in quest of the exploring ship Discovery, which is known to be locked in the ice in the antarctic regions.

The Terra Nova was built in 1885 and has a total length of 187 feet. She was built specially for work in the ice. She is constructed of oak and at her bows is almost solid. Her engines only develop 120 horse power. She is commanded by Captain Harry McKay, a well known arctic navigator, who has been in command of her for many years and who was in charge of the whaler America in the Ziegler expedition.

RUSSIAN SAINT'S COFFIN.

The bones of the new Russian saint, St. Seraphim, who was not long ago proclaimed a saint at the hermitage of Sarov, are contained in the oak coffin shown in the illustration and which was a gift of the czar. The czar himself participated in the ceremonies attendant upon the canonization of Father Seraphim. The hermitage of Sarov and its monastery are famed throughout Russia. Near them is a spring the waters of which are accredited with having worked many miracles. Every year many pilgrims pay the spring a visit in the hope of being cured of their ills.

HAPPENINGS OF THE WORLD SHOWN IN PICTURES

THE FIRST LADY OF KANSAS.

To Mrs. Willis J. Bailey, as wife of the chief executive of Kansas, belongs the honor of being known as the first lady of the state. Mrs. Bailey was formerly Mrs. Ida B. Weed, widow of a railroad conductor. She had known

MRS. WILLIS J. BAILEY.

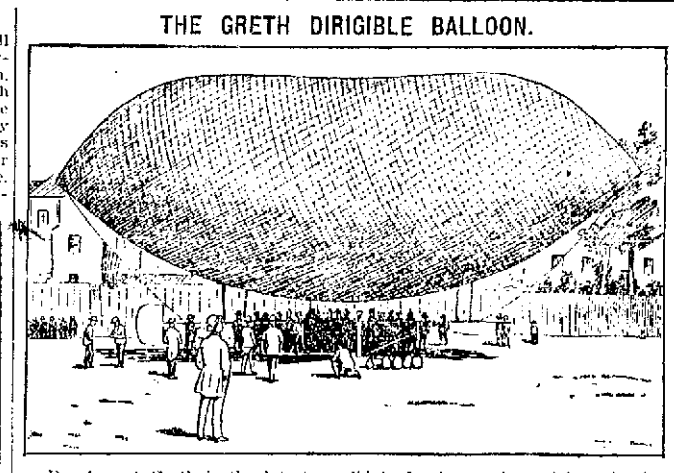

Governor Bailey in her younger days, and they became engaged two years ago. In marrying her Governor Bailey doubtless brought sorrow to at least 2,000 members of the fair sex, for that number had answered a fake proposal of marriage which a newspaper man published in the governor's name at the time the latter was elected. The alleged proposal was telegraphed all over the country, with the result that replies were received by the bushel.

A MONUMENT OF RENAN.

The accompanying illustration will serve to give a good idea of the appearance of the monument to Ernest Renan, the famous French philosopher, which was recently unveiled at his native town of Treguier. As may be seen by the picture, the monument represents Renan seated on a bench, while over him towers a statue of Pallas Athene, the goddess of wisdom, whom he invoked in that ever memorable work "The Prayer Upon the Acropolis." The purpose of the sculptor, Jean Boucher, was to show Renan in the guise in which he was most familiar to the people of Treguier, and the consensus of opinion is that he has succeeded.

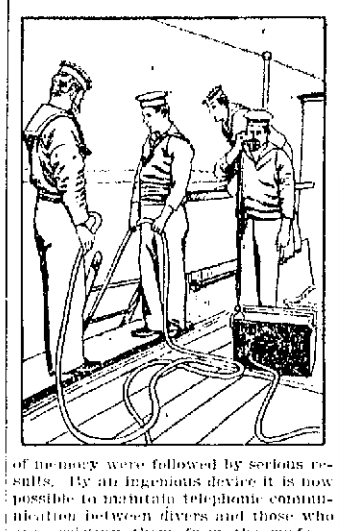

THE GRETH DIRIGIBLE BALLOON.

Dr. August Greth is the latest candidate for honors in aerial navigation, and the accompanying illustration shows the dirigible balloon in which he recently made a successful ascension at San Francisco. At a distance Dr. Greth's balloon looks not unlike the famous machines of Stanley Spencer and Santos-Dumont, but closer inspection reveals several important differences. In the Greth the car is only seven feet below the balloon, despite the fact that the motive power is obtained from a twelve horse power gasoline motor. There is no little balloon or ballonnette to equalize the expansion of hydrogen, its place being taken by a net which keeps the ends of the cylinder taut. The Greth balloon also has four propellers, one at each of the cardinal points of the compass, thus providing for locomotion in any direction. It is said that Dr. Greth is of the opinion that it is possible to build an air ship with accommodations for passengers and gas bag inside the ship itself.

DEEP WATER TELEPHONING.

Until recently divers at work on the bottom of the ocean had to rely upon a system of signaling by means of a rope to let those on the surface of the water know the progress they were making. Often the diver forgot just what signals he should use to express himself properly, and occasionally such lapses of memory were followed by serious results. By an ingenious device it is now possible to maintain telephonic communication between divers and those who are assisting them from the surface. The illustration shows a sailor giving directions to a diver who is hard at work in the hulk of a sunken steamer.

An organization has been formed to operate 200 or more automobiles between the hotels and the Union station in St. Louis and the fair grounds during the exhibition.

ROAD TROLLEY BUS IN OPERATION

There are few industries that have made more rapid progress in recent years than that of trolley railroading, the latest development of which is shown in the accompanying illustration. The trolley bus, however, manages to get along very well without rails. In this respect it has a great advantage over all that has gone before it, for the delays which so often vex passengers are no longer necessary, the bus steering skillfully around anything that may obstruct its passage. The power is transmitted through a flexible wire connected with the trolley roller traveling on the feed wire.

A VERITABLE QUEEN OF THE AIR.

There are few women who would have the nerve to ascend alone in an air ship, but Mrs. Stanley Spencer is a member of this rare class. She is the wife of the famous aeronaut and is as enthusiastic as he is on the subject of aerial navigation. Some time ago she ascended from the grounds of the Crystal palace in London and made several circuits of the polo grounds before coming to earth again. She expects to accompany her husband to the St. Louis exposition and will doubtless be of the greatest assistance to him in the aerial

CHEAP POSTAGE IN JAPAN.

Postage is cheap in all countries in these times, but in none perhaps quite so cheap as in Japan. A letter can be sent from one end to the other of the Land of the Rising Sun for the fee of 2 sen, equal to about an eighth of a cent.

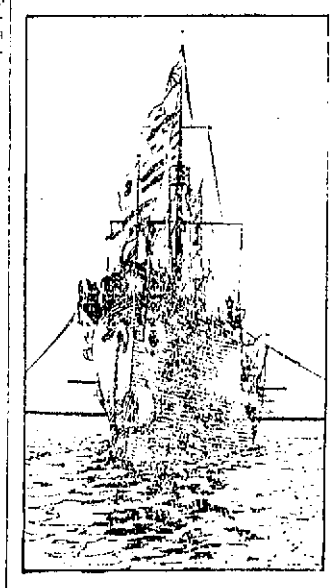

A FAMOUS LAKE IN NEW ZEALAND.

Travelers who have been to New Zealand assert that that island is a compendium of all that is wonderful and beautiful in nature. That the assertion is not without warrant may be seen from the accompanying illustration, depicting Lake Rotomahana, one of the sights of the famous Hot Lakes district of New Zealand. All about Rotomahana are grand and beautiful geysers which eject water two degrees above boiling point. On cooling this water incrusts everything with which it comes in contact, and birds that fall into it are brought out like bits of bird. About the lake also are jumbled hills, the bleakness and barrenness of which are now being largely relieved by the action of the government in [illegible] throughout the district.

BATTLE SHIP WITH ODD BOW.

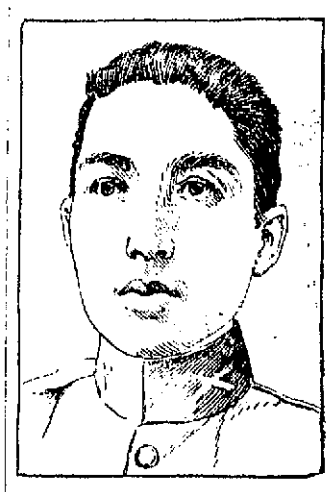

The Japanese war ship Asama is unique in that its bow presents a remarkable appearance to the head of a collie dog, as may be seen from a glance at the accompanying illustration. This picture was made from a recent photograph of the Asama taken while she was lying in port decorated for a visit from the mikado. The Asama is one of the neatest looking and best manned war ships in the Japanese navy, her captain, who is an experienced warrior, being a great stickler for discipline.

AN INTERESTING PUPIL OF UNCLE SAM.

Crispulo Patajo is the name of a dusky gentleman who will be extremely busy this winter at the war college at Leavenworth, Kan. He is a Filipino and has been serving for some time as a member of the Philippine scouts, his detail to Fort Leavenworth being a recognition of his services in Uncle Sam's uniform. Patajo is about thirty-two years old, was one of the insurrectionists against Spain and is known as a good fighter. When the United States occupied the Philippine Islands he abandoned the native cause and proved so successful in running to earth insurgent plotters that he was appointed a chief of detectives.

HOW CHAMBERLAIN WOULD FENCE THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

The energetic campaign which the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain is conducting in England in behalf of a protective policy has made the British cartoonists and caricaturists work overtime in the effort to produce pictures upholding and opposing the proposed change in the policy of the British empire. The accompanying map is reproduced from a drawing made by Chamberlain's opponents for the purpose of vividly showing the electors how the empire will

Taunton Boy Was Held in $10,000

By Associated Press to The Sun

TAUNTON, Nov. 9.—Because Peter Clark, 11 years old, would not leave the yard of Walter E. Bassett, a boy of the same age, on Jackson street, Saturday afternoon, after being repeatedly ordered to, the Bassett boy procured a shotgun from his house and blew the top of Clark's head off.

Young Bassett was held by the police on a charge of homicide after they had investigated the case, and after consultation with Dist.-Att'y Swift his bail was fixed at $10,000.

HAPPY MOHAIRS

Closed Successful Season With a Banquet

In Odd Fellows' Hall Saturday Evening—Prizes Awarded to Winners on First and Second Elevens

The Mohair Cricket club held its annual banquet in Odd Fellows Temple, in Middlesex street, Saturday night, and did honor to the 11 players of the cricket team who won the championship of the Merrimack Valley league for the third consecutive time. The occasion was graced by the presence of the wives and lady friends of the members.

A feature of the banquet in former years has been the after-dinner speeches, but this year a fine musical and literary entertainment took the place of the speeches.

A sumptuous repast was served and for two hours the guests discussed the menu. At 9 o'clock President J. W. Harrison called to order. He is also captain of the victorious club.

After brief remarks of welcome he introduced as master of ceremonies, Harry Dayton, who spoke briefly. Then followed a song by Alec Williams.

The annual report of the secretary was then read in part and was as follows:

The season which has just closed has been one of the most successful that the club has ever experienced during the course of its career. The main object of the organization is to further the interests of cricket and in this respect it is satisfactory to be able to state that once again it has been able to maintain that high state of efficiency which marks it as one of the best, if not the best, club in this part of the state. Another object is to uphold its reputation as a social body and judging from the success in this respect it can be safely said that its efforts in this direction have not been futile.

Since the last banquet, and before the cricket season began the annual ball was held, and although it was not attended, perhaps, so largely as some of its predecessors, still it was a reunion that provided enjoyment to many members and friends.

From a cricket standpoint the past year has been all that could be desired. The first eleven composed principally of the same talent, which has helped the club to maintain its supremacy in previous years, was reinforced by some new players, who generally speaking have given a good account of themselves. The records of the doings of the players are fresh in your memories and therefore, it is unnecessary to repeat them now. On nearly every Saturday afternoon the team has been engaged, and the players have often inconvenienced themselves in order to participate in the matches which were arranged.

At the end of the season the record is one which certainly any team may well be proud of. The championship of the Merrimack Valley league has been won with a handsome margin, and the pennant which during the year has been flying on our flag staff on our grounds at Chelmsford street has now become our permanent property. It was given to the league on the condition that it should be won twice before being the property of any team. Last year by winning the championship of the league the club became its custodian for a year, but by being again successful this season the flag is our property.

The report concludes with the averages of the first and second elevens.

Miss Sidebottom entertained the gathering with two delightful readings, followed by a selection by Mr. Harry Mosley. There were other vocal numbers by Miss Marion Brown of Lawrence, Miss Agatha Wynne, Mrs. Charles Jenkins and Messrs. David Hird, Michael Gorman and John McNamara, and a sleight-of-hand performance by Charles Johnson.

President Harrison then awarded the prizes. David Hird, the leading batter, was called up first. Then Henry Allen, a recent acquisition to the team, was presented with a gold watch suitably inscribed. Allen was the leading bowler in the team. The second prizes were then awarded and both were awarded to Harry Mosley. Mr. Allen then on behalf of the members of the club presented to Mr. Alec Williams a beautiful Morris chair, and to his wife a handsome oak music cabinet as a mark of appreciation for the yeoman service both of them had rendered in the musical arrangements in connection with the social fixtures of the club during the past year.

The list of victories accomplished by the first eleven have practically been the same as last year. The defeats have only numbered two, and strange to say that our victors have been the two teams, viz., Lawrence Athletic and Lynn who caused our downfall in the season of 1902.

An analysis of the matches which the first eleven has played shows the general superiority of the team over its opponents. In all the players have made the grand total of 1581 runs for the loss of 136 wickets which gives an average of 11.62 per wicket. Their opponents have lost 177 wickets in compiling 999 runs which gives them an average of 5.64 runs. These figures speak for themselves.

The second team's achievements have like those of the first's been most praiseworthy. The club entered the Central Massachusetts League and they managed to win the championship having only lost one game, being defeated by the Buntings on the Fourth of July. It was satisfactory, however, to know that in the return match the tables were turned. The eleven by their victories secured for the club to hold for one year the Nicholson trophy.

The club during the year in addition to holding two lawn parties of its own which were attended with very great success, assisted in a lawn party which was run in conjunction with the Zion and Billerica clubs in aid of the fund for the relief of sufferers by the terrible disaster at South Lowell on the 29th of July. A very enjoyable social party in which the members and their friends participated in dancing and a ping pong tournament and listened to a concert also took place in the Odd Fellows' Temple at the beginning of the season.

During the past few weeks the members in their wisdom have taken somewhat drastic measures with regard to certain individuals whose actions have been considered to be far from conducive to the welfare of the organization. The suspension of the second team from membership is perhaps the only incident which has marred the otherwise harmonious working of the club, and it is greatly to be regretted that those who were ultimately suspended did not as requested of them attend the meeting at which it was hoped that all strained relations might have been straightened out and all difficulties overcome.

The club both in point of finances and membership is strong, and can, it may honestly be said, point with pride to the records of the season and confidently look for support in the future.

HARD ARGUMENTS

Coffee Uses Them Whether One Likes or Not.

The ill effects of coffee are present in many coffee drinkers but some people pay no attention to the warning signals like dyspepsia, insomnia, nervousness, fluttering of the heart, etc., until coffee finally uses a knock down argument which means collapse on the part of the drinkers.

"I am 30 years old and have drunk coffee since I can remember until four years ago when I broke down completely with nervous prostration and indigestion. I simply cannot describe the agony I suffered.

"Doctor told me he could not help me if I did not leave coffee alone so I bought some Postum to give it a trial. At first I did not know how to make it and was disappointed in the taste, but after reading the directions on the package carefully, made it right, and then I thought it better than coffee. At that time I weighed 140 pounds and now I weigh 185 pounds, that's quite a gain isn't it? I never have indigestion now and the headaches are all gone and I am otherwise entirely well and strong.

"I never had any troubles that were not due to drinking coffee and these disappeared and health came in their place when I shut off coffee and drank Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

IRON-OX Tablets For the Bowels.
Not purgative nor cathartic, but gently laxative and tonic. For sale by druggists, 25 cents.

By J. E. CONANT & CO., - - - Auctioneers
OFFICE, LOWELL, MASS.

Tomorrow Afternoon at 2.30 o'clock
PROPERTY OPEN AFTER 10 A. M.

It is my purpose, on Tuesday, the 10th day of Nov., 1903, to sell to the highest bidder at absolute auction sale the real estate numbered 21 Bachman street, and extending through to Book street, known as the J. M. Cook property. Bachman street leaves Lakeview avenue just opposite the residence of Mr. August Fels, and the property now offered is the first estate on the right from the corner of Lakeview avenue and Bachman street.

The sale will take place upon the premises, regardless of weather, will begin promptly at half past two o'clock in the afternoon, and the purchaser must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $300 just as soon as the property is struck off. From one-half to three-quarters of the purchase money can remain on mortgage.

The house is a two story one of nine rooms, has bath room, laundry and cellar; is in good condition and a very pleasant home. In fact it is one of the best moderate priced places in the neighborhood. In rear of house is a good stable for three horses, carriage house and wagon shed.

Facing Book street and adjoining the stable is a two story building erected with the idea of some time making it into a cottage house. Today, from the outside, it has the appearance of a dwelling. Mr. Book used it as a bakery, there being no partitions on either floor. On the lower floor is a large bricked-up baker's oven.

The land has a frontage of 59 feet on Bachman street, a frontage of 45 feet on Book street, and an area of 6271 square feet. There are concrete walks shaded by trees, leading in from Lakeview avenue to the property, on both streets, and fruit trees, vines, etc., set out about the yard. The neighborhood is an excellent one, the street car service is good, the location healthy and the situation pleasant.

The sale of the Snyder property this afternoon should attract the attention of investors and real estate men, as it is a very fine piece of property.

Mr. Keyes has a number of sales yet to be placed under the hammer during November and December.

F. OF L. CONVENTION

Annual Meeting Held in Faneuil Hall

Gompers and Mitchell Among the Delegates in Attendance—Pres. Driscoll Welcomed the Delegates to Boston—Gompers Says a New Battle is Waging for the Trade Union Movement

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Assembling for a convention, which, according to labor leaders, is likely to be the most important meeting ever held in the United States, for the consideration of problems arising out of the relation of capital and labor, almost 600 delegates gathered in Faneuil hall today for the first sitting of the twenty-third annual deliberation of the American Federation of Labor. All the delegates, including Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell, the president of the United Mine Workers, had arrived yesterday and everything was in readiness for the opening of the convention at 10 o'clock this morning. The subjects to be taken up at the sessions, had not been announced, but from the discussion of the delegates, since their arrival, it seemed probable that the convention would pass upon whether the federation affiliated members would ally themselves with any political party, the socialist party for instance. Other topics mentioned have been trade jurisdiction, industrialism as distinct from trade autonomy, child-labor and the means of its prevention and the eight-hour day. Great interest prevailed also as to what action, if any, would be taken on the "Open shop issue" with President Roosevelt in connection with the Miller case at Washington.

President Gompers called the convention to order, and after the credentials had been examined, President D. D. Driscoll of the Central Labor Union of Boston, extended a cordial welcome to the visiting delegates.

After extending the greeting of Boston, President Driscoll made reference to the State Board of Arbitration, saying that the workingmen were always read to abide by the decision of this tribunal. "We have many good state laws but want better," he continued. "We mean to have the child-labor law lived up to."

In closing, Mr. Driscoll presented to President Gompers a block and gavel with the trade union label of the woodworkers.

In accepting the gift, Mr. Gompers touched upon many phases of the labor movement. He said that a new battle was waging for the trade union movement. "It is a fight," he said, "for the people in the cause of justice." He asked that the American Federation of Labor, be judged upon its merits and upon what it accomplishes and that all preconceived notions be abandoned.

Chairman Owen Miller, from the committee on credentials, then reported. The committee reported credentials from representatives of 101 international unions, 123 central labor unions and 110 locals and federal labor unions, besides delegates from the state branch. Credentials also were received from the fraternal delegates.

John Grady and William Mullen, representing the United Trades congress of England; John Simpson, of the Canadian Trades congress, and Harriette A. Keyser of New York city, representing the church association for the advancement of the interests of labor.

Protests were filed against delegations from the bakers' and confectioners' international union, the central labor union of Knoxville, Tenn., and the central labor union of Burlington, Vt.

Resolutions were adopted to the effect that the delegates while in Boston purchase newspapers from the Boston news boys' union.

This was followed by a flood of motions bearing upon union printing, smoking union cigars and wearing union-made clothing. One delegate suggested that if there were to be any entertainments furnished to the delegates that the talent be actors and actresses who are members of unions. All of these were kuleky disposed of by the chairman, who declared that they were entirely out of order.

The nature of the motions and the manner in which they were presented occasioned considerable merriment.

Before adjournment, at noon, President Gompers announced the appointment of President Henry McMahon of the Boston Typographical union, No. 13, as assistant secretary of the convention, and Thomas J. Minihan of the team drivers' union and Andrew J. Lambert of the hoisting and portable engineers' union as sergeant at arms and messengers.

At the time of going to press in this this edition the registrars had one more precinct to count in ward eight and with eight precincts out of nine counted the vote was about the same as the original count in the case of the three winners, though McManmon had a gain of two votes.

The only remarkable changes noted were in ward seven where in one block of 60 ballots Ripley gained 10 votes while another block he lost 10 votes. On still another block Roarke gained 11 votes.

No material changes are looked for in either district.

58th CONGRESS

The Extraordinary Session Was Opened Today

Cannon Elected Speaker of the House—Hanna and Gorman Received Tremendous Ovations in the Senate

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The fifty-eighth congress convened in extraordinary session at noon today in accordance with the proclamation of President Roosevelt, for the purpose of enacting legislation necessary to make effective the Cuban reciprocity treaty. The day was devoted simply to personal greetings and organization.

The house assembled the largest membership in its history and the scene before the gavel fell in that body was one of animation, both on the floor, in the cloak rooms and in the lobbies and corridors.

The day was crisp and bright and the capitol building presented the appearance of a new structure with its coat of white paint and complete renovation within.

Crowds of eager spectators, both men and women, thronged the corridors and rotunda of the capital early in the day and the galleries to which admission was had by card only were taxed to their capacity long before the hour for assembling arrived. Many high officials of the government left their desks at the departments to witness the opening of the session and greet their legislative friends. Many strangers in Washington had their first glimpse of congress while the capitol was the mecca of the Washingtonians.

Committee rooms, which had been in the hands of renovators during the recess, were thrown open and many informal receptions were held by popular chairmen.

With the speakership question out of the way in the universal endorsement of Mr. Cannon, there was nothing to worry the legislative mind and the day was given up to the sentiment of the occasion.

Many handsome floral tributes to members were borne in unusual profusion to the lobbies back of both the senate and house chambers to be placed later on the desks of the members.

The new members of the house received their initiation to house employees and doorkeepers and many were turned back for identification because of their slight hesitation on presenting themselves for admission. Such incidents contributed to the general lively animation and good humor of the occasion.

GALLERIES CROWDED

GREAT INTEREST IN HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—The House of Representatives convened at noon today in extraordinary session. Today's session was full of interest to the spectators, likewise to the new members, but to the veteran it was but a routine proceeding.

The fact that a speaker was to be elected and that this was the first session of a new congress, added to the interest that usually attaches to an opening day. Long before the hour of noon, when the gavel fell, the galleries were filled, the ladies being largely in the majority. Many more were disappointed, holders of cards of admission even being among this number. Among the spectators were public officers, diplomats and a great many out of town visitors.

The floral display in the speaker's lobby was never more elaborate than today. The popular members on both sides were remembered by friends in lavish fashion.

The bright colors of smart gowns, the flowers and other scenes usual on a first day lent picturesqueness to the occasion. During the hour or two prior to the opening, members kept coming in.

The leaders of both sides were early on the scene. Old friends and associates met and chatted. New members were introduced to their colleagues.

First of importance among today's events was the election of Mr. Cannon as speaker, next was the swearing in of the members and the drawing for seats.

Many familiar figures of the last congress were missed today, some retiring voluntarily, others failing of re-election and a few going to the senate. Calusha A. Grow, the veteran member from Pennsylvania and former speaker, was among the absent ones.

The democrats rallied around a new leader, Mr. Williams, (Miss.), having been chosen to take the place of Mr. Richardson (Tenn.), who retired from the leadership of the minority.

At a quarter to twelve the floor was cleared of all save those entitled to remain within the law-making chamber, but the humming was not lessened to a perceptible degree.

Promptly at noon Clerk of the House Alexander McDowell dropped the gavel, formally calling the house to order.

Prayer by the chaplain followed.

After a call of the roll by states, the clerk called for nominations for speaker.

Mr. Hepburn (Iowa) chairman of the republican caucus, formally nominated Mr. Cannon.

Mr. Hay (Va.) chairman of the democratic caucus, nominated Mr. Williams (Miss.).

No speeches were made in making the nominations.

The roll then was called.

The mention of Mr. Cannon's name was received with applause on the republican side and that of Mr. Williams as the minority candidate was likewise greeted on the democratic side. The red carnation was much in evidence on the republican side, fully one-third of the members of the majority side wearing the blossom on coat lapels.

It was just seven minutes of one when Clerk McDowell announced the vote, showing Mr. Cannon to have received 198 votes and Mr. Williams 166, Mr. Cannon being declared duly elected as speaker of the house.

The announcement was received with applause on the republican side.

Mr. Williams (Miss.) and Mr. Grosvenor (Ohio) were appointed a committee to notify Mr. Cannon of his election and to escort him to the speaker's chair.

As Mr. Cannon entered the north doors with Mr. Williams and Mr. Grosvenor, the applause beginning with a ripple, grew in its intensity as he approached the speaker's desk. Members of both sides of the chamber arose and joined in the ovation to the newly elected speaker.

Mr. Williams introduced Mr. Cannon, saying:

"Gentlemen of the House of Representatives:—It is a high honor to present a speaker of the House of Representatives—the greatest parliamentary body on the surface of the earth. It is an especial honor to present this house this particular speaker. I think the majority have selected their best type and I am satisfied the minority will be given a full measure of fairness and impartiality from him. I have the honor to present your speaker, the Hon. Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois." (Continued applause on both sides of the chamber.)

Mr. Cannon, in a brief response, said: "Gentlemen, members of the House—I appreciate the honor you confer in choosing me as the presiding officer of the House. After 28 years service in the House such an expression of your confidence touches me profoundly. I thank you. In the performance of the duties of the office I bring to the service a sincere desire to acquit myself with courtesy, efficiency and fairness.

"If I err, it will be an error of the head, not of the heart.

"The contests on the floor touching policies that abound in partisanship will be spirited and earnest. The majority determines. I am quite sure that in the consideration of the people, however sharp, may be our differences, we will not forget that courtesy and demeanor which should always obtain between manly opponents, who honestly differ.

"In the performance of the duties of speaker, I bespeak the kindly co-operation of each member of the house."

Mr. Bingham (Pennsylvania) called "That Father of the House," bestowed by reason of his having seen the longest continuous service, administered the oath to the speaker.

The members were then sworn in by Mr. Cannon.

Following this a resolution was adopted re-electing the old officers of the house—Alexander McDowell, clerk; Henry Casson, sergeant-at-arms; Frank B. Lyon, doorkeeper; J. C. McElroy, postmaster; and Rev. H. N. Couden, chaplain.

FLOOD OF BILLS

WAS PRESENTED IN THE HOUSE TODAY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—Several hundred bills were introduced in the house today.

A statehood bill for New Mexico, introduced by Delegate Rodey has the distinction of being the first house bill of the 58th congress and will be No. 1. Representative Fairbanks (Mo.) sought this distinction for a bill restoring the army canteen, but was compelled to take second place and this bill is No. 2. A bill giving congress the right to regulate trusts was introduced by Representative Palmer (rep., Pa.) Representative Sibley (rep., Pa.) introduced a bill to increase the pay of rural free delivery carriers.

Representative Greene (rep., Mass.) introduced a bill to induce favorable employment of American ships. Representative Sulzer (dem., N. Y.) introduced bills providing a territorial form of government for Alaska; to abolish granting rebates on exports and imports carried in American ships; an eight-hour bill and bills for the erection of monuments in Washington to Samuel J. Tilden and Amos J. Cummings. Representative Shafroth (rem., Col.) introduced bills establishing the metric system of weights and measures.

GORMAN AND HANNA

RECEIVED WITH LOUD CHEERS IN THE SENATE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—With galleries crowded, with the chamber a mass of elaborate floral tributes and nearly every senator in his seat, the gavel of President pro tem Frye sounded at noon today, calling the senate together in the second extraordinary session of the 58th congress. The special session of the senate following the adjournment last spring of the 57th congress eliminated much of the routine wor which otherwise would have been performed today. New senators had gone through the formality of taking the oath of office, seats had been assigned and excepting appointments to committee vacancies, all functions of organization had been compiled with.

For more than two hours before the senate was called to order the galleries were filling up with early arrivals.

Senator Hanna's pronounced victory in the Ohio election won for him what was one of the most pretentious floral designs ever seen in the senate, a shield three and a half by four and a half feet, of blue immortelles, in which was wrought out of California grasses, ribbons, and red, white and blue immortelles, the design of the American eagle identical with that on a silver quarter of a dollar. The shield was surmounted with a gorgeous cluster of American Beauty roses. The offering bore the inscription:

"Senator Mark Hanna, from his friends, The Irish democrats of Cleveland."

Fully a score of smaller tributes were banked around Senator Hanna's desk.

Senator Gorman's triumph in the Maryland election was recognized by big floral pieces, a handsome wreath more than two feet in diameter, with a crossed cluster of roses, carnations and chrysanthemums. Chrysanthemums were used in abundance and there was hardly a desk that did not carry one or more huge bunches of these flowers. The fact that most of the new senators received the congratulatory offerings at the spring session of the senate reduced the number of floral pieces, but seldom has there been seen in the senate a collection so gorgeous.

When Senator Hanna came through the swinging doors he was greeted with cheers, which increased to thunderous applause as he was followed a moment later by Senator Gorman and the two met in the centre aisle for a cordial handshake.

The senate was called to order as the hands of the clock reached noon, and the Rev. P. J. Prettyman of Washington made the opening prayer.

The formal proclamation calling the congress in extraordinary session was read.

Mr. Bacon (Ga.) presented the election certificate of Senator Stephen Mallory of Florida, who took the oath.

At the rollcall 70 senators answered the call, and President pro tem Frye declared a quorum present.

Mr. Platt (Conn.) offered a resolution to notify the house of representatives that the senate was ready to proceed to business.

Mr. Hour and Mr. Gorman were appointed a committee to join a committee appointed by the house to inform the president that congress had organized and was ready to receive any communication he had to make.

A resolution offered by Mr. Cullom fixing 12 o'clock noon as the hour of convening daily sessions was adopted, after which the senate, at 12.11 p. m., adjourned.

HE CANNOT LIVE

John A. Smith Had a Paralytic Shock

John A. Smith, formerly chief of the school supply room and supervisor of evening schools, is in a critical condition at the Lowell hospital and is not expected to live. Some time during last night he was seized with a stroke of apoplexy at his home and at 9.30 this morning the ambulance received a call to remove him to the hospital. The doctors there stated that Mr. Smith can live only a short time.

Years ago Mr. Smith was a prominent member of the Foresters and the Knights of Columbus. He was the proprietor of a junk and waste paper shop on Market street.

CONSTANTINE O'DONNELL

SUGGESTED AS DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

There are thousands of democrats in Lowell who feel that in the interests of the party a strong candidate should be nominated for mayor this year; and they suggest Constantine O'Donnell of the O'Donnell & Gilbride company as one of the best that could be selected. They believe that if Mr. O'Donnell would consent to be a candidate he could get the nomination and could easily defeat Mayor Howe at the polls.

CHIMNEY FIRE.

A still alarm yesterday summoned Hose 8 to a chimney fire in Tilden street in one of the buildings owned by the Daniel Ayer estate.

GAS EXPLODED

Occupants of Sirk Block Got a Scare

A gas explosion that shook a portion of Salman Sirk's new block at the corner of George and French streets, tearing down ceilings and forcing walls, occurred about 10.30 this forenoon. The shock was plainly felt in Bridge street, and although there were many narrow escapes, none of the occupants of the block were injured.

The cause of the explosion is unknown. The odor of gas was quite strong in the different tenements in that portion of the block during the morning but no leak was found.

The explosion occurred in a tenement occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Tibbets. Mr. Tibbets is manager of the Boston Theatre, opposite city hall.

Walter W. Williams, an electrician in the employ of Derby & Morse, was engaged in wiring the tenement. He was connecting the wires about a gas jet when the explosion occurred.

To The Sun reporter Williamson said it was very evident that the gas was between the floors, but he couldn't account for it; that is he couldn't account for the fire necessary to do the business. He examined the meter and found that it was all right and an examination of the gas jets showed that they were all turned off.

The ceiling over Williamson's head came down but he escaped unhurt. Two ceilings on the floor above fell and two side walls on the same floor were blown out. People in the block were badly frightened. One woman was prevented from jumping out of a window by the timely arrival of a male tenant.

As soon as the explosion occurred men were set to work to ascertain the cause and plasterers were also engaged to rebuild the ceilings. No definite conclusion as to the cause of the explosion was arrived at up to the time of writing.

HE WANTS HANNA

President Asked Him to Manage the Campaign

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A conference of significance and importance was held at the executive offices today between President Roosevelt and Senator Hanna of Ohio.

The president formally requested Senator Hanna to retain the chairmanship of the republican national committee and to conduct the campaign of next year. In the course of the conference, the subject of the presidential campaign was considered briefly, not only the chairmanship of the national committee being involved, but also Mr. Hanna's reported aspirations to the presidency. Senator Hanna, it is understood, indicated his desire to retire from the work of active political management. The president, however, urged him in strong terms to continue in the political harness, pointing out to him that as the head of the organization he would inspire great confidence throughout the country.

No definite conclusion was reached, the understanding being that further and more extended conference would be held in the near future.

When Senator Hanna left the White House, he declined to discuss the subject of the national chairmanship or comment on the reports that he might be a candidate for the presidency. From other sources, it is learned that the senator has indicated that he will not be a presidential candidate and has let it be understood that he means what he says.

FATALLY SHOT

Excited Dog Caused Arthur Keller's Death

By Associated Press to The Sun

KENNEBUNKPORT, Me., Nov. 9—An excited dog caused the death of Arthur Keller, of Dorchester, Mass., who together with his brother-in-law, George Ray, also of Dorchester, was gunning at Walker's Point, nearly two miles from Kennebunkport.

Keller and Ray were running after game when Ray suddenly stopped to fire. Just as he was about to discharge his gun, a dog which the men had with them, jumped, knocking the gun from Ray's hands and changing the course of the contents toward Keller who received a full charge of buckshot in the right side.

Keller was removed to the nearest house by his brother-in-law, and although medical assistance was quickly obtained, the man lived only half an hour.

Young Bassett was held by the police on a charge of homicide after they had investigated the case, and after consultation with Dist.-Att'y Swift his bail was fixed at $10,000.

HAPPY MOHAIRS

Closed Successful Season With a Banquet

In Odd Fellows' Hall Saturday Evening—Prizes Awarded to Winners on First and Second Elevens

The Mohair Cricket club held its annual banquet in Odd Fellows Temple, in Middlesex street, Saturday night, and did honor to the 11 players of the cricket team who won the championship of the Merrimack Valley league for the third consecutive time. The occasion was graced by the presence of the wives and lady friends of the members.

A feature of the banquet in former years has been the after-dinner speeches, but this year a fine musical and literary entertainment took the place of the speeches.

A sumptuous repast was served and for two hours the guests discussed the menu. At 9 o'clock President J. W. Harrison called to order. He is also captain of the victorious club.

After brief remarks of welcome he introduced as master of ceremonies, Harry Dayton, who spoke briefly. Then followed a song by Alec Williams.

The annual report of the secretary was then read in part and was as follows:

The season which has just closed has been one of the most successful that the club has ever experienced during the course of its career. The main object of the organization is to further the interests of cricket and in this respect it is satisfactory to be able to state that once again it has been able to maintain that high state of efficiency which marks it as one of the best, if not the best, club in this part of the state. Another object is to uphold its reputation as a social body and judging from the success in this respect it can be safely said that its efforts in this direction have not been futile.

Since the last banquet, and before the cricket season began the annual ball was held, and although it was not attended, perhaps, so largely as some of its predecessors, still it was a reunion that provided enjoyment to many members and friends.

From a cricket standpoint the past year has been all that could be desired. The first eleven composed principally of the same talent, which has helped the club to maintain its supremacy in previous years, was reinforced by some new players, who generally speaking have given a good account of themselves. The records of the doings of the players are fresh in your memories and therefore, it is unnecessary to repeat them now. On nearly every Saturday afternoon the team has been engaged, and the players have often inconvenienced themselves in order to participate in the matches which were arranged.

At the end of the season the record is one which certainly any team may well be proud of. The championship of the Merrimack Valley league has been won with a handsome margin, and the pennant which during the year has been flying on our flag staff on our grounds at Chelmsford street has now become our permanent property. It was given to the league on the condition that it should be won twice before being the property of any team. Last year by winning the championship of the league the club became its custodian for a year, but by being again successful this season the flag is our property.

The report concludes with the averages of the first and second elevens.

Miss Sidebottom entertained the gathering with two delightful readings, followed by a selection by Mr. Harry Mosley. There were other vocal numbers by Miss Marion Brown of Lawrence, Miss Agatha Wynne, Mrs. Charles Jenkins and Messrs. David Hird, Michael Gorman and John McNamara, and a sleight-of-hand performance by Charles Johnson.

President Harrison then awarded the prizes. David Hird, the leading batter, was called up first. Then Henry Allen, a recent acquisition to the team, was presented with a gold watch suitably inscribed. Allen was the leading bowler in the team. The second prizes were then awarded and both were awarded to Harry Mosley. Mr. Allen then on behalf of the members of the club presented to Mr. Alec Williams a beautiful Morris chair, and to his wife a handsome oak music cabinet as a mark of appreciation for the yeoman service both of them had rendered in the musical arrangements in connection with the social fixtures of the club during the past year.

The list of victories accomplished by the first eleven have practically been the same as last year. The defeats have only numbered two, and strange to say that our victors have been the two teams, viz., Lawrence Athletic and Lynn who caused our downfall in the season of 1902.

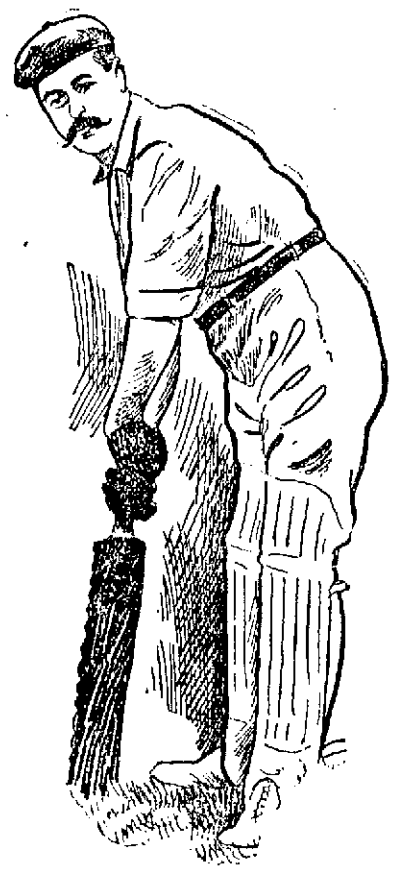

An analysis of the matches which the first eleven has played shows the general superiority of the team over its opponents. In all the players have made the grand total of 1581 runs for the loss of 130 wickets which gives an average of 11.62 per wicket. Their opponents have lost 177 wickets in compiling 999 runs which gives them an average of 5.64 runs. These figures speak for themselves.

The second team's achievements have like those of the first's been most praiseworthy. The club entered the Central Massachusetts League and they managed to win the championship having only lost one game, being defeated by the Buntings on the Fourth of July. It was satisfactory, however, to know that in the return match the tables were turned. The eleven by their victories secured for the club to hold for one year the Nicholson trophy.

The club during the year in addition to holding two lawn parties of its own which were attended with very great success, assisted in a lawn party which was run in conjunction with the Zion and Billerica clubs in aid of the fund for the relief of sufferers by the terrible disaster at South Lowell on the 29th of July. A very enjoyable social party in which the members and their friends participated in dancing and a ping pong tournament and listened to a concert also took place in the Odd Fellows' Temple at the beginning of the season.

During the past few weeks the members in their wisdom have taken somewhat drastic measures with regard to certain individuals whose actions have been considered to be far from conducive to the welfare of the organization. The suspension of the second team from membership is perhaps the only incident which has marred the otherwise harmonious working of the club, and it is greatly to be regretted that those who were ultimately suspended did not as requested of them attend the meeting at which it was hoped that all strained relations might have been straightened out and all difficulties overcome.

The club both in point of finances and membership is strong, and can, it may honestly be said, point with pride to the records of the season and confidently look for support in the future.

HARD ARGUMENTS

Coffee Uses Them Whether One Likes or Not.

The ill effects of coffee are present in many coffee drinkers but some people pay no attention to the warning signals like dyspepsia, insomnia, nervousness, fluttering of the heart, etc., until coffee finally uses a knock down argument which means collapse on the part of the drinkers.

"I am 30 years old and have drunk coffee since I can remember until four years ago when I broke down completely with nervous prostration and indigestion. I simply cannot describe the agony I suffered.

"Doctor told me he could not help me if I did not leave coffee alone so I bought some Postum to give it a trial. At first I did not know how to make it and was disappointed in the taste, but after reading the directions on the package carefully, made it right, and then I thought it better than coffee. At that time I weighed 140 pounds and now I weigh 185 pounds, that's quite a gain isn't it? I never have indigestion now and the headaches are all gone and I am otherwise entirely well and strong.

"I never had any troubles that were not due to drinking coffee and these disappeared and health came in their place when I shut off coffee and drank Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Tomorrow Afternoon at 2.30 o'clock
PROPERTY OPEN AFTER 10 A. M.

It is my purpose, on Tuesday, the 10th day of Nov., 1903, to sell to the highest bidder at absolute auction sale the real estate numbered 21 Bachman street, and extending through to Book street, known as the J. M. Book property. Bachman street leaves Lakeview avenue just opposite the residence of Mr. August Fels, and the property now offered is the first estate on the right from the corner of Lakeview avenue and Bachman street.

The sale will take place upon the premises, regardless of weather, will begin promptly at half past two o'clock in the afternoon, and the purchaser must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $300 just as soon as the property is struck off. From one-half to three-quarters of the purchase money can remain on mortgage.

The house is a two story one of nine rooms, has bath room, laundry and cellar; is in good condition and a very pleasant home. In fact it is one of the best moderate priced places in the neighborhood. In rear of house is a good stable for three horses, carriage house and wagon shed.

Facing Book street and adjoining the stable is a two story building erected with the idea of some time making it into a cottage house. Today, from the outside, it has the appearance of a dwelling. Mr. Book used it as a bakery, there being no partitions on either floor. On the lower floor is a large bricked-up baker's oven.

The land has a frontage of 59 feet on Bachman street, a frontage of 45 feet on Book street, and an area of 6271 square feet. There are concrete walks shaded by trees, leading in from Lakeview avenue to the property, on both streets; and fruit trees, vines, etc., set out about the yard. The neighborhood is an excellent one, the street car service is good, the location healthy and the situation pleasant.

F. OF L. CONVENTION

Annual Meeting Held in Faneuil Hall

Gompers and Mitchell Among the Delegates in Attendance—Pres. Driscoll Welcomed the Delegates to Boston—Gompers Says a New Battle is Waging for the Trade Union Movement

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Assembling for a convention, which, according to labor leaders, is likely to be the most important meeting ever held in the United States, for the consideration of problems arising out of the relation of capital and labor, almost 500 delegates gathered in Faneuil hall today for the first sitting of the twenty-third annual deliberation of the American Federation of Labor. All the delegates, including Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell, the president of the United Mine Workers, had arrived yesterday and everything was in readiness for the opening of the convention at 10 o'clock this morning. The subjects to be taken up at the sessions, had not been announced, but from the discussion of the delegates, since their arrival, it seemed probable that the convention would pass upon whether the federation affiliated members would ally themselves with any political party, the socialist party for instance. Other topics mentioned have been trade jurisdiction, industrialism as distinct from trade autonomy, child-labor and the means of its prevention and the eight-hour day. Great interest prevailed also as to what action, if any, would be taken on the "Open shop issue" with President Roosevelt in connection with the Miller case at Washington.

President Gompers called the convention to order, and after the credentials had been examined, President D. D. Driscoll of the Central Labor Union of Boston, extended a cordial welcome to the visiting delegates.

After extending the greeting of Boston, President Driscoll made reference to the State Board of Arbitration, saying that the workingmen were always ready to abide by the decision of this tribunal. "We have many good state laws, but want better," he continued. "We mean to have the child-labor law lived up to."

In closing, Mr. Driscoll presented to President Gompers a block and gavel with the trade union label of the woodworkers.

In accepting the gift, Mr. Gompers touched upon many phases of the labor movement. He said that a new battle was waging for the trade union movement. "It is a fight," he said, "for the people in the cause of justice." He asked that the American Federation of Labor be judged upon its merits and upon what it accomplishes and that all preconceived notions be abandoned.

Chairman Owen Miller, from the committee on credentials, then reported. The committee reported credentials from representatives of 101 international unions, 123 central labor unions and 110 locals and federal labor unions, besides delegates from the state branch. Credentials also were received from the fraternal delegates.

John Grady and William Mullen, representing the United Trades congress of England; John Simpson, of the Canadian Trades congress, and Harriette A. Keyser of New York city, representing the church association for the advancement of the interests of labor.

Protests were filed against delegations from the bakers' and confectioners' international union, the central labor union of Knoxville, Tenn., and the central labor union of Burlington, Vt.

Resolutions were adopted to the effect that the delegates while in Boston purchase newspapers from the Boston news boys' union.

This was followed by a flood of motions bearing upon union printing, smoking union cigars and wearing union-made clothing. One delegate suggested that if there were to be any entertainments furnished to the delegates that the talent be actors and actresses who are members of unions. All of these were lukeky disposed of by the chairman, who declared that they were entirely out of order.

The nature of the motions and the manner in which they were presented occasioned considerable merriment.

Before adjournment, at noon, President Gompers announced the appointment of President Henry McMahon of the Boston Typographical union, No. 13, as assistant secretary of the convention, and Thomas J. Minihan of the team drivers' union and Andrew J. Lambert of the hoisting and portable engineers' union as sergeant at arms and messengers.

58th CONGRESS

The Extraordinary Session Was Opened Today

Cannon Elected Speaker of the House—Hanna and Gorman Received Tremendous Ovations in the Senate

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The fifty-eighth congress convened in extraordinary session at noon today in accordance with the proclamation of President Roosevelt, for the purpose of enacting legislation necessary to make effective the Cuban reciprocity treaty. The day was devoted simply to personal greetings and organization.

The house assembled the largest membership in its history and the scene before the gavel fell in that body was one of animation, both on the floor, in the cloak rooms and in the lobbies and corridors.

The day was crisp and bright and the capitol building presented the appearance of a new structure with its coat of white paint and complete renovation within.

Crowds of eager spectators, both men and women, thronged the corridors and rotunda of the capital early in the day and the galleries to which admission was had by card only were taxed to their capacity long before the hour for assembling arrived. Many high officials of the government left their desks at the departments to witness the opening of the session and greet their legislative friends. Many strangers in Washington had their first glimpse of congress while the capitol was the mecca of the Washingtonians.

Committee rooms, which had been in the hands of renovators during the recess, were thrown open and many informal receptions were held by popular chairmen.

With the speakership question out of the way in the universal endorsement of Mr. Cannon, there was nothing to worry the legislative mind and the day was given up to the sentiment of the occasion.

Many handsome floral tributes to members were borne in unusual profusion to the lobbies back of both the senate and house chambers to be placed later on the desks of the members.

The new members of the house received their initiation to house employees and doorkeepers and many were turned back for identification because of their slight hesitation on presenting themselves for admission. Such incidents contributed to the general lively animation and good humor of the occasion.

GALLERIES CROWDED

GREAT INTEREST IN HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—The House of Representatives convened at noon today in extraordinary session. Today's session was full of interest to the spectators, likewise to the new members, but to the veteran it was but a routine proceeding.

The fact that a speaker was to be elected and that this was the first session of a new congress, added to the interest that usually attaches to an opening day. Long before the hour of noon, when the gavel fell, the galleries were filled, the ladies being largely in the majority. Many more were disappointed, holders of cards of admission even being among this number. Among the spectators were public officers, diplomats and a great many out of town visitors.

The floral display in the speaker's lobby was never more elaborate than today. The popular members on both sides were remembered by friends in lavish fashion.

The bright colors of smart gowns, the flowers and other scenes usual on a first day lent picturesqueness to the occasion. During the hour or two prior to the opening, members kept coming in.

The leaders of both sides were early on the scene. Old friends and associates met and chatted. New members were introduced to their colleagues.

First of importance among today's events was the election of Mr. Cannon as speaker, next was the swearing in of the members and the drawing for seats.

Many familiar figures of the last congress were missed today, some retiring voluntarily, others failing of re-election and a few going to the senate. Galusha A. Grow, the veteran member from Pennsylvania and former speaker, was among the absent ones.

The democrats rallied around a new leader, Mr. Williams, (Miss.), having been chosen to take the place of Mr. Richardson (Tenn.), who retired from the leadership of the minority.

At a quarter to twelve the floor was cleared of all save those entitled to remain within the law-making chamber, but the humming was not lessened to a perceptible degree.

Promptly at noon Clerk of the House Alexander McDowell dropped the gavel, formally calling the house to order.

Prayer by the chaplain followed.

After a call of the roll by states, the clerk called for nominations for speaker.

Mr. Hepburn (Iowa) chairman of the republican caucus, formally nominated Mr. Cannon.

Mr. Huy (Va.) chairman of the democratic caucus, nominaed Mr. Williams (Miss.).

No speeches were made in making the nominations.

The roll then was called.

The mention of Mr. Cannon's name was received with applause on the republicin side and that of Mr. Williams as the minority candidate was likewise greeted on the democratic side. The red carnation was much in evidence on the republican side, fully one-third of the members of the majority side wearing the blossom on coat lapels.

It was just seven minutes of one when Clerk McDowell announced the vote, showing Mr. Cannon to have received 198 votes and Mr. Williams 166, Mr. Cannon being declared duly elected as speaker of the house.

The announcement was received with applause on the republican side.

Mr. Williams (Miss.) and Mr. Grosvenor (Ohio) were appointed a committee to notify Mr. Cannon of his election and to escort him to the speaker's chair.

As Mr. Cannon entered the north doors with Mr. Williams and Mr. Grosvenor, the applause beginning with a ripple, grew in its intensity as he approached the speaker's desk. Members of both sides of the chamber arose and joined in the ovation to the newly elected speaker.

Mr. Williams introduced Mr. Cannon, saying:

"Gentlemen of the House of Representatives:—It is a high honor to present a speaker of the House of Representatives—the greatest parliamentary body on the surface of the earth. It is an especial honor to present this house this particular speaker. I think the majority have selected their best type and I am satisfied the minority will be given a full measure of fairness and impartiality from him. I have the honor to present your speaker, the Hon. Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois." (Continued applause on both sides of the chamber.)

Mr. Cannon, in a brief response, said:

"Gentlemen, members of the House—I appreciate the honor you confer in choosing me as the presiding officer of the House. After 28 years service in the House such an expression of your confidence touches me profoundly. I thank you. In the performance of the duties of the office I bring to the service a sincere desire to acquit myself with courtesy, efficiency and fairness.

"If I err, it will be an error of the head, not of the heart.

"The contests on the floor touching policies that abound in partisanship will be spirited and earnest. The majority determines, I am quite sure that in the consideration of the people, however sharp, may be our differences, we will not forget that courtesy and demeanor which should always obtain between manly opponents, who honestly differ.

"In the performance of the duties of speaker, I bespeak the kindly co-operation of each member of the house."

Mr. Bingham (Pennsylvania) called "That Father of the House," bestowed by reason of his having seen the longest continuous service, administered the oath to the speaker.

The members were then sworn in by Mr. Cannon.

Following this a resolution was adopted re-electing the old officers of the house—Alexander McDowell, clerk; Henry Casson, sergeant-at-arms; Frank B. Lyon, doorkeeper; J. C. McElroy, postmaster; and Rev. H. N. Couden, chaplain.

FLOOD OF BILLS

WAS PRESENTED IN THE HOUSE TODAY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—Several hundred bills were introduced in the house today.

A statehood bill for New Mexico, introduced by Delegate Rodey has the distinction of being the first house bill of the 58th congress and will be No. 1. Representative Barthodt (Mo.) sought this distinction for a bill restoring the army canteen, but was compelled to take second place and this bill is No. 2. A bill giving congress the right to regulate trusts was introduced by Representative Palmer (rep., Pa.) Representative Shidley (rep., Pa.) introduced a bill to increase the pay of rural free delivery carriers.

Representative Greene (rep., Mass.) introduced a bill to induce favorable employment of American ships. Representative Sulzer (dem., N. Y.) introduced bills providing a territorial form of government for Alaska; to abolish granting rebates on exports and imports carried in American ships; an eight-hour bill and bills for the erection of monuments in Washington to Samuel J. Tilden and Amos J. Cummings. Representative Shafroth (rep., Col.) introduced bills establishing the metric system of weights and measures.

GORMAN AND HANNA

RECEIVED WITH LOUD CHEERS IN THE SENATE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—With galleries crowded, with the chamber a mass of elaborate floral tributes and nearly every senator in his seat, the gavel of President pro tem Frye sounded at noon today, calling the senate together in the second extraordinary session of the 58th congress. The special session of the senate following the adjournment last spring of the 57th congress eliminated much of the routine wor which otherwise would have been performed today. New senators had gone through the formality of taking the oath of office, seats had been assigned and excepting appointments to committee vacancies, all functions of organization had been compiled with.

For more than two hours before the senate was called to order the galleries were filling up with early arrivals.

Senator Hanna's pronounced victory in the Ohio election won for him what was one of the most pretentious floral designs ever seen in the senate, a shield three and a half by four and a half feet, of blue immortelles, in which was wrought out of California grasses, ribbons, and red, white and blue immortelles, the design of the American eagle identical with that on a silver quarter of a dollar. The shield was surrounded with a gorgeous cluster of American Beauty roses. The offering bore the inscription:

"Senator Mark Hanna, from his friends, The Irish democrats of Cleveland."

Fully a score of smaller tributes were banked around Senator Hanna's desk.

Senator Gorman's triumph in the Maryland election was recognized by big floral pieces, a handsome wreath more than two feet in diameter, with a crossed cluster of roses, carnations and chrysanthemums. Chrysanthemums were used in abundance and there was hardly a desk that did not carry one or more huge bunches of these flowers. The fact that most of the new senators received the congratulatory offerings at the spring session of the senate reduced the number of floral pieces, but seldom has there been seen in the senate a collection so gorgeous.

When Senator Hanna came through the swinging doors he was greeted with cheers, which increased to thunderous applause as he was followed a moment later by Senator Gorman and the two met in the centre aisle for a cordial handshake.

The senate was called to order as the hands of the clock reached noon, and the Rev. F. J. Prettyman of Washington made the opening prayer.

The formal proclamation calling the congress in extraordinary session was read.

Mr. Bacon (Ga.) presented the election certificate of Senator Stephen Mallory of Florida, who took the oath.

At the rollcall 76 senators answered the call, and President pro tem Frye declared a quorum present.

Mr. Platt (Conn.) offered a resolution to notify the house of representatives that the senate was ready to proceed to business.

Mr. Hoar and Mr. Gorman were appointed a committee to join a committee appointed by the house to inform the president that congress had organized and was ready to receive any communication he had to make.

A resolution offered by Mr. Cullom fixing 12 o'clock noon as the hour of convening daily sessions was adopted, after which the senate, at 12.14 p. m., adjourned.

HE CANNOT LIVE

John A. Smith Had a Paralytic Shock

John A. Smith, formerly chief of the school supply room and supervisor of evening schools, is in a critical condition at the Lowell hospital and is not expected to live. Some time during last night he was seized with a stroke of apoplexy at his home and at 9.30 this morning the ambulance received a call to remove him to the hospital. The doctors there stated that Mr. Smith can live only a short time.

Years ago Mr. Smith was a prominent member of the Foresters and the Knights of Columbus. He was the proprietor of a junk and waste paper shop on Market street.

CONSTANTINE O'DONNELL

SUGGESTED AS DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

There are thousands of democrats in Lowell who feel that in the interests of the party a strong candidate should be nominated for mayor this year; and they suggest Constantine O'Donnell of the O'Donnell & Gilbride company as one of the best that could be selected. They believe that if Mr. O'Donnell would consent to be a candidate he could get the nomination and could easily defeat Mayor Howe at the polls.

CHIMNEY FIRE.

A still alarm yesterday summoned Hose 8 to a chimney fire in Tilden street in one of the buildings owned by the Daniel Ayer estate.

GAS EXPLODED

Occupants of Sirk Block Got a Scare

A gas explosion that shook a portion of Salman Sirk's new block at the corner of George and French streets, tearing down ceilings and forcing walls, occurred about 10.30 this forenoon. The shock was plainly felt in Bridge street, and although there were many narrow escapes, none of the occupants of the block were injured.

The cause of the explosion is unknown. The odor of gas was quite strong in the different tenements in that portion of the block during the morning but no leak was found.

The explosion occurred in a tenement occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Tibbets. Mr. Tibbets is manager of the Boston Theatre, opposite city hall.

Walter W. Williams, an electrician in the employ of Derby & Morse, was engaged in wiring the tenement. He was connecting the wires about a gas jet when the explosion occurred.

To The Sun reporter Williamson said it was very evident that the gas was between the floors, but he couldn't account for it; that is he couldn't account for the fire necessary to do the business. He examined the meter and found that it was all right and an examination of the gas jets showed that they were all turned off.

The ceiling over Williamson's head came down but he escaped unhurt. Two ceilings on the floor above fell and two side walls on the same floor were blown out. People in the block were badly frightened. One woman was prevented from jumping out of a window by the timely arrival of a male tenant.

As soon as the explosion occurred men were set to work to ascertain the cause and plasterers were also engaged to rebuild the ceilings. No definite conclusion as to the cause of the explosion was arrived at up to the time of writing.

HE WANTS HANNA

President Asked Him to Manage the Campaign

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A conference of significance and importance was held at the executive offices today between President Roosevelt and Senator Hanna of Ohio.

The president formally requested Senator Hanna to retain the chairmanship of the republican national committee and to conduct the campaign of next year. In the course of the conference, the subject of the presidential campaign was considered briefly, not only the chairmanship of the national committee being involved, but also Mr. Hanna's reported aspirations to the presidency. Senator Hanna, it is understood, indicated his desire to retire from the work of active political management. The president, however, urged him in strong terms to continue in the political harness, pointing out to him that as the head of the organization he would inspire great confidence throughout the country.

No definite conclusion was reached, the understanding being that further and more extended conference would be held in the near future.

When Senator Hanna left the White House, he declined to discuss the subject of the national chairmanship or comment on the reports that he might be a candidate for the presidency. From other sources, it is learned that the senator has indicated that he will not be a presidential candidate and has let it be understood that he means what he says.

FATALLY SHOT

Excited Dog Caused Arthur Keller's Death

By Associated Press to The Sun

KENNEBUNKPORT, Me., Nov. 9—An excited dog caused the death of Arthur Keller, of Dorchester, Mass., who together with his brother-in-law, George Ray, also of Dorchester, was gunning at Walker's Point, nearly two miles from Kennebunkport.

Keller and Ray were running after game when Ray suddenly stopped to fire. Just as he was about to discharge his gun, a dog which the men had with them, jumped, knocking the gun from Ray's hands and changing the course of the contents toward Keller who received a full charge of buckshot in the right side.

Keller was removed to the nearest house by his brother-in-law, and although medical assistance was quickly obtained, the man lived only half an hour.

HE SOLD LIQUOR

John Goddard Told This Story in Police Court

"I bought a gallon of whiskey Saturday night and sold it.

"Because I refused to sell a quart of whiskey for her she called the cop and told him to take me away."

These are samples of a series of damaging statements made by John J. Goddard, who pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with drunkenness.

He was arrested in Mrs. Fitzgerald's boarding house, 29 Bridge street, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Fitzgerald told the officer that Goddard was drunk and disorderly.

The officer said Goddard was drunk when arrested.

"I'll tell you the whole story if you'll allow me to speak," said Goddard. "You may speak," said the court," if you wish to be sworn."

Goddard wished to be sworn and he "squared away" on his story.

"I have a brother, your honor, who is very hard of hearing and he's very noisy when drunk. I was trying to keep him quiet, but I couldn't do it. I was not drunk.

"I'll tell you the whole trouble, your honor. I've been selling liquor for Mrs. Fitzgerald right along and—"

"What's that?" said the deputy, with a snap.

"That's the truth," said Goddard. "I suppose I'll convict myself, but I'm going to tell the truth. I sold liquor for her for months. She allowed me $1 a gallon for it."

"How much did you charge for it?" asked the court.

"Fifty cents a pint, 10 cents a drink," replied Goddard.

"When the officers raided Mrs. Fitzgerald's place a few days ago," he continued, "they found some whiskey. She wanted me to say it was mine, but I wouldn't do it. I told the officers it belonged to her and I had six half-pints of whiskey in my pockets when I was talking with the officers."

Goddard struck off on another whiskey-selling tack, but the court said "That will do," and the illegal vendor, self-confessed, went back to the dock. He was fined $5.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY

Observed by L'Association Catholique

The annual pilgrimage of the C. M. A. C. to the cemetery where deceased members of the organization are laid at rest, was held yesterday. Over three hundred members marched from the clubhouse in Pawtucket street to St. Jean Baptiste church, where a Libera was sung by Rev. Fr. Campeau, O. M. I. The procession was headed by L'Union Musicale band, followed by the Garde d'Honneur, in uniform, commanded by Capt. Moise Cossette and Lieut. Albert Bergeron. Next in line was the chaplain, Rev. Lewis V. Lewis, O. M. I., with the board of directors, and then came the members of L'Association Catholique. Chopin's funeral march was played on the way to the church.

After the services at the church seven special cars were waiting in Merrimack street to take the marchers to St. Joseph's cemetery. At the cemetery Rev. Fr. Lewis, O. M. I., delivered a very impressive sermon, taking as his text, "Have mercy on me, you, at least, my friends," from the Book of Psalms.

In the course of his address the reverend speaker spoke of the members who had made the pilgrimage last year, but who were now among the missing, speaking in a very pathetic manner on the deaths of Louis E. Richards and Charles Giroux. At the conclusion of the sermon the members of the association were congratulated on their religious work and he spoke on the good showing of the members in turning out in such large numbers.

The exercises closed with the singing of the Libera by the male chorus under the direction of Dr. Caisse and the playing of a funeral march by the band.

LOWELL GIRL

Figured in a Sensation in Wakefield

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lake, bride and groom of but four days, were the cause of considerable excitement yesterday afternoon, which drew a crowd of fully 300 people to the corner of Avon and Railroad streets, Wakefield.

Mrs. Lake, who has a room with her husband at the residence of Edward de Anguera, 35 Avon street, left the house shortly before 2 o'clock, to take dinner with her sister, Miss Susie Tillotson, who boards with Mrs. Charles H. Richardson at 49 Avon street. To this arrangement Mr. Lake objected. He followed his wife to Mrs. Richardson's front door, where he was refused admittance. This so enraged him that he would not allow his wife to dine with her sister, and by main force dragged her by the arm back to the street.

Mrs. Lake broke away from her husband several times and tried to join her sister, but Lake forcibly dragged her back to the street each time. So fiercely did husband and wife struggle that most of Mrs. Lake's clothing was torn to shreds.

Chief-of-Police Cate was notified and was quickly upon the scene with Officer Kennedy, and they hustled Mr. and Mrs. Lake into a hack and drove away to avoid the crowd. After hearing both sides of the story, Chief Cate asked Mrs. Lake if she wanted her husband arrested she answered "No." When asked if she was afraid of him and wanted protection she again answered in the negative and wanted to accompany her husband to their room, to which Chief Cate assented.

Hardly had they reached their room, when they received orders from Mrs. De Anguera to leave at once. Without any words, and after Mrs. Lake had changed her torn clothing, they departed, taking the train which left Wakefield at 3.30 o'clock, going toward Boston.

Mrs. Lake, who was formerly Miss Rowena Tillotson, is a very pretty and refined young lady about 22 years of age. She is a Lowell girl and resided on Appleton street in this city. She first met Lake, who is many years her senior, last June at Crescent Beach. He immediately became infatuated with her and was extremely jealous, so much so that, a few days before they were married, he commanded her not to speak to any of the male boarders, Mrs. Richardson's husband included.

A few hours before they were married, she rushed into her sister's room, where several of her friends were assembled, and said: "I cannot marry him." When asked why not, she said "I do not dare do any different." They were married, however, last Wednesday night by the Rev. Hugh A. Health of the Wakefield Baptist church.

Miss Susie Tillotson is prostrated over the affair, and lay in an unconscious state for hours after it happened.

A baked bean supper was held at the Baptist church Friday evening. The affair was under the direction of the Ladies' Aid Society.

The social party under the auspices of the Philadean club, which was to have been held on the 19th of this month, has been postponed until Dec. 4.

George Dyson and Thomas Chisholm, who have been visiting in North Billerica, will resume their duties on board the training ship Enterprise tomorrow.

PAPER ON FIRE

BLAZE WAS STARTED BY A CHILD.

An alarm from box 82 at 7.26 this morning summoned a portion of the fire department to a blaze in a three-story building in Smith street, near the corner of Liberty street, and the property of the Daniel Gage estate.

The fire started in a toilet room, a child having lighted a match and thrown it into a pile of waste paper. When the department arrived, there was quite a lively blaze in progress, but it was soon placed under control.

OWES EVERYBODY

LAWRENCE MAN SENTENCED IN LAWRENCE POLICE COURT.

Benjamin S. Emery was arrested for drunkenness in Lawrence, last Friday, and another complaint charged him with assaulting his wife, Elizabeth Emery. In police court Emery admitted being drunk but pleaded not guilty of the assault. Mrs. Emery and her little girl were in court. Mrs. Emery testified that the defendant came home drunk Thursday, smashed glass in the house and struck her. Policeman Benoit and Policeman Woodcock testified that when they went to the house, the defendant had run away, that they located him near a saloon.

Emery claimed that his wife smashed the glass and cut herself, and screeched and yelled because the defendant would not give her money for beer. He said he never touched her. "Lizzie," he said, "you know I did not strike you, that since I married you, there has been trouble because you get drunk." He wound up by stating that he would never live with her again.

While he told his story she interrupted with, "That's a lie Ben, that's a lie." She stated that he often told her he would do as he liked with her because she was not educated, that he could even murder her. She stated that he whipped her every time he got drunk, that she supported him and bought clothes for him, that he owed everybody in Lowell. He denied that. For drunkenness he was fined $5 and for assault on his wife he was sent to jail for four months. As he went to the cell room he bade his child good-bye with "good-bye Dollie."

CHINESE BABY

THE FIRST BORN IN THIS CITY IS DEAD.

George Francis Wong, aged three weeks, the first Chinese-American born in this city, died Saturday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wong, 302 Middlesex street.

Mr. Wong is a laundry man, and was married to a young lady of Manchester, fourteen months ago. The wedding occasioned considerable talk, inasmuch as that time there seemed to be an epidemic of Chinese-American weddings.

Shortly after their wedding Mr. and Mrs. Wong removed to this city, where they have since resided. The child was born three weeks ago, and was the occasion of much talk among Mr. Wong's Chinese friends, who very much admired the child, and showered gifts upon it as is the native custom.

The child was taken sick last week and although all possible was done to bring it back to health, death came Saturday.

MARTIAL LAW

Proclaimed in District of Hasan Kala

By Associated Press to The Sun

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 9—Martial law has been proclaimed in the district of Hasan Kala, province of Erzeroum, Asia Minor, and troops have been quartered in all the villages of that district in consequence of the revolutionary movements on the part of the Huntschakists, or members of the Armenian revolutionary society. Two bands of Huntschakists recently crossed the Russo-Turkish frontier with the intention of inciting the inhabitants to rise against the Turkish government; but they were quickly overtaken by troops. One band was exterminated and the second was driven back into Russian territory. The Turkish governor of the district has redistributed among the Kurds the weapons which they recently were compelled to give up.

FITZ FAVORITE

In His Bout With George Gardner

By Associated Press to The Sun

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 9—Robert Fitzsimmons and George Gardner, who are to meet in this city Nov. 25 to battle for the lightweight championship, are quietly preparing for the encounter.

While Fitzsimmons is favorite at odds of 2 to 1, Gardner is gaining admirers every day. A glance over the latter's record shows that in the last year he has had several important battles with men of his own weight, and he has always come out successful.

It is his admirers' confidence in his ability that has made Fitzsimmons the favorite, and they are willing to back him for any amount of money.

PROTEST LODGED

Colombia Objects to United States' Action

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—It was learned in official circles last night that the United States of Colombia has lodged a protest with the state department against the action of the United States in connection with the events which have occurred on the Isthmus of Panama. The terms of the protest could not be ascertained last night, but it is known that strong objection is made to the attitude of the United States in general and against interpretations made by this government of the treaty of 1846 between the United States of America and the United States of Colombia. The state department has the protest under serious consideration, but the nature of its reply, if any, or the time when it will be made, is not known. Other than admitting that such a document had been filed in the state department, the officials there will say nothing about the matter.

Word reached the navy department yesterday of the arrival of the United States cruiser Boston at Panama Saturday. Commander Diehl in reporting her arrival, announced also the receipt of instructions from the navy department which directs the keeping open of the transit of the isthmus. He also said that at this time the traffic was undisturbed.

The president's yacht, the Mayflower, left the navy yard here yesterday for Colon. Aboard her is H. A. Gudger, U. S. consul general at Panama, who goes to Colon to assume full charge of the American consular affairs. The Mayflower is expected to reach her destination in about eight days. On his arrival at Panama Mr. Gudger will do business with the new government at Panama. He has full instructions from the secretary of state governing his dealings with the new government. M. Philippe Bunau-Varilla, whose appointment as diplomatic agent of the Panama republic was announced Saturday and who reached here Saturday night from New York, saw Assistant Secretary Loomis of the state department yesterday.

It is expected that the new diplomatic agent will be presented to Secretary Hay and to the President in a day or two, the state department probably accepting as satisfactory the telegraphic credentials of the new envoy and waiving the usual requirements of more formal credentials.

ITALY DOES NOT OBJECT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9.—The formation of the new republic of Panama and its recognition by the United States is looked upon with satisfaction all over Italy. Old disputes between Italy and Colombia have never been settled as the latter always succeeded in eluding its obligations to the Italian government. Italy has therefore hastened to recognize the new republic in the hope of contributing to the establishment of order in Central America and of hastening the building of the Panama canal.

United States Ambassador Myer, while visiting Minister of Foreign Affairs Littoni, had an informal conversation with the minister on the subject of Panama.

SWEET CHARITY

Movement in Interest of Destitute Children

A meeting was held in Knights of Columbus hall yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the local council, the object being to devise a means of providing for the sustenance, care and education of destitute Catholic children.

His Grace Archbishop Williams has established a bureau of charities for this purpose in Boston, and has appointed a committee of priests to interest the Knights of Columbus in the work so that orphans and other destitute Catholic children in every city of the state may be provided for as far as possible without letting them be sent to state institutions.

Mr. T. C. Lee called to order and introduced James J. Nolan of Boston as presiding officer. Mr. Nolan outlined the scope of the work. Addresses were made by Mgr. Teeling, of Newburyport; Joseph C. Pelletier, Esq., state deputy K. C.; Rev. Fr. Anderson, of Boston; Dr. M. F. Sullivan, of Lawrence; Rev. John J. Shaw, Rev. James A. Walsh and Rev. Fr. Ronan.

The meeting was intended to cover Lawrence, Haverhill and Newburyport, and these cities were represented by delegates.

The object is wholly charitable and charity was the keynote of the addresses. Rev. Fr. Shaw in his address said there can be no true Catholicity without charity and he knew of no greater charity than the care and protection of destitute children. Christ showed his love for little children when he said, Suffer them to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

Rev. Fr. Ronan said he had been working along the lines of this charity for years, as head of an orphanage for girls and hoped that at some future day he would be able to add a department for boys.

Mr. Nolan cited many instances showing that this work had not received the attention that it should have, not from want of a charitable spirit but for lack of organization. He hoped the evil would be remedied so that fewer Catholic children would become public charges with the risk of falling among evil associations.

RECOUNTS BEGUN

McManmon Gains One in First Precinct

The recount of the votes cast for representative in the 25th district was begun by the registrar of voters in the basement of city hall, this morning.

The four registrars were present and Candidates McManmon and Roarke and a few spectators. Up to 11.30 o'clock only precinct 1 of Ward Four had been recounted.

In this precinct John J. McManmon gained one vote and the three republicans lost one each.

The recount of the vote in the 27th district is due to start at 3 o'clock this afternoon, but it is doubtful if the 25th will be finished by that time. Registration for the city election begins tomorrow evening and the recounts must be finished by that time.

REV. SMITH T. FORD.

REV. S. T. FORD

Took Issue With Editor's Comment

IN WHICH HIS PRELUDE WAS CRITICIZED

Said His Critic Was Unfair

Rev. Smith Thomas Ford, D. D., made answer, last evening, to a morning paper's criticism of his prelude of Sunday evening, November 1, in which he condemned dancing in the high school. He contended that the school was for educational purposes and that the original purpose of the institution should not be diverted.

"First of all," said Rev. Mr. Ford, "I want to say that the Lowell papers have shown a marked courtesy during the seven years that I have lived in this city. I think the courtesy was unusual, and anything I say this evening must not be mistaken as a reflection on the papers as a whole.

"In the criticism of my prelude the spirit of courtesy extended by the newspapers during the years that I have labored here is missing. The author of the criticism does not treat the prelude fairly. Judging from its tone, the one who wrote it is not accustomed to argument and unfair with an opponent. He quotes me as using the word 'auspices' but from the reports of my prelude I cannot find that I used the word. The word would have fitted the occasion so that is but a small matter.

"My critic does not, in the beginning or in any part of his article, deal fairly with the prelude, and a person familiar with the words and meaning of the prelude and with his criticism would say, in the beginning, that he had lost his case.

"Every little while the papers ask why ministers don't preach about some current event, and when the minister picks up a current event the same paper will inform you that current events are not good pulpit subjects.

"In the prelude I stated four propositions very clearly. I did not talk about the right or wrong of dancing and I did not say anything about theological thunder or Scriptural interpretation. My critic does and I wonder what he means by it. It was his evident intention to throw discredit upon what I said.

"A woman who read what I had to say about high school dancing said to me that she was very much in favor of it. She said that if she sent a child to school it was for the purpose of getting an education. 'If I wanted my child to learn to dance,' she said, 'I would send her to a dancing school.'

"The writer of the prelude criticism says that high school dances do not create class distinctions. I know it does. Some children wear better clothes than others and there's a certain conservativeness on the part of some that tends to create hard feelings.

"The point of the newspaper article was to divert from dancing in school to the moral side of the question. I did not treat the question from a moral standpoint. I spoke against dancing in the high school. It must be remembered that the high school is much different than a boarding school. The boarding school has to afford entertainment as well as instruction. In the case of high school pupils, however, they can entertain and be entertained at home or at church. I do not believe in dancing under the patronage of teachers. Such a condition cannot increase the pupil's respect for her teacher.

"I believe in amusements, but I also believe in adhering to the principles and purposes for which our institutions were intended."

IMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH.

Yesterday was observed as evangelistic day at Immanuel Baptist church, Blossom street, and the services were largely attended. The preacher of the day was Mrs. E. R. Leger, the noted evangelist, late of Liverpool, Eng., who was assisted by her husband, Mr. Moses Leger, who is also an evangelist and gospel singer, and who rendered effectively the solo entitled "The Unsearchable Riches of Christ."

Rev. Thomas Sayer, a former pastor of the church, was also present and assisted in the opening exercises.

FIRST TRINITARIAN CHURCH.

At the First Trinitarian Congregational church last evening, the pastor, Rev. George F. Kenngott, spoke on "The Christian Endeavor Convention at Denver and the Great West." The lecture was illustrated by seventy-five views, many of them being snap-shots of the convention scenes. The next service will be on "The Winning of the West," next Sunday at 7 o'clock, with special music by the chorus.

On Saturday evening Mr. Kenngott gave an illustrated lecture on "The Life of Christ," with a hundred fine views of the masterpieces, especially for the Greeks and Syrians. While Mr. Kenngott lectured in English, Rev. Stephen Valtses interpreted in Greek, and Madame Dakin Abood in Syrian.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

Another large service marked the Y. M. C. A. meeting for men in the First Congregational church Sunday afternoon, when S. M. Sayford, secretary of the New England Evangelistic association, delivered an address. His text was from Deut. 1:10, "And we came to Kadeshbarnea." Mr. Sayford said Kadeshbarnea might be construed to mean golden opportunity and that every Young Men's Christian association came, sooner or later, to that point, which, if grasped, meant a great work for humanity. Every church reaches that point in its history and woe betide the one which does not realize the possibilities which may be hers if she will but seize them. A man comes face to face with a business opportunity and if he is shrewd enough to profit by it success will crown his efforts. Individual men, come at some one time, some times oftener, to Kadeshbarnea, when they decide their destinies for time and eternity. Some men choose, like the Israelites in the chapter from which the text was taken, to go back into the wilderness, there to roam for years, while others decided to take Christ and immediately begin the Christian life. These latter made the wise choice and one that fills their lives with satisfaction.

On the invitation for those who wished to step over the line and ally themselves with Christ and his followers, seven arose to their feet.

The selections on the harp by Gertrude Holyoke French of Boston were much enjoyed, particularly "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

A noticeable part of the service was the taking of the collection by the following ministers: E. D. Millen, Mt. Vernon Free Baptist; Benj. F. Kingsley, Highland Methodist; C. R. Crossett, Advent Christian, and George F. Dean, St. Paul's Methodist. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. M. Craig of First Presbyterian church.

TWO SEIZURES

LIQUOR OFFICERS GOT NEXT TO SOME BEER.

The liquor officers made two seizures between Saturday noon and Sunday night. The first raid was at 129 Salem street, about 5 o'clock Saturday evening. Two cases of beer were found. It is alleged that the place is kept by Denis Landry.

The second raid was at the house of Isidore Dyer, 348 Chelmsford street. The officers visited the house shortly after 10 o'clock Saturday night and found two men in the kitchen, drinking beer. The men made their escape, bottles and all, but the officers found more of the contraband stuff, which they took unto themselves.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM

AT MEETING OF THE MATHEWS YESTERDAY.

Literary work in the Mathew Temperance Institute received a decided impetus yesterday when a special meeting of the society was held in the afternoon and the members turned out in large numbers.

Vice President George L. Hunt presided and unusual interest and enthusiasm was manifested in the matter. The committee appointed to devise ways and means in which to further literary matters in the society, reported that the following dates for the formation of the various classes. Music class, Tuesday evening, Nov. 17; parliamentary class, Friday evening, Nov. 20th; and the reading class, Sunday, Nov. 22.

The success of the various classes is assured from the start, if enthusiasm is to be taken as a criterion. During the meeting several of the members made brief remarks relative to literary work, among them being ex-President John J. Lyons, John A. McKenna, M. H. Harrington, James M. Fagan and others.

Following adjournment a musical and literary program was carried out, with the following numbers: Piano solo, Wm. McAloon; solo, James Fagan; recitation, James H. Coughlin; solo, Mr. George F. O'Dwyer; recitation, John A. McKenna; solo, Thomas Kearney; solo, Walter E. Flaherty; recitation, Frank J. Higgins; solo, Thomas J. Lynch; solo, Wm. Dwyer.

Messrs. William F. McAloon and George F. O'Dwyer officiated as accompanists throughout the exercises. The entertainment was conducted by Eugene Crane, ex-President Thomas H. Gallagher and the society secretary.

This new departure, which has found ready support in the Mathews, of improving the members intellectually is heartily commended on all sides by the many friends of the institute. In the past the Mathews have always been prominent in undertakings of a literary nature, and the revival of the once-famous reading circle is hailed with delight by all interested in the society's work.

LABOR PROBLEM

Carroll D. Wright Before the Women's Club

Hon. Carroll D. Wright lectured before the Women's club in Colonial hall, Saturday afternoon, having for his subject, "Is there any solution of the Labor Problem?" The lecture was under the auspices of the department of sociology, Mrs. M. D. B. Hooper, chairman. The lecturer said in part:

"We should set a higher standard of living, and seek to surround the laborer with better conditions. Industrialism is the present order today, in the great countries of the world, all other phases of society being made subordinate to it. It is a complication of these, that causes the labor problems—a constant struggle for something better and higher. The real labor problem is the question of life. One class of men propose an increase in the pay-roll, and a decrease in the hours of work. John Stuart Mills has said, 'There is not any one abuse, if corrected would cause the human race to pass out of this restlessness and make them happy, there would still remain a legion of evils. A successful army is one well defended on the right and left flanks as well as in the centre. We must attack the evils that attack society. We have had labor legislation for 101 years. Sir Robert Piel's laws of 1802 have been followed by the labor legislation of 1815, 1820 and 1844, and every parliament since Sir Robert's time has had more or less labor laws to consider. We have the inspection of factory laws, safety of life and limb, hygienic conditions, hours of labor reduced, and attempts at arbitration. Arbitration is refined socialism; it is the attempt of society to interfere in industrial matters. Some have said, 'If you can secure temperance laws, the labor question will settle itself.' If the manufacture of liquor was prohibited, 60,000,000 bushels of grain would be thrown back upon the farmer. Some advise the closing of the theatres. These are all cranks. I always read everything a crank sends to me, for he sees something very clearly, but he does not see things in their correct relation to other things.

"Collective bargaining is a solution of labor difficulties. A corporation of some thousands of stockholders appoints a committee to attend to the affairs of the company. This committee appoints a smaller board, called directors, and these choose a managing director or superintendent and this man confers with representatives from the employes; trade agreements follow, and where the system has been brought to perfection, strikes and lockouts are unknown. Thousands of labor troubles have been settled by these conciliatory methods of which we never hear, for the peaceful events of life are never recorded. The single tax system has not worked well in Switzerland, where it was born. Henry George said, 'Single tax means the transfer of ownership of all things to the community.' This is simply state socialism; it means if you wish it, that the city of Lowell shall own her water, gas, electric light plant and trolley system. Social democrats is a misnomer. Social democracy does not believe in organization, it means a revolution from the very foundation; it would destroy the state. * * * The decalogue is a pretty good platform for with labor and capital 'Love your neighbor as yourself,' has the germ of the method of softening and regulating the great struggle of humanity for better conditions. Men are realizing that they live for something more than the iron law of wages, which is that a laborer shall have just enough to keep soul and body together, leaving no margin for the education of the family. The solution of the difficulty lies in the practical application of the religious principles of the Golden Rule to 'Do unto others as ye would they should do to you.' Avoid the golden rule of the horse trader: 'Do unto the other fellow what you think the other fellow is going to do to you, and do it first.' A lack of confidence, and the existence of suspicion works harm. The new political economy looks first to the care and culture of man. The individual puts the family before himself, his country before the family. We want a divine discontent that seeks for something nobler—something higher, as an integral part of society."

MINISTER WELLES

Found Sermon Subject in Police Court

Rev. T. Clayton Welles, pastor of the Highland Congregational church, was in police court today sizing up the situation, as it were. The reverend gentleman was in search of a sermon subject. He is a friend to his fellowman and in order that he might be better able to assist his fallen brethren he decided to study all phases of their conditions and surroundings, including police court.

Rev. Mr. Welles was visibly distressed over conditions, as he found them in police court and he made up his mind that he would rather continue as a spiritual adviser than to assume the trying office of police court judge.

There was an unusually large number of drunken offenders in court. The dock was filled and there was room for only one more on the side seats supplied for the women.

The minister of the gospel was surprised to discover the evidence of so much drunkenness in a no-license city and he spoke to the police about it.

The police told him that the number of drunken offenders this morning was larger than usual; that the aggregation represented the draggings of the police net since Saturday at noon.

"Monday mornings in a license year," said one of the officers to the minister, "the dock is inadequate to accommodate the prisoners. The crowd this morning is larger than on any morning since the 1st of May, but not any larger than the average daily crowd in a license year."

Another officer said that if the city went license the coming year, the police court dock would have to be enlarged.

The good minister was sorry to witness so much evidence of drunkenness, but was glad to learn that today's police court crowd was exceptionally large and to learn from an officer's own lips the benefits of the no-license system.

There were twenty-six drunks in all.

Two women sentenced to the prison for women at Sherborn appealed. Judge Hadley explained to them that under the new law, if a prisoner at that institution behaved well, she would be released in three months. The women heard what the court had to say, and although they deserved the sentence imposed, they were inclined to be a bit stuffy and left the court room without withdrawing their appeals. A few moments of silent reflection, however, sufficed to convince them that it didn't pay old offenders to be stuffy and they asked to be returned to the court room for the purpose of withdrawing their appeals. The court allowed them to do so.

JUVENILE CASES.

Eli Cayer and William Burns, juveniles, charged with larceny, were ordered in $100 each for their appearance before the court, Friday morning, Nov. 13.

CARDINALS MET

First Consistory of New Pontificate

NO AMERICAN CARDINAL WAS APPOINTED

Pope Wore Full Pontifical Robes

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9—The first secret consistory of the new pontificate was held today. No American cardinal was appointed. Several appointments of bishops and archbishops were made, including that of the Rev. J. J. Harty, as archbishop of Manila, Philippine Islands, who as an exceptional privilege, received the pallium at an extra consistory when he came to Rome for consecration.

The Rev. Pedro Gonzales y Estrada was appointed bishop of Havana and the Right Rev. Maximilian Reynoso y delCoral, formerly bishop of Tulancingo ,Mexico, was appointed titular bishop of Norcesarea.

The meeting of the cardinals was simple and private. Only the pope and the cardinals were present today. The latter gathered early in an ante-chamber near the hall of the consistory, whence they passed into the latter place, the many papal guards in attendance rendered them sovereign honors.

The pontiff walked from his apartment accompanied only by the personages in immediate attendance on him. As he entered the hall of the consistory, the picture produced was very striking, the red gowns of the cardinals and the white robes and gold and red mantle of the pope giving a pleasing coloring to the scene. He wore the full pontifical robes, which are only used at a secret consistory once in each pontificate, namely, for the first one. When the pope had seated himself on the throne, all those present, one by one, paid him homage, after which the master of ceremonies, called upon all but those authorized totake part in the consistory to leave the hall, which was done.

When the doors had been closed and a guard had been stationed before them outside, Pope Pius intoned a prayer. Cardinal Oreglia, dean of the sacred college, then thanked the pontiff for having put aside his private preferences and accepted the burden of the church. The pope replied in an allocution which received universal approbation.

Then the appointment of the two cardinals proceeded, Mgr. Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, and Mgr. Callegari, archbishop Padua, being announced by the pope who said in Latin:

"What have you to say?"

In response the cardinals raised their caps as a sign of affirmation on the part of their eminences.

This was all, so every doubt was laid at rest for the present regarding the appointment of another American cardinal.

The confirmation of the appointment of Rev. J. J. Harty as archbishop of Manila and of the Rev. Pedro Gonzales y Estrada as bishop of Havana and the Rt. Rev. Maximilian Reynoso y del Coral as titular bishop of Nocesarea following.

The pope then bestowed the apostolic blessing after which he returned to his apartments.

ARMENIAN PLOT

New England Merchant is Involved

EVIDENCE IS IN HANDS OF POLICE

Circular That Called for Volunteers

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—Through letters who have reached this country, further details have come to light of the Armenian plots which have resulted recently in three murders and one suicide in London of men prominent in the Huntchakist society. It is said, secret service agents and the police of several large cities in this country, are now at work and that evidence in their hands involves a prominent New England merchant and a resident of this city, said to be widely known in Armenian circles.

Letters bearing on the plot have just been received in this country from Sagatel Sagouni, the first victim of assassin in London. These letters Sagouni had intercepted and mailed to agents on this side of the Atlantic before he fell. They showed in detail the plans for disposing of the leaders in his faction of the Armenian society. They were addressed to the Armenian central committee in London, but were intended only for the eyes of one man, a trusted agent. How they fell into Sagouni's hands is not known. The evidence they contained is supplemented by a circular bearing the official seal of a secret society in Chicago and signed by its officers which has been secured in Salem, Mass. The circular calls for volunteers to take up the work of killing those opposed to the society, who are denounced as cowards. It is said the distribution of similar circulars in Boston, Providence and New York resulted in the volunteering of 50 men who were sent at once to Europe on their deadly mission. They were given orders, it is said, to act under the instructions of a central committee in London.

MALLORY—Rev. Norman Clark Mallory, D. D., who was widely known in New England, and in the Central and Western states, died Saturday morning in Warrenville, Ill. While running to catch a train he suffered from an attack of heart failure, and expired in a short time.

Dr. Mallory was the son of a Castile, New York, farmer, and was born Sept. 23, 1835. He attended Madison, now Colgate, University, Hamilton, N. Y., and was graduated in 1861. He was graduated from Hamilton Theological Seminary in the class of 1863. Other members of the class were W. E. Stanton, D. D., now of Florida, and William Newton Clarke, the present president of Hamilton Theological Seminary, and the author of many books, particularly Clarke's Theology, which is a celebrated work. Dr. Mallory married Miss Lydia Anderson of Earlville, N. Y., and settled in Morrisville, N. Y. He afterwards became pastor of the First church, Manchester, N. H., and he accepted the call of the First Baptist church, Lowell, and assumed its pastorate in 1870, remaining for about three years.

Y.; three grandchildren and a host of sorrowing friends. The interment will be at Earlville, N. Y.

SARGENT—Luther H. Sargent, aged 61 years, died Saturday at his home in North Chelmsford. For several years Mr. Sargent's health had been so delicate that he was compelled to withdraw in a large degree from active participation in the affairs of his village and of the town, but in his days of physical vigor he could always be counted upon as an inflexible supporter of all measures designed to promote the highest interests of the community.

When a young man he took an active part in a local temperance organization, and along political lines he was an ardent supporter of the principles of the republican party. One year he represented his town in the lower branch of the legislature.

At the time of his decease he was a member of the board of trustees of the Adams library. For a long term of years he was the valued bookkeeper for Silver & Gay. Mr. Sargent possessed some literary tastes, his nature was singularly refined, and coarseness of thought or expression found no lodgment with him. He was truly a good man and the world has need of more of such refined and honorable characters. He leaves a widow and one child, Mrs. C. Frank Butterfield of North Chelmsford.

There are also three grandchildren left to mourn his loss, Jessie S., Nellie L. and Hazel L. Richardson, and one sister, Mrs. F. W. Marshall of Jamaica Plain.

Deceased was 53 years of age and formerly sang in St. Peter's church choir. She is survived by her husband, John Green, four sons and four daughters, her mother and two brothers, Edward and William P. Black.

GUTTED BY FIRE

LIVELY BLAZE IN BLOCK IN BELFAST, MAINE.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BELFAST, Maine, Nov. 9—A three-story wooden block owned by F. B. Knowlton, was badly gutted today by a fire which originated in the third story occupied by a young men's club. The loss was nearly $10,000, partially covered by insurance. The losses were estimated as follows:

EMPEROR WILLIAM

Had Polypous Removed From Larynx

By Associated Press to The Sun

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—Emperor William Saturday underwent an operation for the removal of a polypus from his larynx, which was performed by Prof. Moritz Schmidt and was entirely successful.

The only inconvenience suffered by the patient is that he has been enjoined not to speak until the wound caused by the operation has healed.

The bulletin announcing the result of the operation caused much astonishment, even among court officials, who had no suspicion that the Emperor was suffering from any affection of the throat.

The Emperor does not appear to have known of the growth in his larynx, and, until a few days ago, it is not thought he suffered any discomfort from it.

JOHN MITCHELL

Does Not Expect to Enter Cabinet

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Nov. 9—"There isn't a bit of truth in it, so far as I am concerned," was the comment made today by John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers' union, concerning a dispatch from Pittsburg, Pa., published this morning which stated that Mr. Mitchell would become a member of the cabinet of President Roosevelt in the event of his election, to succeed George B. Cortelyou, who was to resume his former position as secretary to the president.

"I saw the story this morning," said he, "but it is all news to me. I know nothing whatever about it. There isn't a bit of truth in it, so far as I am concerned and that is all that there is need of saying about it."

$5000 FOR EAR

MANY WILLING TO ACCEPT DOCTOR'S OFFER.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Dr. A. L. Nelden of 13 East Twenty-ninth street was the busiest physician in the city yesterday. His sudden growth of practice was due to an advertisement in which he offered $5000 for the right ear of a healthy male or female, the only stipulation being that the ear should have perfect curves, a full loop and be 2½ inches long by 1¾ inches wide. Dr. Nelden desires to graft this sort of an ear to the side of the head of a friend of his, who lost an ear in a fight with a grizzly bear in Colorado.

When the doctor opened his office yesterday, he found 30 persons in his waiting room, and the sidewalk and steps leading to his house literally jammed with people who were willing and anxious to part with their right ears for a consideration. In all Dr. Nelden examined more than 300 persons, but of this number only two were selected as desirable subjects, and one of these will be selected for the operation.

"COULDN'T SLEEP FROM THE TERRIBLE ITCHING."

"FIRST NIGHT I USED ZEMA-CURA I SLEPT WELL."

"I gratefully recommend your wonderful medicine, 'Zema-Cura.' For three months I suffered the most ACUTE annoyance with that dreadful disease, Eczema. Couldn't sleep from the terrible itching. Had about given up all hope of being cured, when in despair I bought a bottle of Zema-Cura. The first night after the first application I enjoyed a sound and refreshing sleep, the first restful sleep in three months. I bought three bottles in all and am to-day entirely cured."

WILLIAM JOHNSON,
Pres't Pittsburg Mfg. Co.,
Twenty-Eighth and Railroad Sts.,
Pittsburg, Pa.

Why should any Eczema sufferer continue to suffer when Zema-Cura will positively cure him? You take no risk in using Zema-Cura. It is absolutely safe. Physicians recommend it and prescribe it. It is the only SAFE, SURE CURE for Eczema known to medical science.

ZEMA-CURA

is a liquid, applied externally. It has none of the disagreeable features of a salve or ointment. It is the only CURE of skin diseases yet discovered. Zema-Cura will positively cure Eczema, Acne, Heat, Herpes, Lupus, Erysipelas, Urticaria (Nettle Rash), Barber's Itch, Mosquito Bites, Blackheads, Pimples and Blotches on the face, Hives, Burns, Cuts, or any itching condition of the skin or scalp.

DANGER!

Many of the lotions and salves alleged to be cures for Eczema and other skin diseases are positively a menace to sufferers. They contain OPIATES to allay irritation, and the awful effects resulting from their use are often worse than the disease itself. Such compounds may apparently relieve, but THEY DO NOT CURE, and the danger of using them is terrible to contemplate.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR ZEMA-CURA. No other remedy is even similar to it. ZEMA-CURA is a scientific prescription, and has been used with great success for years by eminent physicians in the treatment of skin diseases. The genuine ZEMA-CURA has restored thousands of sufferers from torturing skin diseases to perfect health; it is an absolutely SAFE remedy; mothers can use it on their babies without the slightest fear. Imitations contain opiates and other drugs and chemicals extremely dangerous; avoid them as you would the plague.

If you have the slightest difficulty in procuring Zema-Cura from your druggist, write direct to the ZEMA-CURA CO., 7 West 22d St., New York, and it will be shipped postpaid on receipt of price, $1.00 per bottle. Write to-day regarding your case and receive complete, careful advice FREE.

Lottery Ticket Swindle in Lynn

BOGUS TICKETS SENT ALL OVER COUNTRY

United States Authorities in the Case

By Associated Press to The Sun

LYNN, Mass., Nov. 9—United States postal authorities will take action on the bogus lottery ticket swindle discovered in Lynn through the raid on the Wells printing office yesterday morning. William F. Wells, who did the printing, was arraigned in police court this morning and pleaded not guilty to a charge of aiding and promoting a lottery. He was held in $2000 bonds for hearing on Tuesday. His attorneys, Starr Parson, city solicitor, and W. Bennett Murphy, asked for reduction of bail, but Judge Berry said that the case was one of gigantic fraud and that hundreds of thousands had been swindled. Not only was Wells apparently engaged in printing lottery tickets, itself a violation of the law, but the tickets were bogus, and further the United States postal regulations had been violated, if what he understood of the case proved true.

Further examination of books seized at the printing office show that the tickets were sent to all parts of the United States. Most of the distributing was done directly from Dayton, Ohio, where the tickets were shipped by express, and some was done from New York. Further shipments of tickets were made according to instructions from Dayton, Ohio, where the headquarters of the swindlers appear to be located, although there is reason to believe that some direct shipments to customers were made from the Lynn printing office, as letters have been found from agents asking for more tickets. One Worcester man writes that he has been looking for just such a scheme for years. Among the printed tickets and drawing announcements seized is one of the Honduras lottery printed for the drawing of Nov. 14, announcing the name of the man who drew the capital prize of $30,000 on that date. The ticket that bears the number printed against this name on the announcement was found in an envelope in Wells' desk with other lucky numbers, showing that the prizes were never given out. Wells still insists that nothing was done by him other than to print the tickets and send them by express as ordered from Dayton. The postal authorities have not noticed any large amount of mail for Wells and believe that the express companies did most of the forwarding of slips. Since Wells' arrest the police have received information that indicates another gang has been actively at work in Lynn printing bogus lottery tickets and selling them through New England and there are rumors of still another man engaged as a wholesale agent and doing his own printing on a small hand-press at his own home for a lottery that is never drawn. These things are under investigation.

IN HIS SALOON

Liquor Dealer Was Found Murdered

By Associated Press to The Sun

CHICAGO, Nov. 9—With a bullet hole in his forehead and a shattered glass on the floor beside him, Theodore A. Huffmeyer has been found dead in his saloon. The police believe he was killed by some person whom he thought was a friendly customer. William Becker, the bartender, was arrested soon after the crime was discovered, but was quickly released.

Although the cash register had been robbed, the detectives are not inclined to believe that robbery was the motive for the murder. A glass of beer on the bar, a 25-cent piece beside it and a glass and seltzer bottle which the saloon keeper had dropped when the shot was fired, all support the theory that he was shot by a late customer.

Huffmeyer was a brother-in-law of County Commissioner Jacob B. Tjielen, and reputed to be wealthy.

NEW DIPLOMAT

Is Prominent Here and in Paris

HE IS A NATIVE OF FRANCE

His Part in the Dreyfus Case

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—Philippe Varilla, the newly appointed diplomatic agent at Washington of the republic of Panama, is well-known to many persons in New York and Washington as well as in the inner political circles of Paris. He is a Frenchman by birth and was educated at the famous military school at St. Cyr, near Paris. At St. Cyr he was a classmate of Emile Dreyfus and took a prominent part in producing evidence in the defense of that officer at his trial at Rennes, France. Varilla's brother is the editor of Ma Le Matin, one of the best known Parisian journals.

"Philippe Buanau-Varilla and Philippe Varilla are different persons," said a gentleman who knows Panama's representative at Washington, "and it is the latter who has been sent to represent the republic of Panama at the national capital."

The story of the part that Varilla took in the Dreyfus case is an interesting one. A dozen years ago Philippe Varilla set out on an expedition to Central Africa. Upon the eve of his departure he received a letter from Dreyfus, who had been one of a party of French engineers to explore the country Varilla intended to visit. Dreyfus' letter was written with the object of advising him of the character of the country and telling him of the best way to succeed in his mission. Varilla kept the letter and filed it away with his papers. He returned to Paris after Dreyfus had been convicted and sent to Devil's island. At an officer's dinner in Paris one evening a young subaltern came in with the celebrated borderau which had been used as the basis of the evidence to convict Dreyfus, and the document was passed around among those present.

Varilla saw the importance of the document as a newspaper story and asked to be allowed to take it until the following day. He carried the borderau to his home and compared it with the letter he had received from Dreyfus on the eve of his journey. To his great surprise there was not the least similarity in the chirography. He carried the two documents to his brother, the editor of Le Martin, and the two became convinced that the borderau was a forgery. Editor Varilla caused a fac simile of the borderau to be his brother, the editor of Le Matin, and asked if there were any of the readers of the journal who could identify the author of the document, as it evidently was not written by Dreyfus. In response to this appeal a Parisian stock broker appeared at the office of Le Matin with a number of letters written by Col. Esterhazy. These letters were compared with the writing of the borderau and it was shown beyond question that Esterhazy was the author.

Philippe Varilla came to this country a few years ago in behalf of the shareholders of the Panama canal company to negotiate the sale of the rights of that company.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LYNN, Mass., Nov. 9—Safe breakers wrecked the shoe factory office of Cobb & Putnam, Brookline street, during the night. The attempt was discovered this morning when the factory was opened.

WORTH $75,000

VALUABLE CATCH MADE BY STEAMER ALEXANDER.

By Associated Press to The Sun

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9—The whaling steamer Alexander, just arrived, brings a catch in whalebone reckoned as being one of the best of the season.

It amounts to 12,000 pounds, worth in the neighborhood of $75,000, and was taken from seven whales. She reports the death on the voyage of John Landons, an old whaler 75 years of age of general debility.

Five sailors deserted at Teller, but Esquimaux took their places.

The whaling bark Andrew Hicks also arrived and brought 850 barrels of sperm. She took 25 whales in all during her cruise, but they were mostly small, some giving up only five or six barrels. She lost two men by pneumonia during the voyage.

DAWES COMMISSION REPORT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

TAHLEQUAH, I. T., Nov. 9.—The reports of the Dawes commission and the attorneys of the Cherokee nation show that there are 4,420,070.13 acres of land subject to allotment in the Cherokee nation, from this must be deducted reservations of one acre for each country school, for cemeteries and small reservations for mission schools and new towns along railroads. This allotable land is valued at $13,133,000. The rolls show that there will be 40,000 Cherokees on the final rolls. The per capita share of each, not deducting the reservations above mentioned would be $328.32, leaving a surplus of $2.72 in land due each citizen.

THE IRISH LEAGUE

Held Rousing Meeting in Barristers Hall

There was a rousing meeting of the United Irish league in Barristers hall last evening, when the need of larger quarters was again made evident by the fact that standing room was at a premium.

The executive committee reported that a larger hall was under consideration and the committee and officers were invited to make an inspection of several halls next Friday night, with the purpose of selecting the one most suitable.

It was announced also that the prizes in the membership contest would be a solid gold ring with the initials U. I. L. in raised letters and a cash prize exchangeable for a similar ring or a gold headed cane in case the prize should be won by a gentleman. The treasurer was appointed to receive the list of new members and make out the membership cards so that no contestant will know what the others are doing.

It was decided to run a ladies' night on Nov. 24th and the following committee was appointed to make all the necessary arrangements:

Mr. McMenamin, Miss Lizzie Honan, Richard Lyons, Michael Neilon, Michael Connolly, Delia Conway, Minnie Clancy, Bridget Gaynor, Julia Reilly, E. J. Gallagher, John Lee, Delia Clancy, Katie Conway, Maurice O'Connor, Edmund Costello, Patrick Connelly, Alice Landers, Miss Lynch, Julia Casey, Miss McGowan, Katherine Clancy, Saarah McNichols, Peter McCann, Peter McNamara, Michael Casey, Michael A. Lee, Maria Mullin, Bernard Gagan. The committee will meet Tuesday evening. The sociable will be free to the ladies.

Five new members were admitted and the secretary of the recent sociable reported that the proceeds would amount to $50. A musical and literary program was then carried out, including songs by Mr. Gagan and Miss Honan. Addresses were delivered by E. J. Gallagher, Richard Lyons, Michael Connolly and Mr. Roarke.

Mr. Lyons delivered a very fine address upon the subject of Irish immigration. He gave statistics showing how the country had been depopulated by the stream of immigration to this and other countries since 1847, stating that if it continued for fifty years more the population, now about four millions, would have entirely disappeared. He urged upon the members not to encourage the bone and sinew of the Irish race to leave their homes and perhaps their parents without a friend to aid or protect them in their declining years. He predicted that under the operation of the land act new industries would spring up offering opportunities for profitable employment at home, so there would not be the necessity of leaving the country to obtain a livelihood such as formerly existed. Furthermore he predicted that the cession of home rule in the near future would revive the industries and commerce of Ireland so that the people could live in comfort and abandon the idea of going to other lands.

It was announced that a public meeting will be held before the end of this month with a prominent speaker. The meeting adjourned for one week.

MILLIONAIRE DEAD

HE ROSE FROM BANK MESSENGER TO PRESIDENT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—Theodore Rogers, former president of the Bank of the Metropolis, is dead from paralysis at his home in Jamaica, Long Island. He was 72 years old and leaves a fortune of several million dollars. Mr. Rogers began his business career as a bank messenger. He retired from the Metropolis a few months ago, owing to ill-health.

FOREST FIRE

SIGHT THAT WAS ENJOYED BY CHICAGOIANS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—A forest fire was the unusual spectacle enjoyed by hundreds of Chicagoians last night. Four companies of firemen fought the blaze for hours. The fire started in the barns of the Graceland cemetery. In a few minutes the hay sheds were blazing fiercely. After destroying the buildings and wagons, the fire spread to the shrubbery growth and trees which covered a tract of almost four square blocks. The loss will exceed $50,000.

The tract combines almost virgin forest with carefully cultivated shrubbery. Rabbits, squirrels, gophers and other small animals abound in the inclosure. Scores of animals were killed as they ran among the crowd while others were captured and, later turned loose. Two frame buildings, three greenhouses, 20 wagons and many tons of hay were destroyed while the large growth of shrubbery and trees was almost consumed.

GIFT OF $25,000

WAS MADE TO GRACE CHURCH OF CHICAGO.

By Associated Press to The Sun

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—In announcing a new policy for Grace church, which will make it a church for business men and asking an endowment fund of $100,000, the Rev. William Waters has told of a recent gift of $25,000.

This sum which was presented as a memorial to the late William G. Hibbard by his widow and six children, Mr. Waters said, would form the foundation for the fund needed and he appealed to his hearers to raise the balance, $75,000 before Easter Sunday next.

Mr. Waters explained at some length his plans to have Grace church be to the Episcopalians of Chicago what Trinity church is to New York, a centrally located place of worship that will attract those who are busy during the day and are unable to take the time to attend service at more remote churches.

John L. Shaw of the Merrimack Mfg. Co., left Lowell on Saturday for a two weeks' vacation in the woods of Lower Wakefield, Carleton county, N. B.

It was very considerate of the saloons to close on election day. If they would show a little respect for the screen law they would greatly facilitate Officer Brown's work.

Had the aldermen announced the election results in this city immediately after election day, the caucuses for the city election could have been held under the Lace law, assuming that the law takes effect on the official announcement of its adoption.

The Esquimaux who can endure the most intense cold, cannot withstand the sudden changes of our New England climate without danger. It is better now to take precautions against this danger, than to be using doubtful remedies for colds later, or mayhap to finish the struggle by calling the "funeral director."

Before going any further in pushing his candidacy for the presidency in 1904, William Waldorf Jackson, Jr., should shed some light upon the age of Ann. The people of this republic do not want to elevate a man to the highest office in their gift unless he shows some capability for wrestling with great questions of this kind.

It would not be surprising to find the republic of Panama annexed to the United States in the near future. The possession of the isthmus would reward this country for the difficultyand the risks of enforcing the Monroe doctrine. These southern republics do not seem to appreciate their indebtedness to this country for the security they thus enjoy.

A WORD ABOUT THE WEATHER.

Those people who go around in weather like the present in their fall and summer clothing need not expect to live a hundred years. Some people can stand more exposure than others; but we do not know any individual or any race that can safely encounter the sudden changeso of temperature in this climate.

EX-GOVERNOR CRANE IS WILLING.

We are somewhat surprised that ex-Governor Crane is so ready to take charge of the national republican committee which the president is pressing upon Mark Hanna as a means of keeping the latter out of the presidential contest. Mr. Crane would find himself no equal for Hanna in the matter of collecting funds and applying them in carrying close states. In this particular Hanna is a born genius. No man with a conscience should ever tackle the job. It may be, however, that our genial ex-governor wants to figure in national politics, for a time with the hope that later on the presidential lightning may come his way. He would be a good man for vice-president on the ticket with Roosevelt, but in all probability a candidate will be selected from a state less solidly republican than Massachusetts.

BALFOUR MAY WEATHER THE GALE.

There is a growing sentiment in England against a leap in the dark on the tariff problem. It is now proposed to submit the question to the investigation of a royal commission on which both parties will be equally represented. By this expedient Premier Balfour may be able to weather the storm for a couple of years and it is probable that Mr. Chamberlain would be willing to risk the delay feeling that the longer he gets to educate the voters upon the tariff issue the better for his fiscal policy. The elections to fill the vacancy of the members appointed to office show that there is not the popular reaction against Mr. Chamberlain's policy that was expected.

There are about sixty seats of the unionist party in parliament controlled by the Free Traders, so-called and the only way in which Mr. Balfour can overcome their opposition on a division is to secure the support of the Irish Nationalists. For this reason it is expected that some very substantial concessions will be made to Ireland. One of these will be an act for the relief of agricultural laborers and another may be an improvement in the educational system of the country. If the Irish party exerts great pressure upon the government for home rule, that may be forthcoming before parliament be prorogued.

REVIEW OF NO-LICENSE REGIME.

It must be patent to everybody in this city that since the inauguration of the no-license regime there has been a vast amount of money saved for the rightful uses to which it should be applied. There has been less neglect of families, less crimes from the use of drink, fewer arrests, fewer convictions and fewer families disgraced by having relatives or friends brought to police court and sent to prison.

The open saloon with most of its evil allurements has been banished. It is true that still there is some attempt made to sell here and there, but the most that the most courageous of the saloonists have dared is to sell a little from the hip-pocket. When the business is driven to that extremity it is on its last legs. All the profits that are derived from the business as now conducted even though it be continued unmolested throughout the year would not pay the gas bills and the wages of the bartender and his assistant at the door. Who cares for drink sold in this way? None but the most confirmed topers, and to these nobody cares to sell. The treating habit is killed by the hip-pocket process of sale and with it goes one of the worst temptations connected with the liquor business.

It is the jollification, the conviviality brought out around the drinking table that lures young men to the saloon until they contract the drinking habit. That feature has been completely banished since the first of May last, for nowhere have the most courageous or the most reckless set of men the hardihood to sit down in a saloon and call for drink after drink to be served from the hip-pocket. They are afraid of being caught, and there is not a saloonist in Lowell who would want them to sit in his place for the proprietor of the saloon has good reason to be more timid than are his customers.

Besides, the liquor sold in this way is the poorest and most dangerous. Speak-easy whiskey is a dangerous commodity. The customers who use it for the first time should beware of it lest they be suddenly overcome and fall helpless on the street. It is deadly stuff.

Now, under such circumstances with the saloons closed up and practically out of business, with the sale of brewed drinks practically stopped, it is clear that the saloons keep open only with the hope that the city will return to license next year. If the city goes no-license in December three-fourths of the saloons now in waiting would close up for good and their proprietors would look around ofr some other business. The bartenders as a class suffer most from no-license. That is one of the evils of the business; the young man is foolish who embarks in a business so precarious. It is as bad as a political job, he never can tell when he is going to be left in idleness. It would be better alike for the liquor dealers and their employes to get out of this business and into one more stable and more reliable.

SEEN AND HEARD

The ambitious candidates are abroad with their campaign pictures and cards.

A fine workman, a good friend and an earnest, honest man was lost in the death of William E. Costello, the Centralville painter.

Mayor Feeney of Woburn, the youngest mayor in the state, who has many friends in Lowell and occasionally visits here, is a candidate for re-election.

The plan of the park board to have playgrounds on the South common and baseball grounds on the North common is admirable. Let both grounds be put in good shape and see to it that proper regulations shall govern their use.

Gov. Bates has officially approved of the selection of Sept. 17, 1903, as "Massachusetts day," at the St. Louis exposition. This date commemorates the signing of the charter, on Sept. 17, 1630, of the town of Tri-Mountain, afterward named Boston.

LEARNED FROM GEN. BUTLER.

"Why do you take off your hat when you go to vote?" asked one citizen of another, as they left the polling place in Lawrence election day. "Gen. Butler taught me that," was the answer. "He said that next to his God, a man should do reverence to his right of free suffrage. The general never approached the ballot box in any other than a reverent manner. I have always followed his example."—"Bud Brier" in the Boston Globe.

FALL OF THE PEMBERTON.

A Sun reader telephones that the Pemberton mill in Lawrence fell on Jan. 10, 1860, and not on the 11th, as stated in this column. Judge Cowley's history of Lowell names Jan 10th as the date, but Edward H. Savage, a Boston historian, says Jan. 11th. So there you are; but whatever the day, it was the most horrible accident that ever occurred in these parts. A Lowell resident recently said that he well recalls the event, and that hundreds of Lowell people walked to Lawrence to see the ruins.

FRESH EGGS SCARCE.

The housekeepers are complaining about the unusual scarcity of fresh eggs. Perhaps never before at this season of the year were strictly fresh eggs so short and high as at present. The hens are on a sort of strike, and if it was not for storage eggs the housekeepers would be in a quandary. The use of storage eggs is greatly increased over former years. The large dealers are learning how to treat eggs properly, so that there is no bad flavor when taken out.

THOMAS TALBOT'S STABLE.

Probably the finest stable near Lowell is that in North Billerica owned by Thomas Talbot, chairman of the republican state committee. It is elegantly appointed, and is splendidly equipped with all sorts of harness and carriages. The rooms of the coach and stable men, on the second floor, are very home-like, and have all modern conveniences. Not the least of Major Talbot's possessions, that makes a home in the stable, is a dog valued at $1000.

MADE DOUBTFUL ANSWER.

The appearance of John Lavery in police court Saturday morning reminded Deputy Welch of John's last visit. It was his third offence but the court wanted to give him a show.

"Are you a married man?" asked the court.

"I am, I have a wife."

"Have you any children?"

"I have, your honor."

"How many?"

"F-o-u-r," replied John rather doubtfully.

John was placed on probation, and when he resumed his seat in the dock the fellow directly behind him snickered and John joined in the snicker.

The court saw him and said: "Stand up Lavery."

John stood up and the court asked: "Are you sure you have four children?"

"Y-e-s, I have them, but they're dead," replied John.

The deputy said he was sure the court would reconsider John's case and send him away, but he didn't. "Perhaps," remarked the deputy, "the court thought it was one on him."

FEAR OF ASSASSIN

Attorney Byrd Will Not Attend Session of Court

By Associated Press to The Sun

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 9.—A. Floyd Byrd, commonwealth attorney of Breathitt county, who gained a reputation in the prosecution of Curtis Jett and Thomas White for the Marcum murder, last night confirmed the rumor that he has decided to remain away from Breathitt county during the term of court which begins at Jackson today.

His action is taken upon the insistent solicitations of friends and relatives who declare that, judging from the past history of the county, his life would be in constant peril there. He has not received warning of a definite plot to take his life as has been rumored.

L. P. Cole of Jackson has been temporarily appointed prosecuting attorney. There will be no indictments at the coming term of court, Mr. Byrd says, in connection with the numerous assassination cases, and further investigation will be postponed for the present.

Mr. Byrd's term of office will expire January 1. He will then move to Winchester, Ky., to reside permanently, but does not expect to sever himself entirely from the mountains in which he has been instrumental in bringing about a revolution of law and order. Only minor cases are on the docket of the Breathitt circuit court.

ORGANIZED LABOR

DISCUSSED BY PRESIDENT SHAFFER.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 9—President Thomas J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated Iron and Steel and Tin Workers' union, spoke at a mass meeting of local union labor men here yesterday afternoon. The address was devoted entirely to the outlook for organized labor in this country. He said:

"I am hopeful of better things. In the church we hear of the good work in behalf of the laboring classes by Bishop Potter and Archbishop Ireland. In public life we have that manly man, Hanna, and President Roosevelt. A union of interest between the nation, the church and organized labor will accomplish much for the American people."

Until his warship arrives the protection of Italians has been entrusted to the British representative.

THAT there's less prejudice than ever against ready-made—the ready-made—made by Rogers, Peet & Co., we have the best evidence in our constantly increasing sales.

He must be an extremely clever merchant-tailor who can turn out suits as good as these and he must have an exceptional collection of fabrics if he would match the variety we show in quality and excellence of patterns.

It is likely that price has had something to do with the success of Rogers-Peet suits, $18 to $30—instead of a tailor's figures.

GREAT RECEPTION

To People of Rome by Pope Pius X

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9—Pope Pius X, yesterday afternoon held another of the receptions inaugurated by him this autumn, that the people of Rome might have his blessing.

At an early hour the large court of San Damaso was so full that not another person could be squeezed in. It is believed that there were 30,000 persons in the court and many were turned away, while raphiels loggia around the court was full to overflowing.

The appearance of the pope was made amidst great pomp. Preceded by guards and surrounded by the prelates of the court, he took up his position on the throne under the clock, facing the entrance. As he came in, a tremor of emotion was quite perceptible in the vast crowd, the present generation being unaccustomed to any public view of a pope. His Holiness was visibly touched and his eyes filled with tears. After a brief silence there were loud cries of "Long Live Pius." Then a chorus of clear voiced girls sang a hymn to the pope, which had an effect of indescribable sweetness.

As soon as this hymn was finished another was begun by a chorus of boy students, including pupils from the American college, led by Vice Rector Murphy of New York.

The pope spoke for fifteen minutes on the gospel of the day and was clearly heard by all. His concluding words were "Times are evil, but the evil can be cured by prayer."

His Holiness imparted the apostolic benediction to the great gathering. Several persons were then permitted to kiss his hand.

JOHN REDMOND

Will Not Retire From Irish League

By Associated Press to The Sun

LONDON, Nov. 9—William O'Brien's retirement from parliament and the directory of the United Irish league will not cause any split in the Irish National party, nor has John Redmond any intention of retiring from the leadership.

William O'Brien has been at loggerheads with the Freeman's Journal as to the number of years of purchase the Irish tenants should on the average pay the landlords for their land under the new act.

The Freeman's Journal argues that is 1-2 years of purchase and the other advantages given the landlord, equalling five years additional, is sufficient, while O'Brien contends that 23 1-2 years purchase, exclusive of the bonus, is the correct average.

The dispute has been purely one of figures. The Freeman's Journal never has said a discourteous word of Mr. O'Brien, and now strongly urges him to reconsider his resignation. Mr. O'Brien's health, however, has been seriously undermined. His nervous system is in a bad state, and it is believed that he will be forced to take a long rest.

In any event the Irish party, while deploring his decision, is united in support of Redmond and is determined that there shall be no repetition of the Parnell split.

The Irish landlords undoubtedly were encouraged to make exorbitant demands of their tenants by the controversy between O'Brien and the Freeman's Journal, and now that the latter has the field to itself the landlords will soon realize that they must negotiate on a fair basis.

DERELICT SCHOONER

FOUND DRIFTING AND TOWED INTO FRESHWATER BAY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 9.—A special from St. Johns, N. F., says that a 45 ton derelict schooner has been picked up by some fishermen at Freshwater Bay. The spars were in her and the sails hanging on them were torn to pieces. There was no name to be seen anywhere on the vessel and no cargo of any kind. The rail was carried away and the spars were swinging clear. The fishermen succeeded in getting the schooner in after considerable trouble and she now lies on the strand badly broken up. There are no tidings of the crew.

A GRIM TRAGEDY

Schooner Wrecked Off Sable Island

NINE DECOMPOSED BODIES FOUND IN HOLD

Several Other Boats Had Close Calls

By Associated Press to The Sun

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 9.—News of a grim tragedy of the sea was brought to this port Saturday by the steamer Tyrian, which arrived from Sable Island, the barren stretch of sand in the ocean, 175 miles east of Halifax, known among mariners everywhere as the graveyard of the North Atlantic. The captain of the Tyrian announced that two weeks ago, the battered hulk of a vessel, undoubtedly that of a schooner, drifted ashore on the island with nine decomposed bodies in it. The name of the wrecked craft was made out as "Topaz" but the name of her hailing port is not known.

The steamer Tyrian is in the lighthouse supply service of the Canadian government and is one of the vessels which makes periodical visits to Sable Island for the purpose of carrying oil and supplies to the light keepers and patrolmen on the island. These vessels are the only means of communication between the mainland and the island, the government, while maintaining a complete marine signal service, never having laid a cable.

The Tyrian reports that the hull of the ill-fated craft was bottom up when it came ashore. The life savers inspected the wreck closely but could find only the name "Topaz" of "S——." The remaining letters in the name of her hailing port had been obliterated by the action of the sea.

When the inside was examined the life savers beheld a horrible sight. In all nine bodies, decomposed to such an extent that recognition would have been out of the question, were found in various parts of the hold.

CLAIMS $100 BILL

LEGAL TANGLE IN NASHUA COURT.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 9—A hearing was held before Judge Hoitt Saturday morning, involving one of the most novel suits ever brought in this part of the state.

The suit was for the retention of a $100 bill found by Lawrence Henry and Philip O'Neil in a waste barrel in front of J. D. Bickford's store.

The boys testified to finding the bill, torn in two parts, one end near the top of the barrel and the other lower down.

Mr. Bickford testified to having received at his store several $100 bills during the summer, and that as the bill was found in waste from his place of business he believed that it was his, though he could not remember having lost it. Decision was reserved and counsel are to present briefs.

TERRIBLY BEATEN

LAWRENCE MAN FOUND LYING IN POOL OF BLOOD.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LAWRENCE, Nov. 9. Alfred Gagnon, who operates a wood yard on Melrose street, was found into Saturday night lying in a pool of blood in the yard unconscious and suffering from terrible injuries to his head and body. He was removed to the general hospital, where, it was stated last night, his condition was critical.

Investigation yesterday by the police shows that Gagnon had been out collecting bills Saturday, and had considerable money with him when he returned to his office. When he was found this money was gone, and it is supposed that robbery was the motive for the assault.

In searching the yard a large piece of iron pipe was found in a pool of blood, and with this weapon, it is believed, the assault was committed. There have been no arrests as yet, although the police believe the guilty person or persons may yet be captured.

DOWIE'S CLOSING WORD

SAYS HE WILL COME AGAIN IN TWO YEARS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—John Alexander Dowie held his final meeting in New York in Carnegie hall last night, addressing a sparse audience, which he classed as "scrawny and miserable." He announced that he had established a branch of his church in New York and that in future regular Sunday meetings would be addressed by various overseers. He also declared that he intended to return in two years at the head of a host ten thousand strong.

YELLOW FEVER

IT CONTINUES TO RAGE IN TEXAS.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LAREDO, Texas, Nov. 9—Yellow fever continues without much abatement notwithstanding the efforts of physicians.

Dr. B. D. Murray, the international yellow fever expert, returned Saturday from a trip as far as Saltillo, where he has been investigating the yellow fever situation.

He stated yesterday that conditions in Monterey, if judged by other cities where yellow fever has been epidemic, indicated no less than 25,000 cases there this year, with the mortality rate placed conservatively at five per cent. The deaths have been greatly in excess of the number reported in the official bulletin issued in this city and fully 500 cases exist at the present time. All the nations on the line of the Mexican Central, he says, between Laredo and Saltillo, have suffered an invasion of the yellow fever and have contributed an unknown number of deaths and cases.

Cured a Bright Young Man of the

DRINK HABIT

"Drunkenness Is a Disease" Says Prof. MUNYON

APPETITE

For Strong Drink Is Surely Taken Away by this New Vegetable Tonic

A mother writing to Professor Munyon from Lowell, Mass., says: "My son, through bad associations, became addicted to strong drink, and we had almost despaired of saving him from a drunkard's grave. His stomach and nerves had become totally wrecked.

Two weeks ago, my sister, who lives in Boston, sent me a bottle of Paw-Paw for him, and, strange to say, it not only cured his stomach trouble but has taken away all desire for alcoholic drink. He has gained 11 pounds in flesh and now eats well and sleeps well. May God bless you for giving the world this wonderful medicine."

Surely this mother has reason to feel grateful, and it is my opinion, previously expressed, that the clergymen in this country could do no greater service to the cause of temperance than to advocate the general use of my Paw-Paw, for by its use drunkenness would be lessened and the morals and health of the community greatly improved.

A wife whose husband is addicted to drinking can do nothing better for herself or family than to get a bottle of this Paw-Paw and whenever her husband feels the need of a tonic give him a tablespoonful of Paw-Paw. She will find that he will soon lose all cravings for strong drinks—that his appetite will soon become natural, that his nervousness and longing for excitements will disappear and he will be perfectly satisfied, without alcoholic stimulants and harmful beverages.

Almost every human being some time requires a stimulant. NOT AN ALCOHOLIC STIMULANT, not a stimulant that will buoy up for a moment and then cast down to lower depths of depression, but a stimulant that will give an abiding and lasting force.

My Paw-Paw aids the stomach to digest hearty foods and to make good, rich blood, which again in turn strengthens the nerves, vitalizing all the tissues, and soon produces muscles, tissues and bone.

MUNYON.

Paw-Paw does away with the desire for strong drink by satisfying and strengthening the stomach and nerves. It gives exhilaration without intoxication.

Paw-Paw gives you a good appetite and secures for the body every benefit which food is designed to bring.

Take a bottle home with you today, and if that home contains a weak or rebellious stomach, a set of disordered nerves, a vain seeker after sleep, Paw-Paw will bring quick relief and more recruits will be gained for Munyon's great and growing army of the cured.

Munyon's Paw-Paw (large bottles), price $1.00. Paw-Paw Pills, 25 cents per box. All druggists.

LOWELL VICTORY

Concord Outplayed by Manager Gray's Team

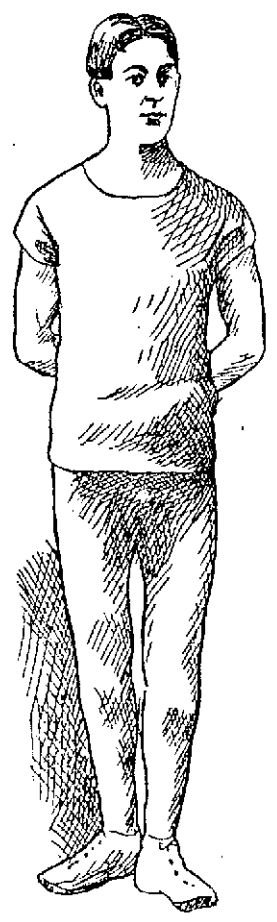

Lowell 38, Concord 15.

Lowell is tied for second place in the basketball league.

Saturday night, in Huntington hall, before an audience numbering 1200 people, Manager Gray's team rubbed it into the Concord men, hailed as the strongest team in the league.

From a Lowell standpoint, the game was a dandy. The local team seemed to have struck their gait and their team work was excellent. It was the verdict of all who saw the game that Lowell playing as the team did Saturday night, is without a peer in this league. The passing and offensive work was simply grand and the entire team took a hand in adding to the Concords' troubles.

Previous to the game and between periods the Lowell Cadet band played lively music, and so well pleased was

JOE KYNOCH.

Manager Gray with their work that he presented the young men a box of cigars. John Tierney refereed and he gave general satisfaction, though Stewart was inclined to object to some of his decisions.

The victory of the Lowell team was a surprise to many, in fact to the majority of those present. They had figured Concord as being well nigh invincible and they reckoned, too, that Lowell had not struck its speed yet. In both reckonings they were in error. Lowell played a game that will prove a winner nine times out of ten. From the moment the whistle blew Concord was lost and the Lowell men piled up baskets by the cleverest kind of play.

Allard played a remarkable game, and for the first time this season showed his old speed and form. He was fast on the floor, quick to pass, covered well and had a fine eye for the basket. The way he dodged interference and broke through the Concord defense was repeatedly cheered. Allard threw five baskets. Abbott, too, was in the game all the time and his head work was an important factor in the victory. He carried the ball well, found plenty of openings and landed three baskets after the most skulful kind of play. Capt. Holleron also scored five times and made himself solid with the patrons. The captain's scoring was done mostly in the latter part of the game and two baskets were made after he carried the ball the entire length of the floor. Joe Kynoch played a grand, rushing game and carried the ball into Concord territory repeatedly. He scored a brace of goals and did some excellent passing.

Kane, the Scranton man, who leads the league in basket throwing, scored two of Concord's five field goals. One of them was a throw from near the center of the cage, and was loudly cheered. The other three goals for the visitors were thrown by Herron who showed remarkable speed.

Though Concord was beaten from the start, yet the game was exciting throughout, and not one of the large audience left before the referee's whistle blew for the finish.

Playing the game they did Saturday night there is no reason why the Lowell team cannot get away with any team in the league. If ever a team played in championship form Manager Gray's boys did. True, they missed many chances for baskets, some of them very easy ones, but such luck falls to the best of them.

A pleasing feature of the attendance Saturday night was the presence of so many ladies and leading business men and city officials.

The Lowell team will meet Haverhill tomorrow night in Huntington hall.

A HARD GAME

HAVERHILL LOST THE CONTEST TO MANCHESTER.

Haverhill N. E. league basketball team gave the Manchester team a hard game in Haverhill Saturday evening, the visitors being victorious by a score of 25 to 17 in a rough game, no less than 44 fouls being called.

The visitors gave a great exhibition of team work, completely outclassing the locals in this respect. The home team felt the loss of Tighe, who is laid up with an injury. In the first two periods the score was close, but the visitors forged ahead in the third period. The work of Reagan and Devlin for the visitors, and that of Lew, Crittenden and Harrington for the locals was good. The lineup:

BASKET BALL NOTES.

Haverhill played 12 men in the games of last week; Nashua seven and the other teams six each.

Harry Hough is putting up a star game for Pittsfield.

Allard went on the road last Friday and Saturday mornings and made ten miles each time. He will have to take a lot of this kind of exercise before he regains his old time speed. Allard's friends have tipped him off on this point, but he has an idea that any one who criticises his play must have some personal feeling against him. The sooner he gets rid of this idea the better off he will be.

Lowell people will give Manager Gray credit for one thing and that is that he is willing to spend the money and has done so in order to get a championship team.

Those Concord men are wonders. Stewart is the only drawback to the team. Had some one else played in his place in Manchester, Friday night, the story of the result might have been different.

The Lowell team has been studying a new style of play and this has held them back some. Now they have it down pretty fine and from this time out should land the goods.

The Connecticut league is on its last legs. This news must tickle Donnelly and Devlin when they think how near they came to going to New Haven and taking the entire Manchester team with them.

John Smith wants the Lowell management to play on the percentage basis. Pretty soon John will want to own every team in the league. Since Freddie turned down John in the Lawrence franchise matter, the latter has thought there was a conspiracy on foot and that he was getting the bad end. As a matter of fact the Manchester man has been getting about what he wanted since he took a hand in the game last year.

Guthrie the new man who is playing with Nashua, is none other than our old friend "Harry," who made his reputation on the old Burke team.

The referees are giving satisfaction all along the line. The only vigorous kick so far was made by Stewart at Manchester.

The Gray team will go up against Bucky Lew, Jimmy Harrington, Tighe, former P. A. C. players in Haverhill, tonight.

Bill Kelliher's Nashua tribe will come to Lowell tomorrow night. McFarlane and Guthrie, two other Lowell men will be in the visitors' lineup. Big Horne another league star, and Labelle, the Nashua ball player with Doyle, one of the best basket throwers in the league will complete the team.

Capt. Stewart of the Concord basketball team has protested the game which his team lost in Manchester last Friday night on the ground that certain decisions by the referee were erroneous and contrary to the rules.

Manchester and Concord will meet again tomorrow night. The game will be played in Concord and quite a crowd of Manchester sports will go up to place their money on their team.

THE FIRST WEEK

What Basket Ball Teams Have Done

CONCORD LEADS IN THROWING FIELD GOALS

Kane Holds the Individual Record

The first week of the basket ball season of the New England league was as lively as the most ardent admirer of the game could wish for.

There have been all kinds of plays, big scores, scientific work, and the games have been witnessed by large audiences. In the games played 226 baskets were thrown from the field.

Concord has the largest team total in this respect, Lowell is second, Manchester third only one basket behind Lowell, Haverhill fourth, and Nashua last with only 21 baskets to the credit of the team.

Kane holds the individual record, having 32 baskets to his credit, while Donnelly of Manchester is second with a total of 18 baskets.

The opening of the season has been most successful, the patronage was very liberal and the spectators at each game went away satisfied with the exhibition put up by the players. Manchester, Concord and Lowell have outplayed Nashua and Haverhill, but the management in the latter cities promise to strengthen their teams and are looking for good timber now. Manchester has a clean record of four victories, Lowell and Concord are tied for second place, and Haverhill and Nashua stand even.

The present week may see changes for the teams are getting down to regular work and individual play is being cut out.

Below will be found a record of each player and team, in basket throwing during the week:

CHINAMEN HELD

Both Were Indicted for Murder

By Associated Press to The Sun

BOSTON, Nov. 9—Two Chinamen were indicted on the charge of murder in the second degree by the Suffolk county grand jury which reported its findings Saturday before Judge White in the superior criminal court. They are Charlie Ching and Wong Chong and they are accused of killing Wah Chung in the Chinese district on the night of October 2 last. The government will allege that the death of Wah Chong occurred during a clash between two Chinese rival societies and it will endeavor to prove that the defendants who were members of one of these societies killed Chong, who was a representative of the other. This homicide created great excitement in Chinatown and was the immediate cause of the greatest raid ever made in the district, and 200 Chinamen were arrested on the charge that they were in this country without the necessary admission papers.

The case of Patrolman E. F. Lewey of Division 2, who is held on the charge of manslaughter in killing Louis Brandt, was postponed until the next session of the grand jury.

Dominico Alfoto was indicted for manslaughter in causing the death of Alberto Mollona.

About 40 other true bills were reported.

By Associated Press to The Sun

BRINKLEY, Ark., Nov. 9—H. C. Cadle, a white man, was lynched yesterday. Cadle, in an altercation cut Policeman J. C. Cox, who died shortly afterwards.

A mob secured entrance to the jail and taking Cadle out, shot him four times and hung him to a telephone pole.

JOHN MITCHELL.

JOHN MITCHELL

May Get Place in the Cabinet

HE WILL BE SECRETARY CORTELYOU'S SUCCESSOR

Will Not be Miners' President

By Associated Press to The Sun

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 9—The Dispatch today will publish a story to the effect that John Mitchell will not be a candidate for re-election as president of the United Mine Workers' union at the January convention.

This statement was made by a close personal friend of Mr. Mitchell, while the miner's president and other officials of the organization, who are on their way to Boston to attend the convention of the American Federation of Labor, stopped over here.

The announcement by its apparent authentic source is raised above mere rumor.

The same gentleman said Mr. Mitchell, assuming that President Roosevelt would be elected, decided to lay aside the miner's offer to become a member of the president's cabinet, succeeding George B. Cortelyou, as secretary of the department of commerce and labor.

Secretary Cortelyou, it is said, has decided not to again be the head of the department, and may go back to the position of private secretary to the president.

THE HANNA BOOM

Southern States Will Support Him

IN A FIGHT AGAINST PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

The Latter's Friends are Troubled

By Associated Press to The Sun

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—"There has been a recrudescence among the machine members of the republican party of the anti-Roosevelt disease, since Senator Hanna won his remarkable victory in Ohio, and Maryland and New York city went democratic. It has become so strong that another statement from Senator Hanna, stronger than the one he made several months ago, was necessary to hold it in check. The revived Hanna boom has the support of the financial interests in New York, who think the president is hostile to them, and also former office-holders and others who want to see a "practical politician of the old guard" at the head of the ticket.

Senator Hanna arrived here today and was overwhelmed with congratulations on his success in beating Tom L. Johnson and Clark, his opponents for the senate, in such a signal manner. He gave no sign that he was a receptive or any other kind of a candidate for the presidential nomination, but he laughingly referred to his threat to throw any man who talked presidency to him out of the sixth-story window as still holding good.

Senator Hanna has this to say about the result in Ohio:

"I have no complaint to make. We are still on top in Ohio, but there is one thing I would like to say: That is that the bringing forward by the democrats of a dead issue and breathing the breath of life into the ship subsidy bill as an argument increased the republican majority in Ohio."

ANCIENT TREASURE

GOLD AND PRECIOUS STONES FOUND NEAR SICILY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

ROME, Nov. 9—Peasants while digging near Pulazzolo Acreide, Sicily, found a rich treasure of ancient objects from Syracuse. The most valuable were an artistic diadem encrusted with precious stones, a belt of solid gold and several rings of beautiful shapes. There were also found a number of coins of different value. The government authorities took possession of the treasure on the ground that it was national property but they will compensate the proprietor of the estate according to an estimate which will be made by experts.

HIS WIFE MISSING

Husband Advertises Her as Dead

HAS YOUNG WOMAN TAKE HER PLACE

Neighbors Discredit the Suicide Story

By Associated Press to The Sun

GLOUCESTER, Nov. 9.—The mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Asa Josselyn, wife of the assistant lightkeeper at Thatcher's Island, and the peculiar conduct of the missing woman's husband, have aroused much interest here.

Mrs. Josselyn disappeared from the island on Nov. 2, under circumstances which led to the report that she had committed suicide. None of the boats had been taken, and so far as was known at the time it would have been impossible for her to reach land. The matter was reported to the police, who made a careful search of the shore, but no trace of the woman's body was found. The next morning the woman's husband went to Boston, and on Wednesday returned with a young woman, who one of the townspeople said was his cousin. The young woman accompanied him to the island.

On the morning of Nov. 5 Josselyn sent to the Rockport Review a request that his wife's death notice be published, after which he went to the residence of Town Clerk C. W. Pool and made application for a marriage license. His application gave the name of the young woman he proposed to marry as Mrs. Cora Frances Smith Trommer of North Scituate, and her age as 29.

REYNOLDS IS COOL

Long Distance Rider Was Taken to Peabody

Chief of Police of Peabody M. H. Grady came to Lowell Saturday afternoon for Harmond Reynolds, the young fellow who rode from Colebrook, N. H., to Lowell on an old bicycle and applied for lodging at the police station here. Reynolds is wanted for breaking and entering a summer cottage in Peabody. He was one of three who did the job, and when he found out that the police were after him he left town.

Harmond didn't know Chief Grady when they met in the guard room at police station.

"I didn't get a chance to form your acquaintance," said Mr. Grady, "you left town too quick. I met the other two fellows."

"Hope you formed a good impression of them," said Reynolds.

"They were placed on probation," said the chief, "and you would have been too, if you hadn't skipped."

"'Twas just like this," said Reynolds. "They wanted to go but they were too slow. I told them at noon time that you fellows were after us and they had plenty of time to quit town if they wanted to hustle, but they were too slow. I was fifty miles from Peabody when the other two fellows were arrested, and I didn't have as much to do with the job as they did, either."

When Chief Grady went to put the twisters on Reynolds, the latter said: "You don't need them on me. I'm just as anxious to get to Peabody as you are."

"Well, I'm not as good a runner as I used to be," replied the chief, "and I'm not taking any chances."

Before leaving the police station Reynolds thanked the keeper and other officers for their courteous and considerate treatment and he told Deputy Welch that he wouldn't forget his kindness.

It was to the deputy that Reynolds, leg wearied, cold, hungry and penniless, applied for a night's lodging, and he got it.

LABOR CANDIDATES

Trades and Labor Council in Politics

Will Endeavor to Centre Strength of Organized Labor Men on Candidates Who are Members of Labor Organizations—Other Political Notes

The Trades and Labor Council at its meeting yesterday went into the matter of labor organizations in politics, and after an intelligent discussion of the question it was decided that the interests of organized labor can be best served by the election of candidates friendly to organized labor and its purposes. It was decided, therefore, to support all candidates who are trades unionists and to interview all labor men in interest of labor candidates for aldermen and councilmen with the end in view that their numbers may be felt on election day. In the case of candidates not being members of a trades union the candidate known to be friendly to the cause will be supported.

Tommy Little is seriously consfdering running against Mayor Howe in the caucuses, and if he doesn't get a square deal there he will run independently. In the event of Tommy running for mayor, John H. Clancy will come out flat-footed for the republican ticket and thus become eligible for the appointment to the position of police commissioner in the event of Tommy winning out.

The meeting of the French republicans of ward seven last evening in C. M. A. C. hall to decide upon a French-American candidate for the common council in that ward, was a failure as only two candidates, Omer Allard and Prosper Cossette showed up with their friends, while a majority of the candidates remained away. A committee consisting of David A. Parthenais, P. R. Rourke, Paul Charbonneault, Alfred Morrissette and Homer L. P. Turcotte was appointed to call another meeting.

The democratic caucuses will be held on November 19 and it is incumbent upon every democrat to go to the caucuses and vote for the best candidates of the party. The recent elections in this city have shown that the city is about evenly divided politically and hence in order for the democracy to win only the strongest democratic candidates should be put on the ballot. There is a class of voters in each party which never attends caucuses but is continually criticizing the action of caucuses. If this class gets out and votes there can be no such criticism in future. Let every democrat attend the caucus on November 19 and vote for candidates who can win on election day.

The political writer is pleased to acknowledge the receipt of a courteous little note from his old friend, Hon. William Waldorf Jackson, notifying said writer that the Hon. W. W. is still in the land of the living enjoying good health in hopeful spirits, clear of conscience and ready to don his armor and do battle for the presidency in 1904. The note concludes with the following beautiful sentiment: "O, for the dawn of the golden future. Through scholarship, statesman and a name as national as the flag and a reputation from the centre to the circumference of the globe, I shall gain the presidential heights, the greatest office in the American republic."

Tommy Byrne, the "megraphone" candidate, appeared before City Clerk Dadmun today for nomination papers. Said Tommy to The Sun reporter afterward: "You can announce in your very commendious publication that I shall be a candidate for mayor on the reformed economical republican ticket. My platform is individual taxation, protection for all concerned, good roads built by local toilers and fine public playgrounds and baths. When I ran for representative Mayor Howe went into his pocket to help Cecil Adams defeat me and before I finish he will wish he had kept out of the fight."

It is understood that Councilman Fontaine declines to attend the meeting and abide by its decision.

Col. James H. Carmichael states that he will not be a candidate for mayor in the caucuses this year.

John "Bucky" Halloran (under new management), the well-known democratic worker and basketball player, is a candidate for the common council in ward seven.

Dr. Hugh Walker is a candidate for the democratic nomination for school committee in ward nine. Dr. Walker was the democratic candidate two years ago and made an excellent run against the present incumbent, A. G. Thompson.

The contest for overseer of the poor is being waged by ex-Councilman William J. Dunn and the present incumbent, Frank McMahon. Mr. Dunn served two years in the common council from ward two and made a very successful representative. His friends are making an active canvass in his interest and the indications are that a very large vote will be cast in the caucus.

"I may run for mayor. I am considerin' of it now," said "Tommy" Little to The Sun reporter when asked his intentions.

The friends of Robert F. Conroy are of the opinion that he will make pretty good aldermanic timber and between now and the 19th may prevail upon him to be a candidate.

John J. Sullivan, the popular "Moxie" of ward two, wishes it understood that he is not and will not be a candidate for the school board against John J. Hanlon in that ward.

Before voting for candidates for the common council it is always well to look around your ward and see what has been done for it within a year and who has done it.

Dr. Hugh Walker, the well-known dentist, is the democratic candidate for the school board in ward nine. Dr. Walker has a host of friends and will make a formidable candidate against the strongest opponent that could be selected.

Councilman Timothy Donohue, who has served Ward Four faithfully in the common council for the past four years, is a candidate for the board of aldermen and his friends, who are found in all of the nine wards, are hustling for his nomination, confident that he can win on election day.

THE HUNTING SEASON IS OPEN AND THE WOODS ARE FULL OF 'EM.

BUNTING TEAM

DEFEATED AT ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL BY METHUEN.

The United States Bunting fotball team went to Methuen Saturday afternoon and was defeated by the association football team of that place by a score of 4 to 2. The local players claim that the referee, who knew little or nothing of the rules of the game, robbed them of victory.

The lineup of the Bunting team was as follows: Goal, S. Hurtt; backs, J. Marriott and R. Birtwhistle; halfbacks, M. Casey, W. Concannon and T. Gadagher; forwards, right wing, J. Halligan; forwards, right wing, J. Halligan, E. Nelson; centre, G. Allen; left wing, Ted Nelson and J. McEvoy; linesman, Wm. Nelson. Time, 40m. halves. The Buntings will play the Andover team on the grounds in Wigganville Saturday.

LEATHER WORKERS' MEETING.

At a meeting of the Leather Workers' union this evening Dennis Healey, president of the Amalgamated Leather Workers of America, will address his old comrades. Mr. Healey went to Philadelphia about two months ago, where the offices of the national organization were opened. He will bring with him to this city a well-known lawyer of Philadelphia, who will also address the union.

SURPRISED BY FRIENDS.

Miss Lillian G. Abbott, of Powell street, was surprised at her home Friday evening when about fifty of her young friends called upon her and presented her with a gold locket and chain. Games were enjoyed during the evening and a fine musical and literary program was carried out. The party broke up at a seasonable hour.

HIGH SCHOOL WON

Defeated the Methuens Saturday Afternoon

IN A CONTEST RESULTING 17 TO 0

The Textile School Defeated at Haverhill

The Lowell High school football team has at last taken a spurt and may be able to redeem itself for the defeats if a few more victories are landed.

Saturday afternoon the Lowell boys met the Methuen High school team on the Fair Grounds and won by a score of 27 to 0. Much more courage and less grandstand play was shown in Saturday's game than any game previously played by the locals.

Methuen was outclassed by Lowell at almost every stage of the game and it was not a question of whether or not Lowell would win, it was how much Lowell will win by.

Masters, Jewett, Hatch and Crowley were the shining lights of the local aggregation and it was owing to their good work that Lowell scored the number of points that it did.

The game started off with Lowell kicking to Methuen's 25-yard line, and on the first play Moore gained the distance. In two downs Methuen fumbled and Lowell got the ball on downs. Masters and Jewett gained twelve yards on three line plays and then Hatch gained eight yards around left end. Jewett ploughed through the line four yards for a touchdown and Crowley kicked the goal.

Lowell kicked off to Methuen's 25-yard line and the man was dropped in his tracks. Methuen made gains through the line on the next three plays, but fumbled and McQuade fell on the ball. Lowell gained a short distance around end and Hatch made 18 yards in a dodging play between tackle and left end. Jewett gained two yards and Hatch rushed through the line. Masters carried the ball over the line for a touchdown, but Crowley efailed to kick the goal. Lowell kicked to Methuen's 20-yard line and the man with the ball was tackled for a loss of five yards. After one unsuccessful line plunge Methuen attempted to kick but the kick was blocked in great style for a loss of ten yards by Raymond. Methuen lost the ball on downs on the five-yard line and Jewett made a touchdown. Crowley kicked the goal. End of first half, score 17 to 0.

In the second half Methuen kicked to Lowell's 20-yard line and soon got the ball on a fumble on the 15-yard line. Methuen fumbled and lost four yards, although managing to recover the ball. The ball went to Lowell on downs. A misplay gained 18 yards. The ball was to have gone to Masters, but McQuade got mixed on his signals and found the interference going around the right end while he was waiting for it on the left end. He took a chance and ran 15 yards. Masters gained twenty yards on an end play, Hatch made ten and then seven around left end and Masters went over for a touchdown. Crowley failed to kick the goal. Methuen kicked to Raymond, who ran the ball back fifteen yards. Masters gained around the end and Hatch got in twenty and ten yards runs, finally going over the line after ten yards of dodging. A. Campbell failed to kick the goal.

TEXTILE SCHOOL DEFEATED.

The Lowell Textile school football team went to Haverhill Saturday afternoon and met with a reverse, the High school team representing that city defeating the Textile boys by a score of 17 to 0. The result of this game came as a surprise to the admirers of the local team, for it has been putting up a great battle since it was organized early in the season, and while Haverhill was considered a strong team it was thought that the local aggregation would put up a better battle than it did. the newspaper with the largest circulation is always an evening paper. Why is it so? Because the masses in such a community have no opportunity to read in the morning. Advertisers who want to reach the masses who earn their money in Lowell and spend it in Lowell should bear this fact in mind. The people who trade in Boston read morning papers. FIRE AT GAS WORKS.

A fire which has been in progress for some time at the works of the Lowell Gas Light Co. in School street succeeded in destroying tons of soft coal stored there. Men have been fighting the fire for over five days, and the coal is now being removed from the sheds and being carried to an adjacent field where the process of raking it over has begun.

As a result of the fire in the coal pockets a new material has been formed which is neither coke nor ashes, it being a substance which is between the two and has been examined with a good deal of speculation by the gas company.

Constipation Can Be Cured

Good Health is Utterly Impossible Unless the Waste Products of the Body are Got Rid of—A Safe, Natural Remedy is to Be Had From Any Druggist.

Iron-Ox Tablets not only relieve, but permanently cure constipation.

They do it, not by violent purgative and cathartic action, but by so toning up the stomach and bowels that they perform their natural functions without the aid of harmful drugs.

Remember Iron-Ox Tablets are not purgative or cathartic in their effect; they are tonic-laxative; they cure by building up the entire system. Purgatives and cathartics give only temporary relief by violent and injurious action—they do far more harm than good.

Iron-Ox Tablets are concentrated nerve food—they abound in brain-making elements—they do not produce a temporary exhilaration, followed by a weakening reaction, as do liquid tonics composed of drugged alcohol which leads to the drink habit.

Anything which shocks the system into activity is dangerous. Do not expect immediate perceptible effects from Iron-Ox Tablets. They produce a natural, regular building up of all the functions. This takes a little time, but a successful result is absolutely certain.

Fifty Iron-Ox Tablets in an attractive aluminum pocket-case, 25 cents at druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price. The Iron-Ox Remedy Co., Detroit, Mich.

Let Us Pay

For a 50c. Bottle of Liquozone, to Show You What it is

If you suffer from a germ trouble, let us buy a bottle of Liquozone and give it to you to try. It is liquid oxygen—the best thing in the world for you. And in germ diseases it does what all medical skill cannot do without it.

We had faith enough in it to pay $100,000 for the simple right to make it. We know its results so well that we will gladly pay for your test. Won't you, if you need it—in simple fairness to yourself—have faith enough to send us this coupon?

Just Oxygen

Liquozone is simply liquid oxygen; no drugs, no alcohol in it. It is the discovery of Paull, the great German chemist, who spent 20 years on it. His object was to get such an excess of oxygen in staple form into the blood that no germ could live in any membrane or tissue.

Oxygen is life to an animal—the very source of vitality. We would die in three minutes without it. In this liquid form its effects are exhilarating, purifying, vitalizing. But germs are vegetables, and this excess of oxygen is deadly to vegetable matter.

We Offer $1,000

on every bottle of Liquozone for a germ that it cannot kill. And there is no other way to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any germ-killing drug is a poison to you, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine never destroys inside germs.

We spend 14 days in making each bottle of Liquozone, yet we offer you the first bottle free. And we supply it to physicians and hospitals everywhere at almost cost. In this fair way we are trying to introduce this product to everyone who needs it. If you will be as fair with yourself, we will gladly show you how any germ disease can be cured.

Cerm Diseases

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

If you need Liquozone, and have never tried it, please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on your local druggist for a full-size bottle, and we will pay your druggist ourselves for it. THE WASHINGTON HOUSEHOLD OF SPEAKER CANNON

THE decision of the new speaker of the house of representatives, Joseph G. Cannon, to occupy henceforth a house in Washington in place of the hotel apartments which he formerly reserved for himself while acting in the capacity of an ordinary workaday congressman naturally caused a flutter in the society circles of the capital, inasmuch as it indicated that once more the speaker's home would become a center of social activity and that the interesting question of the status of the speaker from a society standpoint would be raised again. Speaker Carlisle was the last ruler of the house to occupy a private dwelling in Washington, Speakers Crisp, Reed and Henderson having resided in hotels and having entertained to a comparatively small extent. It is known that Speaker Cannon is much more democratic in his tendencies than any of his recent predecessors, and it is thought that he will not be so exacting in the question of social precedence as were some of them, but many people are not illogically wondering what he will do in the way of entertaining and what will be his attitude as to the delicate questions of precedence regarding, for example, himself and the president pro tem. of the senate.

Speaker Reed, it will be remembered, deemed himself, from the standpoint of political importance, as second only to the president, and it is common talk that on at least one occasion he declined a vice presidential nomination because he held that the office of vice president was of inferior prestige to that of speaker, since the speaker is the head of the real legislative branch of the government. While not troubling himself much about his social status as speaker, he did pretty much as he pleased in accepting or declining invitations even when they came from the White House, and people who understood his attitude were very careful in regard to the place they gave him at social functions. Mr. Henderson, for his part, admitted that the vice president outranked him by virtue of being heir apparent to the presidency, but insisted upon taking precedence of the president pro tem. of the senate. Of late years, as may be imagined, there was much uneasiness in social quarters over this point, as Senator Frye as president pro tem. of the senate assumed that he had the social prerogatives of the vice president, and it has been said that care was taken not to invite both Speaker Henderson and Senator Frye to any function where official precedence would have to be regarded.

Those best acquainted with Speaker Cannon are of the opinion that the good people thus exercised in mind may set themselves at rest, as their knowledge of the speaker's characteristics assures them that while he will not submit to what he may deem a social indignity he will not be unduly assertive in the way of claiming what he might consider his social rights. Precedent has never troubled "Uncle Joe" Cannon to any extent one way or the other, and his friends consider it altogether unlikely that the man of the forceful speech, the windmill arms and the sound common sense will at this late day worry himself over questions that may seem of the greatest moment to those who deem "correctness" the summum bonum of the social world. Not that Speaker Cannon will allow himself to be slighted in the least; he is too much alive to the importance and dignity of his office.

A Snapshot of Congressman Cannon.

Miss Helen Cannon.

The Cannon Home in Washington.

Of course from the standpoint of the grandes dames of the capital much depends upon the attitude taken by Miss Helen Cannon, the speaker's daughter, who will preside over his household. It is said that had the speaker followed his own inclination he would once more have been the occupant of hotel apartments, but Miss Cannon believed that he should take a house if only to repay social obligations accruing from many years, and as her desires are his law the speaker gracefully acquiesced. Thus it was that, possessing the same democratic tastes that have distinguished her father, Miss Cannon came to Washington, looked the ground over and chose the unpretentious appearing residence on Vermont avenue a little north of K street, for so long the home of the late Senator McPherson of New Jersey, whose wealth had given the interior of the house an embellishment surpassed by few Washington homes. Here it is that Speaker Cannon will entertain his friends this winter and in all probability revive the traditions that in the past made the speaker's home a social milepost. Miss Cannon, realizing the lofty position held by her father, will naturally desire to invest that position with the dignity that it demands, despite the fact that she prefers a quiet domestic life to one busy with social obligations. She is enough a woman of the world, however, to steer the speaker's social bark through any shoals or reefs of ill feeling, and the general impression is that Mr. Cannon's house will ere long be looked upon as one of the most desirable places in Washington to which to obtain an entree.

Since the death of her mother some years ago Miss Cannon has been her father's housekeeper in the unpretentious home at Danville, and those who have had the pleasure of visiting the speaker's Illinois residence say that they have never met a more agreeable hostess or one better calculated to put visitors at their ease. Miss Cannon is essentially a cosmopolitan, having traveled extensively in the old world and the new. She has inherited many of the characteristics of her mother, whom "Uncle Joe" wooed and won when she was a pretty Ohio schoolteacher. Miss Helen is fortunate in the possession of a large fund of that subtle quality known as tact and is blessed with a quiet dignity and a strong will, all of which will stand her in good stead in the various functions in which she will participate as head of the speaker's household.

The house which she selected as their Washington home, and which, by the way, has been decorated and furnished throughout in accordance with her wishes, is well suited for the entertainments which it will witness during the winter. It is an old Washington landmark and since Senator McPherson's death has had several tenants, noteworthy among whom are Robert McCormick, now our ambassador to the court of the czar, and Colonel William Cary Sanger, assistant secretary of war. In appearance the house does not seem large, but it contains twenty rooms and is well laid out for social enjoyment and domestic comfort. The first floor is an especial delight to the eye.

The main entrance gives ingress to a wide hall in walnut, beyond which is the library, to which entrance can also be obtained from the dining room. This feature is one of the strong points of the house in the opinion of the speaker, who regards the library as just the place for the many conferences which will undoubtedly be held at his house during the session. And should an important visitor put in an appearance during the meantime the speaker can easily slip from the dining room into the library without attracting attention or disturbing the guests whom he may be entertaining. The parlor opens off the hall to the front of the house; back of the parlor is the music room, and back of this, again, is the dining room, the chief feature of the house, large enough to seat thirty people at table and destined to be the scene of many official and social functions. It was the size of this room that largely influenced the speaker and his daughter in deciding to occupy the McPherson house, for they realized what would devolve upon them in the way of entertaining. The room is finished in hard wood and has been tastefully decorated. The living rooms on the second floor are airy and commodious and are reached from the ground floor by a wide stairway.

Such in brief is the house that will be the home of the new speaker while he is domiciled in Washington. It is very pleasantly situated, McPherson square, with its splendid equestrian statue of General James B. McPherson, being in the immediate vicinity. Not far from the speaker's home are the Arlington, Shoreham and Normandie hotels, and among his nearest neighbors are Senators Gorman, Hale and Allison and Congressman Hitt.

In addition to Miss Cannon, the speaker's family will consist of his daughter, Mrs. E. K. Le Sueres, and her four children, who have heretofore lived at Danville. The speaker adores his grandchildren, and it is safe to say that there will be no happier household in Washington this winter than the one presided over by the rough and ready but genial speaker and his charming and tactful daughter. It is equally safe to say that neither of them will be as greatly troubled by questions of official etiquette and social precedence as are the good people who are engaged in wondering what will be the effect of the new legislative regime on the society circles of Washington.

ODD COUPLES.

A recently published table gives the respective ages of all the married couples in the United Kingdom. There is one husband of ninety-five years who has a wife of twenty-one, while three husbands ranging in age from eighty-five to ninety-five have secured wives of twenty-five. Elderly wives and youthful husbands are rarer, and the greatest disparity in this direction is between a wife of sixty-five years and her husband of twenty. The oldest couple in the list are aged one hundred and ninety-five years respectively, while the youngest pair have only numbered sixteen and fifteen summers respectively.

THE ANTARCTIC RELIEF SHIP TERRA NOVA.

Things have reached such a pass in polar explorations that before long it will be the rule when fitting out an expedition to equip simultaneously the ship which is intended to do the rescuing. The illustration shows the Terra Nova, fitted out by the British government. She recently sailed for the south in quest of the exploring ship Discovery, which is known to be locked in the ice in the antarctic regions.

The Terra Nova was built in 1885 and has a total length of 187 feet. She was built specially for work in the ice. She is constructed of oak and at her bows is almost solid. Her engines only develop 120 horse power. She is commanded by Captain Harry McKay, a well known arctic navigator, who has been in command of her for many years and who was in charge of the whaler America in the Ziegler expedition.

RUSSIAN SAINT'S COFFIN.

The bones of the new Russian saint, St. Seraphim, who was not long ago proclaimed a saint at the hermitage of Sarov, are contained in the oak coffin shown in the illustration and which was a gift of the czar. The czar himself participated in the ceremonies attendant upon the canonization of Father Seraphim. The hermitage of Sarov and its monastery are famed throughout Russia. Near them is a spring the waters of which are accredited with having worked many miracles. Every year many pilgrims pay the spring a visit in the hope of being cured of their ills.

HAPPENINGS OF THE WORLD SHOWN IN PICTURES

THE FIRST LADY OF KANSAS.

To Mrs. Willis J. Bailey, as wife of the chief executive of Kansas, belongs the honor of being known as the first lady of the state. Mrs. Bailey was formerly Mrs. Ida B. Weed, widow of a railroad conductor. She had known

MRS. WILLIS J. BAILEY.

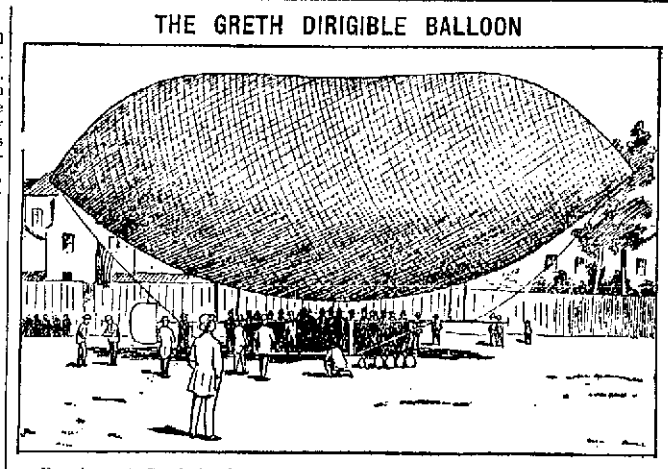

Governor Bailey in her younger days, and they became engaged two years ago. In marrying her Governor Bailey doubtless brought sorrow to at least 2,000 members of the fair sex, for that number had answered a fake proposal of marriage which a newspaper man published in the governor's name at the time the latter was elected. The alleged proposal was telegraphed all over the country, with the result that replies were received by the bushel.

A MONUMENT OF RENAN.

The accompanying illustration will serve to give a good idea of the appearance of the monument to Ernest Renan, the famous French philosopher, which was recently unveiled at his native town of Treguier. As may be seen by the picture, the monument represents Renan seated on a bench, while over him towers a statue of Pallas Athene, the goddess of wisdom, whom he invoked in that ever memorable work "The Prayer Upon the Acropolis." The purpose of the sculptor, Jean Boucher, was to show Renan in the guise in which he was most familiar to the people of Treguier, and the consensus of opinion is that he has succeeded.

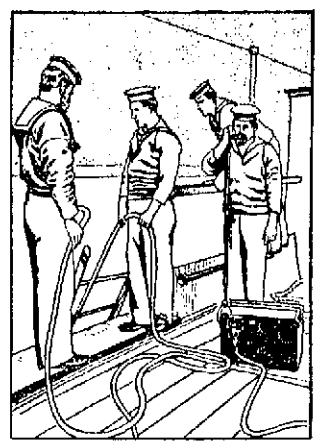

THE GRETH DIRIGIBLE BALLOON

Dr. August Greth is the latest candidate for honors in aerial navigation, and the accompanying illustration shows the dirigible balloon in which he recently made a successful ascension at San Francisco. At a distance Dr. Greth's balloon looks not unlike the famous machines of Stanley Spencer and Santos-Dumont, but closer inspection reveals several important differences. In the Greth the car is only seven feet below the balloon, despite the fact that the motive power is obtained from a twelve horse power gasoline motor. There is no little balloon or balloonette to equalize the expansion of hydrogen, its place being taken by a net which keeps the ends of the cylinder taut. The Greth balloon also has four propellers, one at each of the cardinal points of the compass, thus providing for locomotion in any direction. It is said that Dr. Greth is of the opinion that it is possible to build an air ship with accommodations for passengers and gas bag inside the ship itself.

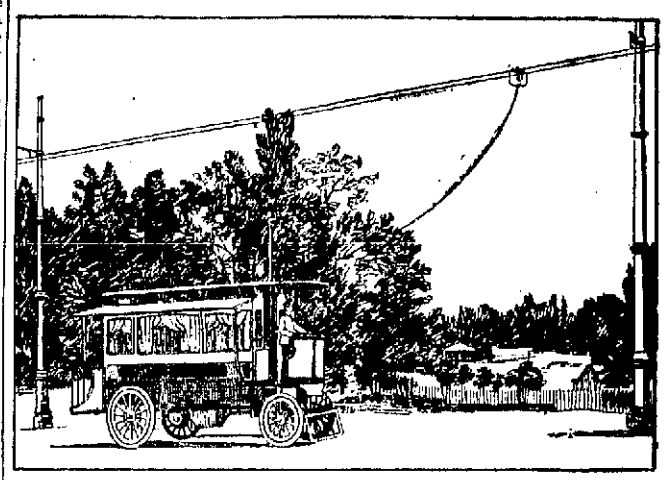

DEEP WATER TELEPHONING.

Until recently divers at work on the bottom of the ocean had to rely upon a system of signaling by means of a rope to let those on the surface of the water know the progress they were making. Often the diver forgot just what signals he should use to express himself properly, and occasionally such lapses of memory were followed by serious results. By an ingenious device it is now possible to maintain telephonic communication between divers and those who are assisting them from the surface. The illustration shows a sailor giving directions to a diver who is hard at work in the hulk of a sunken steamer.

ROAD TROLLEY BUS IN OPERATION.

There are few industries that have made more rapid progress in recent years than that of trolley railroading, the latest development of which is shown in the accompanying illustration. The trolley bus, however, manages to get along very well without rails. In this respect it has a great advantage over all that has gone before it, for the delays which so often vex passengers are no longer necessary, the bus steering skillfully around anything that may obstruct its passage. The power is transmitted through a flexible wire connected with the trolley roller traveling on the feed wire.

A VERITABLE QUEEN OF THE AIR.

There are few women who would have the nerve to ascend alone in an air ship, but Mrs. Stanley Spencer is a member of this rare class. She is the wife of the famous aeronaut and is as enthusiastic as he is on the subject of aerial navigation. Some time ago she ascended from the grounds of the Crystal palace in London and made several circuits of the polo grounds before coming to earth again. She expects to accompany her husband to the St. Louis exposition and will doubtless be of the greatest assistance to him in the aerial competitions which are being arranged.

CHEAP POSTAGE IN JAPAN.

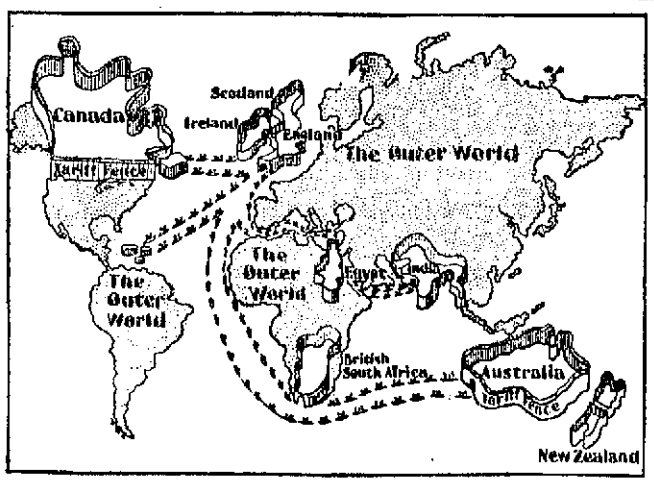

Postage is cheap in all countries in these times, but in none perhaps quite so cheap as in Japan. A letter can be sent from one end to the other of the Land of the Rising Sun for the fee of 2 sen, equal to about an eighth of a cent.

A FAMOUS LAKE IN NEW ZEALAND.

Travelers who have been to New Zealand assert that that island is a compendium of all that is wonderful and beautiful in nature. That the assertion is not without warrant may be seen from the accompanying illustration, depicting Lake Rotomahana, one of the sights of the famous Hot Lakes district of New Zealand. All about Rotomahana are grand and beautiful geysers which eject water two degrees above boiling point. On cooling this water incrusts everything with which it comes in contact, and birds that fall into it are brought out like bits of flint. About the lake also are pumice hills, the bleakness and barrenness of which are now being largely relieved by the action of the government in planting trees throughout the district.

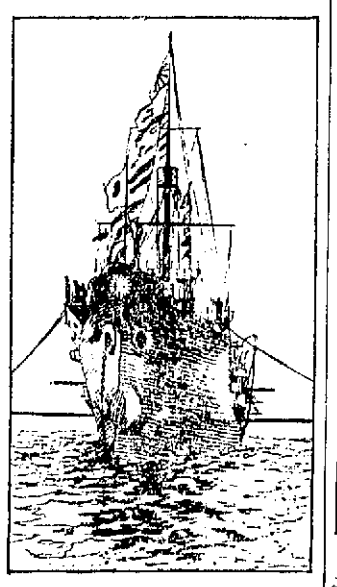

HOW CHAMBERLAIN WOULD FENCE THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

The energetic campaign which the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain is conducting in England in behalf of a protective policy has made the British cartoonists and caricaturists work overtime in the effort to produce pictures upholding and opposing the proposed change in the policy of the British empire. The accompanying map is reproduced from a drawing made by Chamberlain's opponents for the purpose of vividly showing the electors how the empire will be fenced in from the rest of the world if "Joey's" plan is carried into effect

BATTLE SHIP WITH ODD BOW.

The Japanese war ship Asama is unique in that its bow presents a remarkable appearance to the head of a collie dog, as may be seen from a glance at the accompanying illustration. This picture was made from a recent photograph of the Asama taken while she was lying in port decorated for a visit from the mikado. The Asama is one of the neatest looking and best manned war ships in the Japanese navy, her captain, who is an experienced warrior, being a great stickler for discipline.

AN INTERESTING PUPIL OF UNCLE SAM.

Crispulo Patajo is the name of a dusky gentleman who will be extremely busy this winter at the war college at Leavenworth, Kan. He is a Filipino and has been serving for some time as a member of the Philippine scouts, his detail to Fort Leavenworth being a recognition of his services in Uncle Sam's uniform. Patajo is about thirty-two years old, was one of the insurrectionists against Spain and is known as a good fighter. When the United States occupied the Philippine Islands he abandoned the native cause and proved so successful in running to earth insurgent plotters that he was appointed a chief of detectives.

TAUNTON, Nov. 9.—Because Peter Clark, 11 years old, would not leave the yard of Walter E. Bassett, a boy of the same age, on Jackson street, Saturday afternoon, after being repeatedly ordered to, the Bassett boy procured a shotgun from his house and blew the top of Clark's head off.

Young Bassett was held by the police on a charge of homicide after they had investigated the case, and after consultation with Dist.-Att'y Swift his bail was fixed at $10,000.

HAPPY MOHAIRS

Closed Successful Season With a Banquet

In Odd Fellows' Hall Saturday Evening--Prizes Awarded to Winners on First and Second Elevens

The Mohair Cricket club held its annual banquet in Odd Fellows Temple, in Middlesex street, Saturday night, and did honor to the 11 players of the cricket team who won the championship of the Merrimack Valley league for the third consecutive time. The occasion was graced by the presence of the wives and lady friends of the members.

A feature of the banquet in former years has been the after-dinner speeches, but this year a fine musical and literary entertainment took the place of the speeches.

A sumptuous repast was served and for two hours the guests discussed the menu. At 9 o'clock President J. W. Harrison called to order. He is also captain of the victorious club.

After brief remarks of welcome he introduced as master of ceremonies, Harry Dayton, who spoke briefly. Then followed a song by Alec Williams.

The annual report of the secretary was then read in part and was as follows:

The season which has just closed has been one of the most successful that the club has ever experienced during the course of its career. The main object of the organization is to further the interests of cricket and in this respect it is satisfactory to be able to state that once again it has been able to maintain that high state of efficiency which marks it as one of the best, if not the best, club in this part of the state. Another object is to uphold its reputation as a social body and judging from the success in this respect it can be safely said that its efforts in this direction have not been futile.

Since the last banquet, and before the cricket season began the annual ball was held, and although it was not attended, perhaps, so largely as some of its predecessors, still it was a reunion that provided enjoyment to many members and friends.

From a cricket standpoint the past year has been all that could be desired. The first eleven composed principally of the same talent, which has helped the club to maintain its supremacy in previous years, was reinforced by some new players, who generally speaking have given a good account of themselves. The records of the doings of the players are fresh in your memories and therefore, it is unnecessary to repeat them now. On nearly every Saturday afternoon the team has been engaged, and the players have often inconvenienced themselves in order to participate in the matches which were arranged.

At the end of the season the record is one which certainly any team may well be proud of. The championship of the Merrimack Valley league has been won with a handsome margin, and the pennant which during the year has been flying on our flag staff on our grounds at Chelmsford street has now become our permanent property. It was given to the league on the condition that it should be won twice before being the property of any team. Last year by winning the championship of the league the club became its custodian for a year, but by being again successful this season the flag is our property.

The report concludes with the averages of the first and second elevens.

Miss Sidebottom entertained the gathering with two delightful readings, followed by a selection by Mr. Harry Mosier. There were other vocal numbers by Miss Marion Brown of Lawrence, Miss Agatha Wynne, Mrs. Charles Jenkins and Messrs. David Hird, Michael Gorman and John McNamara, and a sleight-of-hand performance by Charles Johnson.

President Harrison then awarded the prizes. David Hird, the leading batter, was called up first. Then Henry Allen, a recent acquisition to the team, was presented with a gold watch suitably inscribed. Allen was the leading bowler in the team. The second prizes were then awarded and both were awarded to Harry Mosley. Mr. Allen then on behalf of the members of the club presented to Mr. Alec Williams a beautiful Morris chair, and to his wife a handsome oak music cabinet as a mark of appreciation for the yeoman service both of them had rendered in the musical arrangements in connection with the social fixtures of the club during the past year.

The list of victories accomplished by the first eleven have practically been the same as last year. The defeats have only numbered two, and strange to say that our victors have been the two teams, viz., Lawrence Athletic and Lynn who caused our downfall in the season of 1902.

An analysis of the matches which the first eleven has played shows the general superiority of the team over its opponents. In all the players have made the grand total of 1581 runs for the loss of 136 wickets which gives an average of 11.62 per wicket. Their opponents have lost 177 wickets in compiling 999 runs which gives them an average of 5.64 runs. These figures speak for themselves.

The second team's achievements have like those of the first's been most praiseworthy. The club entered the Central Massachusetts League and they managed to win the championship having only lost one game, being defeated by the Buntings on the Fourth of July. It was satisfactory, however, to know that in the return match the tables were turned. The eleven by their victories secured for the club to hold for one year the Nicholson trophy.

The club during the year in addition to holding two lawn parties of its own which were attended with very great success, assisted in a lawn party which was run in conjunction with the Zion and Hillerica clubs in aid of the fund for the relief of sufferers by the terrible disaster at South Lowell on the 29th of July. A very enjoyable social party in which the members and their friends participated in dancing and a ping pong tournament and listened to a concert also took place in the Odd Fellows' Temple at the beginning of the season.

During the past few weeks the members in their wisdom have taken somewhat drastic measures with regard to certain individuals whose actions have been considered to be far from conducive to the welfare of the organization. The suspension of the second team from membership is perhaps the only incident which has marred the otherwise harmonious working of the club, and it is greatly to be regretted that those who were ultimately suspended did not as requested of them attend the meeting at which it was hoped that all strained relations might have been straightened out and all difficulties overcome.

The club both in point of finances and membership is strong, and can, it may honestly be said, point with pride to the records of the season and confidently look for support in the future.

HARD ARGUMENTS

Coffee Uses Them Whether One Likes or Not.

The ill effects of coffee are present in many coffee drinkers but some people pay no attention to the warning signals like dyspepsia, insomnia, nervousness, fluttering of the heart, etc., until coffee finally uses a knock down argument which means collapse on the part of the drinkers.

"I am 30 years old and have drunk coffee since I can remember until four years ago when I broke down completely with nervous prostration and indigestion. I simply cannot describe the agony I suffered.

"Doctor told me he could not help me if I did not leave coffee alone so I bought some Postum to give it a trial. At first I did not know how to make it and was disappointed in the taste, but after reading the directions on the package carefully, made it right, and then I thought it better than coffee. At that time I weighed 140 pounds and now I weigh 185 pounds, that's quite a gain isn't it? I never have indigestion now, and the headaches are all gone and I am otherwise entirely well and strong.

"I never had any troubles that were not due to drinking coffee and these disappeared and health came in their place when I shut off coffee and drank Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

MERRIMACK, PALMER AND MIDDLE STREETS.

By J. E. CONANT & CO., - - - Auctioneers
OFFICE, LOWELL, MASS.

Tomorrow Afternoon at 2.30 o'clock
PROPERTY OPEN AFTER 10 A. M.

It is my purpose, on Tuesday, the 10th day of Nov., 1903, to sell to the highest bidder at absolute auction sale the real estate numbered 21 Bachman street, and extending through to Book street, known as the J. M. Book property. Bachman street leaves Lakeview avenue just opposite the residence of Mr. August Fels, and the property now offered is the first estate on the right from the corner of Lakeview avenue and Bachman street.

The sale will take place upon the premises, regardless of weather, will begin promptly at half past two o'clock in the afternoon, and the purchaser must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $300 just as soon as the property is struck off. From one-half to three-quarters of the purchase money can remain on mortgage.

The house is a two story one of nine rooms, has bath room, laundry and cellar; is in good condition and a very pleasant home. In fact it is one of the best moderate priced places in the neighborhood. In rear of house is a good stable for three horses, carriage house and wagon shed.

Facing Book street and adjoining the stable is a two story building erected with the idea of some time making it into a cottage house. Today, from the outside, it has the appearance of a dwelling. Mr. Book used it as a bakery, there being no partitions on either floor. On the lower floor is a large bricked-up baker's oven.

The land has a frontage of 50 feet on Bachman street, a frontage of 45 feet on Book street, and an area of 6271 square feet. There are concrete walks shaded by trees, leading in from Lakeview avenue to the property, on both streets; and fruit trees, vines, etc., set out about the yard. The neighborhood is an excellent one, the street car service is good, the location healthy and the situation pleasant.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 9—Delegates from all parts of the state of Rhode Island met yesterday afternoon in the Labor temple in this city and formed a state branch of the Building Trades Council.

It is the intention of the new branch to unionize every man engaged in the construction of a building in the state, and if possible to have the working card which will be issued to all union men, recognized.

SALES MADE BY C. F. KEYES LAST WEEK.

Mr. Keyes states that the attendance and the prices obtained during the past week at the various sales were very satisfactory, for certain properties can be sold as well in the fall of the year as at any time. The sale of the Snyder property this afternoon should attract the attention of investors and real estate men, as it is a very fine piece of property.

Mr. Keyes has a number of sales yet to be placed under the hammer during November and December.
